

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 205

It had been a long time since Melinda had such a relaxed and happy mood. This time, it seemed that she experienced a life and death, which allowed her to see through too much.

Jonas lost a lot of weight and looked extremely thin. Melinda tried every way to make him gain weight back.

Jonas sat in the middle between them, and took care of them from time to time.

It was hard for an outsider to imagine that a bossy man like Jonas would have such a tender expression. Seeing that Jonas was busy serving them with food, Melinda could not help but stop him. "You should have a good rest now. I can do it myself."

"Your wife just cares about you."

Seeing this, Nelson could not help teasing him. Melinda smiled shyly. She looked at Jonas with a little anger, which made Nelson laugh more happily.

"Why are you still so shy in front of your family?" Jonas joked as he held her hands tightly. Melinda's hands were so small that they fit well for playing the piano. She had to work and lived on her own now, and her fingers were no longer as delicate as they used to be.

Thinking of this, Jonas couldn't help asking, "Linda, have you learnt piano before?"

Melinda was stunned, with her eyes full of blankness. When she was a child, her family members would pay attention to her preferences, and there would be no reluctance at all.

Leonard required much calligraphy and chess skills for her, the musical equipment was rarely mentioned in front of Melinda. The painting Melinda herself was fond of was carefully studied by her.

And it was after Melinda got into the Gu family that she started to learn piano.

"No."

Jonas just nodded. He didn't go on with this topic, but changed to another topic. Melinda did not it to heart, but Nelson seemed to know everything.

"I'm glad to see you two like this," said Nelson with delight. Then he picked up his glass again and proposed a toast to them.

"I'm happy today. Let's clink."

Both of them picked up the wine glasses in front of them and had a drink. Since it was not appropriate for Nelson to drink too much, all of them had a sip of the wine. Jonas had just recovered, while Melinda was a woman, so they were tolerant of her.

"Jerry is behind the kidnapping." After putting down the glass and pondering for a long time, Jonas finally chose to say it out. But speaking of Jerry, there was a slight change in his eyes when he looked at Nelson.

Melinda had heard it from William in the police station, so she knew that. She was happy to see Jonas being honest.

"He is my father's illegitimate child. I can see that he hates my father so much that he plans to blame me." When Jonas talked about Jerry's identity, he looked calm. But after his calmness, no one could see his real intention.

"Grandpa, do you know Jerry?" Jonas's target suddenly turned to Nelson, and Melinda's eyes fell on Nelson, too.

did not know that.

looked at this one and then

long time ago,"

about Jerry. It was long ago. Jerry was the illegitimate child of his son, and many people afterwards, and no one knew anything about it. Nelson also didn't ask expect that the news of this kid known to him after so many years was because Jonas was about the things happened

sighed Nelson in his

Jerry revenged Jonas because of his father, didn't he?" Hearing this, Melinda frowned and her smile that year either. But from what he said, I can tell that he must hate not only my son, but eyes, but also when he looked at things.

the whole family from this case. The

it was not hard

Jonas to pay the price for the last generation," Melinda said unhappily. No wonder that she didn't like Jerry

Melinda and did you going to let him go like they were all his grandsons, Nelson still favored Jonas in terms of love. What's more, the way how Jerry

a young age, he with him. But Jerry took this in the battlefield.

but with a touch of hostility in to see the cruel side of okay as long as you know what was very satisfied with what Jonas did, except that he was bad at relationship.

let him go so long as Jerry let himself out alive, he should be ready for his too far this time. But the best way is Jonas was trying to hide his true feelings, Melinda still recognized the cruelty in his

"Through law?"

comment as he was thinking about it. He was helpless that Melinda had been travelling in the society for a long time, people often ignored the law.

worst way to solve it in your own way. Don't try

by the law in the past year, and she had been telling him saw Jonas deal with some business before, so she didn't want him to behave like that

Jonas smiled gently. He didn't like to hear that, but he would not contradict what Melinda skill to coax his wife. What his wife