Chapter 1021: Tier Six Body Cultivator, the Law Incarnate

At the same time.

In a certain place within the Void Realm.

A dark and mysterious space, with clusters of eerie figures gathered together.

"We failed, our curse was of no use, a waste of power."

"The Child of Destiny in the Void Realm is indeed not easy to kill."

An eerie entity spoke with great helplessness.

It initially thought that even if the curse didn't succeed, it would severely wound the target.

But unexpectedly, the opponent was unscathed, and they couldn't even track the whereabouts of the Child of Destiny.

This left them with nothing.

Because according to their prior assumptions, even if the curse couldn't kill the enemy, it would at least severely injure them.

If worst came to worst, they could leave some trace of the curse.

In this way, they could easily locate the exact position of the opponent, then prepare more attacks until the enemy was completely dead.

Unfortunately, the enemy's caution exceeded imagination, making it impossible for them to find the enemy's tracks.

This fruitless effort wasted part of their power, a complete loss.

"It doesn't make sense; this curse is for causal tracking, as long as they are in the Void Realm, it should work."

"Ha, nothing is impossible; perhaps the other side has already fled the Void Realm."

"That's even more incredible. The Void Realm's level had dropped before, and the strongest cultivator was only at Divinity Transformation. How could they escape the Void Realm with just this power?"

"Normally, indeed it's impossible, but don't forget, there once existed a treasure in the Void Realm called the Gate of the Void."

"Impossible; the Gate of the Void could indeed traverse worlds, but we already shattered it."

"It was indeed shattered, but how do you know it cannot be restored? As an immortal artifact, it's not so easily destroyed."

"If that's the case, with the Gate of the Void, it might be very difficult for us to kill this fellow."

Amidst the eerie debates,

each tone was incredibly heavy, sensing the might of this Void Realm's Child of Destiny.

The previous curse methods might be difficult to use again.

Because if the opponent sensed something wrong, they could immediately flee the Void Realm.

In this case, even the most powerful curse from afar would be useless, purely wasting their power.

Completely not worth the loss.

This equates to discarding one of their considerable means.

"Actually, there's no need to worry. Don't forget our ultimate goal—to destroy the Void Realm. The insignificant Child of Destiny is not our enemy, merely a jester trying to obstruct, nothing more."

"Oh, how so?"

"That is to say, we don't really need to spend too much effort on that Child of Destiny. As long as we continue to advance the destruction of the Void Realm, that will suffice. No matter what means that Child of Destiny possesses, they can do nothing against us."

"What you said indeed makes me enlightened. I almost took a wrong turn before. Dealing with the Child of Destiny is truly not our purpose."

"Absolutely right. Next, we need to assist those demons, break one seal after another, allowing them to emerge. In this way, the demons' power will engulf the entire Void Realm. By then, even if that youngster has heaven-defying means, it will be of no avail."

"This is an open scheme: regardless of how adept the fellow is at hiding, as long as they don't want the Void Realm destroyed, they will appear before us sooner or later."

"Indeed, we don't need to deliberately search for them. As long as we further the destruction process of the Void Realm, this youngster will naturally be exposed."

"Since that's the case, there's no need to say more, let's proceed according to plan."

The eerie debates continued.

They quickly began their actions.

Subtle changes in the Void Realm started appearing.

This invisible storm would spread to every corner of the Void Realm.

.....

One year later.

Primordial Talisman Sect, Primordial Peak, a palace.

Jiang Fan sat cross-legged on the ground.

After a year of arduous cultivation, he finally cultivated the Divinity Transformation Chapter of the Soaring Snake Technique to the Perfection Level.

He sensed that three thousand Soaring Serpent Runes had integrated into the depths of his marrow.

Since returning to the Void Realm, Jiang Fan also noticed his rapid progress.

It seemed as if a mysterious energy was feeding into him, accelerating his cultivation.

He didn't know why, but it naturally brought him immense benefits.

Otherwise, cultivating the Divinity Transformation Chapter of the Soaring Snake Technique to the Perfection Level would have definitely taken longer.

"It's time."

Jiang Fan took a deep breath.

Activating the Soaring Snake Technique, the essence and blood within surged instantly, illuminating the Soaring Serpent Runes deep within him.

Especially the three thousand Soaring Serpent Runes within his marrow.

Numerous runes emitted a faint dark golden light, linking together, merging into one.

As if forming a grand bloodline array.

Each strand of bloodline power seemed to come alive, transforming into a soaring serpent, traversing every corner of his body.

Under Jiang Fan's control, it operated three hundred and sixty circulations.

The bloodline power within him nearly reached its peak.

Boom~~

In the next instant, Jiang Fan, without hesitation, let the immense bloodline power within him charge toward the Refining Void bottleneck.

Chapter 1022: Tier Six Body Cultivator, the Law's Vessel_2

Like a torrent crashing against the dam.

With just one strike, a slight crack appeared in this bottleneck.

To be honest, this was already astonishing. Usually, during the first impact, the bottleneck remains completely intact.

But this is far from enough.

To achieve a breakthrough, one must shatter this bottleneck.

Boom boom boom~~~

Jiang Fan focused his mind and calmed his spirit, achieving a state where he forgot himself and everything else, immersing himself solely in the cultivation to breakthrough the Void Refinement bottleneck.

Once, twice, thrice, five times...

Then, he struck ninety-nine times in total, the bloodline power within seeming never to be depleted.

The bottleneck was long covered in densely-packed cracks, akin to shattered glass.

Boom~~

At the final strike, this bottleneck shattered instantly, and the majestic power of the bloodline entered a whole new world.

The Soaring Serpent Rune deep within interlinked in an instant.

They fused with each other, creating an unparalleled resonance.

Tier Six Early Stage!

Undoubtedly, at this moment, Jiang Fan's body cultivation realm made a significant breakthrough, advancing from Tier Five Perfection to Tier Six Early Stage.

This means Void Refinement body cultivation.

For a cultivator, this is a qualitative change and enhancement.

Rumbling~~

At this moment, the sky over Primordial Peak, even the entire Ten Thousand Beasts Secret Realm, trembled.

Heaven and Earth Spiritual Qi surged from millions of kilometers away, forming a massive spiritual energy vortex, sweeping across the land.

Vaguely, a phantom of the Ancient Divine Beast Soaring Snake seemed to appear deep in the void, roaming the skies, swallowing clouds and exhaling mist, emitting a faint golden glow.

The invisible True Spirit pressure enveloped countless beings in the Ten Thousand Beasts Secret Realm.

Everyone trembled as if encountering an irresistible deity.

"What's going on? What exactly happened?"

"This terrifying pressure, could it be a disaster?"

"Impossible, this is the territory of our Primordial Talisman Sect, who would dare to act recklessly."

"Everyone don't need to worry, it's Lord Sect Master, Lord Sect Master's cultivation has made a breakthrough."

"Unbelievable, just what realm has Lord Sect Master reached, to affect celestial phenomena? It's truly terrifying."

"I heard Lord Sect Master reached Divinity Transformation long ago, he might be breaking through to Refining Void."

"Is it true? If Lord Sect Master advances to Refining Void, wouldn't our Primordial Talisman Sect become the world's strongest sect? Who could compete with us?"

"In any case, the stronger Lord Sect Master becomes, the better."

At this moment, the entire Primordial Talisman Sect's cultivators were animatedly discussing.

Being in the cultivation realm for a long time, they naturally understood the divisions of a cultivator's power.

Initially, Primordial Talisman Sect was merely a Nascent Soul Sect but quickly became a Divinity Transformation Sect.

If the sect master's cultivation makes a breakthrough, it would be a Void Refining Sect.

Which, for these ordinary sect disciples, is equivalent to a meteoric rise.

The benefits obtained are self-evident.

"In just a year back, has my husband's cultivation broken through again?"

"The speed of cultivation is incredibly fast."

At this time, Su Weiwei on Beast Taming Peak also sensed the celestial changes.

Though she knew her husband's cultivation progressed quickly, she didn't expect it to be this fast.

In merely a year, he began breaking through to Tier Six Body Cultivation level.

This is truly beyond belief.

"This human cultivator is indeed incredible."

Even the Taiyin Jade Rabbit, Yueque found it somewhat unbelievable; it naturally knew this human cultivator practiced the True Spirit Technique, one of the greatest techniques under heaven.

Once cultivated, it can transform a mortal body into a True Spirit body.

Consequently, not only lifespan but even comprehension will get an astonishing boost.

More importantly, one could possess True Spirit Bloodline.

If offspring are born, collectively, they become a True Spirit Clan.

The True Spirit Clans in the Void Realm emerged this way.

It never thought that this human, despite lacking any assistance of True Spirit, by relying solely on a cultivation technique, could cultivate forcibly to this extent, truly incredible.

If not witnessed firsthand, who would believe such an absurdity.

"With such phenomena, it seems my husband's Soaring Snake Technique has broken through."

"My husband's cultivation journey hardly faced any bottlenecks."

"Never imagined even Refining Void couldn't hinder him."

Lu Youyou witnessing this was also dumbstruck, not knowing what to say.

Ordinary cultivators, even Celestial Spirit Root cultivators, would inevitably encounter bottlenecks.

For instance, Celestial Spirit Root cultivators, after advancing to Nascent Soul, would find their cultivation slowing, often stuck at Nascent Soul Realm.

Unable to advance to Divinity Transformation.

Yet, her husband, not only Nascent Soul, Divinity Transformation couldn't stop him, even the bottleneck of Refining Void he could easily surpass.

She couldn't foresee at what level her husband's cultivation speed might finally slow down.

"No choice, this brat is the Child of Destiny, blessed by the Heavenly Dao."

"Therefore, his cultivation journey is smooth sailing."

"There's no comparison between people."

"Having entered Tier Six Body Cultivation, breaking through to Refining Void seems inevitable."

"However, it's a good thing, considering the increasing upheavals in the Void Realm."

Chapter 1023: Tier Six Body Cultivator, The Vessel of Law_3

"If one can advance to Refining Void, it would also be a great thing for the Void Realm."

Cloud Fairy was also very surprised.

But she knew that a Child of Destiny like this could not be measured by common sense.

These anomalies, born from the destiny and tribulations of heaven and earth, really have no need for comparison.

All they needed to do was follow behind and secretly gain some benefits, and that would be good enough.

"Has that despicable human returned?"

"I didn't expect that just after coming back here, such a huge commotion would be made."

"It has only been a little over a decade, and he has already advanced to Tier Six."

"Who exactly is the True Spirit, how can one cultivate so quickly?"

In the sky above, Little Kunpeng Ming awoke from its slumber, opening its hazy eyes.

Then it sensed the aura of Jiang Fan on Primordial Peak.

This couldn't help but leave it open-mouthed in amazement.

In just these short ten years or so, the detestable human had not only advanced to the Ninth-Layer Divinity Transformation.

Additionally, his Body Cultivation Realm had even broken through to Tier Six Early Stage, which was truly exaggerated.

It's worth noting that over these years, it had also been constantly cultivating, but had only reached Divinity Transformation Perfection.

It was, after all, a young True Spirit.

Before reaching Immortal, it wouldn't have any bottlenecks.

As long as the energy within was sufficient, it could naturally cultivate to the Mahayana Realm.

But this guy, his cultivation speed was even faster than its own.

If things continued this way, how could it possibly suppress this detestable human?

This made it feel extremely stifled, yet there was nothing it could do.

.....

At this time, Jiang Fan paid no mind to how many people in the Ten Thousand Beasts Secret Realm were shocked by his breakthrough.

He was carefully pondering the changes happening in his body.

"So this is the early stage of a Tier Six Body Cultivator? It's truly powerful."

Jiang Fan's heart stirred.

He operated the Soaring Snake Technique and suddenly discovered he seemed to transform into a Soaring Snake.

With his body as the center, the void within a meter radius collapsed.

Now, he was not absorbing the Heaven and Earth Spiritual Qi, but was devouring Void Energy from the depths of the void.

Undoubtedly, after stepping into Tier Six, ordinary Spiritual Qi could no longer meet the needs of a Void Refining Cultivator.

Only by devouring Void Energy could a Tier Six Cultivator meet their cultivation needs.

Having mastered this ability, even going to the Land of No Spirits would be no problem.

One could still satisfy the needs of cultivation and the body by refining the energy of the void.

This is the formidable nature of a Void Refining Cultivator.

Undoubtedly, after reaching this realm, there was a completely different distinction from Divinity Transformation Cultivators.

"Devouring Void Energy is just the basic ability of a Tier Six Body Cultivator."

"The true strength of a Tier Six Body Cultivator lies in the physique."

"A physique of the Void Refining level can slightly manipulate Void Energy, even forming a void barrier around the body."

"But for cultivators who have practiced the True Spirit Technique, the physique is undoubtedly more formidable."

"At this stage, the physique is not just a vessel for energy, but a carrier of laws."

Jiang Fan couldn't help but clench his fist.

For ordinary cultivators, it would take at least an advancement to the Body Integration Realm for the physique to undergo such a remarkable transformation.

But cultivators practicing the True Spirit Technique are different, just at the Void Refining level, they already possess some traits of a Body Integration Stage Cultivator's physique.

This is the special characteristic of the True Spirit body.

Chapter 1024: New Bloodline Divine Technique: Annihilate Nine Clans, Domain Power

Speaking honestly, Jiang Fan now understands the differences between true spirits and other creatures.

True spirits are innately sacred.

Their physiques are naturally the carriers of law.

Once they reach adulthood, they naturally gain mastery over the power of laws.

That's why true spirits are so powerful, possessing might far beyond that of ordinary beings.

As for human cultivators, they need to cultivate step by step.

They need to reach at least the Body Integration Realm, or even the Mahayana Realm, to be qualified to be compared with true spirits.

It can be said, the starting point is completely different for both sides.

But if humans can cultivate to the Mahayana Realm, they can match true spirits.

It's like everyone standing at the same starting line.

The problem is how many human cultivators can reach the Mahayana Realm.

"The Soaring Snake Technique is truly an extraordinary cultivation technique."

"It can transform a mortal body into a true spirit body, a divine beast body."

"However, the difficulty of cultivation is exceedingly high."

"After stepping into Tier Six Early Stage, the power of the bloodline has been strengthened to an unbelievable level."

"Now, I too have mastered the power of the domain."

"This comes from the domain of the Soaring Snake Bloodline."

Jiang Fan clenched his fist.

Driven by the thought, he instantly activated his power of divine sense, covering a region of hundreds of kilometers.

A vast domain spread out in all directions, merging with the void.

It was like forming a barrier of emptiness, enveloping all around.

The domain contains absolute suppressive power.

Once the domain is deployed, it can instantly subdue enemies, rendering them immobile and powerless.

"No, this is not an ordinary domain, but the Soul Devourer domain."

Jiang Fan's eyes gleamed coldly.

Previously, he knew quite a lot about Void Refining cultivators.

Different Void Refining cultivators actually master various domain powers.

Some master the Water domain, totally controlling water power within the domain scope.

Some master the Fire domain, controlling the power of fire within the domain scope.

It can be said, different domains represent different abilities and effects.

For example, the domain Jiang Fan now masters is the Soul Devourer domain; once deployed, it generates the effect of soul devouring.

All creatures within the domain, if their soul defense is not strong enough, will have their souls devoured instantly.

This domain's ability is exceedingly formidable.

"But the most important thing after advancing to Tier Six Early Stage is the birth of new bloodline divine techniques."

"This bloodline divine technique is named: Annihilate Nine Clans."

Jiang Fan clenched his fist.

With the improvement of his cultivation, he sensed a divine power seed emerging deep within him.

This is the freshly birthed bloodline divine technique.

With just a thought, he instantly grasped all the knowledge of this bloodline divine technique.

It's as if one is born with this ability, like a fish born knowing how to swim.

And this is actually a poison-type divine technique.

After mastering this divine technique, a bizarre and terrifying Soaring Snake toxin will breed within his body.

This toxin can poison foes along their bloodline and karmic ties.

If the opponent's cultivation is insufficient to block the toxin, they will be poisoned to death.

Any creatures with karmic, bloodline ties to the enemy will be eroded by the toxin, dying with no burial place.

That's why this divine technique is called: Annihilate Nine Clans.

"This divine technique is truly terrifying and vicious."

Jiang Fan was astounding internally.

He never expected the Soaring Snake to possess such abilities and cultivate such a toxin.

But as a Divine Beast of the serpent kind, mastering fearsome toxins is only natural.

Of course, the power of this poison-type divine technique can also be controlled by him.

If he controls it, then it won't spread to others, only poisoning one specific enemy.

However, when facing opponents with strong reproductive abilities, this divine technique is extremely useful.

For example, like the Six-winged Poison Peak, ant clans, insect clans, rat clans, and other breeds with tremendous reproductive power.

Killing one or two is meaningless; it makes no difference for them.

Given time, they can breed innumerable offspring, making them hard to wipe out.

But once one masters this poison-type, karmic form of divine technique, they can annihilate the enemy clan and achieve real eradication.

"This ability truly increasingly resembles the Human Emperor."

Jiang Fan's face showed a trace of eccentricity.

He felt that this bloodline divine technique might not be exclusive to the Soaring Snake, but rather to himself.

Combining his Soaring Snake bloodline, along with his talents and encounters, this unique divine technique emerged.

Moreover, this divine technique's power reached such extents.

However, it's alright; for him, this bloodline divine technique is highly beneficial.

In critical moments, it is sure to exert spectacular effects.

It's like a nuclear weapon; you might not use it, but it's indispensable to have.

"Also, this poison-type divine technique can devour all kinds of toxins in the world."

"Absorbing various toxins into the divine power seed, thereby enhancing the destructive power of this divine technique."

"In other words, toxins in the world have little effect on me."

"Even toxic substances are considered great nourishment for me."

Jiang Fan smiled faintly, feeling very satisfied.

Evidently, this new bloodline divine technique brings immense benefits to him.

Chapter 1025: New Bloodline Divine Technique: Annihilate Nine Clans, Domain Power (2)

The improvement in his strength was as immediate as setting up a pole and seeing its shadow (instantaneous effect).

Thinking of this, he did not hesitate and immediately opened his virtual panel.

[Name: Jiang Fan]

[Life Chart: Great Blessings Equal to Heaven, Attribute: Survive Great Calamities, Great Fortune to Follow]

[Lifespan: 500,000 years]

[Realm: Ninth-Layer Divinity Transformation (85%)]

[Profession: Tier Five High-grade Talisman Master (99%)]

Immediately, a series of data was presented before Jiang Fan.

This gave him a deeper understanding of the changes in his body.

"Indeed, my lifespan has seen a significant increase."

"Has it really reached 500,000 years?"

"Compared to before, it's increased by a whole fold, it's truly astonishing."

Seeing his data, Jiang Fan felt immensely pleased.

Previously, he had sensed the abundant life force within him, and considering his lifespan compared to before, it surely had a substantial increase.

Yet he never imagined that it would reach the extent of 500,000 years.

And this is merely the initial breakthrough; if his Qi Cultivation also breaks through, his lifespan will surely continue to increase, reaching a million-year lifespan in the future seems just around the corner.

This also proves the terrifying extent of the lifespan of a True Spirit.

Even if a human cultivated to the Mahayana Realm, they couldn't compare at all with the lifespan of a True Spirit.

The difference in the level of life between the two is so vast that they simply can't be compared.

"The speed of my cultivation progress is also quite pleasing."

"At this rate of cultivation efficiency, it would probably only take a few more months to reach Divinity Transformation Perfection."

"By then, I can ascend to the Void Refinement Realm."

Jiang Fan was very pleased with his cultivation efficiency.

Even though he had spent the whole year cultivating the Soaring Snake Technique, his advancement hadn't lagged behind.

Naturally, his cultivation progress reached 85%.

Such a rate of progress is considered extremely rapid among other Divinity Transformation cultivators.

"And as for the skill level of my Life Talismans, it seems it won't be long before I reach a proficient level."

Jiang Fan stroked his chin.

He felt that after his cultivation reached the early stage of Tier Six, his understanding of his Life Talismans further improved.

And so, the efficiency of cultivation also increased several times.

It likely won't take much longer to train the skill level of his many Life Talismans to a proficient level.

Once successful, his ability to wield the power of the Thirty-Three Celestial Spirit Talismans would undoubtedly strengthen.

"As expected of the master, to have ascended to the early stage of Tier Six so quickly."

"With such a powerful physique, ascending to Void Refinement seems an absolute certainty."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Immortal Cauldron sighed with emotion upon seeing this scene.

It remembered that when it first met its master, the master was merely a Foundation Establishment cultivator.

Yet in which universe had so little time passed since, for him to ascend already to Tier Six.

A realm never before reached in countless years of the Void Realm.

The disparity between people is truly vast.

At first, it thought master's ascent to Nascent Soul was already quite remarkable.

Little did it know, even the Void Refinement Realm was merely the beginning.

"Ascending to Void Refinement is indeed a certainty."

"For the master, the first few barriers before Void Refinement are already trivial."

"The only real concern is the Void Refining Thunder Tribulation and the Heart Demon Tribulation."

"As long as he prepares well, these two trials are quite manageable."

"The master's ascent to Void Refinement is only a matter of time."

The Demon-Vibrating Bell said in a deep voice.

It was very satisfied with its master's rate of ascension.

If he were not a cultivator of this level, how would he be worthy enough to use them?

Moreover, considering the current situation in the Void Realm, the higher its master's cultivation level, the better.

Although at the Divinity Transformation Level, it's already a bit insufficient to cope with the continually worsening situation.

"I never imagined reaching Tier Six so quickly."

"Even the founder of the Primordial Talisman Sect couldn't do better."

The Primordial Talisman Pen was at a loss for words.

Although it indeed provided some assistance, it merely offered a few inheritance techniques.

It could be said that this kid achieved his current accomplishments purely relying on his talent.

Even without the inheritance of the Primordial Talisman Sect, this kid would probably still reach such heights.

The Primordial Talisman Sect having such a successor is indeed a testament to the unending destiny of the sect.

Days later.

Jiang Fan had firmly solidified his cultivation and finally emerged from the quiet chamber.

His aura was entirely restrained, merging into every drop of blood.

If other cultivators saw him, they would just consider him a mere mortal.

If he were to release the pressure of a Tier Six cultivator, it would definitely shock countless living beings.

Of course, there was no need for him to do so.

Swoosh!

At that moment, Su Weiwei and Lu Youyou came flying over swiftly, their expressions quite serious.

Upon seeing Jiang Fan out of seclusion, they were immediately filled with joy.

But they quickly said to Jiang Fan, "Husband, there is a big problem. An ancient demon has broken free from the seal of the Demon Cave in the Black Dragon Sea Region. It escaped and slaughtered many undersea demon beasts, converting many of them into demon beasts too."

"Yes, if this continues, the Black Dragon Sea Region will soon be transformed into a Demon Realm."

"By then, no one will be able to continue cultivating in the Black Dragon Sea Region."

They brought some bad news.

Originally well-sealed, the Demon Cave was now broken by an ancient demon inside.

This ancient demon was incredibly powerful, wreaking havoc all over the Black Dragon Sea Region.

"This sort of thing too?!"

Upon hearing this, Jiang Fan frowned.

He thought the situation was worsening too quickly.

According to previous estimates, it should have taken ten or twenty more years before the sealed demons could break free.

Now it seemed that the enemy wouldn't give him any time or space to breathe.

Boom~~

At that moment, a message instantly entered the depths of Jiang Fan's consciousness sea.

"Destiny is always so fickle. Although you intended to wait until your cultivation further improved to deal with those sealed demons, the enemy won't give you this time. Demons across the Void Realm are about to break free, and a terrifying magic disaster will sweep through the entire Void Realm.

Fortunately, the ancient demons breaking free are in a weak state due to a long absence of devouring the blood and souls of the living. It means now marks a great opportunity to hunt this ancient demon, the Blood-eating Fish Demon."

"Destiny will provide you with guidance."

"Destiny Hint One: During the Ancient Era, the Blood-eating Fish Demon caused massive ransack, leaving countless living beings dead under its hand. It has exceptional reproductive capabilities, able to lay three billion fish eggs at once. Each egg can spawn a Fish Demon.

Meanwhile, it continually reproduces at every moment. If left unchecked, it won't take long for this vast sea to become the territory of Fish Demons, and the sea region to turn into a Demon Realm.

Unfortunately, the Blood-eating Fish Demon is exceedingly cunning, capable of transferring its main body. It can replace itself with any egg it's spawned. As long as one offspring survives, it cannot be killed. As a result, during the Ancient Era, despite several hunts, this demon couldn't be exterminated.

Fortunately, you ascended to the early stage of Tier Six, developing a new Bloodline Divine Technique: Annihilate Nine Clans, whose power happens to counteract this ancient demon."

"Destiny Hint Two: The Blood-eating Fish Demon is only the visible ancient demon that has escaped. Hidden in the shadows is a second ancient demon, the Shadow Fish Demon, which escaped from the Demon Cave. It lurks in the shadows, secretly devouring vast amounts of blood and souls of the living. While dealing with the Blood-eating Fish Demon, be vigilant of its ambush. However, with the guidance of destiny, you can pinpoint its exact location."

Chapter 1026: Ancient Demon, Another Destiny Warning

"Fate Alert Three: But do not think that killing these two Ancient Demons means it's over. The reason why the Cultivators of the Ancient Era chose to seal them instead of slaying them was not due to stupidity or mercy.

It was because they contained bizarre curses, and once slain, these curses would transfer to the Cultivators who killed them, becoming permanently targeted by the weirdness.

Luckily, you possess the Human Emperor Sword, an Immortal Artifact that can eradicate these bizarre curses, so you must completely eliminate the curses at the moment of the demons' death. Otherwise, you'll be targeted by the weirdness, and no means will be effective by then."

"This."

Upon sensing this message, Jiang Fan's pupils contracted.

Without a doubt, the demon calamity that erupted in the Black Dragon Sea Region was not as simple as imagined.

What escaped was not one Ancient Demon, but two demons.

If not for knowing this beforehand, even if by luck the Blood-eating Fish Demon was killed, it would likely be slain by demons lurking in the shadows. The demons are exceedingly insidious and not easy to deal with.

Even more fearsome is that despite using every strategy to finally kill two Ancient Demons.

It was unknown that they contained terrible curses.

Curses that could take their killers down with them.

This is the reason Ancient Cultivators chose to seal them instead of killing them.

In a sense, these demons were merely one-time consumables for the weirdness, living bombs.

If not killed, the demons would ravage the world, slaughter all beings.

But if choosing to kill these demons, it might also easily take some High-tier Cultivators.

No matter how dealt with, these demons were extremely troublesome.

Ancient Cultivators thought again and again and chose to seal them.

Though this would cause certain troubles to the future Void Realm, it was already the best solution.

"Husband, what should we do next?"

Su Weiwei and Lu Youyou looked at Jiang Fan, sensing the severity of the matter.

If the situation becomes unmanageable, the Cultivators of the Primordial Talisman Sect would have no choice but to retreat entirely.

Though it would indeed cost the resource-rich Black Dragon Sea Region, it would prevent a complete annihilation.

"Don't worry, leave this matter to me."

Jiang Fan waved his hand.

Boom~~

After saying these words, he immediately opened the Gate of the Void, leaping toward the spatial coordinates of the Black Dragon Sea Region.

Soon his figure vanished in the Ten Thousand Beasts Secret Realm.

...

Meanwhile, in the Black Dragon Sea Region.

At this time, this sea region was brewing a terrifying demon disaster.

Boom~~

The darkness of the deep sea was torn apart by a terrifying torrent, the sound of the surge as billions of Fish Demons moved akin to the pounding of thousands of war drums, dull yet soul-stirring. Their black scales glistened with a cold metallic sheen under faint biological fluorescence, layered like heavy armor, smashing reefs only to scatter fragments, while remaining unscathed themselves.

Their most terrifying feature is their mouths full of fangs, sharp as daggers yet jagged like barbed hooks, tearing prey without a hitch. Whether a giant sea fish meters long or deep-sea monsters coiling for millennia, once caught in this black tide, they are shredded into bloody pulp instantly, bones crushed and swallowed, leaving wisps of blood swiftly dissipating in the water.

The Demon Patterns on their bodies were more bizarre, dark purple patterns flowing between scale seams, creeping like living things, occasionally flashing a hint of crimson light. These Demon Patterns seemingly possess some Magic Power, lending their movements an inherent ferocity, always accurately targeting prey's vulnerabilities, millions acting as though governed by an intangible will, advancing precisely, charging like swords breaking formations, encircling like iron walls sealing throats, unquestionably an army from the Abyss meant for destruction.

Wherever they passed, once vibrant deep-sea areas turned desolate, corals withered, seaweed snapped, even the fiercest Sea Beasts dared only to flee, hesitation would erase presence entirely with this force that devours everything.

The noise from countless roaring, biting, and colliding, permeated through seawater, seemingly heralding the collapse of deep-sea order, with only fear spreading in the dark.

"Finally, finally freeing myself from that damned seal."

"This time I will show the entire world the might of the Blood-eating Fish Demon."

"No one can stop my edge."

An ordinary black sea fish swam in the deep sea, concealed within the crevices of ocean bed rocks.

No one knew it was the master of these Fish Demons.

After all, as the Blood-eating Fish Demon, in terms of combat power, it was no match for other demons.

But in terms of survival, few demons could rival it.

As long as it spawned innumerable Fish Demons scattered across the seas, no one could kill it.

Even if its main body was found by enemies, it could transfer its soul to a Fish Demon at the moment of its death.

In essence, as long as one Fish Demon remained, it couldn't be killed.

Moreover, it could give birth to billions of Fish Demons every once in a while.

If it could survive for a hundred years, it could produce trillions of Fish Demons.

Unfortunately, the Great Powers of the Ancient Era were simply too many.

Chapter 1027: Ancient Demon, Another Destiny Hint_2

Before it could truly display its power, it was captured and sealed by human Great Powers.

If it weren't for the fear of the curse deep within its body, it would have been killed long ago.

Instead of being sealed away.

But over countless years, spanning billions of years, the Void Realm has declined to unimaginable levels.

Which means there is no longer a Great Power capable enough to deal with it.

As long as it is given some time to grow, it will eventually sweep across the entire world.

After all, the race of Blood-eating Fish Demons has destroyed many worlds before.

It can't possibly lose the face of its race.

The events of the Ancient Era would never happen again.

"Blood-eating Fish Demon, your actions are utterly reckless."

"Such a huge commotion might attract the Great Powers of this world."

"I think we should keep a lower profile."

"After all, we've just broken free from the seal and are still quite weak."

"It wouldn't be too late to start devouring the creatures of this sea region once our cultivation and strength are fully restored."

At this moment, another voice spoke up.

It was a palm-sized dark fish, blending into the shadows as if it were a shadow itself.

And this was the Shadow Fish Demon.

Previously, it and the Blood-eating Fish Demon were sealed together in the Demon Cave.

Through years of being together, they had developed some bond.

Although not life-and-death friends, they were partners in cooperation, able to converse with each other.

When both were weak, they could still help each other.

"Foolish, with such cowardice, when will we ever regain all our power?"

"We also devoured some Demon Race Cultivators before, gaining their memories."

"Compared to the Ancient Era, this world is way too weak."

"The strongest cultivator is only in Divinity Transformation, not even one Void Refining exists."

"Even if the spiritual qi of the Void Realm is gradually recovering, there won't be an adversary to threaten us in the short term, so we need to devour a large amount of flesh and blood creatures quickly to restore our cultivation."

The Blood-eating Fish Demon said disdainfully.

Having lived for so long, it didn't know what keeping a low profile meant.

Its survival ability as a Blood-eating Fish Demon was too strong.

As long as one fish demon remains alive, it cannot be killed and can always make a comeback.

If it hadn't been besieged by many Great Powers in the Ancient Era, it wouldn't have been sealed away.

So asking it to thrive covertly, to keep a low profile, is like asking it to die.

"Ha, you're truly arrogant."

"Indeed, the Void Realm has weakened a lot, but it still has deep foundations."

"Do you think we are the only survivors from the Ancient Era?"

"Those Ancient Cultivators weren't fools either."

"They also had means to seal themselves to slow their Lifespan loss."

"Some Great Powers might have already revived in secret."

The Shadow Fish Demon spoke with great caution.

Its personality was completely different from the Blood-eating Fish Demon.

The latter was very arrogant, while the former was very low-key.

Unless absolutely necessary, it would conceal itself and hunt enemies in the shadows.

It was best if the enemy didn't even know who it was before being taken out.

In the Ancient Era, it used this ability to assassinate countless Great Powers.

Unfortunately, killing too many enemies aroused great public anger.

So many Great Powers collaborated to track it through causality, finally finding and sealing it.

After being taught this lesson, it felt it wasn't covert or cautious enough.

Otherwise, it wouldn't have been discovered by those damned guys, leading to it being sealed for countless years.

Such humiliation, it never wanted to experience it again.

Even though the Void Realm is extremely weak now, it still worries about hidden Great Powers.

"Stop your chattering."

"If you're scared, just hide aside; there's no need for you to take action."

"If you fear this or that, why be a demon at all?"

"If any Great Power truly exists, let them come and see if they can kill me."

The Blood-eating Fish Demon was dismissive; it never knew fear.

In this Mortal World, there couldn't be an enemy capable of killing it.

Moreover, it needed a vast amount of flesh and soul energy to spawn more fish demons.

The fish eggs within it couldn't be nurtured out of thin air.

Everything requires equivalent exchange.

How many enemies it kills determines how many fish demons it can spawn.

If it doesn't kill any enemies, it would take an unknown amount of time to spawn a trillion fish demons.

For such a demon, the best cultivation path is to sustain itself through warfare.

"Alright, since this is your decision, I have nothing more to say."

"Only good luck to you."

The Shadow Fish Demon spoke, but inwardly it was delighted.

Because the more reckless this guy was, the better it was for it, as it served as a great way to flush out potential threats.

If no Great Powers come out, it could take advantage of the situation.

And if some mysterious Great Powers did appear, it could hide in the shadows where the enemy couldn't find it.

Having the Blood-eating Fish Demon as a shield was the most beneficial setup.

That's why it chose to partner with the Blood-eating Fish Demon, as there was no better ally.

"I still need more flesh, more souls."

"Since we've devoured many demons from this sea, let's start hunting the humans on the islands."

"Humans may be weak, but their souls and flesh are extraordinarily delicious."

"They're simply supreme nourishment."

The Blood-eating Fish Demon said with excitement.

It wasn't a fool and naturally understood the Shadow Fish Demon's intentions, mainly using it as a shield.

But that didn't matter, as this was its demonic path.

If it were timid and missed opportunities, it wouldn't be a Blood-eating Fish Demon.

Also, it had immense confidence in its survival ability; even if any old monster appeared, it couldn't be killed.

Since breaking free from the seal, it wanted to stir up chaos and do whatever it pleased.

Anyone who dared to stop it was walking towards death.

"Wait, it seems someone is coming."

Suddenly, the Shadow Fish Demon's expression changed. It sensed a mysterious figure closing in on the fish demon swarm.

The person appeared out of nowhere, high in the sky.

Though no aura was leaked, the person's power seemed to merge with the void.

Someone with such ability must be a Void Refining Cultivator.

Damn it, those Demon Race Cultivator memories were unreliable.

They said the strongest cultivator in this realm was just in Divinity Transformation.

But who was this suddenly appearing Void Refining Cultivator, and where did they come from?

It vaguely sensed impending doom.

As if some crisis was about to arrive.

But it didn't worry too much because even if the opponent was indeed a Void Refining Cultivator, killing the Blood-eating Fish Demon was impossible.

Small Void Refining Cultivators shouldn't possess the capability to kill them.

Undoubtedly, the newcomer was Jiang Fan.

He had instantly arrived above the Black Dragon Sea Region via the Gate of the Void.

Using the power of fate guidance, he tracked down the Ancient Demon concealed in the deep sea.

At this moment, he stood high in the air as if merged with the void, his vast divine sense spreading out.

Immediately, he sensed the emergence of billions of fish demons in the deep sea.

Each fish demon possessed terrifying power, growing rapidly.

If they devoured more flesh and souls, their threat would increase exponentially.

At that time, they wouldn't be something ordinary cultivators could contend with.

A vast demon kingdom would inevitably form.

Fortunately, they had just formed and were at their weakest moment.

Resolving this group of fish demons now would prevent things from becoming irretrievable.

"Indeed, every Ancient Demon is exceedingly terrifying."

"They absolutely cannot be allowed to grow."

"Otherwise, it would be a calamity for all living beings."

Jiang Fan's eyes revealed a hint of cold light, and a dreadful killing intent enveloped him.

Chapter 1028: Causal Divine Power, Soaring Snake's Venom

Boom~~

Thinking of this, Jiang Fan hesitated no more and activated the Soaring Snake Technique, unleashing the power of his bloodline within.

Bloodline Divine Technique—Annihilate Nine Clans!

He gently pointed a finger, and a strand of black light surged from his fingertip.

This was the terrifying venom from the Soaring Snake Bloodline, the Soaring Snake's venom, containing an extremely fierce toxicity.

It seemed that every drop of venom was alive, possessing the characteristic of devouring all life force.

Thud!

The next second, this strand of black light instantly struck one of the Fish Demons.

Originally, the Fish Demon's strength was quite ordinary, at most at the Foundation Establishment Stage.

To ordinary cultivators, their power was naturally terrifying.

But to Jiang Fan, a Tier Six Body Cultivator, they were like ants, not worth mentioning at all.

However, merely killing one Fish Demon would not harm the core of the Blood-eating Fish Demon.

But the greatness of this bloodline divine technique lay in being able to spread through causality to other individuals sharing the same bloodline.

From a certain perspective, this divine technique is a fusion of poison, curse, causality, and other forces.

Even among many True Spirits, it's an extremely powerful bloodline divine technique, beyond ordinary cultivators' imagination.

Boom~~

In an instant, this black light submerged into one of the Fish Demons.

This ordinary Fish Demon couldn't withstand the fierce toxicity of the Soaring Snake's venom, and perished within a moment.

The life within was thoroughly devoured by the venom.

Simultaneously, this fearsome Soaring Snake's venom spread along the causality line, infecting the Fish Demons.

It's like an outbreak of plague, rapidly affecting every Fish Demon.

If it were to deal with Void Refining Cultivators, this kind of Soaring Snake's venom wouldn't suffice, unable to poison them.

But to these ordinary Fish Demons, it's like using a butcher's knife on a chicken.

In just a single breath, tens of thousands, hundreds of thousands, even millions of Fish Demons perished.

On the sea, countless Fish Demon carcasses surfaced quickly.

Their eyes were wide open, pupils revealing disbelief and terror.

It seemed they couldn't understand why they died like this, without seeing the enemy.

"Damn, this is a causality-type divine power."

"How can mortal cultivators of this era comprehend such divine power?"

Witnessing this scene, the Blood-eating Fish Demon's face changed dramatically, his heart like a stormy sea.

As a powerful demon, although confident in his survival ability, few can kill him.

But that doesn't mean he's invincible or possesses an undying body.

Some forces still exist that can restrain him.

Among them, causality attack divine power is one.

Problem is, this kind of divine power is extremely rare, counted on fingers.

He felt that mere mortal cultivators couldn't master such a unique divine power.

Who could have imagined? Just freshly emerged, already encountering such a freak.

Is Heaven itself opposing him?

Rumble~

But while the Blood-eating Fish Demon's heart was shaken, within a few breaths, the terrible Soaring Snake's venom spread rapidly.

Now, it wasn't merely about the death of millions of Fish Demons.

Instead, tens of millions, thirty million, fifty million, a hundred million Fish Demons...

Countless Fish Demons died like ants.

They couldn't withstand even a thread of venom.

Upon contact with the venom, they instantly died from explosive force.

Even more terrifying, this venom spreads along the causality line.

Basically, as long as they share the same bloodline, they are affected, utterly unavoidable.

"Finished, if this continues, the Fish Demons I nurtured will die completely."

"I absolutely cannot allow this guy to continue attacking."

"To dismantle this divine power, I must kill the practitioner."

The Blood-eating Fish Demon was both shocked and angry.

It's his first time facing such a threat of death.

Even when sealed in the Demon Cave, he didn't think he'd die, at most just sealed.

Even after billions of years, he still escaped from it.

But now, he genuinely feels what death means.

If this continues, the Fish Demons he nurtured will be slaughtered completely, not leaving a trace.

His undying body relies on the countless Fish Demons.

As long as the Fish Demons don't end, he won't die.

Problem is, this human cultivator mastering this divine power can indeed kill off all the Fish Demons he nurtured.

Not leaving a single one.

Undoubtedly, this human cultivator is his nemesis.

Normally, he wouldn't engage in direct combat with the enemy.

After all, he isn't a demon skilled in direct combat, but now he has no choice.

If not killing this human cultivator now, it's inevitably himself who will perish.

Boom~~

Instantly, the Blood-eating Fish Demon could no longer hold back, emerging from the depths of the sea.

His body was enormous, like a whale, skin blood-red, covered with dense black Demon Patterns.

Simultaneously, he had numerous sharp fangs.

Just a gentle bite from him, even a Divine Blade would shatter instantly.

It can be said the Blood-eating Fish Demon not only possesses tremendous combat power, but his defense is also formidable.

Chapter 1029: Divine Power of Karma, Soaring Snake's Venom (2)

Even in the Ancient Era, it was an extremely troublesome demon.

Not to mention it also possessed such formidable survival abilities.

"Finally coming out?"

At this moment, Jiang Fan looked calmly at the Blood-eating Fish Demon that had emerged from the sea floor.

He had long anticipated such a situation.

As long as this Ancient Demon wasn't foolish, it would definitely come to attack him.

Otherwise, when the Soaring Snake toxin spread to every one of its offspring, it would be completely extinct.

However, even so, this Blood-eating Fish Demon was already too late to act.

Heaven-Reaching Spiritual Treasure—Taiyi Five Smoke Net.

In the blink of an eye, Jiang Fan activated a Heaven-Reaching Spiritual Treasure on his body, a defensive treasure imbued with powerful defense.

The reason he did not use other magical treasures was to buy time.

Because he needed to use Bloodline Divine Techniques to eradicate all the offspring of the Blood-eating Fish Demon.

If even one was left, it might allow the enemy to escape.

Boom~~

In the next second, a cloud of seven-colored mist instantly enveloped Jiang Fan completely, simultaneously covering hundreds of kilometers around him.

The depths of the mist were filled with countless mysterious runes.

As if outlined by innumerable runes.

It formed a massive Taiyi sphere.

Thump!

The enormous demonic body of the Blood-eating Fish Demon arrived in an instant, opening its great fangs to swallow Jiang Fan whole, attempting to consume this cursed human.

But it was blocked by the seven-colored mist outside.

Its sharp fangs bit fiercely into the mist.

It was like punching into cotton; all power was thoroughly absorbed away.

"Damn human,"

The Blood-eating Fish Demon was furious, because it sensed at the moment its attack was thwarted, another hundred million fish demons were killed by the power of this divine technique.

No matter where it hid these fish demons, whether in the deep sea, on islands, or in the wild mountains and forests, it was all useless.

Because, in the face of the line of causality, everything is laid bare.

Unless it could sever the line of causality, there was no way to stop this terrifying divine technique.

"I am too weak right now,"

The Blood-eating Fish Demon was furious to the extreme.

It wasn't making excuses, but stating a fact.

If it were at its peak, a mere Tier Six human cultivator wouldn't even have the right to appear before it.

Just a gentle bite, and this human cultivator would become food in its belly.

The problem was it had been sealed for billions of years, its cultivation repeatedly weakened.

Now it only had the strength of an early-stage Refining Void.

If it were given more time, devouring much flesh and souls, it could restore its cultivation to late-stage Refining Void, or even the Body Integration Realm.

Unfortunately, the enemy gave it no such time, having just broke free from the seal, the enemy already attacked directly, with no intention of giving it any chance to recover.

"Shadow Fish Demon, act now,"

"If we collaborate, killing this human cultivator is effortless,"

"We must not allow this human cultivator to continue using this divine technique,"

At this moment, the Blood-eating Fish Demon was shocked and angry, immediately using its divine sense to communicate with the Shadow Fish Demon.

Because it knew it couldn't break through the defense of this treasure in a short time.

It couldn't afford any more delay.

If this continued, its offspring would be slaughtered by this damned human cultivator completely.

Now, its only option was to join forces with the Shadow Fish Demon.

After all, this being's strength was not to be underestimated.

Although its survival ability wasn't as robust, its stealth attack power was paramount.

"No rush, let's first see this creature's trump card,"

The Shadow Fish Demon was very cautious.

It naturally saw how terrifying this mysterious Tier Six human cultivator was.

So young, and yet possessing such unfathomable abilities, it was beyond imagination.

More importantly, who could guarantee there wasn't another human Refining Void cultivator?

Perhaps there were other human Great Powers lurking in the shadows, waiting for it to act.

Although the situation of the Blood-eating Fish Demon was indeed very dangerous, it felt this was not yet the time to act.

Better wait until this creature is at the end of its rope.

"Damn it, Shadow Fish Demon, you gutless scoundrel,"

Upon hearing this, the Blood-eating Fish Demon was utterly mad; when it was a matter of life and death, this creature still wanted to hold back.

Currently, there wasn't a single demon out there with any sense of loyalty.

Previously, it was all sweet talk about mutual help, life and death together.

But when real danger came, the other side had no intention of doing anything.

It truly had to rely on itself.

Boom~~

In that instant, the Blood-eating Fish Demon's expression changed drastically; during the delay, the human cultivator's divine technique had already wiped out all its Fish Demon offspring, even those it had hidden before were killed by the line of causality.

It was almost like its nine clans were annihilated.

Besides itself, there was basically no second Fish Demon.

Now it felt its hair standing on end, its heart racing with fear, feeling an urge to retreat.

After all, right now, it was the only entity left.

If it died here, it truly died.

There was no chance of resurrecting in this world; it felt an unprecedented unease.

Death's fear spread throughout its body, trembling violently.

"Die,"

At this time, Jiang Fan's eyes showed a trace of cold light.

He also ceased to continue activating the bloodline divine technique to annihilate the nine clans, as the remaining toxin was insufficient to kill the Blood-eating Fish Demon's main body.

The primary goal of this bloodline divine technique was to cut off all of the Blood-eating Fish Demon's survival means.

Now, having exterminated those Fish Demons, the Blood-eating Fish Demon had nowhere to escape.

Boom~~

In an instant, Jiang Fan immediately brought out the Immortal Artifact Human Emperor Sword; this Immortal Artifact possessed a powerful restraining effect on demons.

Additionally, using the Human Emperor Sword to slay these demons erased the curse left on the Ancient Demon.

After slaying this demon, one wouldn't be entangled by a strange curse.

At that moment, the Human Emperor Sword, activated by Jiang Fan, emitted an endless golden light, covering Jiang Fan's body with countless emperor's runes.

His destiny and power were enhanced to the peak.

In the unseen realm, he received the protection of the Heavenly Dao.

It seemed for that moment, he was the sole emperor of the heavens and earth, the destiny of humanity converged upon him.

And he needed no mastery of any swordsmanship.

As long as he held the Human Emperor Sword, he was the emperor among swords.

Ability Five: Emperor's Judgment.

This is the fifth ability of the Human Emperor Sword; as an Immortal Artifact symbolizing the emperor's authority, it has the power to judge all things. When the sword-bearer swings this sword with imperial majesty, a beam containing supreme dignity and judgment power descends.

This beam can ignore all defenses, directly acting on the target's soul and origin, fundamentally destroying the enemy, leaving no trace.

Thump!

The next second, a golden sword beam exploded from the Human Emperor Sword, instantly locking onto the Qi of the Blood-eating Fish Demon.

With unimaginable speed, it blasted out, ignoring any spatial distance.

"Impossible, this is the Immortal Artifact Human Emperor Sword,"

"Wasn't this Immortal Artifact uncontrollable by anyone?"

"How has it appeared in this human cultivator's possession?"

Seeing this scene, the Blood-eating Fish Demon's countenance changed drastically, being one of the demons invading the Void Realm, it naturally knew many secrets and powers of the Void Realm.

Among them, the Immortal Artifact Human Emperor Sword was one of the ultimate powers of the Void Realm, especially restraining them, the demons.

Encountering the Human Emperor Sword, escaping wasn't a disgrace.

But now, even if it wanted to escape, it was too late.

It sensed the speed of that sword beam was incredibly fast.

The moment it saw it, the golden sword beam was already in front of it.

Even if it wanted to dodge, it was impossible.

Boom~~

The Blood-eating Fish Demon felt a sharp pain emanating from its enormous body, its entire body being effortlessly sliced in two by that sword beam.

Even more terrifying, the sword beam contained dreadful judgment power, extinguishing its soul continuously.

If it still had fish demon offspring, it could have immediately transferred its soul and survived

Unfortunately, all its offspring had been completely slaughtered by this human cultivator before it.

Every survival means failed at that moment.

It couldn't even muster the emotion of fear, its consciousness quickly descending into endless darkness.

The Blood-eating Fish Demon, dead!

Chapter 1030: Crossing the Tribulation with Ease, Gaining a First-Grade Opportunity

"Hmm?!"

Just at the moment of killing the Blood-eating Fish Demon, Jiang Fan sensed the curse deep within this demon rapidly erupting, as if the pollution inside was spreading out, akin to a human bomb.

A terrifying black curse light shot towards Jiang Fan, attempting to merge into his body and devour his life force.

Unfortunately, Jiang Fan had long anticipated this.

Purification Immortal Light!

This is the first ability of the Human Emperor Sword. It can unleash the Purification Light, purifying all curses and darkness in the world, and nothing can contaminate this Immortal Sword.

It can be said that ordinary curses are no match for the bearer of the Human Emperor Sword; they can all be easily purified.

However, the strange curse encountered last time was different.

That curse had already surpassed the limits of the Human Emperor Sword's purification, so he could only avoid it.

But the curse within the Blood-eating Fish Demon is different; it still can't withstand the Human Emperor Sword.

Otherwise, he wouldn't have come here to slay the Blood-eating Fish Demon.

Boom~~

A white light immediately burst forth, as pure as the most pristine light in this world.

No stain could survive in this white light.

Sizzle~~

Under the illumination of the Purification Immortal Light, the curse within the demon was completely eradicated, accompanied by sizzling sounds, and from the depths of the void came a series of reluctantly uttered voices.

But it was all to no avail.

"Opportunity, a great opportunity."

"This guy has mastered the Human Emperor Sword, he must be the Child of Destiny."

"If I kill him, I will surely gain immense credit."

At this moment, the Shadow Demon Fish lurking in the shadows became excited upon seeing this scene.

It felt that now was the perfect opportunity to strike.

Because this human cultivator must have expended a great deal of magical power to kill the Blood-eating Fish Demon.

And it was hidden in the shadows.

Under such deliberate calculation, this human cultivator was definitely not a match for it.

In the Ancient Era, it used this assassination ability to slay countless Great Powers.

This kid was merely a Tier Six Cultivator.

Even though it just broke free from its seal and hadn't recovered much of its cultivation, killing such a Tier Six Early Stage cultivator likely wouldn't take much effort.

If successful, it would gain massive credit, the benefits of which would be immeasurable.

Whoosh!

In an instant, the Shadow Demon Fish made its move, its speed reaching an incredible level, with its form merging into the void.

At the same time, none of its aura leaked out, causing no ripples in the void.

It was as if it had slipped into a dimensional space.

This was its unique assassination divine power.

Once it got near an enemy, it could easily kill them and escape calmly.

"Finally come, have you?"

But to Jiang Fan, who had fate's guidance, the Shadow Demon Fish's divine power was practically useless.

He could clearly sense the exact location of the Shadow Demon Fish.

For this hidden enemy, he was always extremely vigilant, never giving the opponent any chance.

Soul Devourer Domain!

Instantly, Jiang Fan activated his domain power with a thought.

Immediately, an area spanning hundreds of kilometers was enveloped by the domain.

It seemed as though the sky dimmed, transforming into a dark void.

Within this domain, it devoured the souls of all living beings.

Vaguely, deep within the void, an apparition of the Divine Beast Soaring Snake appeared, opening its mouth wide to devour all the soul substances.

As if waiting for prey to walk right into its trap.

"What's going on?"

The Shadow Demon Fish was bewildered, realizing it had fallen into a quagmire.

Its body was enveloped by a massive domain power.

Ordinarily, the domain of a common Void Refining Cultivator had no effect on it.

It could come and go freely anywhere, like a shadow in the darkness.

But this Soul Devourer Domain targeted not the body, but the soul.

Any life with a soul entering the Soul Devourer Domain would suffer intense soul oppression.

At this moment, it felt its soul being devoured by an invisible force, as if its soul was about to detach from its body.

This filled it with immense fear.

If its soul detaches, it would be utterly devoured by this dreadful domain, becoming part of the void.

"Damn, I've been discovered by this guy."

"This guy's power also counters me."

The Shadow Demon Fish's mind was in turmoil, overwhelmed with shock.

It originally thought this human cultivator wasn't its match and would be easily assassinated.

Who would have thought it underestimated this mysterious human cultivator?

The opponent's domain power seemed particularly effective against its divine power.

The moment it stepped into the opponent's domain, it was immediately detected by this human cultivator.

For an assassin-type demon, concealing ability is paramount.

If its form is discovered, it wouldn't be much different from death.

After all, it had little defensive power, majorly invested in concealment and attack.

Whoosh!

With this realization, the Shadow Demon Fish lost the courage to continue challenging this human cultivator, deciding to retreat.

Remaining here meant a path to certain death.

It swayed its tail, immediately wanting to escape.
