Chapter 118: Passing the Assessment, Top-grade Spiritual Treasure Primordial Talisman Pen_2

"Have I finally turned my luck around?"

"I've waited so long, and finally I've found some good seedlings."

"Heavens really haven't abandoned my Primordial Talisman Sect."

In the depths of the island, a voice said excitedly, seeming extremely thrilled.

Boom~~

In the next second, an invisible force instantly enveloped Jiang Fan and Su Weiwei, immediately transporting the two to a massive palace deep within the island.

"What's happening?"

Both Jiang Fan and Su Weiwei were a bit bewildered.

They originally thought the test of the Immortal Cave Mansion was about to begin.

But who could've imagined that in the blink of an eye, they would be transported to an unfamiliar place.

Though, it was indeed the power of an Immortal Cave Mansion, something mortal men absolutely couldn't achieve.

He looked around and discovered that this was merely an empty palace, barren inside.

Swish!

Suddenly, a dark golden brush appeared in mid-air, exuding a fearsome pressure, carved with dense talismans, seemingly drawing numerous Heaven and Earth Spiritual Qi around.

At the same time, its brush tip contained terrifying Power of Sharpness, like the sharpest sword in the world.

A gentle stroke could split mountains, sink lands, and carve through rivers.

"Congratulations to both of you on passing the test and joining my Primordial Talisman Sect."

The dark golden brush spoke, its voice reaching their ears.

"This brush seems to talk?"

Su Weiwei was instantly bewildered.

In all her life, she'd never seen such a peculiar sight, truly inconceivable.

"What brush."

"I am the renowned Top-grade Spiritual Treasure, Primordial Talisman Pen."

"I am also the inheritance artifact of the Primordial Talisman Sect."

"You can call me Elder Fu."

The dark golden brush muttered, asserting not to be just any brush but the Primordial Talisman Pen, the famous Top-grade Spiritual Treasure of immense power.

"Top-grade Spiritual Treasure?"

Jiang Fan and Su Weiwei blinked, looking puzzled at the dark golden brush.

For they knew very little about matters of cultivation.

"Uh?"

Hearing this, the Primordial Talisman Pen was speechless, its words seemed like casting pearls before swine.

It had forgotten these two were mere mortals, unfamiliar with the hierarchy of Magical Artifacts in the Cultivation Realm.

Magical Artifacts of the Cultivation Realm are categorized as Magical Artifact, Spiritual Artifact, Magical Treasure, Spirit Treasure, etc.

Spirit Treasures are possessions that only Nascent Soul Cultivators can wield, of boundless might.

If leaked, enough to drive countless cultivators mad.

Even Nascent Soul Cultivators would personally strive to seize it.

Undoubtedly, it was indeed a precious commodity.

"Forget it, forget it."

"You have not cultivated and thus do not know my prowess."

"Overall, all you need to know is you've passed my test and become disciples of the Primordial Talisman Sect, that's enough."

The Primordial Talisman Pen was too lazy to explain further.

"Have we just passed the test like this?"

Jiang Fan blinked.

He had heard how challenging the test of the Immortal Cave Mansion was.

Those who came here to participate usually ended in failure.

No one succeeded.

Yet he and Su Weiwei came, and without needing to take a test, they surprisingly passed.

If not for his Life Chart's power telling him this was indeed a great opportunity and not a trap.

He might have thought the other party was deceiving them.

"The test is merely for those common mortals."

"But you two are different."

"One has Earth Spirit Root, the other has Top-grade Spirit Root."

"Both are exceptional seedlings for cultivation, naturally, you don't need to take the test."

The Primordial Talisman Pen stated matter-of-factly.

Of course, if the Primordial Talisman Sect were at its peak, they would still need to be tested.

The problem is now it has become impoverished.

Finding a disciple with Spirit Root is difficult enough; naturally, there are fewer requirements.

"This."

Jiang Fan too realized how much the Cultivation Realm values Spiritual Root Talent, almost deciding the future of every cultivator; the higher the talent, the greater the future achievements.

Thus receiving higher regard from others.

If he were just a mortal before, he probably would have needed to endure multiple examinations and might not even gain recognition.

But now, possessing Earth Spirit Root Talent, without testing, he gained approval.

This shows the immense impact of talent on a cultivator.

"Is Spiritual Root Talent really that important for cultivation?"

Jiang Fan couldn't help but ask.

"Of course, it's very important."

"Spiritual Root Talent determines a cultivator's lower limits."

"For instance, someone with Top-grade Spirit Root Talent can at least achieve Foundation Establishment."

"With Earth Spirit Root Talent, one can at least achieve Golden Core."

"If possessing Celestial Spirit Root Talent, becoming a Nascent Soul Cultivator is practically certain."

"However, Spiritual Root Talent only determines lower limits; comprehension determines the upper limits of a cultivator."

"If you have extraordinary comprehension, breaking your limits is a matter of moments."

"Unfortunately, extraordinary comprehension is even rarer than Spiritual Root Talent."

The Primordial Talisman Pen stated matter-of-factly.

Therefore, upon detecting Jiang Fan's Earth Spirit Root, it was overjoyed.

If this young fellow doesn't perish, he could at least become a Golden Core Zhenren.

This holds great benefits for the heritage of the Primordial Talisman Sect, at least ensuring its legacy won't perish.

"But my Spirit Root is nurtured postnatally."

Jiang Fan said gravely.

"I have long noticed."

"If I'm not mistaken, you must have cultivated the Soaring Snake Technique."

"This is an Ancient Era martial arts technique; once mastered, its power is immense."

"Regrettably, our Primordial Talisman Sect obtained only its Foundation Establishment Chapter."

"Yet even so, it can help mortals enter the path through martial arts and nurture Spiritual Roots."

"However, normally, even if cultivating the Soaring Snake Technique, the nurtured Spiritual Root would only be Middle-grade or Top-grade Spirit Root, but for you to nurture Earth Spirit Root is nothing short of a miracle."

"You surely have great fortune on your shoulders."

The Primordial Talisman Pen was very excited looking at Jiang Fan.

If he were a naturally born Earth Spirit Root Cultivator, he would indeed be considered a genius.

But to then cultivate Earth Spirit Root as a mortal.

This is undoubtedly a miracle.

Implying this young fellow might possess extraordinary comprehension.

Top-notch Spirit Root Talent, combined with astonishing comprehension, will lead to remarkable future achievements.

This seems the perfect inheritor for the Primordial Talisman Sect.

"Was it you who spread the Soaring Snake Technique?"

Jiang Fan blinked, although he had long suspected it, he still felt it incredible, as if he'd been connected with the Primordial Talisman Sect all along.

"Certainly."

"Through hundreds of years, numerous mortals have come for testing."

"To stimulate their enthusiasm, I granted them various cultivation techniques."

"Hoping these techniques would spread, bringing more talents."

"Looking at it now, my past actions were quite correct."

"They indeed brought me two talents, heavens spare my Primordial Talisman Sect."

The Primordial Talisman Pen spoke with emotion.

Frankly speaking, identifying talents with Spirit Root among mortals is extremely difficult.

To put it bluntly, it's like searching for gold in dung.

Spending hundreds of years encountering mostly mortals without Spirit Root.

Even those with Spirit Root usually have Low-grade Spirit Root, lacking qualification to inherit from the Primordial Talisman Sect.

If it couldn't find any, perhaps it would settle for those mediocre with low-grade roots.

Luckily, perseverance paid off.

Finally, it found two talents.

This proves the Primordial Talisman Sect is not meant to fall.

"I wonder what kind of sect the Primordial Talisman Sect is?"

Jiang Fan asked curiously.

"It's a Talisman Sect."

"During its peak, it was one of the strongest sects in this realm."

"Sadly, calamity struck, resulting in the sect's fall and disintegration."

"As of now, only a few remnants of heritage remain."

The Primordial Talisman Pen said with great regret.

The former Primordial Talisman Sect was incredibly powerful, but now, to evade its foes, it hid in the Mortal World, clinging to life in fear of being discovered and extinguished by its enemies.

Yet, even in this situation, it never intended to let the sect's legacy perish completely.

Sooner or later, the Primordial Talisman Sect will rise again.
