CHAPTER 158: BLOOD TIES

Cira continued breaking things, apparently that satisfied her, Enzo stayed very still, watching every movement his sister made and finally said.

Cira, what are you planning to do? I have many planes, which one are you interested in? The ones I have with you or the ones I have with that bitch Abril? I'm curious about both.

Enzo responded, fearing the answer his sister would give him.

— Well, I will be merciful with you, I will let you live as long as you are useful to me, so if you want to keep breathing you better not get in my way.

— And with April?

Cira threw a vase to the ground causing it to break into thousands of pieces and answered.

For her, my planes are also Father's. What? I suppose Father didn't tell you since he doesn't consider it worth telling you, he wants her dead, he says she's dangerous.

Cira laughed and said.

_That seems ridiculous to me, what could that bitch do against us, she's useless without magic.

Enzo had always been more sensitive to magic than anyone in his family, on several occasions he felt that April possessed some magic, although it was too weak for anyone else to notice, but he had never told anyone because if his father had known that April possessed magic, no matter how small the amount she had, she would have made her his successor, so he had kept it as a secret.

What if she wasn't useless? What if she also had magic? What if she wasn't useless? What if she also had magic? It doesn't matter, whether she has magic or not, I will kill her but not before destroying everything she has.

Cira felt as if someone was watching her, she looked in the direction where April was next to her mother in a corner of the room. Cira smiled maliciously and said.

I think I won't have to wait that long to destroy that bitch.

Cira walked to the corner where April was. Cira made a fireball not in her right hand, Sophia took April's hand and when Cira threw the fireball at them, they disappeared; in an instant they found themselves in another place, it seemed to be the top of a tower from that place April saw something that terrified her, thousands of monsters were filling the training fields and in the middle of them she saw her father, Sophia told her.

My little one, as you can see, the war is at the door and it seems Vritra suspects your powers, I don't think it will take long to attack us, that's why you must be prepared April, because without you, this war cannot be won.

April looked once again at that training field plagued with monsters, that sight seemed like a nightmare, fear invaded her, Sophia took her hand and said.

Do not be afraid, you are very powerful my little one.

What if I'm not as powerful as you think? What if I can't fight when the time comes? April, through your veins runs not only my blood, you also possess Vritra's blood, proof of this is your reddish hair, but you not only inherited the color of his hair but also his magic, like him you have fire magic, although it has not awakened yet, but I am sure that when the time comes, it will awaken and there will be no one who can against you, the darkness will not be able to against you, just never forget who you are.

Vritra felt as if someone was watching him, he looked around until he found the person who was stalking him, that gaze came from the top of one of the palace towers, although it had not seemed like anyone at first glance, he felt the presence of a person, he used his dark magic to jump and reach the top of the tower.

When April saw her father, she was startled, her father was in front of them with a fierce look, he said.

- Who are you, show yourself immediately.

Sophia stared at Vritra, although many years had passed and his face had become marked with some wrinkles and his reddish hair had a few white hairs, for a moment she thought she was seeing a young boy with whom she had fallen madly in love.

She had loved him with all her heart and deep down she still loved him. He walked towards them, a red flame of fire appeared in his hand and he said.

_ I guess I'll have to force you to leave.

That flame of fire grew larger, expanding throughout the tower, April was very afraid, although her physical body was not in that place, she could feel the suffocating heat of the flames, the smell of smoke entering her lungs and preventing her from breathing, Sophia reacted, surrounded her daughter with her arms and said.

_ I'm sorry.

After her mother said that, April woke up, she was shaking with fear, she was sweating and her breathing was labored and her body was hot as if she had been near the flames, some parts even burned as if she had been burned, she tried to get up and go to the bathroom, she was looking for the relief of the water, but then the door opened, it was Alessandro, he seeing her with red, sweaty skin and labored breathing rushed to her side, took her by the shoulders and asked her with the vivid terror in his eyes when he saw her suffer.

_ Aby, who did this to you?

It was hard for April to speak since she felt like she couldn't breathe, with great difficulty she asked him to take her to the bathroom, Alessandro did what she asked, he took her to the bathroom and put her in the bathtub that was half full, the water was cold, that gave relief to April. Alessandro stayed by her side, holding her hand until she calmed down a bit and her breathing normalized a little better.

- Are you better?

- Yes.

- What happened to you? Has someone attacked you? It's not what you think, no one has attacked me.

Your skin is red and until a moment ago you couldn't breathe, do you really think I'm going to believe that you haven't been attacked? It's true, I've been in this room the whole time and no one has entered.

Alessandro took Abril's face in his hands and said, I won't believe that, tell me who did it or else I will leave no stone unturned until I find whoever dared to lay a hand on you, I will make them pay with their life.

CHAPTER 159: THE SEAL OF THE HEART

Abril put her hand on Alessandro's to calm her anger, as she seemed to be willing to kill anyone who stood in front of her.

_ Lessan please calm down.

Alessandro next to his forehead with Abril's said with a soft but fierce voice.

How can I calm down after seeing that you have been hurt? Tell me who did this to you? Abril hesitated for a moment whether to tell or not what had happened, but she knew that it was best to tell the truth, otherwise Alessandro could create a big scandal, he would not stop until he found out what had happened to her.

Okay, I will tell you what happened to me, but please do not get upset.

Abril told her everything that had happened without holding anything back. Alessandro listened in silence until she finished speaking; although he had not said a single word, his face showed what he felt and thought at that moment. "I will kill Vritra Venobich" Abril saw Alessandro's contained rage in his eyes, she kissed him, a soft and sweet kiss, then another and another until she saw that all that contained anger was disappearing little by little with each kiss she gave him. She caressed his cheek and said to him while she looked at him: I will be fine, it was nothing serious.

No matter how small the damage you receive is, I hate that they hurt you Aby and I hate myself for not being able to protect you even when I said I would.

April squeezed Alessandro's hand and said to him. Lessan you already do it, you take good care of me.

_ It's not like that, if I was doing it right, you wouldn't be like this right now.

April began to feel cold after her skin got cold, she stood up, Alessandro helped her take off the wet clothes that had stuck to her body, he looked closely at her naked body for a moment and saw that there were red marks on her white skin as if she had been exposed to the sun for too long, he took a robe and put it on her very carefully so as not to hurt her, then he took her in his arms and carried her to the room, he gently placed her on the bed and said to her.

You better call a doctor. I don't think it will be necessary, I'm fine.

Still I want to do it, I'll be calmer if they check you, it's the only thing I can do for you right now.

April knew that Alessandro felt guilty and no matter what she said, he would continue blaming himself if that makes you feel calmer, at least there is a problem. Alessandro headed for the door, April felt scared, she didn't want to be alone, but if she told Alessandro he wouldn't leave her alone at any time so she just said.

Please don't be long. I won't, I'll be back soon.

When Alessandro left the room he looked for one of the servants to call the doctor and he went out to his room, he also sent a message to the wizard tower for Sirius to come see him early in the morning, then he returned to the room with April, when she saw him she showed a relieved expression on her face.

_ I'm sorry I took so long. Don't worry.

Alessandro approached, took a chair and put it next to the bed, April's skin still looked red, he decided that he would not sleep with her that day since he did not want to hurt her while she slept, he took her hand and said.

_ The doctor will come right away.

_ Lessan, how did the meeting with the generals go?

Good, although many are afraid to participate in this war, nobody wants to fight monsters.

Her face, Alessandro caressed her cheek and said.

Do not worry, help, Cassian has helped me convince them.

I'm sorry. - Why are you apologizing? This is all my father's fault.

Do not apologize for your father's actions, you have not done anything wrong, in the past I made the mistake of hating you just for being his daughter, now I regret having done that, if I had the chance I would go back in time and not make the same mistake again.

We cannot change our past, but we have changed our future.

Alessandro leaned forward, gave her a soft kiss on the lips and said.

I swear that this will not happen again, I love you and I only want to protect you and cherish you.

One of the maids knocked on the door and announced the arrival of the doctor. After the doctor examined April and gave her some ointments for the burns, he left them alone.

That night April had a hard time falling asleep, every time she closed her eyes she saw the image of those monsters engraved in her eyes.

Alessandro stayed stroking her hair until she was finally able to fall asleep. Sophia appeared again, kept her distance from April and said to her.

I'm sorry my girl, I'm sorry. You don't have to apologize. I hesitated and my doubt got you hurt. That's not how it is.

_ My girl, I only want your well-being and your happiness and I know that as long as Vritra is alive, you will not be able to be happy, he will never let you be.

Sophia approached, took her hand and said.

_April, you must awaken your power completely and defeat your father so you can be happy.

Sophia put her hand on her heart and said.

_ My little one, the most powerful seal you have is here, to release all your magic you must break it.

And how do I do it?

_ To break the seal you just have to wish for it with all your heart and with all your strength.

-And when I do, what will happen to you?

_ I am already dead, my girl, I have only stayed to protect you, but when that day comes, when you break the last seal, you will not ask me anymore and I will leave.

CHAPTER 160: THE REST OF THE DEAD.

Cassian got up very early since he hadn't been able to sleep, he went out for a run through the gardens to try to clear his mind a little. He had told Alessandro that he would stay, however he couldn't stop thinking about Maya, how she would be in the land of the fairies, if she would be scared to be in an unknown land, with strange people. Cassian ran for several hours until he was completely exhausted, with his breathing ragged and panting he sat under a tree to rest for a moment, while he rested Ethan approached him and asked.

- What are you running away from?

_ I'm not running away. _

Well, you run as if you were.

I was just clearing my mind.

_ Are you still thinking about the fairy girl?

_ I think about her every minute and every second of the day.

- Are you really going to go for her?

_ Yes, not right now, but I will go for her, he promises.

_Even if you go look for her you won't be able to bring her back, the Fairy Queen won't let you.

_I don't need her permission.

_ You don't understand, your girlfriend has sworn loyalty to the Fairy Queen, no matter where she goes she is tied to her, they have put a leash on her and the Queen will never take it off.

_ I will find a way to free her, I don't plan on abandoning her.

_ The Fairy Queen is someone dangerous, don't underestimate her.

_ I don't, I know she is someone to be careful of, but I don't care how dangerous the sea is, or how difficult it is, I am willing to take any risk to get back the woman I love.

_ I think it is complete madness to want to confront the Fairy Queen, but I admire your courage, if I had had the same attitude as you, perhaps you would not have lost the woman I love, perhaps at this moment I would not be so unhappy.

_ I once gave up on someone I loved, since I knew that person wasn't for me, now I've fallen in love again and I don't plan on giving up the woman I love again, for anything or anyone.

Ethan began to walk away and said to her.

_ I wish you luck, believe me Sirius headed to Alessandro's office when he heard someone calling him.

Sirius.

He looked around for who was calling him, it was April, she was hiding behind a column, Sirius addressed a somewhat stranger.

_ Your majesty.

April took Sirius's hand, she dragged him behind the column, they were very close, Sirius felt uncomfortable and was afraid of what the king would do to him if he saw them in that situation.

Your majesty if someone were to see us so close a misunderstanding could be created and I'm sure my life would end in that instant I just want to talk to you for a moment, but I don't want them to see me, the elven army is here, Alessandro forbade me to leave however there is something I want to ask you, but promise me that you will not tell Alessandro anything we talk about.

_ Okay, but please move away a little, I really don't want to die yet.

_Die? Why would you die?

_The king is a very possessive man, if he sees us so close he will attack me first and ask questions later, normally he will lose his mind when it comes to his majesty.

I guess you're right, it's just that I don't want anyone to see me, as I mentioned before, Alessandro did not want me to leave my room while the elves are in the palace.

Sirius took off a ring he was wearing on his hand and said.

_ Put this on, it's a magic ring, with it you can change your appearance and so we can talk comfortably and fear so much for my life.

April took the ring and placed it on her finger, the ring magically fits her finger, she already had a magic jewel before so she already used it she knew what to do, she turned the ring once and her reddish hair changed color, it was no; then she turned the ring again to change the color of her eyes to brown, but it didn't work, her eyes remained golden, Sirius told her.

It's surprising, her eyes have not changed color, apparently you can't hide with magic, you must turn the ring a third time and change the color of your clothes.

Can I do that? Of course I can, you just have to think about the clothes you want to wear, I suggest you choose the maid uniform so it will be easier for you to go unnoticed.

April did what Sirius told her, her pink dress with delicate lace changed for a simple dress, no, with an apron, she was amazed and asked while pointing at the ring.

_Can I keep it?

_Of course.

Alessandro had given April a ring just like that, however she had lost it during the trip, so having a ring that allowed her to change her appearance and clothes would be very useful, especially at that moment.

_Thank you very much, it will be very useful to me, so I will not take long to change.

The ring only shows an illusion, so be very careful how you use it.

_I will keep that in mind.

_With that appearance I do not think anyone will recognize you, at least from a certain distance, so we can talk calmly April felt calmer after having changed her appearance since no one would recognize her and said.

The question I want to ask you is about my magic, my mother told me that I must break all the seals, but when that happens she will disappear and I will not see her again in my dreams, I do not want that, I do not want to lose her, how could I break the seals without that happening? I would have to do an analysis with my magic, I must know how your mother is tied to you, but maybe she does not want you to save her, she has not thought about that.

- What?

She died years ago, maybe she just wants her soul to rest.

But I do not want to lose her.

_ There is a moment in the life of every human being in which we must let go of our dead, even if it causes us pain.

CHAPTER 161: I NEED A HUG

April had grown up without her mother, it had only been a few months since she had met her; she didn't want to have to lose her for a second time.

_ I know it's selfish of me to want her to stay with me, but I don't want to lose her.

_ You should talk to her and ask her what she wants, don't you think?

_ She just wants me to be happy, but as long as my father is alive that won't happen.

April looked at her palms and said.

_ I know I must break all the seals that stop my magic since with it I can help defeat my father, but the price to do so is very high.

_ They say there is no victory without sacrifice, in wars we all lose something valuable, that's why victories are so difficult to obtain.

_ I know, but what's the point of winning if you lose everything, I want victory but not at the price of losing everyone I love.

Sirius thought the princess's words were innocent, but he wished with all his heart that it was like that, that the war that was coming would not take away everything he loved.

_ Sirius that is why I want your help, help me not to lose my mother.

_ I will do everything in my power to help her, although I do not promise anything.

_ Thank you.

_ I must go, his majesty is waiting for me.

Before Sirius left Abrille said.

I hope you keep our conversation a secret, Alessandro has many burdens at the moment, I do not want to give him more burden at this time.

_ Do not worry, I will keep our conversation a secret.

_ Thank you very much. Thank you very much.

When Sirius arrived at Alessandro's office, he told him.

_ You are late.

_ I am also a busy person, since I ordered to reinforce all the barriers the work in the tower has multiplied.

– And as a van?

_ Not so well, someone has been destroying them, my wizards are exhausted and they spend their time complaining.

_ Try to focus on protecting the towns and villages that are near the barriers. _

I have already done that, is that just why he called me?

_ No, actually he wanted to ask you a favor.

Sirius was surprised that Alessandro was asking him for a favor and not changing a request

Follow new episodes on the

- What is it about?

_ I need a magical protection object for April, something that can protect her while I am away.

_ What she is asking me is almost impossible, her power can nullify my magic.

_ April does not control her power, she cannot use her power to protect herself that is why I am asking you this favor, I know that what I am asking is not something simple, but I know that for you it is not impossible.

Sirius sighed heavily, pushed back his hair and said.

_ Why is everyone asking me for such difficult things today.

I can order you if you refuse, but I don't want to do it, I'm asking you this as a friend Sirius, please lend me your help.

In reality if I had ordered it, Sirius would have had a reason to refuse, but since it was a request from his friend he couldn't do it.

_ You are very clever, you have made sure that I do not refuse, I will do what I can, but I do not assure you that it will work. I assure you that it will work.

_ I know it will, for a reason you are the owner of the wizard tower, I also wanted to ask you to help April control her magic, although several of the seals that limit her magic have been broken, she cannot use freedom.

_ I can't come to the palace every day, I can't neglect the wizards' tower, but she could come with me, the wizards' tower is the safest place in the kingdom, besides I think it would be good for her to get out of the palace, I heard that the elf army is already here.

Alessandro refused the idea of separating from April, but he knew how much she hated confinement and at that moment she was locked in her room to prevent any of the elves who had gone to help them from confusing April with her mother, since the two were the same.

_ I hate the idea of separating from my wife, but I am aware that this is the best for her at the moment, I will leave her in your care for a while.

A while.

_ I will take good care of her, your majesty.

_ I think it will be best for her to leave with me immediately.

_ No, I still have to tell her, come back tomorrow.

_ Okay, I will return tomorrow, with your permission I will leave, your majesty. Shortly after Sirius left, Gabriel knocked on the door and asked,

"Your Majesty, may I come in? Come in."

When Gabriel entered, Alessandro put down the documents he was holding and asked,

"What is it, Gabriel?

" "Duke Alfonso Vampel has requested an audience with His Majesty.

Tell him I'm busy.

"I already did, but he keeps insisting he wants to speak to His Majesty."

Alessandro hated meeting Duke Vampel. He was an old fox, every time he asked for a vampel, he was an old fox, every time he asked for an audience with him, it was because he wanted something and usually Alessandro couldn't refuse since he controlled most of the nobles. He sighed heavily and said,

"Fine, tell him I'll see him."

After Gabriel left, Alessandro wondered what demand the Duke would make that day. Alessandro cursed the Duke out loud. He just wanted to finish his work as quickly as he could to go to April and the Duke's visit only delayed him.

_Damn, why did he have to come precisely today.

Alessandro was waiting for the Duke, but was surprised to hear April's sweet voice, asking if he could come in. He quickly went to the door, opened it and when he saw April he said.

- What are you doing here?

That day April had been a little sad. That day she didn't want to be alone. She longed for a hug, that's why she had gone to see Alessandro even though he had forbidden her to leave. But when she saw that he wasn't well received, she turned around and said.

I just wanted to see you, but I guess I'm just a nuisance. I'll go back to my room.

Alessandro took April's hand and pulled her into the office. He closed the door and said.

You're never a nuisance. Really?

_ Of course, but tell me, has something happened?

Abril hugged him, pressing his face against Alessandro's chest and replied.

_ Nothing's wrong, you just need a hug.

Alessandro hugged him back, both of them stayed that way for a minute, then Alessandro separated and forced Alessandro hugged him back, both of them Abril to look at him.

_ You can't fool me, I know something's wrong with you, what is it?

_ It's really nothing, I just wanted a hug, I just wanted to remember that I'm not alone anymore.

CHAPTER 162: SHE IS AND WILL BE MY ONLY WIFE

Alessandro gave her a soft kiss on the lips and a strong hug, both of them stayed that way for a minute, feeling each other's soft breathing and heartbeats, he ran his hand through Abril's curls tenderly and said to her.

You're not alone anymore Abril, I'm with you. She saw total sincerity in his beautiful green eyes, she took his hand, brought it close to her cheek and answered.

I know, it's just that these days so many things have happened, I'm afraid of what will come, I'm afraid of losing you Lessan.

In reality Alessandro was also afraid, afraid of losing her, it seemed that everyone had joined together to want to separate her from his side, he was afraid of losing those he loved again at the hands of King Venobich. He took April's face in his hands, put his forehead to April's and looked her directly in the eyes and answered.

I'm afraid too and I'm glad to feel it, because if I wasn't I would be a reckless fool, Aby being afraid is not bad, fear is the only thing that stops us from being reckless, just never let fear control you.

The sound of the door interrupted them, it was Gabriel, he poked his head through the door, seeing April next to the king he apologized, sorry to interrupt his majesty, Duke Vampel is already here. Alessandro looked at April, he hated the idea of having to separate from her, especially since she had been the one who had gone to look for him, something she never did. April separated from Alessandro and said to him.

_ You must be very busy, it would be best if I left. Alessandro wanted to say no, that he would stay and refuse to attend to Duke Vampel. But he knew that if he didn't receive him, he would cause a great uproar, he pulled her hand closer to him again, gave her a soft kiss on the lips and said.

_ When I finish talking to the duke I will come to see you.

If you are very busy you do not have to do that, I will wait until night comes. No matter how busy Aby is, I will always have time for you. Alessandro turned to Gabriel and said. You can let him in now.

Gabriel left the office and let the duke in, when he entered Duke Vampel bowed to Alessandro and greeted his majesty the king.

Then he greeted April, his greeting was somewhat rude towards April since he did not recognize her as queen. Greetings to Princess April.

Alessandro was annoyed by the way Duke Vampel referred to April. She is my wife, my queen, do you refuse to recognize her as such? The duke, seeing the growing anger in the king's gaze, had no choice but to lower his head to April and apologize. I'm sorry your majesty, I was wrong, I apologize if I offended you. She accepted his apology.

Follow new episodes on the April did not like the way Duke Vampel looked at her, she just wanted to get out of that room as soon as possible.

_ I'm leaving soon, Alessandro answered in response before April left the room. Once alone, he told the duke that if he is rude to my wife again, rest assured that your head will no longer be attached to your neck. She is and will be my only wife.

Don't worry, Your Majesty. That won't happen again. You better hope so. Alessandro took his place behind his desk and, his voice still full of anger, he asked. - What business does the duke have with me that he insists so much on having an audience with me?

_ I have come to ask for clemency for my daughter Victoria, Your Majesty. Since you banned her from entering the palace, she has been very depressed.

No, I don't want to see her in the palace. She was rude to my wife and tried to attack her.

But Your Majesty...

I was clement with her. Otherwise, she wouldn't be alive. You know that the price to pay for attacking a member of the royal family is death.

I know your majesty, but I just want you to think about the future of this kingdom, another war will soon begin and your majesty still does not have an heir.

That does not matter to you.

I think that as a noble it is something that matters to me, your majesty has been married for four years and there is still no news about an heir, it is obvious that the queen cannot give you children, that is why you must take another wife and...

Alessandro slammed his fist hard on the desk with his open palms, scaring Duke Vampel and said to him with an intense look full of anger, shut your mouth, if you say one more word I will tear out your tongue and feed it to the dogs, April is the only wife I will have, I do not care that you are an influential person duke, neither you nor anyone will force me to take another wife and whoever mentions it again will have to pay the price that entails.

The duke, seeing the king so determined, realized that continuing to insist would be crazy, he apologized, made an exaggerated bow and said to him.

I sincerely apologize if I have offended your majesty, I was only thinking about what would be best for the kingdom.

If that was all you had to say you can leave now. Yes, excuse me for stealing your majesty's valuable time. Before getting up, the duke dropped a seed under the king's desk.

Your majesty dismissed me.

Duke Vampel's purpose had never been to go talk to his majesty to accept his daughter as his second wife, that had only been an excuse to get into the king's office to be able to leave a seed of darkness, something he had been ordered to do.

As he left the office, Gabriel thought he saw the duke smiling. He entered the office shortly after and asked.

- What did the duke want? To remove the prohibition that I put on his daughter that she cannot enter the palace, but I told him that I will never allow that woman to set foot in this palace again, she dared to try to harm April, I will never forgive her for that.

- If I didn't get what I wanted why did she seem so happy? Gabriel wondered out loud. Happy? Yes, I thought he was smiling.

You must have seen wrong. Alessandro stood up. I'll take the rest of the day, take care of the paperwork. Gabriel seeing the mountain of papers on the king's desk asked. Do I have to take care of all that? Yes. Any objections? Will she hear me if I say yes? No, you'll still have to take care of the paperwork. She is and will be my only wife. Alessandro headed for the door and before leaving said. Make sure you finish all that today. What? Alessandro didn't answer, he left the room, Gabriel seeing the mountain of papers on the desk cursed the king, with all that work he would have to stay working all night.

Damn tyrant, he thinks that only he has a wife, she screamed as she sat on the king's chair and began to take care of that mountain of papers with tears in her eyes, that would be another night in which she would not be able to return home with her family.

CHAPTER 163: DON'T PUSH ME AWAY

Every time April saw Duke Vampel, she didn't know if it was because of the strange way he saw her or if it was because of the great resemblance she had to her daughter and that brought back bad memories. But she felt a chill every time she saw him; as she walked away, April heard her mother's voice in her head.

April, there is a seed of darkness threatening the palace.

What? Retrace your steps, use your power to find it.

April tried to feel her power, but there was nothing in her, sometimes it was as if her magic was not there and it was very difficult for her to feel it.

But how do I do it?

_Aby until now you have only used your magic unconsciously since you have not yet broken all the seals that are in you, remove your limiters and concentrate, visualize your power flowing through you.

April took off the earrings that served as limiters, closed her eyes and did what her mother told her until she could feel the flow of her magic, it was as if suddenly a lightning bolt hit her and left her full of power, she could feel something evil, it was the same feeling she had felt when those monsters born from darkness had attacked the palace, she ran, she feared that Alessandro's life was in danger, as she ran through the halls she met Alessandro, he seeing her so agitated asked her.

_What's wrong Aby? Why are you running like that?

April touched Alessandro's face, she gave a sigh of relief at not feeling anything dark inside her.

_Thank God you're okay.

Alessandro took her by the shoulders and asked again.

_What's wrong Aby?

_It seems there is a seed of darkness in the palace.

April pointed at Alessandro's office and told him. It seems it comes from there. Just at that moment Alessandro heard a scream coming from his office, it was Gabriel, apparently he was in danger.

The guards who were stationed at the doors unsheathed their swords and rushed in, Alessandro and April did so shortly after. There was a horrible slimy monster that seemed to come out of the worst nightmares in the office, the guards attacked it but it was useless, their weapons could do nothing against that creature. April began to attack that monster using her light magic, that creature retreated very frightened by the power of the light.

_Alessandro tried to use his magic, he wanted to help Abril defeat that creature, but he couldn't do it, the pressure of Abril's magic was such that it completely nullified his magic, he hated being so useless, in the end she defeated that Creature without anyone's help.

That monster was on the ground like a puddle, it had a strong and putrid smell, everyone stared at her, she approached Gabriel, put her hand on his shoulder and used her magic to heal an ugly wound she had on her forehead, the wound closed and scarred instantly, then she went to the two guards and asked them.

_ Are you okay? They both nodded. Alessandro took Abril's hand and said. Let's go.

Before leaving the room, Alessandro told Gabriel to change my office to another room and make sure that what happened here no one else knows.

Gabriel was still shocked by the attack of that monster, he answered distractedly.

_I will do so, your majesty.

Alessandro took Abril holding her hand through the halls of the palace, went out to one of the gardens and did not stop until they were far enough away from that place, he surrounded her with his arms and hugged her tightly, he felt completely useless, he was supposed to be the one to protect her, but until that moment it was she who had been protecting him, he had only been a burden.

_ I'm sorry, sorry for not being able to protect you even when I promised I would, right now the palace is not a safe place there are too many dangers lurking around every corner, it would be best for you to go somewhere else.

_ Lessan, I understand that you want to protect me, but understand that I also want to do the same for you, I want to protect you from all danger, that's why you don't push me away from your side.

Alessandro took Abril's face in his hands, looked her directly in the eyes and said.

_ I don't want to be away from you either, for me you will always come first, that's why I want you to be in a safe place, even if that place is not with me, you will go with Sirius to the wizards' tower tomorrow morning, you will be safe there.

_ Because he decides everything without taking into account what I want. April began to pat Alessandro on the chest and said.

_ Because you don't understand that I don't want to be away from Aby, I understand you perfectly, but also understand that I'm afraid of losing you if you stay in the palace, you still don't know how to control your magic, you need someone to teach you and that someone is not me.

_ But...

_ It will only be for a while, until the palace is a safe place again.

_ And if it never is, will you be away from me forever? Will you abandon me again?

_ Of course not. I don't want to go.

It broke Alessandro's heart to push April away, especially when it was clear that she hated the idea of leaving, he gave her a soft kiss on the lips and said.

_ It will only be a while, until you can control your magic properly, okay?

April knew that her departure was already decided and that she had no choice but to leave, she nodded, walked away from Alessandro and answered him very upset.

_ Okay, I'll do what you want. Alessandro took her by the hand and said. Aby, I know you're upset, I don't want you to leave like this.

_ Then don't ask me to leave.

Then don't ask me not to be upset.

_ We'll be away for a while, do you really want to leave like this?

April was very upset, but she didn't want to say goodbye like that.

_ No.

Alessandro hugged her again and gave her small kisses on the face, then took her lips, gave short kisses and said.

_ Let's go back to the room.

April was tired of being locked in that room, she refused to go back.

I don't want to go back to my room, we can go somewhere else.

_ Where do you want to go? Can I go back to the house I was living in? That was a place the elves Ethan and Dantriel had been staying, but they were with their army in the west part of the palace so they would not be in danger of meeting them if they went in that direction. He caressed April's cheek gently and replied.

_ Okay, let's go to that place.

CHAPTER 164: BETWEEN KISSES AND MEMORIES

Alessandro and April walked hand in hand until they reached the small house in the farthest part of the palace, April had not been there for a while and was surprised to see that it had changed a lot, around the house there were endless flowers of all colors, the garden on the side was at its best.

_ Have you done all this? April asked as she looked at Lessan. I know this place is important to you so I asked for some improvements to be made after assigning another place for the elves.

_ Thank you.

April sat on a wooden bench next to the house, from where the tall towers of the palace could be seen rising imposingly towards the sky, Alessandro sat next to her, she rested her head on his shoulder and said to him while looking into the distance.

These views bring back many memories. Good or bad? I don't know, at one time I thought they were good but now I'm not very sure. Why? What kind of memories were they?

I didn't know happiness, back then I was content with very little, but I've become selfish and now if I only had what I had back then I wouldn't be happy, because that would mean I would be forgotten again, that I would have a lonely life again and that you wouldn't love me.

Alessandro intertwined his left hand with Abril's, the mark of marriage that he had engraved on their hands shone with the reflection of the sun, he told her that it won't happen again, my love for you will not end, it is eternal and just like this mark of marriage it will not disappear with the passage of time.

Abril caressed the mark of marriage on Alessandro's hand, it was exactly the same as hers, she kissed the back of his hand and said to him.

I'm glad that this mark is forever, that it can't be hidden, or erased, because that shows that you are mine and that you always will be.

Alessandro stood up, took Abril in his arms and said to her. I was thinking of having a quiet afternoon by your side, but you have tempted me, that is impossible now, CA what do you mean? Alessandro gave her a long kiss that left her breathless and replied.

Get ready, I will not let you sleep all night and in case I am not clear enough, it means that I will make love to you until dawn, I will make sure to leave my kisses engraved all over your body.

Abril blushed, but in reality she also wanted the same, she wanted to join her husband in body and soul, she gave him a kiss and with red cheeks said.

You were already taking too long to suggest it.

Alessandro took her inside the small house, placed her on the bed, Abril seeing that it was softer and larger than the previous one asked.

- Have you changed the bed? Alessandro took off his shirt revealing his well-defined torso, gave her a long kiss left Abril panting and responded with a look full of desire and passion.

That's right, it's not as big as the one we have in the main palace, but it's sturdy, so no matter how much we move, it won't break and because of space we don't need that much, after all, being on top of you or you'll be on top of me.

April blushed, Alessandro loved her reaction, that awakened his desire even more, he took her lips again, his kiss was long and deep as if he wanted to devour her, she clung to his neck while their mouths collided and their tongues intertwined.

Alessandro's furtive hands took out to untie the corset of the dress, then his hands slid under her skirt lifting it up until it was completely removed and leaving her in a thin nightgown, he released her mouth for a moment to look at her from head to toe, her silhouette could be seen perfectly, he kissed every part of her face, sweet and tender kisses, full of love, then he went down to her neck, he gave a small bite on her collarbone leaving the mark of his teeth, Abril moaned for a moment because of the pain, he didn't say anything.

Alessandro raised his head, looked into her eyes and smiled, Abril felt that he was making fun of her. Are you making fun of me? He asked a little annoyed, no, I've just realized that my wife is not as innocent as before, it seems that you have matured. Abril gave him a light tap on the shoulder with a closed fist and said.

It seems to me that if you are making fun of me and it is not that I had been so innocent before, it is just that there were many things that I ignored. Alessandro saw her so adorable that he could not help but kiss her and between kisses he said to her.

I really like that part of you. If I remember correctly, you once said that it was annoying. Alessandro gave her another kiss. I do not remember having said such a thing.

Liar, if you remember. Alessandro laughed, caressed her face, gave her a kiss on the eyelids and responded. The thing is that now it does not seem like that to me and I am happy to be the one who has taught you everything you know. April kissed him and asked him.

I was also the first in everything for your majesty. You are the first woman I fell in love with.

He answered, April was not very satisfied with the answer, she was going to ask if he had done the same things he did to her when he made her his, when Alessandro took her mouth again and kissed her passionately leaving her question forgotten Alessandro continued undressing her, when there was no thought of clothes covering her white skin, Alessandro kissed every part of her body, just as he had promised he left kiss marks all over her body and filled her with caresses, he made love to her repeatedly until he left her completely exhausted, that day he showed her with his caresses how much he loved her and he repeated it countless times.

CHAPTER 165: YOU ARE MY OWNER

April woke up with the first rays of the sun that filtered through the window and interrupted her sleep, illuminating her face. That light bothered her, when she opened her eyes she had to blink several times to stop her sight. She was exhausted, her eyelids were heavy. She just wanted to continue sleeping. She wanted to get up and draw the curtains, but if she did, she would wake up Alessandro, who had her surrounded by his strong arms.

She stared at him, he looked incredibly beautiful as he slept, she stared at his face for a while, as she did so she recorded that she had to separate from her beloved and that broke her heart. April hugged Alessandro tightly, she wanted to record his warmth on her body and heart, he woke up and hugged her back, gave her a kiss on the forehead and said.

_ Good morning Aby.

April began to cry, Alessandro sat up, dried her tears and asked her very worried since he did not know what the reason for her crying was.

- What's wrong Aby? Why are you crying? April continued crying inconsolably without answering, the more kindness and concern Alessandro showed, the harder it was for her to stop crying, he put his arms around her and patted her back until she calmed down and stopped crying. He moved a lock of hair from her face and asked her.

_ Will you tell me why you're crying? I just don't want to be separated from you. I don't want to do it either, but it's necessary.

_ Lose.

Alessandro caressed her face, wiped the trail of tears from her cheeks with his lips and said to her.

_ It will only be for a while, our separation is only temporary.

_ Promise me it will only be temporary. Promise. Alessandro seeing that the sun had already fully risen told her.

We should go, we need to take a bath and change our clothes.

- Yes

Alessandro got up first and began to pick up his clothes from the floor, he also recognized Abril's and passed them to him, she stared at him while she changed with a sad expression on her face, he made a joke so that she would stop being sad.

My wife, you like to see me without clothes so much that you can't stop looking at me, maybe I should ask for a completely naked portrait to be made and send it to you so you can see me whenever you want. Abril looked away with blushing cheeks and replied.

I won't deny that I like my husband and that he has a wonderful body, but the portrait thing is going a bit too far, although it might not be such a bad idea it would be a way to immortalize your beauty.

Alessandro laughed at Abril's response, he had said it as a joke, but she didn't seem to be very against him doing it, he approached her, gave her a kiss on the cheek and said.

I don't think it's very convenient to be posing naked for hours, I could get sick and without you to jester my naked body to cure me I'm sure I'll have a very bad time.

_You're right, we should do it when I'm back, your health comes first.

Abril seemed to have taken her joke very seriously, Alessandro regretted having done it, he had forgotten that for Abril her nudity had never been a problem.

_Aby, never show your naked body to any other man; she has understood.

_ I wouldn't. But why do you say that?

Follow new episodes on the

_ Well, it's because I'll get very jealous and I'll make the one who saw your body without clothes see him in the eyes, I'm a selfish person.

Alessandro moved the sheet that Abril was covering her body with, he looked at her carefully and said.

_ You are only mine and I don't want anyone else to see you this way. Abril put her hand on Alessandro's firm chest and answered.

_ Then I can also be selfish and want you to be only mine.

_ Yes Aby, I belong to you, just as you belong to me.

Then we'll have to forget about the painting, although I think it would be a shame not to.

Alessandro took off his pants again and said.

_ You are my owner, you can see me without clothes whenever you want, you just have to ask for it.

April liked that the beautiful man in front of her was only hers, that only she could see him and touch him at will, she began to fondle him and said to him.

_ Are you serious? Yes, very seriously.

Alessandro answered, shortly after he stole her lips and caressed her body with passion, both made love once more before returning to the main palace.

Sirius had been waiting for Alessandro for hours and was already starting to get impatient, for the fifth time he asked Gabriel again.

_ Have you already told his majesty that I'm here? Why is he taking so long?

_ You already told him, he'll be right back.

_ You told me the same thing an hour ago and I don't see him anywhere.

The door opened, it was Alessandro and Abril, Gabriel thanked God, Sirius seemed annoyed for waiting and he did not want to deal with an annoying wizard since that could put his life at risk, he greeted the royal couple and ran away from that room.

Sirius greeted the royal couple and said.

_ Good morning to the king and queen, I'm glad you're okay, I thought something had happened to you since you never showed up.

As you can see we're fine.

Alessandro answered dryly. Sirius just wanted to quickly return to his tower since he had a lot of work behind, he said.

_ Since your majesty here we could leave immediately.

– So soon?

Abril asked as she looked at Alessandro, she knew she had to leave, but deep down she still refused to accept reality.

Alessandro knew he couldn't keep delaying the inevitable, he took Abril's face in his hands and said.

Don't make that face, I promise we'll be together again soon. He gave her a soft kiss on the lips and said. This isn't a goodbye, it's a see you soon. Sirius asked again. So can we go? April nodded. Sirius walked towards the door and said.

Then let's go.

April headed for the door, but before leaving she turned around, pounced on Alessandro, kissed him passionately and said.

I will learn to control my magic quickly and I will return, so wait for me.

He kissed her back and replied.

So I will my beloved Aby, I will be waiting for you.

After exchanging a few farewell kisses, April left with Sirius, both of them headed to the entrance of the palace and used a teleportation scroll. April had been staring at the palace that she had once hated so much, but in that instant the palace disappeared and gave way to a completely unknown landscape. In front of her was a thick forest and behind a huge stone tower rose imposingly towards the sky, it was at that moment that she wanted to return quickly, since in that palace was everything that mattered to her, everything she loved.

Sirius told her. Your majesty, welcome to the wizards' tower.

Your majesty, welcome to the wizards' tower. April looked at the tower and said to herself.

This is only temporary, I will soon return to my beloved, I will strive to make it so.

CHAPTER 166: THE WIZARDS' TOWER

Sirius used magic to open the door of the tower, he pierced his hand towards April and said. We better go in.

April took his hand, upon entering she was very surprised, although the tower looked cold and gloomy from the outside, the interior was well lit and seemed like a cozy place.

This will be your home for a while your majesty, I hope you feel comfortable in my tower, if you need anything do not hesitate to ask.

April was determined to master her magic since she wanted to return to the palace as soon as possible with Alessandro so she said to him.

Then we can start my training right now. What! Right now?! Yes, as you know I am here to learn to control my power, so I want to learn how to do it immediately so I can return to the palace.

Sirius knew that it wasn't just the reason why the king had sent her to that place, he wanted to keep his beloved wife away from danger.

His majesty should perhaps rest a little. No, I want to start immediately. I understand his haste, but mastery of magic is not something that can be taken so lightly. I already know that, I also know that in my case it is even more difficult since my magic power awakened only a short time ago.

That's right.

And that's why I want to start immediately, the war will be soon and I want to be prepared to be able to fight alongside Alessandro.

I don't think his majesty would like the idea of me participating in the war very much.

I am also aware of that, but you will have to accept it, I do not intend to let you face the horrors to come alone.

Sirius scratched his head and said.

I suppose that nothing I say will make your majesty change your mind. That's right, so let's start right now.

Okay, follow me. April followed Sirius to his office, Sirius sat on one of the sofas in his office and said.

Please have a seat. April sat on the sofa on the other side and said. I thought we would start right now.

Follow new episodes on the

_ And that is what we will do, but to know which parts need to be reinforced I want you to tell me if you have any doubts about your magic. April had several doubts actually, she asked Sirius.

How can I have better control of my magic. With practice? Why can I sometimes feel it flowing through my body, but sometimes it is as if it were not there?

- I think it is because you have not yet broken all the seals that sealed your magic, it is incomplete.

That's what my mother told me, she said that until now I've only been using my magic unconsciously.

I know that his majesty is still against breaking the last seal because he doesn't want to separate from his mother's spirit, but if he doesn't do it it's a little difficult for him to control his magic.

But isn't it impossible? No but... it won't be easy. I don't care, even if it's more difficult I don't want to break the last seal. Well, we could try, but I can't assure you that it will work. I still want to try.

Then we should start by learning to channel your magic.

And how do I do it? You could try using enchantments.

Enchantments?

Yes, that will help you channel your magic, when children have just awakened their magic they usually do it and as they learn to control their magic completely they stop using them, some even use weapons or jewels as channelers, but I think you should break the last seal that is in you if you want to be able to have access to all your magic.

Then maybe I should start with enchantments.

Yes I think that's the best, when you've handled that you could try to channel your magic into a weapon or an object. I don't know how to use any weapon, here in the tower there are many wizards who use magic weapons, they could teach you if you want, during a war that is more effective than using enchantments since it uses less magic, the king does it too, he channels his magic into his sword and creates thousands of sharp blades, although only certain types of weapons can be used to do that.

I was aware that there were many things I had to learn, but I never imagined there were so many.

Sirius stood up, took a book from one of the shelves in the room and gave it to April.

Learning magic is a very complex thing, but if you put your all into learning I'm sure you'll see results quickly.

_ I hope so

. In that book there are many spells that can help you, I recommend that you read it thoroughly before starting with the practical.

I will do so Sirius saw that April was still wearing the ring he had given her and said.

Your majesty, you may find what I'm going to say insolent, but please change the color of your hair and don't reveal your identity to anyone, it's to ensure your safety.

April did what Sirius asked, using the power of the ring she changed her red hair to light brown. I would also like you to choose another name.

April thought about a name for a moment, she chose the name of the protagonist of her favorite novel Amara.

_ It's a nice name, from now on I will address you with that name, please remember to keep your identity a secret, this is a safe place but it's best not to take risks.

Sinus snapped his fingers and a girl in black robes and short blonde hair suddenly appeared.

Tara, I want to introduce you to Amara, she is my student, show her the tower and assign her a room.

Yes, Master Tara introduced himself in April with a smile.

Hello Amara, my name is Tara, I hope we can get along. It's a pleasure to meet you Tara, I hope I'm not being a bother to you. I'm sure you won't be. Sirius gave Tara a look as if to say. "Get out of here, I want to be alone." Tara took April's hand and said to her. Amara, we better get together or I won't be able to show you the whole land. They both left the room. Tara showed her most of the tower and then took her to her room since she seemed very tired. When April was alone, she began to read the book that Sirius had given her, that day she stayed up reading until very late, because all she wanted was for him to finish that book quickly to move on to practice, she needed to learn to handle her magic so she could return to the palace with her beloved.

CHAPTER 167: SILVER FLAMES

Duke Vampel was in his office drinking when suddenly a shadow appeared, it was Enzo, the prince of the kingdom of Laios. The duke bowed before him and said.

_ Prince Enzo, to what do I owe the honor of your visit?

- Did you do what I ordered you?

_ Yes, I carried the seed of darkness as I was ordered.

- Did you see my sister?

- Yes, I didn't feel anything when I saw her, I don't think she has magic.

_ I already imagined that.

- Have you recruited an army as I ordered you?

_ He gathered several mercenaries who are willing to betray the kingdom for a good amount of money.

_ Keep recruiting more soldiers for your little army and make sure you keep a low profile, I wouldn't want you to be discovered.

_ I will do so, Prince Enzo, when will the attack be?

_ I will do so, Prince Enzo, when will the attack be? Soon, so you must be prepared.

Prince, when the kingdom is conquered, will I get my reward?

_ Of course, if everything goes well I will give you what you deserve.

It was midnight, Alessandro went to his room to try to sleep, but he doubted he could do it without April by his side. When he opened the door he saw the shadow of a man in his room, he immediately brought his hand to his sword to unsheathe it, but in that man spoke, he recognized his voice, it was Taren.

Your majesty do not attack me please.

-What are you doing here Taren?

_ I have come to report something I discovered.

Alessandro turned on a light, sat on the sofa and said to him.

_ Speak quickly.

I have investigated Duke Vampel and found out

_ I have investigated Duke Vampel and found out that he has been hiring mercenaries and has created a small army.

-Do you know if he has been in contact with anyone? From the kingdom of Laius?

I have not seen anyone enter his mansion and Duke Vampel very rarely leaves his house, I have been watching him day and night, but I have not seen him having any secret meetings.

I see, I want you to infiltrate some of your men among the mercenaries and report their movements to me.

I will do so.

Taren headed for the door, before leaving Alessandro told him.

_ Taren, be very careful, I am sure that Duke Vampel is related to the kingdom of Laios, he is a traitor, do not do anything reckless.

_ I will keep that in mind.

Taren left leaving him alone, Alessandro lay down on the couch wondering what Abril was doing at that moment, if she was thinking about him and if she was missing him like he was thinking about him and if she would be missing him like he did; Alessandro fell asleep while thinking about Abril, that night he had nightmares that disturbed him all night, nightmares that he had not had again since he slept with Abril. He woke up sweating and cold, he looked everywhere, when he saw that he was in his room, he felt calmer, that he could breathe himself again, he breathed deeply then he repeated to himself.

_ You are in the palace, not on the battlefield, the war has not yet begun.

After arriving at the wizards' tower, April dedicated herself to memorizing all the books that explained the principles of magic, she also memorized several spells, she wanted to put them into practice so she went to look for Sirius, one of the wizards had told her that he was in the north courtyard supervising the novice wizards. When April arrived at the north courtyard, she was very surprised to see that all the novices that wizard had mentioned were children between 6 and 7 years old.

Sirius, upon seeing April arrive, approached her and asked.

- What are you doing here?

_ I was looking for you. _

Do you have any questions that you want me to clarify?

_ No, actually I would like to start practicing using my magic, I have tried to do it on my own but it has not gone very well.

_ Right now I am with the novices, if you can see how they do it and try to do the same as them.

_ Sounds good to me. April approached the children and introduced herself.

_ Hello, I'm Amara, I'll be here today, I hope I'm not a bother. The children introduced themselves one by one.

_ Hello Amara, I'm Liam.

A blond-haired boy answered. I'm Teodor, but everyone calls me Teo.

Another boy with black hair and hazel eyes introduced himself.

– I'm Latifa.

A girl with brown hair and black eyes introduced herself.

_ My name is black.

Said a girl with dark blond hair and blue eyes, she seemed to be the smallest of all. After everyone introduced themselves Sirius told them.

If you've already introduced yourselves, go back to what you were doing.

Liam was the first to resume what he was doing, he raised a wooden wand high and began to recite a few words.

-Crimson fire, may your flames be accurate and destroy whatever they touch.

A flare of fire came out of the wand and fell on a straw doll in front of him, reducing it to ashes.

The other children did the same, using different objects to channel their magic and reciting different incantations. When everyone did, Sirius congratulated them and told them to keep trying. Then he approached the silver flames to continue trying. Then he approached April and said to her.

All of these children have only recently awakened their magical power, that's why they use incantations and objects to channel their magic, you could do the same although you are not a wizard, you are a bearer of light so you will need to create your own incantations.

– And what word should I use?

_ You can use whatever you want, just make sure to express with them what you want your magic to do, what you want to do with it, for example if it is to heal someone, express that with your words and if what you want is to attack, you can do that too, just put strength and conviction in your words.

_ But I don't have any object to channel my magic.

_ You can also use your hands, Cassian that's how he makes his magic work, he touches a seed and makes a tree sprout or touches the ground directly, magic is something versatile you can give it the way you want.

_ Okay, I'll try. Okay, I'll try.

April stood in front of one of the training dummies, closed her eyes and searched for the right words, she wanted to do something similar to what Liam had done.

_ Purifying fire, from your flames cleanse and restore the body. After saying that, silver flames came out of her hand, those dolls were surrounded by those silver flames, however those flames no longer seemed to do any harm.

Nera had never seen silver flames, she approached April and said to her.

Those flames are beautiful, I had never seen flames like that. Sirius said. _ Children, training is over for today, return to the tower. But ... Black Replica. _ It's an order, return to the tower. Nera knew she couldn't disobey the rules of the owner of the tower, so even if she didn't want to leave, she obeyed and marched with the other children .
