Chapter 196: Unable to Leave, No Space for Loose Cultivators on the Flying Ship_2

Fan Wei said solemnly.

Just as Jiang Fan had expected, Fan Wei, as a Loose Cultivator, was also most aware of what Loose Cultivators needed.

"High-grade Detoxification Talisman? What exactly is the reason?"

Jiang Fan humbly sought advice.

"It's because now is the season of rebirth."

"Many Loose Cultivators venture into the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range to hunt Demon Beasts."

"But for Loose Cultivators, the greatest danger is not the Demon Beasts."

"It's the poisonous insects, snakes, and miasma hidden in the depths of the jungle."

"Once these toxins are inhaled, then the Loose Cultivator is doomed."

"These toxins are nearly impossible to remove, sticking like a bone-gnawing canker."

"Many Loose Cultivators are unable to advance their Cultivation due to poisoning."

"It even gradually corrodes the body, leading to chronic death."

"If someone could sell High-grade Detoxification Talismans, they would surely make a fortune."

"Unfortunately, there are too few High-grade Detoxification Talismans."

"Loose Cultivators simply cannot buy them."

Fan Wei said with great emotion.

As a Loose Cultivator, he knew better how precious a Detoxification Talisman was.

Once poisoned, without a High-grade Detoxification Talisman, death is almost certain.

"But aren't there Detoxification Pills?"

"Why not buy Detoxification Pills?"

Jiang Fan continued to ask.

"Naturally, it's because High-grade Detoxification Pills are very expensive."

"One High-grade Detoxification Pill requires at least three to four hundred Spirit Stones."

"Moreover, given the current situation, High-grade Detoxification Pills are already out of stock."

"However, High-grade Detoxification Talismans are inexpensive, costing only a hundred Spirit Stones."

"The cost-efficiency is really high, and the effectiveness is nearly the same."

Fan Wei explained.

After all, the cost of Detoxification Pills is high, requiring various Spirit Medicine materials.

But Detoxification Talismans have relatively low costs, so naturally, they become Loose Cultivators' first choice.

"I see."

Upon hearing this, Jiang Fan immediately knew he was here for the right reason.

Though Fan Wei had ordinary aptitude and low Cultivation, living at the bottom, he understood the pain points of Loose Cultivators and knew what they needed most.

High-grade Detoxification Talisman is undoubtedly the talisman Loose Cultivators need most.

After all, now is the best season for hunting Demon Beasts.

Loose Cultivators need to go deep into the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range.

In doing so, they're bound to encounter various poisonous snakes, insects, and miasma.

If accidentally poisoned, their path might be completely destroyed for life.

So, High-grade Detoxification Talismans are practically life-saving talismans for Loose Cultivators, unobtainable.

The problem is, even Top-grade Talisman Masters find crafting High-grade Detoxification Talismans very challenging.

It's considered one of the hardest Upper Grade Talismans to craft.

Plus, there is a scarcity of Top-grade Talisman Masters in the Cyan Forest Market.

This leads to the constant shortage of High-grade Detoxification Talismans.

If anyone could provide a large supply of High-grade Detoxification Talismans, they would surely make a fortune.

"Having skills and knowing customer needs is how you make big money."

Jiang Fan clenched his fists. )

If it's a regular Talisman Master, they can only craft ordinary talismans, but Loose Cultivators don't want to buy them—they're just unsellable products.

Only Talisman Masters who understand customer pain points can thrive and earn lots of Spirit Stones.

Just like those factories in the past life.

No matter how massive the production, if customers don't need it, a high yield is pointless.

"Spirit Stones are never too many."

"It's said a Foundation Establishment Pill requires at least twenty to thirty thousand Spirit Stones."

"If it's a Top-grade Foundation Establishment Pill, the price might be even higher."

Jiang Fan's eyes showed a hint of brilliance.

Truthfully, after he reached Seventh-Layer Qi Cultivation, he had already started considering Foundation Establishment.

For Cultivators, to advance to Foundation Establishment Realm, Foundation Establishment Pill is essential.

Because the Foundation Establishment is incredibly dangerous.

If the breakthrough fails, they could face death and the disappearance of their path.

But taking a Foundation Establishment Pill, even if the breakthrough fails, can preserve their life.

This keeps the price of Foundation Establishment Pill constantly high.

It even becomes strategic material for Golden Core Sects.

Generally, Foundation Establishment Pills aren't spread outside; they're given to Sect disciples.

Because of this, if he wants to buy Foundation Establishment Pills, he needs to prepare a large number of Spirit Stones.

Even if he doesn't need Foundation Establishment Pills, when his Dao Companion Su Weiwei advances, she probably will need them.

Therefore, he also wants to seize the opportunity to make a fortune.

To express his gratitude, Jiang Fan also gifted Fan Wei some Spirit Rice and Demon Beast Meat.

"Thank you, then."

"But Fellow Daoist Jiang, are you really not planning to return to the slums?"

"It should be extremely dangerous outside right now."

Fan Wei looked at Jiang Fan, always feeling that living in the wilderness increased the danger by at least tenfold.

"I don't plan to, on the contrary, I feel the slums are more dangerous."

"After all, there are so many loose cultivators in the slums."

"Especially during this time, with the Nascent Soul Cave Mansion emerging, it's likely to become even more chaotic."

"Instead, you all should be more careful."

Jiang Fan said in a deep voice.

"Sigh, this world really is one wave after another."

Fan Wei was quite helpless.

He originally thought that after the reconstruction of Cyan Forest Market, he would be able to live peacefully for a while.

Who could have imagined it, continuous disasters descended.

Of course, for those sect cultivators, it might not be a disaster, but an opportunity.

But for loose cultivators like them, it's definitely a calamity.

Even a slight upheaval could cause massive casualty among the loose cultivators.

But there's no way around it, in the cultivation world, being weak is the original sin.

"By the way, our neighbors nearby before."

"That Lower Grade Alchemist, Liang Bin, and Lower Grade Talisman Master, Yao Luxian, seem to have died."

Fan Wei said.

"All dead?"

Jiang Fan raised his eyebrows. Since the last destruction of Cyan Forest Market, he indeed hadn't heard about these two neighbors for a long time. He hadn't expected that the next news would be of their deaths.

"Yes, they're all dead."

"It's said that during the Five Elements Pill Sect's attack on the Cyan Forest Market, the two of them ventured inside, hoping to seize wealth opportunistically, but were seen by disciples of the Great Sun Sword Sect and suffered their counterattack."

"It only took one strike for the two to die, leaving just their remains."

"Fortunately, I didn't venture out that night, or else I would have certainly died an untimely death."

Fan Wei said with deep emotion.

He and these two loose cultivators were old neighbors, at least acquainted for over ten years.

Usually, they were cautious and rarely went on adventures.

Unexpectedly, due to one moment of greed, they met their end.

"Cultivation indeed requires caution."

Jiang Fan couldn't help but nod, agreeing wholeheartedly.

So even knowing that the Nascent Soul Cave Mansion might be hiding numerous treasures, lacking the strength, going for an adventure would merely be courting death.

Surely would follow in the footsteps of those two.

More importantly, given his talent, there's no need to take risks.

By following the steps, he could still become Foundation Establishment, or even a Golden Core cultivator.

.....

A few hours later.

Jiang Fan also returned to his home in the Nameless Valley.

Along the way, it was relatively peaceful, without any incidents.

"Husband, couldn't you get a boat ticket?"

Upon hearing this news, Su Weiwei was also very surprised, never expected it to be so difficult for loose cultivators to leave the area of Cyan Forest Market, it was practically an invisible boundary.

On the surface, the Great Sun Sword Sect didn't impose any restrictions on loose cultivators, allowing them to go anywhere.

But without the flying ships from Golden Core Sects, where could the loose cultivators go?

The Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range is so dangerous.

Estimate would die at the hands of numerous demon beasts in the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range even before covering a hundred kilometers.

It's incredibly difficult to leave here.

"Indeed, couldn't buy the ticket."

"The restrictions for loose cultivators by the Golden Core Sects are too great."

"But that doesn't really matter."

"As long as we don't get involved in the Nascent Soul Cave Mansion affairs, it shouldn't affect us."

"Of course, this valley is still not safe enough."

"During this time, use the power of the Six-winged Poison Bee to search everywhere, see if you can find a safer place."

Jiang Fan said in a deep voice.

After all, the soldier bees of the Six-winged Poison Bee search for food everywhere.

The coverage range is large.

Utilizing the power of the Six-winged Poison Bee, perhaps a safe base can be found in the nearby area.

As they say, a crafty rabbit has three burrows.

If any crisis really arises, it's better to have multiple safe residences.

Still too many loose cultivators know about this Nameless Valley.

"No problem."

Hearing this, Su Weiwei felt a sense of joy in her heart; she felt she could finally be of help to her husband.

Now she was completely capable of establishing herself in Cyan Forest Market.

Her Fourth-Layer Qi Cultivation realm is not strong, but not weak either.

Several similar cultivators can be found among loose cultivators.
