Chapter 341: Acquiring Seventh-Grade Opportunity, Obtaining Red Blood Spirit Fruit_2

Although the losses were indeed substantial, the gains were equally massive.

Overall, the gains far outweighed the losses, making it a lucrative deal.

So now, he was naturally very generous, not hesitating to bestow rewards.

Especially for Jiang Fan, the Honored Guest Elder who didn't run away, he felt very satisfied.

This also proved that his initial judgment was quite correct.

He indeed did not trust the wrong person.

"Thank you, Master."

Everyone was extremely delighted.

Jiang Fan also received a reward, which was a Spirit Fruit with three hundred years' worth of medicinal power – the Red Blood Spirit Fruit.

If consumed, it would surely greatly increase the Primordial Spiritual Power within him and accelerate his cultivation.

Clearly, this was the Seventh-Grade Opportunity he obtained this time.

Just this one Spirit Fruit alone would save him months of arduous cultivation.

This also made him feel very satisfied.

Joining the Red Whale Island influence was indeed the right choice.

Not only did he receive protection from Red Whale Island, but he also gained numerous benefits from it.

If he went elsewhere, he wouldn't possibly receive so much.

A day passed.

Jiang Fan also stayed on Red Whale Island and attended this victory celebration.

He had drinks with other Foundation Establishment cultivators, networking and socializing.

This also helped deepen mutual understanding.

Unfortunately, he didn't have the opportunity to speak with the daughter of Red Whale Daoist.

She seemed very proud, disdaining to chat with other Foundation Establishment cultivators.

She always stood quietly beside Red Whale Daoist.

Even at the victory celebration, she didn't plan to participate.

It seemed to her that this battle was merely child's play, not worth mentioning.

But Jiang Fan did not pay much attention to it.

Anyway, he had already received his benefits; knowing her was entirely unnecessary.

After the celebration was completely over, Jiang Fan returned to Fire Copper Island.

...

At night, in a quiet chamber.

Jiang Fan sat cross-legged on the ground.

The Red Blood Spirit Fruit on him had been completely refined by the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace, turning into drops of red liquid.

They rolled like molten lava, colored like blood.

Each drop of red liquid contained massive medicinal power.

Imagine how abundant the medicinal power of this Spirit Fruit was, no less than several Tier Two Elixirs.

"What a wonderful Spirit Fruit."

Without hesitation, Jiang Fan immediately swallowed the red liquid, as if drinking water.

Glug~~ Glug~~

At this moment, as the liquid entered Jiang Fan's stomach, it boiled like molten lava.

The Primordial Talisman deep in the Elixir Field and Sea of Qi operated, swiftly refining the liquid.

Then it transformed into drops of Primordial Spiritual Power.

Originally, transforming into a drop of Primordial Spiritual Power, if relying on the Heaven and Earth Spiritual Qi, would require countless days of arduous cultivation.

This is why Foundation Establishment cultivators progress so slowly.

However, if Elixirs or Spirit Medicines are consumed, the efficiency increases by dozens of times.

As long as this medicinal power can be refined, it can quickly be transformed into Spiritual Power within the body.

So many Foundation Establishment cultivators are extremely eager to obtain large amounts of Elixirs and Spirit Medicines.

In this way, even cultivators with Low-grade Spirit Root Talent can quickly break through.

Even cultivation efficiency is comparable to Celestial Spirit Root cultivators.

The issue is that in the Cultivation Realm, Spirit Medicines and Elixirs aren't so easily obtainable.

Each Spirit Medicine or Elixir is of considerable value.

So most cultivators can only rely on arduous cultivation to gradually enhance their cultivation.

Rumble~~~

At this moment, Jiang Fan was refining the liquid drop by drop, and his Primordial Spiritual Power steadily increased.

Suddenly, he was immersed in deep cultivation, enjoying the sensation of rapid enhancement.

Meanwhile, the news that Red Whale Island had defeated Sea Snake Island's forces and slain three Golden Core Zhenrens quickly spread throughout the Yiling Island Group, known by numerous Golden Core influences.

This also caused a huge stir.

"No way, wasn't Red Whale Daoist's lifespan about to run out? How could he withstand Sea Serpent Daoist and three youthful, strong Golden Core Zhenrens? This is terrifying!"

"Haha, still vigorous indeed, Red Whale Daoist was famous in this sea area during his youth as a formidable Golden Core, possessing great combat power, once ventured into the Southern Continent, earning a reputation, even though old now, he can't be underestimated. Otherwise, why would so many Golden Core influences respect Red Whale Daoist? This is the reason."

"Sea Serpent Daoist and the others are just too foolish. Don't they know a dying lion is most ferocious? Clearly aware that Red Whale Daoist is now fearlessly aggressive, yet they dared to confront him, it's purely courting death."

"No, no, no, you can't blame Sea Serpent Daoist entirely. After all, this time Red Whale Daoist obtained a Tier Three Demon Pill, a resource capable of creating a Fake Pill Zhenren. If Red Whale Daoist succeeds, then Red Whale Island could continue existing. Seeing the cooked duck fly away, how could Sea Serpent Daoist endure, naturally causing impulsive actions."

"Foolish, lived so long yet still impulsive, if not him to die, then who?"

"However, although Red Whale Daoist was able to kill three Golden Core Zhenrens this time, it's not entirely relying on his own strength. It's said he also has a daughter, raised outside, only returning now, yet she's already advanced to Golden Core. It's said her combat strength is no less than Red Whale Daoist, perhaps even stronger."
