Chapter 275: Seeking Fortune and Avoiding Evil Again, Avoiding Calamity_2

They flew with swords, breaking through the air.

The leading Sword Cultivator was impressively a Golden Core Cultivator, surrounded by intense Sword Qi.

Each strand of Sword Qi seemed capable of tearing the skies apart.

In the blink of an eye, this group of Sword Cultivators arrived at Green River Market.

All the cultivators in the entire Green River Market were trembling, having no idea what was happening.

"I am Su Jinlin, the Golden Core Elder of the Profound Celestial Sword Sect."

"This time, I'm here to recruit some cultivators to hunt down the remnants of the Heart Demon Sect."

"However, cultivators wishing to join this operation must be at least late-stage Qi Cultivation and above."

"If they're Foundation Establishment, even better."

"Those who help the Profound Celestial Sword Sect complete this mission will be richly rewarded."

Golden Core Sword Cultivator Su Jinlin stated bluntly, sweeping his gaze across the crowd.

"What? Hunting down the remnants of the Heart Demon Sect?"

"Indeed, there have been rumors of many markets experiencing gruesome incidents recently, suspected to be the work of Demon Cultivators."

"Demon Cultivators deserve to be hunted by everyone, no wonder even a Golden Core Elder of the Profound Celestial Sword Sect is getting involved."

"But isn't the Profound Celestial Sword Sect a Nascent Soul Sect? Taking care of minor Demon Cultivators should be a piece of cake for them, right? Why do they still need help from us loose cultivators? Could it be they want to use us as cannon fodder?"

"Do you even need to ask? It's said the Demon Cultivators of the Heart Demon Sect are elusive and hard to track down. Finding their traces requires a lot of manpower for a carpet search. Clearly, just the disciples of the Profound Celestial Sword Sect are not enough, so they need our help, but the dangers are obvious."

"Isn't that so? Those are the remnants of the Heart Demon Sect, even the disciples of the Profound Celestial Sword Sect fear them. How can we loose cultivators handle them? Joining this mission is courting death."

"Indeed, the Profound Celestial Sword Sect's rewards are abundant, but one needs to live to receive them."

Many loose cultivators were discussing fervently.

They naturally wanted to receive rewards from the Profound Celestial Sword Sect, whose generosity was well-known.

But hearing it involved hunting the remnants of the Heart Demon Sect, they were all hesitant.

After all, the terror of the Demon Cultivators was deeply engraved in their hearts.

No matter how good the reward, it seemed they wouldn't live to see it.

Boom~~

At that moment, in the depths of Jiang Fan's Dantian and Sea of Qi, the Fortune-Telling Talisman began to vibrate.

"Demon Cultivators run rampant, calamity is approaching, under an overturned nest no egg remains intact."

"Joining the Nascent Soul Sect's Profound Celestial Sword Sect team to hunt Demon Cultivators, minor fortune."

"Refusing the summons, pursuing one's own path, great misfortune."

What?!

Perceiving this message, Jiang Fan blinked his eyes.

To be honest, he was inclined to refuse the summons from the Nascent Soul Sect's Profound Celestial Sword Sect.

In fact, like most loose cultivators, he thought it was the Profound Celestial Sword Sect recruiting cannon fodder.

And indeed, that was actually the case.

The other side only lacked manpower, so they were recruiting loose cultivators.

Essentially, they wanted to recruit some cannon fodder to help them find the Demon Cultivators.

He wasn't about to foolishly risk his life for the Profound Celestial Sword Sect.

But now, the Fortune-Telling Talisman unexpectedly suggested that refusing the Profound Celestial Sword Sect's summons would actually be great misfortune.

Accepting their summons, on the other hand, was fortunate.

This indeed defied common sense.

"Could it be that the Demon Cultivators being hunted this time are quite powerful? And also cunning and treacherous, that without the protection of the Profound Celestial Sword Sect, one might be in mortal danger."

"Yet staying with these cultivators from the Profound Celestial Sword Sect might intimidate the others into not making any rash moves?!"

"If that's the case, it seems I have no choice but to agree."

Jiang Fan's eyes flickered.

Evidently, he had gathered a lot of crucial information from the Fortune-Telling Talisman.

He had glimpsed the peril involved.

Though he did not know what kind of Demon Sect the Heart Demon Sect was, for the Nascent Soul Sect's Profound Celestial Sword Sect to be so prepared, the opponent's power must indeed be formidable.

After all, in the Cultivation Realm, a Nascent Soul Sect is already a dominant force, capable of standing tall for thousands of years.

Some might even have a history spanning ten thousand years.

From this, one can see the profound strength of a Nascent Soul Sect, undoubtedly formidable.

Yet even so, facing the Demon Cultivators of the Heart Demon Sect, the cultivators of the Profound Celestial Sword Sect still act with such caution.

This proves the ferocity of those Demon Cultivators.

With that in mind, following these cultivators from the Profound Celestial Sword Sect would be quite safe.

At least those Demon Cultivators wouldn't dare rashly attack this Golden Core Sword Cultivator.

And if the mission is completed, there are benefits to be gained.

From any perspective, joining the Profound Celestial Sword Sect's team is advantageous with no harm.

Thinking of this, Jiang Fan revealed his aura as a Foundation Establishment Cultivator and stepped forward, "Senior, I wish to join the team to hunt down the Demon Cultivators."

He was essentially the first to step forward, immediately catching the attention of numerous cultivators.

What?!

Upon hearing this, the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace was completely dumbfounded. It hadn't expected its extremely cautious owner to actually agree to the summons and dive into such a messy situation, truly inconceivable.

Has the sun risen in the west?!

Since when did its owner become so brave?

Beside him, Su Weiwei was also somewhat surprised, but she felt that her husband must have his reasons for doing this, so she quietly stayed by his side.

"Oh, a Foundation Establishment Loose Cultivator at second-layer, you are indeed qualified."

"But participating in the hunt for Demon Cultivators, life and death are unpredictable, are you certain?"

Golden Core Sword Cultivator Su Jinlin looked at Jiang Fan with great interest.

He did not expect that there would actually be a Foundation Establishment Loose Cultivator proactively participating in the mission.
