Chapter 204: Acquiring the Ancient Treasure Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace, an Opportunity from Nascent Soul_2

In an instant, he found himself seemingly merging with this treasure and already able to preliminarily control it.

"How is this possible? You're just a mere Qi Cultivation Stage Cultivator, how could you refine my Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace?"

At that moment, a voice echoed deep within Jiang Fan's sea of consciousness, feeling extremely shocked and incredulous.

Evidently, this was the Artifact Spirit of the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace.

After all, its level was extremely high, belonging to the level of Ancient Treasure, containing unimaginable power.

If it wasn't willing, even Golden Core Zhenren couldn't dream of refining it.

Even though its power was just exhausted, leaving it in a state of extreme weakness.

A mere Qi Cultivation Stage Cultivator still couldn't refine it.

Because it hadn't agreed to this guy yet, how could it be forcibly refined in such a manner?

"I don't know; it was naturally refined just like that."

"Could it be you're special in some way?"

Jiang Fan showed a bewildered expression, indicating that he was just as muddled and refined it naturally.

"Strange, could it be you have some special constitution?"

"Is that why you're able to refine me so easily?!"

"But now the die is cast; it's too late to regret it."

"However, it seems you've lucked out this time."

"I am the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace; my ability is simple, which is to purify various Elixirs and also to resolve any Elixir Poison."

"That means if you can find some wasted or inferior Elixirs, throw them into the furnace, I can purify these Elixirs entirely, creating Perfect Level Elixirs."

"The previous master, Daoist Wan Hua, used my power to rise to the status of Nascent Soul Ancestor despite only having a low-grade Spirit Root."

"Sadly, he acted too arrogantly and ended up beaten to death by others in the end."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace said rather regretfully.

"Did you escape from that Nascent Soul Cave Mansion?"

Although Jiang Fan had long anticipated it, hearing the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace say this still surprised him.

He had actually obtained a treasure from a Nascent Soul Cave Mansion, which was truly incredible.

That said, without ever coming close to the Nascent Soul Cave Mansion, but just staying in the outer areas, he had managed to obtain the Nascent Soul heritage sought after by the Golden Core Zhenrens.

If those Golden Core Zhenrens knew, they would undoubtedly die from anger.

"That's right."

"That group of Golden Core Zhenrens kept attacking the Restriction Array of the cave mansion just now."

"I was originally still in slumber but was suddenly awakened."

"However, I didn't want to fall into the hands of those useless people, so I fled."

"Yet, unexpectedly, having just awoken for not long, my energy ran out after flying for some distance and ended up in your little Qi Cultivation Stage Cultivator's hands."

"Seems you're a person of great destiny to have acquired me."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace was feeling quite depressed.

It had not expected at all, having just regained freedom, it would soon again fall into the hands of another cultivator, and this time, one at the Qi Cultivation Stage.

More depressingly, it was already thoroughly refined.

There was no possibility of turning back now even if it wanted to.

"Then, haven't that group of Golden Core Zhenrens already entered the Nascent Soul Cave Mansion?"

Jiang Fan asked curiously.

"It's not that simple." free\NovelBin.c o(m)

"The place they entered was only an outer area."

"Moreover, it was a small section of the outer area."

"As for the core area, the Grand Array inside is even more powerful."

"It's not something a few petite Golden Core Zhenrens can break through."

"But you don't need to covet the treasures within."

"The most precious treasure in the entire Nascent Soul Cave Mansion is me."

"Other things are not worth mentioning."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace said proudly.

Its power was indeed unique.

Any cultivator who knew of its abilities would likely be ecstatic.

In the past, Daoist Wan Hua ascended because of this, eventually becoming a Nascent Soul Ancestor.

Otherwise, a mere low-grade Spirit Root Cultivator could hardly reach Foundation Establishment, not to mention becoming a Nascent Soul.

"The ability to purify Elixirs and resolve Elixir Poison is indeed astonishing."

Even Jiang Fan couldn't help but nod.

He suddenly realized the power of the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace.

It was undoubtedly an incredible treasure.

If placed in a Sect, it would be an unmatched foundation.

It could be considered a treasure for Dao protection, a Sect treasure.

After all, in the Cultivation Realm, the number of wasted Elixirs is extremely high, and they're not valued.

If the power of the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace were used, waste could be turned into treasure.

For instance, the value of an inferior Foundation Establishment Pill could multiply several times after being purified into a Perfect Foundation Establishment Pill.

Many cultivators would go to great lengths to obtain it.

If used wisely, it could yield endless profits.

The speed of making money would be akin to a printing press.

No wonder Daoist Wan Hua could rise quickly to Nascent Soul after obtaining this treasure.

Unfortunately, he was unlucky, ultimately falling without achieving Divinity Transformation.

"By the way, I still have a bottle of Wood Pill left, just right for testing this treasure's power."

Thinking of this, Jiang Fan took out a bottle of Wood Pills from himself, containing three Wood Pills.

Then he placed them into the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace.

Rumble~~

In an instant, he activated the Mixed Element Talisman Scripture, and the Primordial Spiritual Power from within him flowed into the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace.

"Your Spiritual Power is so pure? What Cultivation Technique are you practicing?"

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace was quite astonished; it was its first time seeing such pure Spiritual Power, devoid of any impurities and full of hidden mysteries.

Though to it, this amount of Spiritual Power was very sparse, it was like a rainfall after a drought.

It felt slightly nourished.

In the next second, the entire Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace began to vibrate, with threads of the Qi of Ten Thousand Transformations generating deep inside the furnace.

These Qi of Ten Thousand Transformations penetrated the three Wood Pills.

Boom~~

In an instant, the three thumb-sized Wood Pills began to shrink under the influence of the Qi of Ten Thousand Transformations, expelling a large amount of impure Elixir Poison and turning it into black matter.

Soon, the Wood Pills shrank to the size of grains, yet remained crystal clear, exuding waves of Pill Fragrance so enchanting it made one's mouth water.

Perfect Level Elixir!

No doubt, the Wood Pills that were originally of ordinary grade, had been transformed into perfect quality under the action of the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace, with no impurities or Elixir Poison.

Though their size did shrink, what remained was the essence, with medicinal power that had increased several times over.

The previous Wood Pills could not compare at all to the current ones.

It's like comparing brass to gold.

On the surface, they might seem similar, but there's a world of difference.

"Let's try it."

Jiang Fan was eager to test the Perfect Level Wood Pill, and he took one and consumed it immediately.

Boom~~

Suddenly, he sensed the Perfect Wood Pill melting as soon as it entered his mouth.

The rich medicinal power exploded within his body instantly.

Even though it was only the size of a grain, its medicinal power was multiple times greater than before.

This single Perfect Level Wood Pill could surpass the effect of many previous doses.

Most importantly, it contained no impurities or Elixir Poison.

This meant he could consume more of the same type of Elixir and experience a reduced resistance.

"Fantastic."

Jiang Fan felt he had never consumed such a smooth Elixir; the difference between Elixirs with impurities and Perfect Elixirs was immense, completely distinct in taste.

As the medicinal power fused into his body, it was refined instantly and transformed into threads of Primordial Spiritual Power.

The Primordial Spiritual Power in the depths of the meridians began to surge.

"Not enough, still not enough."

Jiang Fan immediately consumed the remaining two Wood Pills, and a vast medicinal power erupted rapidly.

The medicinal power surged within his body like molten lava, rushing through.

The Primordial Spiritual Power deep within the Elixir Field and Sea of Qi increased swiftly.

95%, 96%, 97%, 98%, 99%...

The Primordial Spiritual Power within continually increased bit by bit.

Originally, it might have required a month or even several months of hard cultivation to increase the Spiritual Power to such a level.

But now, with the help of three Perfect Quality Wood Pills, the Primordial Spiritual Power in his body experienced a massive surge, saving him countless hours of cultivation.

"Achieving Qi Cultivation Seventh-Layer Perfection."

At this moment, Jiang Fan sensed the seven meridians within him, each brimming with Primordial Spiritual Power like streams filled to the top; with a slight push, he could break through the barrier and ascend to Eighth-Layer Qi Cultivation.
