Chapter 373: Consuming the Cyan Flame Pill, Advancing to Seventh-Layer Foundation Establishment

After several more days, Jiang Fan finally returned to Fire Copper Island.

Of course, aside from Su Weiwei, no one knew he had left, not to mention his trip to Fish Dragon Island.

The other cultivators thought Jiang Fan was just cultivating at his residence.

After all, for a Foundation Establishment Cultivator to go into seclusion for a month or two is quite common.

Let alone just a few days.

"Husband, nothing happened on your trip to Fish Dragon Island, right?"

Su Weiwei was overjoyed to see Jiang Fan return.

"Nothing happened. Everything went very smoothly."

Jiang Fan smiled slightly. He didn't mention his close brush with a Golden Core Tribulation Cultivator, as everything ultimately went very smoothly, a narrow escape at most.

Besides, telling these things would only worry his Dao Companion.

"By the way, I brought you a gift. See if you like it?"

At this moment, Jiang Fan took out some gifts from his person.

An exquisite hairpin, equivalent to a top-grade magical artifact, not only for decoration but also for attack.

In addition, he had bought many gorgeous silk clothes and gold and silver jewelry.

"Honestly, spending money recklessly again, I already have plenty of these things, no need to waste money, it's better to save for usual days," Su Weiwei scolded playfully.

Despite saying this, she was inwardly delighted, as sweet as if she'd drunk honey.

She accepted the gifts Jiang Fan had given her, practically cherishing them.

"Husband, do you want me to try them on for you?"

Su Weiwei batted her beautiful eyes.

"I prefer the way you look without them."

Jiang Fan said with a smile.

"Bah, you pervert."

Su Weiwei rolled her beautiful eyes at this rascal.

But that night, Jiang Fan enjoyed a night of tenderness, treasuring it.

.....

Next morning.

Jiang Fan, exerting great willpower, rose from the realm of tenderness.

He entered the nearby meditation chamber to tally the gains from his trip.

After all, he still didn't know what that Sixth-Grade Opportunity was.

"Wait, isn't this the Tier Two Array Plate 'Five Elements Spirit Gathering Array' from the auction? It's actually here?"

At this moment, Jiang Fan was delighted, seeing a Tier Two Array Plate appear inside one of the storage bags, a highly valuable piece, auctioned for thirty to forty thousand spirit stones.

A large group of Foundation Establishment Cultivators was frantically competing for it.

This Tier Two Array could very well be the core grand array of a Foundation Establishment Clan.

If set up at the clan's residence, it could cover an area of hundreds of kilometers, forming a spiritual shield.

For any Foundation Establishment Cultivator wishing to establish a clan, obtaining such a Tier Two Array is a cherished goal.

This is an array plate that could be used for many years.

If set up in a spirit vein, it wouldn't even require much spirit stone consumption.

It is equivalent to a portable array, far better than a fixed array.

Moreover, this array can gather the spiritual energy between heaven and earth, increasing the surrounding spiritual energy density by forty to fifty percent, forming a small cultivation blessed land.

Compared to the Profound Light Concealment Array, the Five Elements Spirit Gathering Array is more inclined towards auxiliary and defensive purposes.

Each has its own merits.

Without a doubt, even if there were no other treasures in the storage bag, just having this Five Elements Spirit Gathering Array would be enough.

"Are these Tier Two Thunderfire Pills? There are as many as twenty of them?"

"The power of one Thunderfire Pill is equivalent to the full force of a late-stage Foundation Establishment Cultivator."

"Are these Thunderfire Pills perhaps the trump card of those Foundation Establishment Tribulation Cultivators?"

Jiang Fan quickly discovered the Thunderfire Pills.

It is said these were specially refined by alchemists.

This type of elixir is not for consumption, but for combat use.

For alchemists, they are not cultivators without combat ability either.

They can craft elixirs for cultivation enhancement and also combat pills.

For example, the Thunderfire Pill, containing thunderfire power, upon explosion covers an area of several kilometers, with destructive power comparable to the full force of a Foundation Establishment Cultivator, capable of destroying mountains and shattering the earth.

There are other elixirs capable of similar destruction.

Of course, such elixirs are quite costly.

Only a few alchemists can successfully refine them.

"Luckily, I ended the swift battles quickly and swiftly dealt with this group of Foundation Establishment Tribulation Cultivators."

"If they had time to react, it would have been dangerous."

At this moment, Jiang Fan recalled the previous battles.

He habitually preferred swift battles, going all out, not sparing any politeness with enemies.

Like a leopard spotting prey, he would deliver the fatal blow to his enemies.

Nary a chance for the enemy to respond.

Looking back, this habit was beneficial, not allowing these Foundation Establishment Cultivators any chance of counterattack.

Otherwise, he could have faced unforeseen danger.

But obtaining twenty Thunderfire Pills equated to gaining a trump card.

Of course, he couldn't use them all.

But he could give ten Thunderfire Pills to Su Weiwei, so she would also have a trump card for self-defense.

In case of future danger, Su Weiwei could rely on them for protection.

"Tsk tsk, the spirit stones amount to a million."

"How many treasures did this group of Foundation Establishment Tribulation Cultivators plunder?"

Jiang Fan continued to tally the treasures in the storage bag.

He found a large number of spirit stones stored inside, totaling a million.
