

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 389

It was not until the second day that she woke up that she knew about it. She was very worried when she read the news on the Internet, but she had never heard of it from Jonas.

However, no matter how many things he had to deal with in the company, he would go to the hospital to accompany her for at least an hour every day. He didn't want her to think that she was not important in his heart because of what she had experienced.

The company seemed to be nothing in front of her.

Sometimes, he couldn't help but think of the time when he just knew her six years ago. He married her with great resistance in order to have a place in the company.

Now thinking about it, which seemed to be a joke. At this time, he sincerely thanked for his grandpa's stubbornness at that time.

He once thought that he didn't need these feelings. He just needed power.

Melinda had recovered very well. She could get out of bed and walk around. Sometimes she could go to the park downstairs the hospital, but her favorite thing every day was to see the child.

The child had gradually become more and more cute. Queena said that this child would never be worse looking than his father in the future.

The baby looked almost the different day by day. Looking at it, Melinda was full of joy. The most uncomfortable thing was that she couldn't hug the baby now, but the doctor also said that the baby could soon go out of the incubator and see the outside world like other children.

Both Jonas and Alston were working hard for the company's affairs. The previous gaps seemed to disappear overnight. After these things, the two seemed to see through a lot.

They had seen through everything that they had been struggling with.

They were back together. The most gratified ones were Melinda and Queena. Although Queena complained about Alston in her heart, it was undeniable that she still had feelings for this person.

Especially at this important moment, she preferred a family to be together and overcome difficulties together.

Obviously, Yulia's boyfriend was well prepared. For so many days, the company didn't get any progress even though Jonas and Alston had worked together to fight against him.

At the same time, in order to make up for their previous negligence, the hospital put the child in the room of Melinda because the two people arranged by Jonas put a lot of pressure on them.

The baby was almost all right now, but they had to be careful when taking care of him, and even the temperature in the ward had to be paid attention to again and again.

The child had also arrived at the ward. Queena became more and more responsible. She had to take care of Melinda and the child, busy with everything.
