Chapter 71 - Criticizing Teacher Wang

Originally for the new principal of Meiyuan, the two police officers have already estimated quite a lot. After all, they do not have any clues and evidence, and they are not likely to offend people. And now I heard that on the private banquet of Secretary Yao last night, there was a wave of swells. What does that mean?

If this is to take people away from the investigation, isn't it the face of Yao's secretary?

The director of the school next to him was also surprised. He didn't know that there was such a relationship.

It was no coincidence that they arrived in time, but there was a policeman coming to the school to go to the school building to find a student. He had just reported it to him from the office. Because the accidents last night were all students in the county, the principal was paying attention to this matter early in the morning.

I heard it immediately after I got it, but I didn't know it was a wave when I came, but I didn't want my students to be inexplicably involved. Unexpectedly, after seeing that it was Shen Lang, the principal was very angry. Now I heard that Shen Lang was actually a guest of Yao Shuji, which made him unbelievable.

Not to mention Mr. Wang, he only felt his legs tremble, soft, and almost fell down.

What have you done? Shen Lang is not only known to the principal, but also the person who Yao's private dinner at Huayue Hotel. Can this relationship be shallow?

If there is any problem, it can be said that it is selfless, but now it is a matter of catching the wind.

"I was wrong! Principal, I am wrong! I am very stressed because of this, and I am confused. So I am a bit confused. I am not going to fall into the accusation of Shen Lang's classmates..."

Teacher Wang tried to stand up and strive to maintain a normal speech rate to express his ideas clearly. The impression of the principal here is definitely not good, but I hope that it will not worsen. If Yao Shuji knew it, he would give an opinion to the Education Bureau. If he did not, he would transfer him to the school in Shangougou.

Meiyuan New did not have time to reprimand him, but said to the two policemen: “Two comrades, what do you think?”

“Misunderstanding! Absolutely misunderstanding!”

“Yes, yes, we were misled by Teacher Wang. In fact, we originally came to understand Dong Wenbin’s situation. This is an accident...”

Another policeman’s knife makes Wang’s sweat bigger.

“That will bother you. Shen Lang, you go back to class!”

When Shen Lang saw that Meiyuan New had come over, he had never spoken, and he did not swear for himself. Knowing this, Meiyuan New can make it clear. But at this moment, he did not listen to obediently.

“Principal, director, and two. I think everyone knows that this is not like a big city. It’s a bit of something that will spread soon. Besides, even in a big city school, there are police who come directly to the classroom to put people. Taking it out and asking questions will definitely make others suspicious...”

The opening of Shen Lang made everyone’s eyes look on his face.

“Shen Lang, what do you mean? Directly make it clear!” the director said busy.

“Is it for us to clarify?” The policeman with a good attitude also said one.

“No, the two did not rest for one night, and did not delay your time. This made it easy for Teacher Wang to help me clarify in class.”

Shen Lang’s eyes fell on Wang’s body, and Teacher Wang did not dare to look at his eyes.

“Should, should.” Teacher Wang nodded again and again.

He is now asking himself to let this matter go quickly, and don’t make it bigger. As for the clarification of the class for Shen Lang, it is nothing.

“The two comrades went back to work! The principal is also busy with you. I went to the class with Mr. Wang to clarify!” The director immediately made an arrangement.

The two police officers really didn’t want to be here, and they quickly left. Meiyuan New also nodded and turned and left.

This is the best arrangement. The principal is not convenient to clarify in the past. The last night with Shen Lang to eat with Yao Shuji, you can only talk about it here, it is inconvenient to openly say in the class. In the past, the principal’s bodywork will make people think more.

It is just to let Wang return, and not to mention whether he will slippery, the classmates in the class will think that he is the word to protect the waves. When the director went, it represented the authority of the school.

“Mr. Wang, I am not talking about you. For students, your sense of responsibility is really not enough!” After the principal left, the director immediately criticized Teacher Wang.

“I really didn’t mean it, because Dong Wenbin’s head was big...”

Teacher Wang smiled bitterly. After the headmaster left, his pressure dissipated a lot and wiped a sweat.

“Don’t say that I criticize. Dong Wenbin is your student, Shen Lang is also your student, and is a student of our school. You should be treated equally, and you should not be a good condition for Dong Wenbin’s family. It is obviously biased! The director continued to criticize.

“No, this is not...” Teacher Wang looked bad. He was really because this relationship was biased toward Dong Wenbin, but today is different. Dong Wenbin is dead.

“Okay, go to the class now! You are too inferior to the class management, just don’t come to class, just don’t go to self-study, is this going on?”

The director is indeed the biggest one, and this is also a disaster for the school. Although they are out of school, they are supposed to be self-study at school and should be in the school dormitory. According to the general practice, parents will definitely find a school to discuss, the above leaders will also say that the school has not fulfilled its management duties.

Although the principal is responsible for this matter, there are still many specific things that he still needs to deal with and face. So the mood is really not good, but after approving Mr. Wang, I thought of the Shenlang next to me, and said that I didn't go to class yesterday, so I didn't say it.

The three returned to the classroom and interrupted the class again, letting the teacher in the class go out first, and the director went in to preside over the clarification.

It didn't take long for them to leave, but the time of this time has already caused many people to have various associations and whispers to communicate a lot.

Now that Shen Lang is back, or the director is coming back, I want to know what happened.

"There was just a policeman coming. I came to see Shenlang students to understand the situation and brought adverse effects to Shen Lang. I apologize here. I have to clarify that Shen Lang has no problems, just understand Let's see the situation."

Teacher Wang's words have made me as sincere and serious as possible. But because his status is not right with an emotional apology. Speaking it out, it makes everyone feel that it is counter-talk!

The director also heard it, and immediately criticized it seriously: "This is something that is wrong with Teacher Wang! There has been an accident. Everyone is in a heavy mood, but it is not because of a good family situation. It is a guess for other students. !"

This is so embarrassing to Teacher Wang, but it can only be endured.

"Shenlang students didn't come to class yesterday, but they forgot to take time off. Yesterday was with our Mayor Mei!" The principal said that it was dinner, but the director estimated that Shen Lang was with Yao Shuji before dinner. It is more appropriate for the principals to be together.

When this is said, there is a hammering effect. Since Shen Lang is with the principal, it will definitely not have anything to do with Dong Wenbin's accident. Everyone's association immediately moved to another direction.

How will Shen Lang be with the principal? Is it a relative of the principal?

I haven't recognized my relatives before.

His performance has advanced by leaps and bounds, which is the result of the principal's finding someone to make up the class.
