Chapter 452: Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman, Primordial Talisman Sect's Foundation

"Oh, I previously obtained some opportunities."

"I acquired a few Heavenly Flowers."

"So I was able to elevate my Spirit Root level to Celestial Spirit Root."

Jiang Fan said very modestly.

"This."

Upon hearing these words, the Primordial Talisman Pen was bewildered. It could understand the words, but piled together, it was confused.

What does it mean to obtain some opportunities and acquire a few Heavenly Flowers, thus enhancing one's Spiritual Root talent?

It knows well that Heavenly Flowers are such precious and rare objects.

Even when the Primordial Talisman Sect was at its peak, obtaining Heavenly Flowers was an incredibly difficult task.

They are rare Spiritual Objects that even Nascent Soul and Divinity Transformation cultivators desperately wish to acquire.

Such rare Spiritual Objects, without sufficient Destiny and opportunity, are impossible to even catch a glimpse of, let alone obtain several.

What has that chosen successor of mine experienced to have acquired several Heavenly Flowers, becoming a Celestial Spirit Root cultivator? This is too exaggerated!

"Unbelievable foundation."

"Now your Life Talisman has reached eighteen."

"And you are a Celestial Spirit Root cultivator."

"Even autonomously forming your Core, without consuming any elixir."

"This foundation is unprecedented, one with the poise of Divinity Transformation, a true Divinity Transformation poise."

The Primordial Talisman Pen took a careful look at Jiang Fan now, and its inner thoughts were stirred like a stormy wave, utterly amazed.

It has seen many direct disciples of the Primordial Talisman Sect who are exceptionally talented, with extraordinary gifts.

But none can compare to Jiang Fan now.

Moreover, those direct disciples, even Daoists, receive the full cultivation support from the sect and never lack cultivation resources.

But this inheritor? Everything relies on his own abilities to reach this level today.

If it didn't witness it firsthand, it wouldn't dare believe such events could occur.

This feeling is as if it's not selecting a successor; it's not providing the other with great benefits, but rather it is only one of those insignificant opportunities for the other.

"What Divinity Transformation poise?"

"To what extent do you underestimate people, kid?"

"With Master's talents and potential, becoming an Immortal wouldn't be difficult."

"Divinity Transformation is merely Master's starting point."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace looked at the Primordial Talisman Pen very disdainfully, feeling it underestimated its master.

"Indeed, Master's future cannot be stopped by mere Divinity Transformation."

"Even becoming an Immortal is not impossible."

At this moment, the voice of the Exquisite Tower came out as well, fully agreeing with this point.

After all, its master's luck is beyond belief.

Casually going to a place, he's able to obtain immense opportunities.

As if even the heavens constantly shower him with benefits.

If such a Child of Destiny cannot become an Immortal, then few people in the world can.

"But we shouldn't be too arrogant."

"Step by step, cultivate steadily."

"First, cultivate to Divinity Transformation, then plan for becoming an Immortal slowly."

The Demon-Vibrating Bell said in a deep voice, being a very stable Magical Treasure, naturally wouldn't boast too much.

For now, becoming a Divinity Transformation cultivator is more practical.

As for higher realms, that depends on future opportunities.

After all, the world now cannot compare to the Ancient Era, where cultivation difficulty was distinctly higher.

"Wait, why are there so many powerful ancient treasures on you?"

The Primordial Talisman Pen suddenly became dumbfounded, realizing only now that Jiang Fan not only has the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace as an ancient treasure. It seems there are many more added during its slumber.

And every ancient treasure is comparable to or perhaps surpasses its own level of prowess.

Since when did such precious ancient treasures become abundant, casually obtaining so many?

Is this reasonable?!

"Oh, these are my harvest over the years."

"Unintentionally, I gathered so many ancient treasures."

Jiang Fan said very modestly.

Indeed, the process of acquiring these ancient treasures was effortless and without much ordeal.

Merely at the right time and place, collecting these treasures.

"Eh?!"

Upon hearing these words, the Primordial Talisman Pen was speechless, not knowing what to say.

Clearly, this youngster's luck is inconceivably good.

Others may fight desperately and still cannot get one ancient treasure.

But this guy casually gathered so many, becoming a walking treasury.

Even Divinity Transformation cultivators might not resist the urge to rob these treasures upon knowing.

To be honest, now it even feels like the legacies left by the Primordial Talisman Sect might not compare to the treasures this youngster obtained over the years.

"Indeed, I underestimated you."

"I didn't expect such accomplishments in such a short time."

"With you as a successor, the Primordial Talisman Sect's fortune is immense."

The Primordial Talisman Pen said emotionally.

It felt it finally saw the hope for the Primordial Talisman Sect to rise again.

If Jiang Fan continues to grow, once he becomes a Divinity Transformation cultivator, rebuilding the Primordial Talisman Sect will be effortless.

After all, in the Cultivation Realm, individual martial prowess overshadows all else.

One person can decide the fate of a sect for a thousand years.

If it's a Divinity Transformation cultivator, they might determine the destiny for three thousand years.
