

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 186

Jonas put down the menu and pulled out the chair for Melinda. She put down her square bag and took her seat. Jonas handed the menu to her.

"That's all." Jonas had ordered quite a few dishes with the menu in her hand. The waiter by their side wrote them down. Melinda closed the menu simply and handed it to the waiter.

The delicate ornaments in the room were extremely valuable. Melinda had been studied in the university and now when she carefully studied them, she found that they were all genuine antiques.

'Who is so rich to open such a restaurant here?'

Melinda thought to herself. When she returned to her sense, there was a cup of drink in front of her. "Thank you."

She was still polite to Jonas. Juice was the lemon flavor that Melinda liked. The light lemon flavor overflowed, making her relaxed and narrowed her eyes.

The lemon juice tasted sour, but it lit up the entire taste bud. Melinda was also shocked.

Cold dishes were served soon. There was a refreshing little dish on the colorful plate. No comment on how it tasted but the color matching was very good.

In other words, its value was comparable to that of the dish of a five-star restaurant.

Thinking of this, Melinda couldn't help studied the tableware and found that although these were not very expensive, they were still valuable.

She had never expected that there was such a restaurant on the opposite side of the company. No wonder that many people couldn't imagine it.

Melinda guessed that this must be owned by a young man from a noble family. Since the guests were either rich or powerful, they ordinary people had better stay out of it.

Or they could only afford to have a meal in the lobby on the first floor.

The dishes were served very quickly, most of which were Melinda's favorite. Jonas served a half bowl of appetizers for her and said, "Have a try. If it tastes good, you can order takeout to the company later. It's closer to here, so you don't need to worry that it will be cold soon."

This restaurant was run by Jonas Pei. He designed all the details of the design in the shop according to the preference of Vivian, but she did not know.

"Not bad. But I will get tired of it if I eat this every day." Since Melinda always respected others when she spoke, she wouldn't say the dishes here were not very good. But she rejected Jonas's proposal in her own way.
