

First Love 95

Chapter 95 Entanglement

During this period, Wang Kun felt that he was sorry for his wife who had shared the joys and sorrows with him when he was at his lowest point. He realized his mistakes and decided to mend his ways, never do such ridiculous things again, and no longer care about his first love Qiuyan.

Qiuyan felt as if the end of the world was coming. She was like a girl in love, and her longing for Wang Kun was the only support in her life. This period of time was the most difficult one in her life.

Qiuyan is often distracted in class and often absent from classes. It is common for her to be truant. Now many parents have complained about her, and the school principal has talked to her several times, warning her that if she continues like this, she may be expelled.

But Qiuyan simply couldn't listen. She was like a possessed person. Every day she was like a possessed person. She often ran to the woods where she and Wang Kun had a date. She was in a daze and stayed there alone for most of the day.

This was the happiest time she and Wang Kun had together. Whenever she thought of Wang Kun, her heart felt like it was being cut by a knife.

Alone and lonely, down and out, with more vicissitudes on the face, more tears in the heart, the body has learned to be numb, and the soul is sad. The heart, mottled, disappears in the dim lights, dies in the hills and valleys where material desires run rampant, lingers on, humble and tiny.

There have been so many beautiful things in my life that I tried my best to cherish them, but in the end I ended up living and grieving alone. Only now do I feel the loneliness and tears, and only now do I feel that my original happiness is far away from me.

But Qiuyan is an emotional maniac. She dares to love and hate. She will pursue what she wants at all costs. She wants to get Wang Kun at all costs.

At this time, she made a bold decision. She wanted to win Wang Kun back. She decided to go all out. She decided to give up her job at the school and go to work near Wang Kun's factory.

In order to be able to see Wang Kun, she used money to bribe the people working around Wang Kun to monitor Wang Kun's every move. As soon as Wang Kun left the factory, Qiu Yanzi would follow him and pester him.

"Qiuyan, Wang Kun is out delivering goods today." Qiuyan was overjoyed to hear that Wang Kun was going out again. She immediately went to ask for leave from the foreman.

"Qiuyan, this is your nth time asking for leave this month? Our factory has a rule that if you ask for leave four times in a month, your monthly bonus will be deducted. But this is your fifth time asking for leave. If you ask for leave twice more, you may be fired." The foreman told her the factory rules very sternly. She wondered why this woman came here to work, what on earth did she want to do?

"This is the last time. I won't ask for leave this month. Please help me." Qiuyan nodded and said respectfully, leaving the foreman in a dilemma.

"I hope this is the last time and it won't happen again." The foreman shook his head with a helpless look on his face.

"Okay, okay, thank you." Qiuyan got leave from the foreman, and she left the factory quickly as if she was relieved.

Today Wang Kun has to deliver a batch of goods to Hongliang's company. Their factory has successfully completed the orders this month. Next, they have received another batch of orders from Hongliang. His relationship with Lizhen is slowly recovering and developing in a positive direction.

He was in a particularly happy and cheerful mood today. He couldn't help humming his favorite song "Our Life is Sweeter than Honey". After a while, he was about to reach Hongliang's delivery location.

Wang Kun was singing happily and excitedly when he suddenly noticed a figure jumping out from the roadside in front of him. He slammed on the brakes and the car stopped with a "gas" sound.

"Oh no, I bumped into someone."

Wang Kun's heart was pounding and he was almost scared to death. When he calmed down a little, he immediately opened the car door and jumped out.

At this time, the person who was hit by his car was sitting in the middle of the road with blood on his feet. Wang Kun was frightened by this scene and asked, "Girl, what's wrong with you?" Wang Kun hurried forward to support the girl on the ground.

When that person raised her head, Wang Kun was shocked. It was as if a thunder had exploded in Wang Kun's brain. All the joints in his body seemed to be glued by strong glue and he couldn't move. He stared at her with wide eyes. Although her face was pale, she was disgusting. Wang Kun trembled in his heart.

"Qiuyan, why are you here?" Feeling guilty and confused, Wang Kun stared at Qiuyan on the ground with his eyes as round as copper bells.

"I, I..." Seeing Wang Kun looking at her like this, Qiuyan was so scared that she couldn't speak for a long time.

Wang Kun looked at the distance beside the road, and then at Qiuyan's hesitant way of speaking. He immediately understood Qiuyan's purpose and conspiracy. His blood suddenly boiled over his body, and a surge of anger rushed to his forehead. He angrily scolded Qiuyan.

"You, are you hurting yourself or me by doing this? If I hadn't braked, you would have died under the tires today. You would have died an innocent ghost, and I would have become your scapegoat." Wang Kun was extremely angry.

Seeing the indignant Wang Kun, Qiuyan felt uncomfortable and scared; "I want to see you, but I dare not go to your factory to find you, I can only take this way to see you." Qiuyan sat on the ground, crying as she spoke, her pitiful appearance made Wang Kun hate her and feel distressed. Although Wang Kun hated her, he still had a deep love for her in his heart.

"Ding ding!" Because Wang Kun's car stopped, a long line of cars stopped behind it, and the cars behind honked their horns. Fortunately, there was no car behind Wang Kun's car, otherwise the consequences today would be unimaginable.

Wang Kun hurriedly pulled Qiuyan up from the ground, but he didn't know whether Qiuyan was really injured or she did it on purpose. She struggled hard for a few times but couldn't get up. Wang Kun glanced at the long line of cars behind, and he quickly gave Qiuyan a princess hug and picked her up.

Seeing Wang Kun holding her in his arms, Qiuyan was overjoyed. She was so happy that she couldn't even express it in words. She was secretly happy that her plan had come true. She had deliberately pretended that she couldn't get up just now.

Wang Kun looked around and saw that there was no place to put Qiuyan, so he immediately carried Qiuyan to his passenger seat. He didn't know where Qiuyan was injured, so he wanted to take her to the hospital for a check-up as soon as possible. As soon as he got in the car, he didn't even bother to deliver the goods, and drove to the hospital quickly.

When Wang Kun carried Qiuyan into the car, Hongliang happened to be passing by on his way to the company. He saw the scene clearly. He thought something had happened to Wang Kun, and he wondered if he needed help.

"Ah Kun, follow this car and see if he needs help. Report to me immediately if anything happens."

"Good Chairman" Hongliang's assistant A Kun immediately followed Wang Kun's car.
