Chapter 283: The Fall of Daoist Yunlai, Calamity of the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range

"You!"

Upon hearing this, the Demon-Vibrating Bell was infuriated, immediately wanting to resist and break free from Jiang Fan's control.

But it had long been refined by Jiang Fan and had no room for resistance.

With just a thought, it was like the Monkey King struck by the golden circlet spell, instantly losing all its strength.

"It's over, it's over, completely over."

"I, the dignified Demon-Vibrating Bell, was actually refined by a young lad."

"It's a disgrace to my reputation accumulated over a lifetime."

The Demon-Vibrating Bell felt utterly heartbroken, wondering why it was forcibly refined without its consent, something that seemed entirely unreasonable.

This feeling was like being overpowered and wronged.

Now it was completely puzzled, not knowing what had happened.

"Since you've come, you might as well settle down."

"Why hold a grudge over it?"

"Life is like that sometimes; if you can't struggle, you might as well enjoy it."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace advised earnestly, displaying a wise and experienced demeanor.

After all, it was experienced and understood the thoughts of the Demon-Vibrating Bell well.

And Jiang Fan paid no attention to the conversation between these two ancient treasures.

To him, magical treasures were like women, both capable of growing on you over time.

Though there was some resistance now, they would soon accept reality.

He slightly tidied up the treasures from this time, then set off with Su Weiwei towards Seven Stars Peak.

By evening.

Jiang Fan and Su Weiwei finally arrived at Seven Stars Peak.

Here, the mountain range stood majestically, with rugged rocks and towering peaks, seven majestic peaks each occupying a different position.

From afar, the seven peaks were interconnected and seemed like one entity, growing together.

The tops were lush with numerous trees.

On the mountaintops, palaces were constructed.

Each peak was enveloped by the barrier of a Tier Two Array.

Without the owner's consent, one couldn't enter.

It was extremely safe.

This is also why Foundation Establishment cultivators rent a Tier Two Spirit Vein.

Having one's own cave mansion is crucial for Foundation Establishment cultivators.

The peak Jiang Fan rented was in the central position.

Rumble~~

Without much thought, Jiang Fan took Su Weiwei to the peak he rented and took out the Array Token, causing a resonance with the Tier Two Array here.

The invisible array barrier created a portal large enough for two people to pass through.

"Husband, it seems like someone lived here before."

"And they've left quite a bit of furniture and living supplies."

Upon entering the peak, Su Weiwei was delighted.

She felt like she was moving into a noble's residence.

It was meticulously decorated, like a manor, like a palace.

Living here was extremely comfortable.

More importantly, the entire peak was covered by a Tier Two Spirit Vein.

Compared to the outside, the concentration of Spiritual Qi was many times thicker.

If practicing here long-term, the efficiency would increase several times, providing many benefits.

"Indeed, a Foundation Establishment cultivator lived here before."

"Originally, this was a barren peak, but after many generations of Foundation Establishment repairs, it has become quite perfect."

"At least we don't need to build a mansion from scratch; we can just move in with our belongings."

Jiang Fan felt quite satisfied; spending five thousand Spirit Stones a year was well worth it.

With such a perfect Foundation Establishment Cave Mansion, it saved him countless efforts.

All he needed to do next was to focus on cultivation peacefully.

"Husband, the other peaks seem to have Foundation Establishment residents too; should we pay them a visit?"

Su Weiwei inquired.

After all, this was Seven Stars Peak; everyone was a Foundation Establishment cultivator and neighbors, so it was natural to get acquainted in advance.

Having good neighborly relations would be beneficial for everyone.

"No rush, we've just arrived at Seven Stars Peak, and it's already late."

"Let's rest for the night and pay them a visit tomorrow."

Jiang Fan nodded.

Naturally, he also wanted to get to know the neighbors.

Since he would likely be practicing here for a considerable time.

Several days later.

Jiang Fan visited the other six peaks and finally learned about their identities.

First was the eldest Foundation Establishment cultivator, Wei Song, who was already two hundred years old, at the eighth layer of Foundation Establishment, living on Seven Stars Peak for a hundred years, and also a Tier Two High-grade Alchemist, appearing as a kind old man.

Next was Chang Lisheng, a sixth-layer Foundation Establishment cultivator, a Technique Cultivator proficient in various techniques, with formidable combat power but quite aloof, not good at socializing, often hunting Demon Beasts to earn Spirit Stones, and rarely at home.

Ma Zhong Mountain, a middle-aged man with a sincere appearance, at the fifth layer of Foundation Establishment, a Tier Two Pharmacist.

The Pharmacist and Alchemist are not the same; in the Cultivation Realm, many difficult and complicated illnesses exist, requiring a Pharmacist to concoct medicines to heal.

And at critical moments, a Pharmacist can also become a Poison Master.

Don't let his honest appearance fool you; his poisoning methods are quite skillful as well.

Fan Wenli, a fifth-layer Foundation Establishment cultivator, looked scholarly and genteel, like a literati, and like Jiang Fan, was a Talisman Master, specifically a Tier Two Middle-Grade Rune Master specializing in refining Talismans.

He was very warm and welcomed Jiang Fan graciously.

Yu Kelian, a fifth-layer Foundation Establishment female cultivator, appeared very alluring, proficient in Charm Technique, with a questionable reputation, supposedly involved with numerous male Foundation Establishment cultivators from Xuanjian City.
