Chapter 185: Breaking Through the Lifespan Limit, Loose Cultivator Returns to Cyan Forest Market

After all, ordinary body cultivation techniques, although they can enhance the physique, wanting to break the limit of human cultivators' lifespan is basically impossible, never heard of.

It might allow a lifespan slightly longer than cultivators of the same stage, but it is limited.

However, a technique like the Soaring Snake Technique can actually break the limit of human lifespan, which is truly inconceivable.

No wonder even the Primordial Talisman Sect covets such a technique.

Unfortunately, this technique has long been scattered everywhere, and finding it all back is truly too difficult.

But fortunately, he now has the Qi Cultivation Chapter and Foundation Establishment Chapter.

It's enough for him to cultivate for a very long time.

"It seems different from when I was an ordinary person."

"As an ordinary person, it starts with Skin Tempering and then to Refined Flesh."

"But at the Qi Cultivation level, it's first Refined Flesh followed by Skin Tempering."

"But this doesn't matter, it's just the order is different."

Jiang Fan squinted his eyes.

He quietly comprehended the profound parts of this technique.

If, as an ordinary person, one evolves by absorbing mysterious substances between heaven and earth, eventually giving birth to a Spirit Root.

Then after becoming a cultivator, it's entirely different.

It's through absorbing Heaven and Earth Spiritual Qi, then converting it into Spiritual Power, using Spiritual Power to temper the physique.

Even more crucially, it's necessary to use Spiritual Power to construct a series of Soaring Serpent Runes in every part of the body.

And then the body undergoes unbelievable evolution.

This is truly the profound part of this technique.

Undoubtedly, the most important aspect of the Soaring Snake Technique is the Soaring Serpent Rune, which is a natural Innate Rune within the body of the Ancient Divine Beast.

Exactly because such innate runes exist within the body of the Divine Beast.

So right from birth, it possesses Innate Divine Techniques, mastering unbelievable Divine Power.

In ancient times, there were Great Powers, who, by dissecting the Soaring Snake, completely understood all the secrets within the body of the Soaring Snake, discovered all the runes within the Soaring Snake, creating the Soaring Snake Technique.

Thus, it allowed human cultivators to, through the Soaring Snake Technique, engrave a series of Soaring Serpent Runes within their own bodies, thereby possessing Innate Divine Techniques akin to the Soaring Snake.

It must be said, this mysterious Great Power of the Human Race was incredibly powerful, capable of such unbelievable feats, which goes beyond imagination.

No one knows how they managed it.

Regardless, for him, this indeed is an unprecedented opportunity.

"The Soaring Snake Technique's Qi Cultivation Chapter is actually quite simple."

"It is about engraving Soaring Serpent Runes in every muscle of the body."

"A total of six hundred and thirty-nine Soaring Serpent Runes need to be engraved."

"Because the human body only has six hundred and thirty-nine muscles."

"Once successfully engraved, the entire body will undergo transformation."

"Continuously evolving towards the body of a Divine Beast, breaking the limit of human lifespan."

Jiang Fan clenched his fists, feeling extremely excited.

However, this also shows how difficult it is to cultivate the Soaring Snake Technique.

It is truly time-consuming and labor-intensive.

Without sufficient body cultivation talent, it is basically impossible to achieve this.

Of course, once successful, the benefits gained are enormous.

...

In the blink of an eye, another seven or eight days passed.

After experiencing the beast tide attack, the Nameless Valley completely recovered its calm.

The wooden houses that were originally destroyed have been rebuilt by loose cultivators.

Having gone through a life-and-death battle together, the loose cultivators have started to become familiar with each other.

Not as deceitful as before.

Although not entirely intimate, there are far fewer incidents of interception and killing.

Besides, with the death of a large number of demon beasts, the area is filled with a strong aura of slaughter, making the demon beasts terribly afraid to enter the Nameless Valley for the time being.

It is said that those demon beasts went to attack other loose cultivators' settlements.

Unfortunately, those settlements were not defended by mysterious cultivators, and were overrun by demon beasts with heavy casualties.

This also inspired many loose cultivators to migrate here, treating this place as a safe haven.

But things quickly changed again.

Suddenly, numerous flying ships appeared, stretching across the sky, arriving at the old site of the original Cyan Forest Market.

Immediately those well-informed loose cultivators found out what happened and started spreading the news: "Friends, the Five Elements Pill Sect and the Great Sun Sword Sect, the two major Golden Core sects, have finally begun fully rebuilding the Cyan Forest Market, bringing a dozen flying ships this time, even Foundation Establishment Elders in their dozens and Qi Cultivation Stage cultivators in their thousands, they are serious this time."

What?!

Hearing this, many loose cultivators were astonished.

Although previously some sect cultivators went to the original Cyan Wood Market, they merely laid the groundwork, without truly major moves, the progress was extremely slow.

This made many loose cultivators feel despair, thinking the rumors that the two major Golden Core sects were rebuilding Cyan Wood Market might be false, believing that the reconstruction of the market might be distant.

Who could have thought, the surprise would come so quickly.

It seems the two major sects have reached an agreement, dispatching a large number of cultivators here.

Undoubtedly, with such a large workforce, the speed of rebuilding Cyan Forest Market will definitely be quick.

In short, as long as there is money and manpower, anything is possible.

"It is said that the slow speed of rebuilding Cyan Forest Market was because the elders of the two sects were still disputing, negotiating over the distribution of the interests of two veins, the debate went on for a long time."
