

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 359

Melinda never believed that there were two identical things in the world, especially people. Even twins couldn't be so similar.

Especially that man, she felt so familiar with him.

When Jonas came back home, he thought that Melinda must have gone through something. He asked the servant and found nothing unusual happened today.

"Jon, I met Emily today! Right on the way home!" When the two of them returned to their own room, Melinda finally could not help saying, if it were others, they would definitely think that she was talking nonsense.

"You must be mistaken," said Jonas with a frown. Melinda didn't seem to be the kind of person who would talk nonsense. The case had been a mess for so long. If Emily hadn't died, everything would have been a joke, wouldn't it?

"Emily has been thrown into the sea by Jerry. She can't be alive." Although Jonas tried to comfort Melinda, he couldn't help but whisper in his heart. It had been a long time since Melinda mentioned Emily.

It must be that the woman looked exactly like Emily. Did Jerry take action again?

"But she's really like Emily. No, she must be Emily! I can't be wrong." When Melinda thought of that figure again, she was so familiar with it that her heart beat faster.

"You have been too tired these days. Go to bed," said Jonas. Seeing the confident look on Melinda's face, he also had some doubts.

Was there any other hidden reason behind this? In theory, Jerry was a ruthless person and would never leave Emily alive.

After Melinda fell asleep, Jonas still felt worried. He quietly left the bedroom and went to the balcony to call Ted to do the investigation.

"Boss, are you telling me a ghost story at night? Isn't Emily dead?" Ted covered his chest with his hands and said exaggeratedly. He felt that his boss was crazy and asked him to investigate Emily.

How to investigate a dead person?

"I remember her body hasn't been found yet, which means it is still unknown whether she's alive or not," Jonas said. Hearing his words, Ted also realized that this order was not on a whim, but something might have happened.

"Boss, don't worry. I will investigate it carefully," Ted said. Although the task was a little difficult and this matter had been passed for a long time, it was still convenient to investigate since the criminals were still in prison.

That night, Jonas didn't sleep well. He had thought that someone who had been far away from him would appear again. The feeling was really complicated.
