CHAPTER 178: A FOOLISH FAIRY

When April found out that Maya was at camp, she ran to where she was, when she saw her she pounced on her, hugged her and said.

- How nice to see you? Maya hugged her back and said. Aby.

I thought I'd never see you again.

- If I'm honest, I think the same, I think I'd never see them again.

- What are you doing here?

Before Maya could answer, Ethan shouted angrily.

They're here to take you, that woman is a traitor, she's told the fairy queen everything, who you are and what you can do, get away from her.

April separated from Maya in surprise. Maya's expression turned grim, she hated herself for betraying them.

- April, I'm sorry, I didn't want to betray them but...

- I'm sure you had no other choice.

– I really didn't want to reveal your secrets to the fairy queen, but I couldn't help it, I can't lie, I tried to hide it from her but she's too cunning, you can't fool her.

April took Maya's hands and said to her.

– I believe you Maya, after all you can't lie, right? That's right.

– Then I have no reason to doubt you. Maya hugged him and said.

– Thank you very much for believing me, for trusting me.

– You're my friend and I know you wouldn't do anything to hurt me. Ethan pulled April away from Maya and said to her.

– She just wants to use you, don't you see? It's true that fairies can't lie but they can disguise the truth.

Fay was starting to get annoyed by Ethan's attitude, he replied.

Fairies with a long life learn to do it, but Maya is just a kid and she's new to not being able to lie, she doesn't know how to disguise the truth, so stop talking nonsense, she knows she's not lying.

You can't say the same about yourself, you know how to disguise the truth, nothing that comes out of your mouth is true.

– Elf this doesn't concern you, so why don't you shut your mouth and let me intervene.

Ethan wanted to break Fay's mouth, he was going to jump on him but Dantriell stopped him and said. Calm down Ethan, this is not something that a Necla fairy should interfere in, the decision to help you or not is April's.

Dantriell had gone to look for them very early that morning, he hadn't had time to explain anything to them since he had only mentioned Maya and April had run away, Alessandro had followed him and didn't wait for him to say anything either. Alessandro spoke.

– Can you explain to us what this is all about? They've come to take her away. Ethan shouted very upset.

Alessandro's face darkened, he didn't know if what Ethan was saying was true or false, but what he was sure of was that no one would take his wife.

I don't care that they came, but no one will take April.

-It's not like you have any options, human king, you are forced to collaborate with us.

Alessandro unsheathed his sword and said to him.

-If you lay a hand on my wife, you will not live to tell the tale. April stood between Alessandro and Fay.

-Calm down Lessan, we will listen to what they have to say first before making any decision, please.

Alessandro put away his sword and said to him. Okay, but I will not let anyone separate you from me. April turned to Fay.

Could you explain to us what it is that you wish for?

My wishes do not matter, they are the wishes of my queen, we are being attacked right now by an army of monsters born from darkness, our weapons are useless against them.

Do you wish for blessed weapons?

We don't want weapons, we want your blessing, the elven royalty doesn't leave their kingdom, they won't help us, but you're different, they don't know about you yet, you can go to the land of fairies and bless our weapons.

Alessandro stood between Fay and April, as he directed his hand to his sword he said.

_ She won't go with you anywhere.

– You're in no position to refuse, if they refuse to help us... A huge explosion was heard in the distance, as well as the roar of thousands of monsters, Alessandro cursed.

Damn it, it had to be right now.

– What's going on?

– They're attacking us, I must go.

Alessandro kissed him on the forehead and said.

– I'll be back.

Alessandro gave Fay a murderous look and said.

– Don't come near my wife, if you do anything to her she'll kill you.

Cassian hurriedly put on his armor Maya approached him and said.

– Let me accompany you.

– I'm going to the battlefield, it's very dangerous, it will be better if you stay here.

– No, I'm going too, you know I'm an excellent warrior, let me help you.

Cassian got close to Maya's face, his forehead next to hers and said.

No, out there is like being in hell, I don't want you to go to a place like that, I wouldn't forgive myself if something happened to you.

The same thing happens to me, I don't want anything bad to happen to you, let me go with you and cover your back, let me protect you now that I can.

– But...

Maya gave him a kiss silencing his voice and said.

– I really won't accept no for an answer, if you don't let me go with you now I will leave after you do, I will go to the battlefield and look for you until I find you.

You are a fool. But that's what you like most about me, right?

Cassian kissed her and answered.

– Yes, I think that was one of the reasons I fell in love with you, although right now I wish you weren't.

You better give me a weapon and we go before they leave us behind.

Fay seeing that Mava was leaving with Cassian said to her. Maya, you shouldn't go.

– If I don't listen to the man I love, what makes you think I'll listen to you?

Fay sighed heavily and just said.

– Just don't die out there, you have serious problems with the queen if she doesn't bring you back in one piece.

– Don't worry, I don't plan on dying here.

Maya left with Cassian. Dantriell almost dragged Ethan out, he complained that he didn't want to leave, that he wanted to stay to protect Abril and cursing Fay, also threatening him, saying that he would kill him if he dared to take her.

When everyone left the store and only the two Abrils were left, they asked him.

- Hey, if the queen helped you, could she free Maya?

-Do you want to negotiate with her?

– Yes.

Fay scratched her head and answered.

The truth is that I do not think she will accept that request.

– Why not?

– Because Maya has caught the attention of the queen, she is her favorite, she will not let her leave.

– Then you will not have my help.

– She answered You are not in a position to negotiate

– Neither will she.

April, after leaving the tent and headed to the entrance of the barrier, all the soldiers were prepared, among the crowd, in the first row April saw Alessandro and in front of him, behind the barrier, a multitude of black monsters as ink of different shapes and sizes scratching the barrier.

April raised her gaze to the sky and prayed to God to take care of her husband and her friends, that they return safe and sound. She repeated that prayer a sinful number of times while she watched them from a distance, since she had a bad feeling, she felt as if something was not right.

While she watched them she said.

– Return safe and sound, and be very careful please.

CHAPTER 179: IMMUNE TO FIRE MAGIC

The wizards cleared the exit using explosives, the army left the camp, from the beginning they got a fight, the monsters seemed to have multiplied and their attacks were faster, they seemed to be willing to enter that day since they did not even let them advance.

April could see from where she was the fierce battle that had broken out, with her gaze and her heart in her hand she looked for Alessandro, but he seemed to be fine against the monsters' attacks, they could not touch him since she had blessed his armor and the enemy army knew it so that day those who attacked him were human soldiers.

Alessandro used his wind to protect himself from the incessant attacks he received and made his way through the crowd that attacked them. They were able to advance and manage to get away from the barrier, as April moved away they felt a tightness in her chest, that bad feeling they felt became more intense, she ran to one of the watchtowers, when she reached the top, the soldiers who saw the battle from there were very surprised.

What are you doing here, mage?

- I want to see what's happening? Please let me stay, I beg you.

_ You can't be here.

_ Please let me stay. April begged again and again, until they accepted her request.

April stayed all day in the watchtower, from a distance she could see Alessandro's silver armor that stood out in that sea of darkness formed by the monsters. As she stared into the distance she felt a precision in her chest and suddenly she found herself transported to the battlefield, it was so real that for a moment she thought she was in that place. Until Sophia appeared before her and said.

_ My girl, you must break the last seal and end this war, you can no longer delay it, those you love are in grave danger.

Before her eyes April saw the fierce battle that Alessandro and her father were having at that moment, she saw how an army of monsters appeared on the horizon joining those who were already there. She saw how many of the soldiers panicked, that night they would not be able to return to the camp, that day they would not be allowed to escape.

Suddenly April returned to the watchtower, the soldiers who were there asked her. Maga, are you okay? April's eyes widened, fear and terror took over her, her legs trembled like jelly and barely held her up, she hit her cheeks forcing herself to react, the two guards were amazed and asked again.

- Maga, are you okay? April ignored the soldiers' comment and hurriedly went down the watchtower, she went to look for Sirius, when she got to where he was she was almost out of breath.

_I need to get out, open the barrier.

-You've gone crazy! I can't do that. I don't have time to explain it to you, you have to let me out, Lessan is in danger.

Sirius took April aside where no one could hear their conversation and told her.

_ I don't know what's going on but I can't let you leave the camp and enter the battlefield.

_ I have to go. _

Alessandro would kill me if I let you go.

_ If you don't let me go he will die. If you don't explain it to me you won't be able to understand it? April didn't have time to explain to Sirius what was going on at the moment. So she ran away and said.

_Reinforce the barrier when you leave. What?! Sirius ran after April, but she was faster, he couldn't catch up to her; upon reaching the barrier April used her nullification power to open a hole in the barrier large enough to be able to pass without destroying it. After opening the barrier several monsters tried to enter at the same time, but none succeeded, April reduced them to ashes with her silver flames before they could touch her, she ran out of the camp and used her flames to create a barrier between the monsters and the camp, every monster that approached ends up reduced to ashes.

When Sirius reached the barrier, he reinforced it using his magic, thus sealing the hole that April had created to leave, when he finished making it he looked up and could see April running like a gazelle among a sea of monsters, he could see how she wrapped her own body in silver flames and made her way.

April ran in a hurry to where Alessandro and her father were fighting, she felt tired and her stomach hurt from running so much, however she did not stop at any time and kept running. She had not thought twice, she really did not know very well what she would do when she got to where they were, while she ran with her heart in her hand, her mind was a complete chaos, but she tried to come up with a plan and one occurred to her, it was stupid and reckless, but in that situation she did not have much head to think.

When she was close to them, she threw a fireball at her father's face before he stabbed Alessandro with his sword and screamed.

Hey! Leave my husband alone.

Vritra wiped his face as if those flames had only been a snowball, a very annoying one that made him angry but did not cause any damage. He turned his gaze towards April. By using her nullification magic, she had nullified the magic of the ring that allowed her to change the color of her hair, she had her long red hair again, which was untied and moved by the breeze. Vritra recognized her immediately and spoke.

_Well, well, look who we have here, my useless daughter. Alessandro, seeing April in that place, felt panic take hold of him, especially since he was facing the king of all those monsters. Just a moment ago, Alessandro had been on the verge of death, but he had not felt as afraid of facing the doors of death, as he was at that moment when he saw April facing his father.

April threw another ball of silver fire at Vritra, but her fire only seemed to bother and enrage him, it did not cause him any harm.

_So you learned to use magic. With a twisted smile Vritra said.

_Although your flames are cold, let me show you what a real fire is.

Vritra attacked April without any contemplation, her crimson flames surrounded April, Alessandro who until a moment ago was on the ground got up and attacked Vritra, he turned around and focused on Alessandro and said to him.

_ Do not bother, I will kill you too.

While saying that, he continued attacking April with his flames, Alessandro for a moment felt that life itself was leaving him, until he saw that even when the flames surrounded him, April remained unharmed. When Vritra realized that her flames did nothing to her, an expression of astonishment appeared on her face.

April had closed her eyes in fear when her father had attacked her, but she opened them when she felt nothing, she wondered what was happening and found herself surrounded by her father's crimson flames. Just as he was immune to her flames, she also seemed to be immune to his.

Vritra extinguished the flames that were around April and seeing that she did not have a single burn he asked very bewildered.

_How come my flames have not done anything to you?

Alessandro took advantage of the moment of confusion to attack Vritra and make him stop paying attention to April.

_Your fight is with me, do not get distracted. Vritra raised his sword, that sword was engulfed in flames and responded.

If you are so eager to die, let me fulfill your wish, I will kill you first. Alessandro wrapped his sword with his wind and prepared to receive the blow.

April had panicked before, she forced herself to react, she had not gone there to see how her father killed the man she loved, she used all the power she had left to nullify her father's magic, the flames surrounding that sword were extinguished before it collided with Alessandro's sword. He took the opportunity to use his wind to push Vritra, even though his attack had been strong and powerful, it had only managed to move him a few steps.

Vritra alternated his gaze between April and his sword, wondering what she had done to make his flames go out that not even with Alessandro's strongest wind did his flames hesitate when attacking him.

Liz What kind of magic are you using?! How come my flames have gone out.

April was weak after having used all her magic, she began to feel bad and almost fell to the ground if it weren't for Vritra grabbing her wrist tightly and with a murderous look he asked.

- Answer me what the hell have you done to me?

CHAPTER 180: CRYING LIKE A GIRL

Vritra squeezed April's arm tightly, she felt that her arm would break at any moment if he continued to squeeze so hard.

He shook her and asked again.

– Answer me, what the hell did he do to me?

Alessandro attacked Vritra, stabbing his sword into his back. His attack would have killed any human, but Vritra didn't seem to be hurting him any more than a needle would. He threw April to the ground and turned around, the sword still stuck in his back.

"You're a real pain."

Vritra spat in disgust, removing the sword stuck in his back from the ground and said.

"I should give you a slow death. I think that will make my anger wane a little."

Alessandro used his fists to fight since he didn't have his sword. He struck the first blow, but he didn't get anything. Vritra struck back. His strength was overwhelming. Alessandro had barely withstood the blow. But after five blows in a row, they fell to the ground. April, who was barely conscious, was a few steps away from them and tried to help Alessandro, but she couldn't. She had exhausted all her magic.

Vritra continued hitting Alessandro without giving him time to counterattack, he didn't stop until he left him half dead, he created a fireball in his hand and said to him.

– I'll turn you into ashes, so you won't get in my way again, you damn scum.

April panicked, she crawled to | where her father was, grabbed him by the leg and said.

Crying like a... Let go.

With a kick, Vritra threw April away and said to her.

– Don't interrupt me, you'll be next.

At that moment when she thought she would lose everything, April heard her mother's voice.

– My girl, break the seal.

April knew that if she broke the seal she would lose her mother, but if she continued to refuse to do so, she and Alessandro would die at the hands of her father. The image of her mother suddenly appeared in front of her, she passed her hand as if wanting to caress her, but she couldn't, her hand pierced her skin, with a soft smile she said to him.

– My girl it is time for you to let me go, live your life and be happy.

A tear rolled down April's cheek. Sophia looked in the direction where Vritra was and said.

Crying like a Save him too, April did not understand very well what her mother meant, but she could not continue caring, she wished with all her heart that the seal that blocked her magic would be released, a golden door appeared in her mind that opened and like a river she felt her magic run through her entire house, before her magic had been like a small case that dried up easily, but at that moment her magic became an infinite ocean. April stood up, her body was surrounded by silver flames, Vritra groaned as she sent an overwhelming power, something in him made him tremble with fear.

His daughter stood behind the silver-flame envelope, that overwhelming power came from her, although she was small and looked like a porcelain doll that could break at any moment, Vritra could not help but tremble before her, the darkness that lay within her, she must cry out for help. Her entire being told her to flee, but she could not do so, her feet remained nailed to the ground. April's hair changed its red hue to pure white. She recited a chant as she walked.

– Silver flames that purify everything they touch, spread far and wide and destroy the darkness that surrounds the earth, sacred flames heal wounds and revive the dying.

When April stood in front of her father, she raised her face with firmness and authority, there was no trace of fear or doubt on her face, she finished her chant.

– Flames bring light and illuminate the darkness.

At the end of her chant, the silver flames that surrounded April's body spread across the battlefield and reached the horizon where an army of monsters was found, the screams and shrieks of the monsters as well as those of some soldiers corrupted by darkness were present. Vritra fell to the ground and began to writhe, those flames that previously had not caused him any harm, were destroying him.

Alessandro's wounds healed, Alessandro could feel how April's magic healed every wound on his body and restored his strength, seeing her she seemed like someone different, she saw herself as a goddess who had descended from the heavens, as the power left April, Alessandro could see how all the chaos had returned to order, the army of monsters turned to ashes. Vritra was the only one who was still alive writhing like a leech on the ground. April approached him, although her magic was powerful, it didn't seem to be enough to kill Vritra, she put her hand on his face and said.

_Let the darkness in you disappear.

Those words seemed to have power, because Vritra's screams became even louder, suddenly he fell silent and his body began to turn into mud and began to crumble. April's flames were extinguished and her hair returned to normal, it was a vibrant red again. She staggered, Alessandro rushed to her side and caught the subject before she fell to the ground and asked her.

Aby, are you okay?

April had broken the last seal and used a lot of magic at once, she found herself tired, her magic at that moment did not seem to have a limit however her body did.

She heard Alessandro's voice speaking to her, but her consciousness was elsewhere, she saw her mother in front of her, her long blonde hair moving in the gentle breeze, behind her the sun began to set behind the mountains and beside her holding her hand, she found herself the one she had ever seen such an expression on her father's face.

– Mom.

– Thank you for freeing us. - What?

Your father had been trapped by the darkness, I couldn't free him, but you could, you were the only one who could, thank you.

The image of her father told her.

Forgive me my girl, sorry for not taking care of you, for all the pain I caused you.

That was the first time April heard sweet words coming out of her father's mouth, sincere words that showed affection, she began to cry.

He moved a little closer and said to her.

I have always loved you my little girl, you can't imagine how much, but the darkness that prevented me from showing it to you, that darkness asked for your blood every time I saw you, that's why I pushed you away from me, ignored you and sent you far away, I could only do that to protect you, forgive this useless father who couldn't take care of you properly, Abril knew that her father's spirit wasn't lying and her tears turned to happiness, she had always thought that she wasn't loved by her father, that she never had been, but she heard that it was the opposite, that he loved her so much that he did everything he could to protect her, he made her happy.

They both gave her a hug, they didn't have a physical body, but she could feel the warmth of their hug.

I hope you are happy Abril, my little one, that from now on in your life there is only joy.

Her father said as he hugged her. Sofia told him.

– Even though you can't see us, we will always watch over you.

April couldn't articulate a word, she just kept crying like a little girl in her parents' arms, both of them gave their little girl a kiss on the cheek.

– We have to go, but remember that you'll never be alone Aby.

Her mother said, both of them said goodbye with a warm smile, they turned into little specks of light, until they disappeared completely, ascending to the heavens.

At that moment April became aware again that she was in Alessandro's arms, he called her frantically, but she couldn't answer, she lost consciousness as she saw the sky filled with the colors of the sunset and the specks of light that seemed to turn into stars.

CHAPTER 181: A POWER THAT CANNOT BE HIDDEN

April woke up with a severe headache, the light that entered the room was annoying, she used her hand to block the light from her eyes. The door opened and she immediately heard Alessandro's voice who rushed to her side, put his arms around her and said with a broken voice.

Thank God she has woken up.

Alessandro was hugging her very tightly, April felt like she would be crushed if he didn't let go soon.

_Lessan, you'll make me faint if you keep hugging me so tightly. Alessandro loosened his hug, but didn't let go, he was shaking slightly, April asked.

-What happened? Have we won? Yes.

_Good, it's finally all over.

April replied somewhat sadly since the price for winning had been very high, she had lost her mother and her father who deep down did love her.

Alessandro released her from his embrace. She hadn't seen him properly before, as her eyes hadn't gotten used to the light yet, but at that moment she saw that Alessandro looked pale and haggard, he had a beard as if it had been several days without him removing it. April felt confused, after the battle she had fainted, but how long had she been unconscious? That was something she didn't know, she looked around and recognized that place, it was her room, she was back in the royal palace.

_ Lessan, how long have I been unconscious?

_ It's been 15 days, you didn't wake up, I was... The words got stuck in Alessandro's throat, he had been 15 days with her waiting for her to wake up, during that time he hadn't eaten properly and slept very little, during all the time she was asleep, he hadn't stopped asking God to wake her up.

He hugged her again and said.

_ I thought I lost you.

April was shocked to find out that she had been unconscious for 15 days, but it didn't take long for her to realize how much Alessandro must have suffered during those 15 days that she didn't wake up. She hugged him back and said.

_ I'm sorry, you should have...

_ You have nothing to apologize for.

April didn't know what to say to calm Alessandro's anxious heart. So she just kept hugging him for a long time. When Alessandro calmed down a bit, he realized that April hadn't eaten for fifteen days, he let go of her and said.

_ You must be hungry, I'll ask them to bring you something light to eat.

Follow new episodes on the April wasn't aware of how hungry she was until Alessandro mentioned it.

The truth is that I'm dying for something to eat, I would really appreciate it if you did.

Alessandro looked out the door and called the maids, they were nearby, that was an order that Alessandro had given when he had returned to the palace, he wanted some maids to stay close for when April woke up. He announced that his wife had already woken up, all the maids rejoiced and thanked the heavens for the queen's awakening; Alessandro asked them to tell his brother and to get something light to eat for his wife, also to call the doctor so he could check her.

When Alessandro returned to the room April attacked him with questions about the war.

- Are Maya and Cassian okay? How did the war end? Were all the monsters destroyed or are there still more? What happened to the kingdom of Laios?

- Calm down, if you ask me so many questions at once I won't know how to answer, besides right now you should only worry about yourself, about recovering.

_I'm fine, now I just want to catch up, I want to know what happened during these fifteen days that you were sleeping.

Alessandro sighed, he knew that no matter what he said, April would not stop asking until she knew what had happened, so he began to answer his questions in the order he had formulated them.

_ Cassian and Maya are fine, you ended the war, all the monsters that were on the battlefield were destroyed by your flames and about what will happen to the kingdom of Laios I still do not know.

_ We won the war, I thought you would take control of the kingdom of Laios or at least that is what Gabriel explained to me.

_ It is normal but even if we won the war we do not know what is hidden behind the walls of the kingdom of Laios, we cannot enter recklessly, we do not know what we will find there since your brothers are still alive.

For a moment April had completely forgotten about her brothers, she remembered that Maya had gone there to get their help to defeat her sister since she was attacking the land of fairies.

_It's true, I had forgotten, we still have to defeat my sister Cira.

_Yes, but right now there are more important things that we worry about.

-What things?

One of the maids arrived with April's food, Alessandro did not answer the question that the maid had asked him, he left the food and then left, Alessandro put the tray next to the bed and began to feed her, April told him.

_ I can do it alone. _

You are weak, you must let me do it.

April felt hungry, but she didn't feel weak, she wondered if it was because she had released all her magic, if it was her own power that was sustaining her, but she didn't say anything and just ate what Alessandro gave her, she finished all the soup, but still her hunger was not satisfied.

_Lessan I'm very hungry, a simple bowl of soup won't satisfy me.

_Then I'll ask for another one to be brought.

_Actually I would prefer something that will satisfy me a little more.

_You were 15 days without eating, it's not good for you to eat heavy meals, it will make you feel bad.

_But...

_ But nothing, for a few days you will only be able to eat light meals. While Alessandro headed to the door April told him.

_ Lessan, I'm really fine, I don't know how to explain it, even though I've been unconscious for so long my body doesn't feel weak, well my head hurt a while ago but not anymore, although it was 15 days, I feel as if it had been one, so don't worry so much.

Alessandro squeezed the tray he was carrying in his hands, Abril didn't seem to lie and although he found it hard to believe, deep down he knew it was true she was fine and that was due to the great power she held in her body, since after breaking the last seal it was something she could no longer hide and that was something that made him feel nervous and anxious, since even if he tried he could no longer hide who Abril was, a princess of the elven kingdom; With a somewhat sad smile he replied.

_I already know that.

CHAPTER 182: A TIME ALONE WITH MY BELOVED

Although Abril insisted that she was fine, Alessandro did not allow her to eat heavy foods, only soups and some fruits.

He continued to be worried about her health and didn't calm down until after the doctor checked April and confirmed that she was okay.

When the doctor left, April got out of bed. She was tired of being in bed, she wanted to stretch a little, go out to the balcony and see the winter landscape that was there at that moment.

- Aby, what are you doing?

- I want to stretch my legs a little.

Alessandro held her by the waist in case her legs failed her, but that didn't happen. She put her arms around his neck and said, "You look weird."

- What?! -

It's the first time I've seen you with a beard and I find it a little strange.

- You don't like the way I look? -

I wouldn't say that I don't like it, it's just that I find it strange.

- I'll shave later.

April kissed him, Alessandro's beard tickled her, she laughed and said.

- It tickles me, you should definitely take it off.

April's cheerful laughter made Alessandro shed a few tears, which surprised April a lot.

_ Lessan, what's wrong?

Alessandro hugged her tightly and replied.

You don't know how happy I feel right now to be able to see your smile again, to be able to hear the sound of your laugh, to be able to hear your voice, to be able to see your golden eyes looking at me, to be able to feel your warm arms surrounding me, to be able to feel the softness of your lips through a kiss, to be able to feel the sweet aroma that emanates from your body, I think that until now I had not realized how wonderful that is for me, how much I like it and how much I missed it, you are what gives meaning to my life Aby, the reason for my existence, if I lost you I would no longer have reasons to live.

April separated herself a little, she wanted to see Alessandro's face. Seeing his green eyes glassy with tears that threatened to come out, seeing that face that had always seemed attractive to her and that expression of anxiety reflected on his face she wished she could erase all those days in which he had suffered believing that he was losing her, she had lost many more things than she thought when she won the war, it was not until that precise moment that she realized that.

She kissed his eyes, erasing with her kisses those desires dark shadows that reflected the sleepless nights that Alessandro must have spent, she kissed his pale and emaciated face that reflected how bad he had been through and finally she kissed his lips wishing she could warm his heart which had cooled to almost death from the fear of losing her and she whispered against his lips.

_ I love you Lessan, I love you the same way you do and that's why I understand how you feel since for me it's the same, I don't want a life without you.

April intertwined her left hand where the marriage mark appeared with Alessandro's and said to him.

- On our wedding day we swore to be together until death do us part, but even death cannot separate us, if after death I will have a second life, even in that life I will look for you and love you again.

Alessandro kissed her, his fingers sank into her long reddish hair and he told her over and over again while their mouths collided.

_ I love you Aby, I love you.

He did not stop repeating those words while he kissed every part of her face, while he lost himself in her mouth, in each kiss he gave her.

The door opened, it was Cassian who had entered without knocking on the door, but Alessandro did not care, he ignored his brother and continued kissing his wife, April tried to separate from him, but it was impossible, she was enchanted with Alessandro's kisses.

Cassian, realizing that he was being ignored, silently left the room. As he walked back down the hall he found Maya. After winning the war he had been very busy since he had to take care of Alessandro's obligations since he had been out of his mind, he had stayed by April's side leaving everything aside. And he had barely had time to be with Maya since Fay kept coming between them.

- Are you here to see Abril?

- Yes.

- Is she okay?

- I guess so since she was having a very passionate moment with my brother.

- I'm glad she's okay, I thought she would never wake up again.

- Yes, that's something we all thought at some point, but I'm glad to see that we were wrong.

Cassian moved a little closer to Maya, put his arm around her waist and said while looking around checking that Fay was not nearby.

Maya laughed at Cassian's attitude and asked.

– What do you think you're doing?

_Nothing, I was just checking that there are no flies around here.

_Fay is having an audience with the elves.

_Is he still insisting on forming an alliance with the elves?

Yes and I'm sure he will achieve it, he can be very annoying when he wants something.

Cassian kissed Maya without warning, she actively returned the kiss and when they separated their panting mouths; Cassian dragged Maya to the first empty room he found and took off his jacket. Maya asked.

– What do you think you're doing?

Cassian again rebutted her lips and answered.

– I just want to be alone for a while with the woman I love, don't you want to be with me?

Maya began to remove the thick layers of clothing she was wearing, she kissed him actively and said.

_ What do you think?

Cassian pressed his body against Maya's tightly and answered.

I'll take that as a yes.

CHAPTER 183: YOUR TRUE WORTH

Since she had returned to the human realm, Maya's feelings towards Cassian had grown stronger, every time she was near him her heart began to beat strongly and she only wanted one thing, to be with him, so much so that she was willing to rebel against the fairy queen even if it led to her death.

Fay seemed to have realized her thoughts since he did not let her be alone with Cassian, he always came to interrupt them claiming that they had work to do, that day she had escaped from Fay's sight, she had gone to look for Cassian, but on her way she had met a servant who was preaching the good news to everyone she met.

_ The queen has awakened.

Maya was glad that April had finally woken up, but at the same time she felt a little sad since that meant she had to return to the land of fairies.

As she walked through the halls of the palace, those thoughts of refusing to comply with the fairy queen's order became stronger; before reaching April's room, she ran into Cassian, when she hadn't been looking for him, she had found him.

When she saw him, those thoughts of disobedience towards the queen became almost a reality, but when he had dragged her into one of the rooms and kissed her passionately, her thoughts became a conviction, she wasn't going to return. As she threw off the thick winter clothes and kissed him actively she realized that something had changed in her, at first she had taken that time as a farewell since they had abruptly separated, but the more time they spent with him, the less she wanted to think about them separating and in reality she no longer wanted a life without him.

Cassian kissed her passionately, their mouths collided violently. Their hands will manage to touch each other as if they wanted to leave their hands engraved on each other's skin. Suddenly Maya heard Fay's voice, apparently he had gone to look for her. She knocked on the door of the room several times and called.

_ Maya, are you there? Stop playing hide and seek, come out now. Cassian separated his mouth from hers and said somewhat annoyed.

_ Damn, how does that guy appear wherever we are.

_ I'm sorry, I'll go tell him to leave us alone.

Cassian took Maya's hand preventing her from going to the door. Do n't do it, if you open that door that idiot won't leave us alone.

_ But ...

Cassian grabbed her by the neck and kissed her on the mouth, longing, intense, and full of passion. The attraction firmly towards him.

He parted his lips and his tongue brushed hers, inciting her to open her mouth. She parted her lips with a moan and shuddered as he took her completely, unable to think, only aware of her taste. His tongue teased and tasted her hungrily as he pressed her against his hips. He kissed her harder, demanding the response he was eliciting from her. He brushed his lips against her ear and whispered in her ear.

– Forget about that asshole and just focus on me, I don't want you to think about another man when you're with me, I get jealous when you do and I want to kill him. Maya laughed and told him.

_You really are very jealous.

Cassian gave her a soft kiss on the neck and replied.

_Yes a lot, you can't imagine how much, my blood boils every time I see another man near you, I want you all to myself.

Maya kissed him and told him.

_There is nothing to do, I feel the same way, I am someone obsessive and I want you only for myself, I think our relationship will be somewhat conflictive.

_Maybe it is, but I can't imagine myself with anyone else but you. Cassian looked her straight in the eyes and spoke with a soft voice.

_That is why I will do everything possible to free you from those damn chains that bind you to the fairy queen.

Maya caressed his face and said.

_ I love you Cassian, I love you so much that my heart hurts to think that I will have to leave you, I just want to stay by your side, I don't even care if I die for disobeying the fairy queen's orders, because I prefer to be one day by your side than an eternity without you.

_ Shu... Don't say that, I will not allow that to happen, I will not. Cassian covered her mouth with his kisses. Outside you could still hear the murmur of the maids and Fay's voice but they both ignored her and made love like they had never done before, because that day they gave themselves completely. They became one being, their souls intertwined into one.

That day they both lay in bed for the whole afternoon. But when night came they both had to say goodbye. When Maya returned to her room, she saw Fay, he was waiting for her.

_ You finally appear, I've been looking for you all afternoon, where were you?

_ That doesn't matter to you Fay.

_ You were with your human lover.

_ What I do with my life is not something that concerns you. _

Maya you can't be with that human, because you can't stay with him.

– Why not?

_ Because you would die if you did and the fairy queen would kill me if I didn't take you back with me.

- Why would I do such a thing?

You are still not aware of your value, do you really think the queen would give something as important as one of the keys to the door of hades for a wandering fairy.

– What do you mean by that?

_ You are valuable Maya, more than you imagine, so leave that human, no matter what you do you will not be able to be with him.

Fay headed towards the door, Maya blocked the exit and said to her.

_ You will not leave here until you explain to me what you mean by I am valuable.

_ It is not something I should tell you.

Maya took out the daggers she was wearing at her waist, while she held them towards Fay she said.

– I already told you, I will not let you go until you get the answer to my question.

Fay sighed very annoyed.

_ You really are very annoying.

– Fay open your mouth and answer my question or I will make you speak by force.

_ You are a descendant of the queen, that's why she won't let you go, that's why they called you every day to have tea with you because every time she sees you, she sees her daughter, you are her spitting image. That's not true, you're lying.

I am a Maya fairy, I can't lie.

CHAPTER 184: WORDS OF RELIEF

Maya was in shock, she couldn't believe what Fay was telling her and if he hadn't been a fairy incapable of lying; she would have thought it was all a lie he had invented to separate her from Cassian. She dropped the daggers with which she had threatened Fay, he took advantage of the moment of confusion to escape.

He hadn't wanted to tell the truth and he knew he would have problems with the queen for having revealed who he really was, but he was forced to do so. Maya seemed to be truly in love with her human lover and with each passing day she showed less intentions of returning to the land of the fairies, that was why he had begun to intervene, he wanted her to stay away from him, otherwise she would end up suffering a slow and tortuous death for not having complied with the queen's orders to take care of Maya.

Fay scratched his head, he did not understand why the queen had allowed him to leave the land of the Fairies even knowing that Maya desperately wanted to escape.

-I do not understand what the queen was thinking, if she is so valuable why did she allow her to leave.

Fay went out to the garden, he went to a large tree with wide leaves, since he had arrived at the palace he had been using it to communicate with the land of the fairies, he touched the trunk of the tree, instantly a leaf fell from the tree, he caught it before it fell to the ground; on the leaf there was a written message, which was short and precise.

"Return immediately to the land of fairies"

Fay sighed heavily, raised his gaze to the sky and wondered what was happening in the land of fairies. He was heading to look for Maya's lover when he met him in the hallway.

-I was just going to look for you.

Cassian did not hide his displeasure when he saw him.

-What does he want?

-I heard that the elf princess has already awakened from her long sleep.

-That's right.

-I must return to my kingdom and I need to know if you will accept an alliance or not.

-Are you leaving already? What will happen to Maya?

-She will return with me, that is her place now

. -She cannot leave.

-Listen to me humans, Maya cannot stay with you, she will never do so, the queen would never allow it.

-I do not care if she allows it or not, I will not let her take away the woman I love from me.

Fay sighed heavily, apparently the human lover was just as stubborn as she was, he turned around and before leaving he told her I will look for you tomorrow to get my answer, you have until tomorrow to think about what they will do, just remember that by refusing to have an alliance with my kingdom, they would be declaring themselves as our enemies.

After Fay left, Cassian went to see Alessandro, having an alliance with the fairies was a decision that he could not make alone, it was something that Alessandro and Abril had to decide.

That time he knocked on the door, immediately he heard Alessandro's voice allowing him to enter.

-Cassian, you arrive at a good time, I was just thinking of going to look for you.

Abril greeted him with a smile.

-Hello Cassian, I'm glad to see you.

-When you find out why I came, you won't think the same.

-What's wrong Cassian?

Alessandro asked a little worried since his brother's face was serious.

-Fay has found out that April has woken up and demanded an answer, she wants to know if we accept an alliance with them or if we will be their enemies.

Alessandro frowned, April had just woken up after almost dying from facing an army of monsters and now an arrogant Fairy wanted her to go through the same thing again.

Alessandro felt his blood boil, the mere idea of April going through a situation similar to the previous one again infuriated him.

-There will be no alliance, I will not allow April to be in danger again and if that makes us enemies so be it.

April got up from the sofa she was sitting on, put her hand on Alessandro's arm to calm him down and said.

-Calm down Lessan

-How can I calm down if that arrogant fairy wants to put you in danger again.

-I understand how you feel, but I also understand them, they are facing an enemy they cannot fight, you should know better than anyone how that feels.

-Yes but.....

-Besides it is something we owe to Maya, she has helped us a lot April turned to Cassian, I know how much you love Maya and I also know what you have suffered from being away from her, because I went through something similar when I had to be away from Lessan, so I want to help you just as you have helped us, tell Fay that we accept the alliance, but we have a few conditions.

Alessandro replied to April's words.

-Aby you can't...

-It's my decision Lessan, they are my dear friends and I want to help them.

-Cassian we are going to get Maya back, I will make sure to give her her freedom back, I don't think the queen will refuse to free her if I ask her since the help they will receive will be very great.

-Do you really think to do that?

-Of course.

April approached Cassian, took his hand and said.

- It was partly my fault that you had to separate, now I want to remedy that.

Cassian began to cry, he had promised Maya that he would get her to regain her freedom, but in reality he had no idea how he would do it, that's why April's words were like a breath of air, a relief that gave him back his breath.

- Thank you very much April, thank you very much.

Cassian repeated those words over and over again, while tears of relief and happiness ran down his cheeks. Alessandro wanted to reply, but he couldn't do it when he saw his brother's tearful face, April had given him back the hope of recovering the woman he loved and he didn't have the heart to take it away from her.

CHAPTER 185: WITH A LOOK WE TELL EACH OTHER EVERYTHING

After orchestrating everything about the alliance with the fairies, Cassian left his room and went to look for Maya, he was eager to tell her that he would soon regain his freedom.

He knocked on the door insistently until Maya opened the door.

- What's wrong Cassian?

Cassian kissed her without warning, he lifted her off the ground and spun her around in the air a few times, she started to feel dizzy.

Cassian, put me down before I end up throwing up the dinner.

_ Cassian put her down on the ground, Maya was so dizzy that she almost fell to the ground, Cassian caught her before she fell and said.

_ I'm sorry, I think I got too excited.

- What's wrong? Why are you so excited?

_ You will be free Maya, you will regain your freedom.

- What?

April and Lessan have accepted the alliance with the fairies, in exchange for their help they will demand your freedom, it's a good deal, I don't think the fairy queen will refuse. Cassian kissed her again and said.

_ We will be together Maya, we will never be able to separate us again.

A few hours ago, that news had made her jump for joy, but at that moment it was different, after what Fay had revealed to her she doubted that the queen would let her go. While she had been in the land of the fairies she had learned a few things and one of them was that just like the elves, the fairies were jealous of their descendants, the possibility of her regaining her freedom was almost nil.

Cassian, seeing Maya's dull attitude, asked her.

- What's wrong? Are you not happy?

- It's not that.

- Well, you don't seem very happy with the news.

- I am, it's just that I can't believe it, I'm surprised, that's all.

Cassian kissed her again, gently caressed her cheeks and said. I understand that it's a big surprise, that it's something difficult to believe, I feel the same way.

Maya looked up to meet Cassian's, who smiled happily at her.

She moved forward and took his face in her hands.

_ Cassian, I love you...

Their lips met in a passionate way, Cassian felt the warmth of her lips take away the cold, he took her face, his hands memorized her face for the last time and for a few seconds, in which his lips were free, he murmured her name.

_ Maya... I will always love you.

She hugged him tightly, she wanted to hold on to him as long as she could.

– Stay with me.

_ Always, from now on we will always be together. Alessandro seemed upset, April sat next to him, leaned on his shoulder and said.

– How long do you plan to remain upset?

– Why did you accept the alliance with the fairies?

_ You already know why I did it. Yes but...

April stood up and sat on Alessandro's lap, gave him a kiss on the lips and said.

I don't want you to be upset.

She kept exchanging kisses until the frown on Alessandro's face changed. She kissed him again, and this time Alessandro responded to her kiss with enthusiasm, his furtive hands caressed her back and went down to the hem of her white nightgown and back up as he ran down her legs, lightly squeezing her thighs, eliciting a moan from her.

– Ouch!

Her warm breath and sweet moan turned him on and for a moment he lost control of his being, his hands began to undress her very slowly until he ended up leaving her completely naked as he devoured her mouth in a passionate kiss; he made her lie down on the couch and with an exploratory look he ran through her entire body, April felt her entire body burn under his intense gaze, her breathing became ragged.

She looked so small and delicate as if she was going to break with a small touch, that's what she did while Alessandro regained consciousness, April had been unconscious for 15 days, he forced himself to look away from his wife's naked body and said to himself.

But what the hell am I doing.

He got up from the couch and began to walk away. Abril sat on the couch, she didn't understand why Alessandro had stopped and she didn't understand why he was walking away from her either. A somewhat silly thought crossed his mind.

Maybe it's not working for her anymore.

_Lessan.

Alessandro turned in the direction where Abril was, his voice sounded sad, as if she felt hurt. She was still completely naked so he looked away so as not to see her, but that only made things worse.

-Lessan why don't you look at me? Where are you going? Why did you stop halfway? Have you realized that I don't provoke you anymore?

Alessandro didn't realize it until he had abruptly walked away and ended up hurting Abril.

_ Of course not.

He came closer again and answered. It's nothing like that, Alessandro took her by the neck, kissed her softly and said.

_ I love you and I'm dying to make love to you right now but you've been unconscious for 15 days, I was an idiot for letting myself be carried away by my instincts, even though I'm dying to make you mine, I must let you recover, Abril clung even closer to him and said.

– I'm fine and just like you I'm dying to be in your arms, to feel your caresses and for you to make love to me, so don't leave without finishing what you've started.

Alessandro couldn't hold back any longer, desire and passion clouded his mind, he picked her up and carried her to the bed while kissing her mouth, he gently placed her down and settled on top of her, his hands taking the opportunity to run over her body, palming every part of her body, every millimeter of her skin. Abril's moans were quick to make themselves present, it had been a long time since Alessandro had last touched her like that and she felt like she was in heaven; Alessandro's clothes became an impediment to feeling him completely, she began to take off his clothes as best she could and did the same as him, she touched every part of his body and became intoxicated with his warmth.

He released her mouth and began to kiss her entire body with great delicacy, that night he made love to her tenderly and delicately, he moved slowly inside her, so much so that at a certain moment she demanded that he go faster, when he was about to finish he wanted to get out of her, but she didn't let him, she wrapped her legs around his hips and received his seed inside her, April's body trembled with pleasure, and although she felt weak at the same time she seemed to regain all her strength, as if she had been reborn, as if she had recovered something that she was missing and thought was lost.

They looked at each other for a moment and in that instant they told each other how much they loved each other without saying a word, since they had told each other everything without saying anything.

CHAPTER 186: SEALING A PROMISE WITH A KISS

That night April had a strange dream, she was in the garden under a big tree while she saw a beautiful girl with brown hair and golden eyes. The little girl smiled happily and ran around chasing a butterfly, Alessandro was by her side telling her how happy he was. The next morning when she woke up, she wondered what that dream had been about.

Alessandro was still sleeping next to her, his appearance was better, he no longer looked pale, although his face still looked a little haggard. She put her hand on his chest and began to infuse her magic into him. Alessandro woke up, held her hand and asked her.

- What are you doing?

You didn't look very well, and I infused my magic into you so you'd recover.

_I'm fine.

April caressed Alessandro's beard and said to him.

_The beard doesn't suit you.

_You hate them so much.

_It's not that I hate it, it just bothers me and makes me a little uncomfortable when you kiss me.

April got out of bed, wrapped herself in a robe and went to the balcony, while the soft, whitish rays of the winter sun bathed April's body, it seemed to shine as if she were the one emitting that light. Alessandro stared at her for a moment, April smiled at him and said.

_It's a beautiful day today, why don't you go out to the balcony. Alessandro did what she asked, he put on his pants, wrapped himself in a robe and went to where she was, he hugged her from behind and said.

I think your idea of a good day is wrong.

_But it's a beautiful day.

_Of course not, it's cold, the sun's rays still don't warm enough.

_Well for me it's a beautiful day because I'm with you.

_I asked if we'll ever be together without anything threatening us.

Alessandro began to say out of nowhere.

April recorded the dream she had that night, she didn't know if that dream was some vision of the future or if it had just been a simple dream, but she still wanted to tell him a little about what she had seen.

She leaned on Alessandro while looking at the imposing mountains still covered by snow in the distance and replied.

_ I think so, I couldn't tell you when but I'm sure that one day we'll be together without any worries and who knows maybe we'll even be surrounded by children.

Alessandro placed his chin on Abril's shoulder and replied.

_ I would really love that, I wonder what our children would look like.

Abril recorded the image of the girl in her dream and without a doubt thought that this is what a child between them would look like.

_ Hum ... maybe she has white skin, straight brown hair and golden eyes.

_ or maybe she has curly hair like you.

_ Hum ... I don't think so, something tells me that she will look more like you than me, at least the first.

- The first?

Yes, I think our first child will be a girl.

_ Well that doesn't matter, no matter what we look like we will love him with all our hearts.

Follow new episodes on the

Yes, you're right about that.

Cassian knocked on the door, Alessandro complained.

_ It seems our time alone is over.

_ We must prepare.

Alessandro hated the idea of returning to his obligations since that meant that he had to separate from April, but he also knew that that was something he could not continue neglecting, he sighed heavily and said.

I guess we have no other choice. April answered Cassian's call.

_ Wait a moment, we'll open it soon.

April went to her closet and took out a soft pink dress, straight cut with white decorations, Alessandro seeing that April had chosen a very light dress said to her.

_ We're still in winter, you should wear something warmer.

In reality April hadn't felt cold since she woke up, on the contrary, she felt as if a strange warmth surrounded her, but as she didn't want to worry Alessandro she put the dress away again and took out another green dress made of thick fabrics that provided warmth; she tied her hair in a high ponytail and said to him.

_ I'm ready.

Alessandro had also just finished changing, he opened the door, his brother had a somewhat gloomy expression on his face, it seemed that something was worrying him.

- What's wrong?

_ I spoke to Fay this morning and...

- What's wrong Cassian? Why are you hesitating so much?

_ I told him that we accepted the alliance with the fairies, he seemed pleased with that but he wants to leave immediately and for April to accompany him.

— li What?!, that guy has gone completely crazy.

_ I told him that was not possible since April has only been awake for a day, but he said that he could not continue waiting, that we accept his requests or there would be no alliance since there would be no kingdom to save if we took any longer.

Alessandro was going to reply when April answered.

_ Then there is no other choice, tell him that I will go with him.

_ Aby, you can't go with him.

_ Lessan I understand that you don't want us to separate, in reality I wouldn't want to do it either, but what Fay says is true, if we continue postponing our help there will be no one to help since everyone will be dead.

_ Then I will go with you, I will not let you go alone.

– And what will happen to the kingdom? Cassian could do...

Cassian interrupted his brother's words.

_ I'm sorry Lessan, but I will not continue taking care of the kingdom, or your obligations, Maya will also return to the land of fairies, I will go with her, I have already abandoned her once, I could not do it a second time, I hope you understand.

Alessandro knew that his brother had put off going to find the woman he loved to help with the war. He could not continue taking advantage of him.

I understand you brother, forgive me for even suggesting that you stay. Thank you for understanding.

April took Alessandro's hand and with a warm smile said.

_ Don't worry, I'll be fine, I already defeated my father who is very powerful, defeating my brothers will be easy.

Alessandro remembered that April's brothers were the ones who caused him terrible nightmares.

- Are you sure about that? They caused you a lot of harm in the past.

_ I am no longer that helpless girl they bothered, I am strong and powerful, I will never tremble before them again.

Alessandro was reluctant to let April go alone, so he said.

_ Maybe I can leave Gabriel a position in the palace and go together to face your brothers.

_ Don't even try.

_ Gabriel was just talking about you, I would like to...

– No.

_ But I haven't said anything yet.

_ Your majesty, right now the kingdom is going through a bad time, as king you can't leave.

Alessandro wonders how bad the kingdom would be for Gabriel to be talking that way.

April said again.

– Lessan, I'll be fine, stay here and take care of our kingdom, I'll be back soon, I promise.

– Okay, I'll stay, but promise me that you won't do anything reckless that will endanger your life.

_ I promise.

Alessandro leaned down, gave her a soft kiss on the lips to seal the promise between the two and said.

_ I'll be waiting for you as soon as I come back safe and sound. I will do so my love.

CHAPTER 187: BACK TO THE LAND OF FAIRIES

Shortly after Cassian left, Maya heard someone knocking on her door, she thought it was Cassian who had forgotten something so she didn't bother to change, she just wrapped herself in a robe and opened the door, but she was in for a big surprise when she saw Fay.

- What are you doing here?

Fay took a quick look around the room, playing by how Maya was dressed and the messy bed she knew she hadn't slept alone.

- Are you still with your human lover? That's none of your business.

Maya, you shouldn't be with him, that will only make things more difficult, that's my problem, not yours.

Fay didn't want to start a fight with Maya so she changed the subject. Yesterday I received a message from the queen, we have been ordered to return, so prepare your things, we will leave today.

What?!

_ But what about the alliance?

_ I have already demanded an answer by today.

_ Why so soon?

_ Maya I can no longer wait to receive help that we may never receive, we must return regardless of the future that awaits us.

_ What do you mean by that? Fay turned around and said.

_ Prepare your things, we will leave as soon as possible.

_ Wait Fay, could you give me a little more time.

_ I'm sorry Maya but you've had enough time, I can't give you any more time.

Fay began to walk away, Maya yelled at her.

- What if I refuse to go with you?

_ I do not advise you to do that, if you refuse to return the queen will send more soldiers to look for you and I assure you that they will not be as kind as I am.

Maya slammed the door, she was furious and sad at the same time, she did not want to return to the land of the fairies because although Cassian had told her that Alessandro and Abril had already accepted an alliance she knew that she had blood ties with the queen, she would not leave her no matter what deal they offered her.

Tears roll down her cheeks, rage and helplessness of not being able to do her will overwhelmed her, I hate this, I hate it.

She stayed crying for a while, then took her fairy clothes out of the closet. After changing, she looked at herself in the mirror and felt strange wearing those clothes again. They were lighter, softer and more comfortable, but she had stopped wearing them shortly after arriving in the human world, because those clothes reminded her of who she was and the chains that tied her to the land of fairies.

After gathering her things, she went to look for Cassian, saying that Fay had demanded that she leave that very day. The day before, he had mentioned to her that they had accepted the alliance with the fairies, but in reality, she had not asked many questions because she knew what would happen.

She went to the main palace and in one of the palace's corridors she found Cassian.

When Cassian saw that she was dressed in the clothes of the fairies, he knew what it meant. She was ready to go.

She had a shadow of sadness that clung to her face, he approached her and said.

_ I see that you are ready to go.

– Did you know?

Fay told me this morning.

Maya pressed her lips together to prevent her tears from coming out, he put his hand on her cheek, it was a soft and sweet caress which Maya found comforting.

Maya why that face, it's not like we were going to separate, I'm going with you too and this time I'll bring you back with me.

Maya couldn't lie so she said nothing and simply hugged him wishing with all her might that it was true, that she could return with them.

Cassian told her.

_ I have to go prepare my things, will you join me?

_ Of course.

Maya accompanied Cassian to his room, while he prepared a bag with a change of clothes and some weapons blessed with light magic, she recorded April and asked.

- Will April also come with us?

_ Yes, she is also getting ready to leave.

- Is she okay?

_ Don't worry she is fine.

After finishing packing all his things, Cassian extended his hand to Maya and said.

_ Come on, let's not keep that annoying fairy waiting.

_ Yes.

-By the way, do you know where it is?

_ I have a slight idea of where it may be, let's go.

They headed to where the elves were, Fay was meeting with Ethan and Dantriël, in the end they had also accepted the alliance with the fairies.

_ I guess only April is missing.

Maya mentioned while addressing Fay. At that moment April appeared and told her.

_ I'm already here, I've seen them pass by so I followed them, we can leave whenever you want.

Dantriël said.

The trip to the land of the fairies will be long and tiring, are you okay? Yes, I'm perfectly fine.

Fay told him.

_ Actually that's not the case, we can get there in a faster way, follow me.

They followed him to the garden until a large tree, Fay put his hand on the tree and the trunk became bright.

This entrance will take us directly to the land of the fairies we just have to go through it.
