

First Strong 30

Chapter 30 - Up to 0 times the price

Looking at this scene, everyone is speechless, especially the bodyguard.

They think that Shen Lang probably thought it was really leaking, or that five thousand can bargain to one thousand and five has already earned, but it is clearly a big pit!

The boss directly put the incense burner to the sinking wave, just want to create the fact that it has been traded!

“Boss, Mr. Shen, he just came from the county, not very familiar with the style of antique street, this incense burner is all right. Our boss...”

The bodyguard began to negotiate with the scalp, although there is not much money for one thousand five, let alone the boss will not care, even if he can pay for his personal purchase. But this is obviously a pit that has not been blocked, and may affect the boss's perception of his ability.

“The incense burner has already been bought, pay it!”

The little old man saw that he wanted to help, directly interrupted his words and let Shen Lang pay.

The bodyguard originally wanted to reveal the identity of Yue Zhennan, but this time it was blocked, so it would be difficult to continue.

He secretly shook his head, did not say anything, directly open the wallet to save money.

Shen Lang directly handed over one thousand five to the boss. The little old man's eyes were very poisonous. There were more than 1,500 pieces in total. He directly took dozens of pieces of change and did not need to point them.

“Thank you. Come here often!”

Although it was very accurate, the old man took the money and counted it up.

From the county? The pit is the soil buns!

His face was full of flowers, next to his friend, but also a smile, a deep understanding of his style of doing business. This is not a lot of money, but the victory is in a high proportion, it is earned dozens of times.

Shen Lang has already paid for it. Others can only look at the excitement. In the face of the boss, it is inconvenient to say it, but the expression on the face has been fully explained. The bodyguard is also very helpless.

The clerk saw that he had already bought it, and did not use the boss to speak. Hurry up and take the incense burner from Shen Lang's hand, pour the incense ash inside, and wipe it with a rag.

When he was going to pack it with a bag, Shen Lang waved him to take it.

Shen Lang took the incense burner again, holding it in both hands, and gently rubbing it up.

Feel the energy contained in it, and no matter where he is, he directly uses the "yin and yang wave if true" to quickly absorb the energy inside!

This incense burner should have a history of hundreds of years, and it has always been in a good environment, and it has accumulated a lot of energy for many years. But it is still a lot worse than Shen Yao's own jade.

However, the aura inside the jade has been absorbed, and now it absorbs the aura of the incense burner, which is also greatly enriched, far better than the daily cultivation.

Falling in the eyes of others, he is holding a Capricorn, feeling and observing this incense burner. The experts at the scene are not lovers, and the wipes are very smooth and clean. There is not much history in watching this thing, and certainly not worth much.

Little age, thinking about it!

It is also time to let him eat a little loss, and later will not be a bigger one.

Shen Lang looked down at the incense burner, everyone's expression was only a bodyguard, which made him very embarrassed, knowing that he would not jump out. Immediately said to Shen Lang whispered: "Let's go?"

"Go! Go back and study slowly."

"This line is alive and old."

"Young people still have to study hard, not reading books, learning is important."

At first they thought that Shen Lang was still observing with hopes. After seeing him stay for a while, he realized that the child might be stimulated!

Originally they all watched the excitement. Look at him like this, especially watching him pull out all the money, and there are dozens of pieces left. I also pity him, and comforted him a bit.

In the time they talked, Shen Lang has absorbed all the aura contained in it, and this is a big earner! Now this incense burner, there is antique value!

He looked up and glanced at everyone, then his eyes fell on the little old boss.

"You gave me a discount, and I will give you a chance. If you buy it back, it will be 150,000."

When this is said, everyone is shocked!

Don't say that these people don't know, that is, the Yuejia bodyguards who followed, listened to this, and felt that this kid is crazy!

Obviously, it is a very ordinary broken incense burner. It has been pitted for a thousand and five. It is good to pay a tuition fee to buy a lesson. Actually, people still buy it back a hundred times!

"Let's go..." The bodyguard felt too shameful to be surrounded.

At this moment, he was very glad that he was interrupted by the old man. If he said the identity of the boss, the boss would be surrounded by the boss!

“This is a good thing, can’t you see it?” Shen Lang showed the incense burner to everyone: “There is no one who knows how to do it?”

The old man smiled and said: “We all know how to do it. I said that this is a good thing! You should take it back to the collection, let alone 150,000, maybe there are people who want it. I have already cut it, so I don’t. It’s good to win again.”

Everyone has eyes, this young man is too naive, want to sell back in this way, the boss is more treacherous, saying that his own things are good, but also said that they do not win people’s love.

There were a few of them on the scene. It was really common to watch this thing. I really felt that the Shenlang collapsed.

“The owner of the Bronze Pavilion over there has the most research on bronze. I will see if he has any interest in making fun of it.”

Some people watched the excitement and didn’t think it was too big. After talking out, they ran straight out and went to call the boss of another shop.

The little old man smiles awkwardly. They are familiar with each other for a long time. Even if they are good at it, everyone has their basic eyesight.

This small incense burner is used casually. The price that was collected in the past is fifty. Of course, it is impossible to be a treasure. Even the owner of the bronze pavilion came over and could only admire that he had changed his hands by 30 times.

“Liao boss of the bronze pavilion is really a connoisseur. Everyone waits for him to come over to the palm of your hand. You can see first, we still have a lot of good things in Jubao.”

The little old man warmly greeted everyone, he would come over and say hello in such a small business, mainly because he was involved in his baby, and now he is using the popularity of gathering.

The store door is wide open, and the time just after this time has also attracted some people from the opposite side and passing outside to see the excitement.

Shen Lang is also not polite, continue to stroll in the store, while receiving the aura of the store.

There are also some antiques with a price of several hundred thousand, which also contain a little energy, including the boss's baby. But these are relatively weak, and they are not as good as this incense burner. So he started with Jin Hao, the actual target is this incense burner.

After a while, a fat man in his fifties came over with the people just now. There were some guests who were originally in the bronze pavilion. They all watched the fun.

"Quebo boss is a good thing here, can you use me to see it?" This boss Liao smiled and gave his neighbor a field. Although he is a peer, he has different emphasis and will not compete directly.

"Look at this, the value is not worth 150,000." Shen Lang directly threw the incense burner.

As far as his indifference is concerned, it makes other people feel that it is more unlikely to be a good thing, or else it must not be careful?

Liao boss caught it, and carefully observed the different details of the incense burner at various angles.

In the old man's head, the boss looks like, Liao boss is helping him lift the sedan chair, deliberately pretending to be the same.

"Fifty thousand... I dare to accept it."

Everyone was shocked when this statement came out!
