

First Love 91

Chapter 91 I disagree

"Mom, I want mom." Lizhen has not returned home these few days, and her son has been looking for her.

"Yes, your mother has been on a business trip for several days. Why hasn't she come back yet?" Jin Lan felt very strange. She called Lizhen but she didn't answer because she didn't know how to tell her mother-in-law or what to say. She simply didn't answer the phone, but when she thought of her son, her tears flowed.

"Wang Kun, your wife has been on a business trip for several days and has not returned yet. No one answered her phone. What's wrong with her? Did something happen? The baby is looking for her mother every day." Wang Kun happened to come back that day, and his mother happened to ask Wang Kun.

Wang Kun walked up and picked up his son. He immediately came up with a plan. He asked his mother to take her son to find Li Zhen. She would come back because of the shame of her mother-in-law and son. He wanted to tell his mother about it, but he knew that she would definitely scold him.

"She won't be back these days. We had a fight." Wang Kun lied and didn't tell his mother the reason for the fight. He just said that Lizhen was angry and didn't come back.

"This child is also the result of a quarrel between the couple and the couple doesn't even want the child anymore. She is over there and I will go call her back." Jinlan thought it was just an ordinary quarrel, and she thought Lizhen was not like that.

Wang Kun immediately drove Jinlan and the baby to Chunyan's residence to find Lizhen.

Chunyan saw Wang Kun and his family coming and didn't know what to say, "Auntie is here."

"Hello, I'm Lizhen's mother-in-law. Sorry to disturb you." When Lizhen heard her mother-in-law's voice, she hurriedly hid in the room, closed the door and refused to come out.

"Lizhen, your mother-in-law is here." Chunyan hurried to the room and called Lizhen. Lizhen thought that it must be Wang Kun who asked his mother to come, and she still didn't want to see her.

"Baby calls mommy." When Jinlan saw that Lizhen refused to come out to see them, she immediately thought of Lizhen's son. She thought that even if they didn't see her, she would definitely see her son.

"Mom, I want mom." The son ran to the door of the room and knocked on it. Hearing his voice, Lizhen couldn't stop crying. She didn't want to see anyone these days, but she cried when she thought of her son. She especially wanted to go back and see her son.

The door slowly opened, and seeing her son running towards her like a tumbler, Lizhen could no longer hold back and hurriedly ran forward, hugging her son tightly, tears in her eyes falling like pearls from broken coins.

Seeing this scene, Jinlan's eyes suddenly turned red and tears welled up in her eyes.

"The child and his wife quarrel at one end of the bed, but make up at the other. It's no big deal. You have a child at home who is so young. How can you leave him alone? You don't go home for several days. Do you want to abandon your child?" Jinlan came to the room and said to Lizhen earnestly.

Hearing Jinlan's words, Lizhen guessed that Wang Kun must not have told her what they were quarreling about. Lizhen picked up her son and looked at Jinlan with red eyes, "Mom, Wang Kun didn't tell you what we quarreled about?"

"There is no couple that doesn't quarrel. There are many reasons for quarreling, just a little thing. I think I'm right, and you think you're right too. A harmonious family is the beginning of all good things. Just talk it out after the quarrel. Your father and I are also good at quarreling, and we'll be fine after a few days." Jin Lan talked about the problem lightly.

"Lizhen, did Kunkun bully you? Tell mom and I will beat him. Tell mom what happened." Jinlan is a good mother-in-law. Not only does she want to persuade Lizhen, but she also wants to show that she will not protect her son and side with Lizhen.

"Mom, your son didn't tell you the reason for the quarrel because he didn't dare to tell you. He didn't have the face to tell you and he was afraid you would scold him."

"What's the reason?" Jinlan looked at Lizhen strangely.

"Go ask your son." Jin Lan looked outside and saw that Wang Kun had already left, so she had to come out and ask Chunyan.

"Miss Lizhen has been staying at your place today. You must know what the quarrel was about. They refused to tell me. Would you mind telling me?"

"This..." Chunyan looked at the door and then at the room. She gritted her teeth and spoke reluctantly.

"Just tell me, they don't dare to do anything to you. Lizhen, your good friends, you must want them to be happy, right?"

"It was your son who did something wrong to Lizhen," Chunyan finally said.

"Oh" Jin Lan was very shocked when she heard it. Her eyes were raised and she was furious, like an 18-magnitude earthquake.

"Whoever he is with, he did such a thing, even if Lizhen lets them go, I will not let them go. Where is this woman, I will go find her." Jin Lan is a very powerful character, and she is also a person who hates evil.

"Auntie, do you know this person?" Chunyan found Jinlan's appearance a little scary, and she looked at her nervously.

"Oh, who is it?" Jin Lan was very satisfied with Lizhen, her daughter-in-law, and even very grateful. It was Lizhen who helped her son when he was in great difficulty and pain, and rescued him from the abyss of pain. Her son's current achievements were achieved because of Lizhen's help and their struggle together.

She wants to thank Lizhen, and she will not let anyone who does anything bad to Lizhen go.

"She is your son's first love from his hometown. I don't know her name."

"It's her! It's impossible! She is in our hometown and my son is in Guangzhou." Jin Lan still didn't believe it.

"Auntie, transportation is so convenient now," Chunyan further reminded Jinlan.

"That's not right. She is a teacher and she has to go to class. How could she dare to leave?" Jin Lan still didn't believe it.

"How can she be a teacher? She has no professional ethics. Students taught by such a person will mislead other students." Chunyan couldn't believe it when she heard that Qiuyan was a teacher.

Jinlan couldn't understand it. Logically, Qiuyan might have time to come here and meet Wang Kun since she was teaching in her hometown. Could it be that Lizhen had mistaken the person and it was someone else?

"You should ask your son. No one can stand such a thing. Auntie, you should go back and let Lizhen stay with me for a few days to calm down."

"Okay, thank you my daughter. Lizhen is blessed to have a good sister like you. I will go home and ask my son. If it is really as you said, I will not let them go. I can't even pass this hurdle. Lizhen, please take care of her for a few days." After saying this, Jinlan walked out angrily, because Wang Kun was still waiting for them outside.
