Chapter 277: Easy Crossing the Tribulation, Harvesting Tier Two Thick Earth Pill

"How is it possible? There were no anomalies yesterday, why did something like this happen?"

Cultivators from the Green River Market were immediately bewildered.

Just yesterday, everything was fine, but overnight, the Green River Market was gone.

He felt a great sense of relief inside.

Fortunately, he left with the cultivators from the Profound Celestial Sword Sect; otherwise, he probably would not have escaped the hands of the demon cultivators.

With just a split-second decision, he survived, which could be considered his fate.

"Yeah, do they not know the Profound Celestial Sword Sect is hunting them? How dare they show themselves?"

"Insane, this is simply courting disaster."

"Do these demon cultivators not know they are being hunted?"

Many loose cultivators were incredulous, dumbfounded.

Although they knew demon cultivators were extremely brutal and ruthless, they did not expect the demon cultivators to wipe out all the cultivators in Green River Market, utterly eliminating them.

At this moment, they clearly sensed the dread and terror of the demon cultivators.

No wonder everyone desires to exterminate demon cultivators.

Such insane individuals, no one would want them to survive.

It's either the demon cultivators die, or they do.

Practically, there is no other choice.

"Heh, you really don't know the horror of the Heart Demon Sect cultivators."

"Almost every one of them is a madman."

"They cultivate the Heart Demon Formula."

"Every move they make can trigger heart demons, condensing demon seeds."

"At a high level of cultivation, they can even transform into demon thoughts, seizing others' bodies."

"But the side effects are also great, it's easy for them to be eroded by heart demons, turning into demons, completely falling."

"You could say they're utterly fearless, you can't use common sense to measure them."

"Of course, now their actions are a provocation to our Profound Celestial Sword Sect."

A Foundation Establishment cultivator from the Profound Celestial Sword Sect said coldly.

He was very familiar with these remnants of the Heart Demon Sect, each one unpredictable and bold to the extreme.

Relying on their unique cultivation technique, they slaughter everywhere, provoking the Profound Celestial Sword Sect.

Countless cultivators have died at the hands of these demon cultivators.

Over the years, they have been pursuing these demon cultivators, but unfortunately, with little effect.

After all, the hiding methods of these demon cultivators are too clever.

If they want to hide, they are helpless.

What?!

When hearing this, many loose cultivators were terrified, realizing how terrifying the demon cultivators they were chasing were.

If they were a little careless, they might also die at the hands of the demon cultivators.

But now, even if they want to quit, it's too late, they can only persevere.

Moreover, leaving would be even more dangerous.

Who knows if the demon cultivators are lurking around.

If they leave alone, they might be slaughtered by the demon cultivators.

Instead, staying in the camp of the Profound Celestial Sword Sect gives them a chance to survive.

"Was the Green River Market destroyed? Fortunately, I've already left."

At this moment, Jiang Fan's eyes flickered, his heart stirred with a ripple.

Although he had some premonition in his inner depths, he was still shocked when it actually happened.

Luckily, the Fortune-Telling Talisman sensed the fortune and misfortune on him; if he hadn't left with the Profound Celestial Sword Sect but stayed at the Green River Market, he would have likely encountered those fierce demon cultivators.

At that time, the odds would not be in his favor.

What seemed like an ordinary choice before was actually a choice of fate.

If chosen wrongly, it would have cost his life.

"Husband, I didn't expect it to be so perilous here."

Su Weiwei was also taken aback.

While staying in the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range, although occasionally encountering some dangers, those were only personal threats to cultivators.

As for markets and Immortal Cities, they were actually quite safe.

Over the long years, no major problems would arise.

But coming to the territory of the Profound Celestial Sword Sect, they encountered the destruction of an entire market.

If that's the case, then even being in a market isn't safe?

Is this still the territory of the Nascent Soul Influence?

Why does it seem more dangerous than the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range?

"Is the territory of the Profound Celestial Sword Sect so dangerous now?"

"To let Heart Demon Sect cultivators run rampant?"

"Has so much time passed that demon cultivators have risen again?"

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace was also taken aback by these words.

It didn't expect that after so much time, not only had demon cultivators not been exterminated, but they had become more rampant.

Now they are massacring openly, provoking the Profound Celestial Sword Sect, truly bewildering.

Surely, some unusual changes have happened during this time.

Otherwise, it's impossible for these demon cultivators, despised by everyone, to suddenly become so rampant.

However, the information it currently knows is too little, it doesn't know what happened.

"Are you very familiar with the Heart Demon Sect?"

Jiang Fan moved his mind, sending a message through spiritual sense.

"Of course I'm familiar, it's a renowned Demon Sect."

"It's said to originate from a Divinity Transformation Sect on the Eastern Continent."

"But even so, their strength is terrifying."

"In the past, many Nascent Soul Sects besieged the Heart Demon Sect but couldn't exterminate them."

"Even if they were severely injured once, they'd soon rise from the ashes."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace said solemnly.

It felt that the Heart Demon Sect cultivators were more terrifying than those demon cultivators who practiced the Blood Demon Technique.

Because their methods targeted the soul, condensing demon seeds.
