Chapter 176: Advancement to Sixth-Layer Qi Cultivation, Engraving Body-Stabilizing Talisman_2

Jiang Fan increasingly felt that the power of the Body-Stabilizing Talisman was indeed extraordinary.

Especially when combined with the powers of other talismans, it became practically invincible.

Undoubtedly, this was the strength of the Master of Ten Thousand Talismans.

They could simultaneously wield different talisman powers, thus stacking the powers of the talismans.

The effect it could produce was not as simple as one plus one.

Boom~~

Thinking of this, Jiang Fan did not hesitate at all and immediately consumed two thousand luck points from his body.

Instantly, he sensed that he had entered the Realm of Unity of Heaven and Man.

His understanding was infinitely enhanced.

At this moment, he easily manipulated the threads of Primordial Spiritual Power in his Elixir Field and Sea of Qi, beginning to inscribe patterns of talismans on the Primordial Talisman.

Not knowing how much time had passed, the surface of this spherical talisman immediately showed the patterns of the Body-Stabilizing Talisman, emitting a cyan light.

The Body-Stabilizing Talisman was completed!

Instantly, this talisman seemed to transform into a cyan vortex, and the wind spiritual power between heaven and earth surged in, burrowing into the depths of the Primordial Talisman.

This also greatly increased the power of the Primordial Talisman.

A full six patterns of Life Talismans flickered on the Primordial Talisman.

And this made the Primordial Talisman even more profound and complex.

It was like a Ball of Ten Thousand Laws.

Given time, it would surely be able to inscribe countless talismans, bearing all the symbols in the world.

"Stop."

Jiang Fan was moved, and he activated the power of the Body-Stabilizing Talisman on himself.

He targeted a few mosquitoes flying outside the house.

Between heaven and earth, threads of airflow condensed, seemingly transforming into invisible ropes.

Instantly, seven or eight mosquitoes were bound, unable to move their bodies.

Just as if they had been immobilized.

"Not bad."

Jiang Fan felt quite satisfied, as he had just been testing the waters.

Moreover, this was just the entry-level Body-Stabilizing Talisman.

If he continued to cultivate, by then with just a thought, even late-stage Qi Cultivation Stage cultivators wouldn't be able to move and would be at his mercy.

One must say, the potential of the Body-Stabilizing Talisman was enormous.

If used at a critical moment, it was certainly a killer move.

Thinking of this, he willed, and immediately opened the virtual panel on himself.

Jiang Fan looked at the series of data above and felt quite satisfied.

Since he consumed two thousand luck points and inscribed the sixth Life Talisman, the luck points were only slightly over five thousand, but this consumption was worth it.

After all, the power of the Body-Stabilizing Talisman was indeed extraordinary.

If used properly, it was sure to be a great asset.

A few more hours passed.

Jiang Fan finally stabilized his cultivation at the sixth layer of Qi Cultivation, the Primordial Spiritual Power within his body starting to flow continuously through the six meridians like mighty rivers.

At the same time, the Primordial Talisman deep within the Elixir Field and Sea of Qi spun continuously, containing infinite mysteries.

At this moment, the sun outside also rose, arriving at the second day.

"Husband."

At this time, Su Weiwei also woke up, came to the cultivation room, and looked at Jiang Fan in surprise: "Why are you in the cultivation room? You weren't cultivating all night, were you?"

"That's right, I felt something yesterday evening, so I came to cultivate."

"And I also made some breakthroughs in my cultivation."

Jiang Fan smiled slightly, immediately sharing his joy with Su Weiwei.

"Congratulations, husband."

Hearing this, Su Weiwei was overjoyed, looking at Jiang Fan with a face full of admiration.

She had stayed in the Cyan Forest Market for so long.

But was very well aware of the difficulties in cultivation.

In Cyan Forest Market, there were many loose cultivators, and sometimes decades would pass without much breakthrough in cultivation.

However, her man, how long had he been in Cyan Forest Market?

Now he had become a Sixth-Layer Qi Cultivation Stage cultivator.

Given time, her husband becoming a Foundation Establishment, or even a Golden Core or Nascent Soul cultivator, would be quite normal, and in the future, he would surely be an ancestor-level figure in the Cultivation Realm.

"Since that's the case, let's celebrate."

Jiang Fan held Su Weiwei's delicate body, pressing her onto the floor.

"You rascal."

Su Weiwei's cheeks turned red, her eyes seductive.

The two also had a vigorous battle.

...

In the blink of an eye, several more days passed.

After advancing to the sixth layer of Qi Cultivation, Jiang Fan evidently felt much more confident.

With such strength, he dared not say he could rampage among the loose cultivators.

At least few could harm him now.

However, despite this, he did not become arrogant, continuing to cultivate low-key as before.

After all, his current strength was far from enough to dominate the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range.

At least he had to become a Foundation Establishment cultivator to be considered a big shot.

A mere Qi Cultivation Stage cultivator was just a small fry in the Cultivation Realm, not worth mentioning.

But Jiang Fan soon discovered that more and more loose cultivators seemed to be arriving at the valley.

The population was steadily increasing.

"Damn, the war between the Great Sun Sword Sect and the Five Elements Pill Sect is growing more intense. The two sides are truly fighting fiercely; it's said that several markets nearby were affected by the battles of the two major Golden Core sects and were destroyed."

Some refugee loose cultivators said with a sense of concern.

"Isn't that right? It's said that an inner sect disciple of the Great Sun Sword Sect, Han Duan, was killed by a disciple of the Five Elements Pill Sect, which completely enraged the Foundation Establishment Elders of the Great Sun Sword Sect, causing them to launch attacks on the Five Elements Pill Sect."

"Han Duan? That arrogant and domineering junior? It's said he was a Foundation Establishment Seed of the Han Family, now dead in the war. No wonder the Han Family is going crazy, as such a Foundation Establishment Seed is not easy to nurture."

"Sigh, the war between these two major Golden Core sects isn't our business, but now it's affecting us, causing many cultivators in the markets to be anxious, not knowing what to do."

"Damn it, I thought the war between these two major Golden Core sects would stop at a certain point, but it's growing more and more intense. When will it end? It can't possibly go until both sides are badly hurt, right?"

"It's impossible for both sides to be badly hurt, as the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range is not just home to two major Golden Core sects. Besides them, there are other Golden Core sects. If they really exhaust each other, it would only benefit other sects."

"You're right, up till now, the Golden Core Zhenren of the two major sects haven't truly intervened, so currently, it's just small skirmishes."

"Indeed, if they really wanted full-scale war, the Golden Core Zhenren would've taken action long ago."

"The question is, what are the Golden Core Zhenren of these two sects thinking? Why haven't they taken action yet? Are they planning something?"

Numerous loose cultivators discussed.

They originally thought that the battle between the two major Golden Core sects wouldn't last too long.

It's not like similar things hadn't occurred before.

But those were just local wars.

Once the battle reached a certain point, both sides would naturally stop and negotiate peace.

After all, for these cultivators, if there was no certainty of completely eliminating the other, there was no need to forge a deadly feud easily, as their aim was to become immortal; there was no need to fight to the death.

In the Cultivation Realm, fighting to the death was unnecessary; what mattered were human relations.

"Han Duan's death instead triggered a war between the two sects?"

Hearing this news, Jiang Fan blinked his eyes, feeling speechless.

He didn't expect his inadvertent actions had instead made the war more chaotic.

However, he also decided that, should he die, he would never leak this information.

Otherwise, the Great Sun Sword Sect would surely come looking for trouble with him.

Fortunately, he acted cautiously and was protected by destiny.

It's likely that the disciples of the Great Sun Sword Sect and the Five Elements Pill Sect wouldn't know he was the main culprit.
