Chapter 115: The Power of Innate, Killing a Grandmaster as Easy as Killing a Chicken

"When exactly will the Immortal Cave Mansion reveal itself?"

Everyone was looking at Chen Yaochuan.

After all, if the Immortal Cave Mansion appears too late, they feared their lifespan would be completely exhausted.

By then, even if they entered the mansion at seventy or eighty, it would be meaningless.

"There's no need to worry about that."

"In fact, those who obtained the Immortal Token weren't limited to the Three Great Families."

"Besides them, there were also a few lucky individuals."

"According to the information I have, the Immortal Cave Mansion appears once every fifty years."

"Based on the calculation of time, it should be within the next six months."

"It's even possible for it to appear as soon as tomorrow."

Chen Yaochuan gave a slight smile.

The world speculated that he had received immortal inheritance, and indeed, their suspicions were correct.

In a certain cave, he had obtained inheritance from a dying cultivator.

He himself became the disciple of this cultivator.

That's why his martial arts cultivation advanced so rapidly.

Additionally, that cultivator had once entered the Immortal Cave Mansion and obtained some inheritance.

Unfortunately, his aptitude was not high; even until his death, he was only at the fourth-layer Qi cultivation.

Because of this, he yearned immensely to obtain the Immortal Cave Mansion's inheritance.

This was his golden opportunity to leap like a fish over the dragon gate.

"If that's the case, then that's great."

Everyone was overjoyed.

If they didn't have to wait long, everyone would have the same chance.

"If that's true, then perhaps the martial arts grandmasters of the Three Great Families might return?"

Someone's eyes flickered.

"If they do return, we can strike to kill and seize the Immortal Token."

"That's right. Honestly, I've brought along some family geniuses this time; if we can bring them together, perhaps we can also gain some benefits."

"If there's a chance, of course, we can attempt to seize the Immortal Token. Who'd mind having too many Immortal Tokens on them, but success is not guaranteed."

"Haha, as long as our six grandmasters join forces, who can be our match?"

The grandmasters were engaged in lively discussion.

They believed with their strength, there was no place in the world they couldn't go.

As for cultivators, they had long disappeared from the mortal world, and it was impossible to encounter them.

In the blink of an eye, seven days passed in an instant.

Under the rule of the Red Eyebrow Army, the entire Yunze City gradually regained its past tranquility.

At least, the residents of Yunze City could walk on the streets again.

However, due to the grain warehouse being burned down, Yunze City lacked food supplies.

Some ordinary people chose to leave Yunze City to live elsewhere for survival.

This made Yunze City much more desolate compared to before.

Of course, some people chose to fish at Yunmeng Lake.

After all, the 800-mile Yunmeng Lake was abundant with fish.

If there's a good catch, it could at least feed a family.

Rumble~~

Just at that moment, there was a sudden tremor deep within Yunmeng Lake, as if an earthquake had struck, causing endless ripples to extend over 800 miles.

Golden beams of light shot up from the depths of Yunmeng Lake.

As if countless runes converged, forming giant golden rune pillars.

Above the sky, numerous clouds gathered, forming golden lotus flowers.

They exuded a sacred and ancient aura, attracting the boundless power of heaven and earth.

The fish deep in Yunmeng Lake also swam frantically, moving toward other areas.

Simultaneously, endless fog surged, swiftly spreading over Yunmeng Lake.

Thus Yunmeng Lake was shrouded in white mist, obscuring what was happening inside.

It was truly dreamlike and mystical.

And this is the origin of Yunmeng Lake.

This phenomenon astonished the residents of Yunze City.

Many were witnessing such a supernatural phenomenon for the first time.

Some even fell to the ground in fear, crying out the coming of the Immortal.

"What's happening? Why is there such a phenomenon?"

"Haha, you all are too young. This is the phenomenon of the Immortal Cave Mansion's appearance, which, as I know, occurs every fifty years, known only to some elders. I suppose most people who knew have passed away."

"No way, does this mean an Immortal really exists deep in Yunmeng Lake?"

"This is not baseless; rumors like this spread widely for a reason. It's said that the Three Great Families of Yunze City rose to power all due to the Immortal Cave Mansion."

"If that's true, then couldn't we enter the Immortal Cave Mansion and gain the Immortal's favor?"

"Foolish. If it were that easy, wouldn't everyone obtain immortal inheritance? Many have tried to enter Yunmeng Lake's depths but turned into skeletons at the bottom."

The residents of Yunze City were engaged in heated discussions.

In their hearts, they were equally astounded.

Meanwhile, the emergence of such supernatural phenomena bred a sliver of ambition within countless people.

"What's going on?"

Jiang Fan, who had been in the basement, suddenly noticed that the mysterious token in his space ring started to tremble and buzz uncontrollably.

It even flew out from the space ring directly.

As it did, the token emitted golden light, buzzing incessantly.

It seemed to resonate with the power deep within Yunmeng Lake.

Actually, it wasn't just this mysterious token; all tokens showed similar phenomena.

All tokens near Yunmeng Lake exhibited such manifestations.
