

Forgotten Wife : Let the Traitors Kneel Down Novel

44 Forgive me The maids entered the room with an endless number of flowers, April wondered what all that was, the room was filled with flowers, of all types and colors, although there were no roses, while she looked at them April asked.

_ What is all this? _His majesty ordered us to bring these flowers for the princess.

One of the maids answered.

_I don't want them, take them.

_We can't do that princess, his majesty would get angry with us if we don't obey his orders.

_I don't want them.

_Please princess accept the flowers, they are not to blame for anything.

The maids begged the princess for several hours until she finally accepted the flowers.

After the maids left April stared at the flowers, a sweet aroma had spread throughout the room.

It was a beautiful gesture from the king, however, she could not forgive him for lying to her, she knew she was being foolish, but she hated being lied to and above all she hated the pain.

Someone knocked on the door, shortly after Alessandro looked into the room and asked.

_May I come in? _No.

Alessandro finished entering the room ignoring Abril's wishes, he sat on the edge of the bed, tried to take her hand, but she didn't allow it.

_I know you're upset, but I'm apologizing.

April turned her face away, she didn't want to listen to the king, she covered her ears with her hands and said.

_I don't want to listen to your majesty.

Alessandro took Abril's hands and forced her to look at him.

_ What do you want me to do so you can forgive me? _Nothing, I no longer believe in His Majesty's words.

_I know I lied to you and I apologize for that, I couldn't control myself and I hurt you.

_It hurt me a lot, it still hurts me.

Alessandro stole a kiss from Abril and told her.

_I'm sorry.

April tried to push him away, but she couldn't.

He kept kissing her and between kisses he repeated it over and over again.

_I'm sorry.

When April stopped struggling April said to her.

_I'm sorry, it won't happen again, I'll be gentler next time.

_There won't be a next time, I don't want to feel pain again.

Alessandro caressed her face, her hair, gave her a soft touch on the cheeks, on the lips and said to her.

_Forgive me, I will do whatever you ask of me, but forgive me, let me redeem myself.

_I no longer believe in your majesty's words, they are lies, I hate being lied to, I can stand being ignored or treated badly, but I hate being lied to and I hate the pain even more.

_Now that I know it, it won't happen again.

_ Really? Do you promise? _I can't promise that there won't be pain in the future since you're still inexperienced, but once you get used to it, there won't be any pain.

_ This time it's not a lie? _Clear.

_It is not.

Alessandro continued to cover her face with small kisses until she agreed to forgive him, although she still refused a second time.

Alessandro knew that there were times when it was better to give in, so he didn't insist any further, he would wait for her to calm down, let her guard down and forget what had happened the night before.

*** Cassian had returned to the training camp, that day he had been practicing with the sword all afternoon, he wanted to vent, to get out all the pain and suffering that he carried inside.

The fact that Alessandro and Abril had consummated their marriage only meant one thing, they had become a real couple, there was no longer any place for him among them.

Cassian kept practicing until his hands finally reached each other, they were raw, the pain had started to be very bothersome.

If he went to see the princess, even for a moment, he knew that his wounds could easily heal, but he refused to go see her, because at that moment he was unable to control his emotions and he didn't want to say or do something that he would regret in the future.

45 I want to keep my promise Cassian went the next day to visit April, the room was full of flowers and their fragrance was spread throughout the room, the doors that led to the balcony were open and a gentle breeze was moving the curtains, April looked out as if she wanted to leave the bed she was lying in to enjoy the beautiful summer day that was happening, he asked.

_ What is all this? Are you trying to turn your room into a garden? _His Majesty sent them yesterday, I think they were for me to forgive him.

Cassian couldn't believe what he was hearing, nor what he was seeing, his brother sending a gift and asking for forgiveness from a woman, that was something he never thought would happen.

_ How are you feeling? _I'm better.

_ Are you still mad at my brother? Or have you already forgiven him? _No, we made peace yesterday.

Deep down in his heart Cassian had wished that April had not forgiven him, that the two of them had grown apart.

_I see.

April kept looking out, Cassian asked.

_ Do you want to go outside? _The truth is that yes, I don't like being locked up, I hate it.

_So let's take a walk in the garden.

April was feeling better, however, Alessandro had been very clear that morning before leaving.

_Don't leave your room, stay in bed and rest sensibly for a couple of days.

The trip to do the inspection will be soon, but if you're not well, you won't go.

Although April wanted with all her might to go outside, to walk among the flowers under the burning rays of the sun, to feel the soft, cool breeze caressing her skin.

But she also wanted With all his heart he knew that there was more beyond the castle walls, to travel and discover a new world, so he decided to be obedient and stay in bed, even though he didn't like it very much.

She shook her head and replied.

_His majesty said that I must stay in my room and rest, otherwise I will not be able to accompany him on his trip to inspect the kingdom.

_ Do you want to go out that much? _Yes, although I would like to have some books so that my time in this room passes more quickly.

_ Do you want me to bring you a book from the bookstore? _No, I've already sent one of the maids to the library several times, but there aren't many books that I find interesting.

_ Do you want me to buy you a new book? I could go to town and buy some books if you want.

_ Would you really do that for me? _Yeah.

_I would really appreciate it.

Cassian had spent little time with the princess and if he left the pain would return in the middle of the night, so he took her hand for a moment and said.

_I won't be long, I'll see you later.

Cassian stood up and left leaving April alone, she wondered why they had taken her hand, but those thoughts quickly disappeared when she saw the king enter, he approached her gave her a soft and sweet kiss on the lips and asked her.

_ How are you feeling? good.

_It doesn't hurt anymore.

_I didn't say that, but the pain is bearable.

Alessandro decided that it was best to change the subject since whenever they talked about it, Abril made a bad face.

_I thought we could go for a boat ride on the lake like I promised you in two days, if you are feeling well by then, there are some flowers in the water on the lake that are in full bloom, I think you would like them.

April's eyes lit up like two stars shining with happiness and pure emotion.

_ Really? Your majesty is not lying? _I'm not doing it, I've already learned my choice, I just want to fulfill what I promised you that day in the garden in front of that fountain, I want to make you happy.

Alessandro caressed her hair, her cheeks and her lower neck and said to her.

_I told you I would show you all the beautiful places inside the palace.

I want you to forget this idea of wanting to leave the palace.

Alessandro thought as he gave her a sweet kiss.

I want you to stay by my side and never want to leave, because I won't allow it either.
