Chapter 453: Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman, Primordial Talisman Sect's Foundation_2

Previously, it had sought out successors, but unfortunately, they didn't make it halfway.

Those who can become Golden Core Zhenren are few and far between.

Let alone those who can become Nascent Soul or Divinity Transformation.

"No, no, don't be fooled by my fast cultivation speed."

"But after advancing to the Golden Core, the efficiency may not remain so high."

"Without the assistance of cultivation resources, even Celestial Spirit Root Cultivators would need to spend a lot of time to achieve Nascent Soul Formation."

Jiang Fan said solemnly.

Evidently, the cultivation in the Golden Core Realm is more challenging than that in the Foundation Establishment Realm.

Due to the extreme rarity of Tier Three Spirit Medicine.

They are basically controlled by Nascent Soul Sects, and for other cultivators to acquire them is nearly impossible.

"If you're looking for cultivation resources, perhaps you can visit the territory of the Shennong Sect."

"I remember in the Shennong Sect territory there is a vast mountain range stretching tens of thousands of kilometers—the Poisonous Mist Mountain Range."

"That place is sparsely populated, with numerous spirit medicines growing inside, calling it a treasury of spirit medicines."

"The Shennong Sect owns this vast mountain range, harvesting countless spirit medicines."

"Which has made the Shennong Sect perpetually filled with Nascent Soul cultivators."

"Moreover, inside the Poisonous Mist Mountain Range, there is also a Nascent Soul Cave Mansion left by a successor of the Primordial Talisman Sect."

"If you can enter that Nascent Soul Cave Mansion, then you shouldn't lack cultivation resources in the Golden Core Realm."

The Primordial Talisman Pen thought for a moment and immediately offered its suggestion.

Evidently, the Primordial Talisman Sect still has some foundations, as the saying goes, 'a broken ship still has three nails'.

"Poisonous Mist Mountain Range?!"

Upon hearing this, Jiang Fan's eyes flickered.

Honestly speaking, he wasn't very familiar with the Shennong Sect, just aware that it is an Alchemy Sect, skilled in refining elixir.

And they have many cultivators.

In fact, they have more Nascent Soul cultivators than the Profound Celestial Sword Sect.

It's just that their combat power isn't comparable to those fervent sword cultivators.

However, the power of the Shennong Sect cannot be underestimated, as they have always been able to stand alongside the Profound Celestial Sword Sect.

Moreover, this sect has survived for at least thousands of years, with deeply profound foundations.

"The Poisonous Mist Mountain Range is indeed a treasure land."

"Unlike the Mist Mountain Range, this Poisonous Mist Mountain Range is shrouded in boundless poisonous mist."

"Deep within the mountains, countless poisonous creatures and fierce beasts grow."

"If ordinary cultivators approach this mountain range, they might be poisoned by the mist within."

"It's precisely because of such a perilous environment that this mountain range is sparsely populated, with only a few cultivators managing to enter."

"Thus, numerous spirit medicines deep within the mountain remain unharvested."

"In the past, Daoist Wan Hua also entered the Poisonous Mist Mountain Range, acquiring numerous spirit medicines."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace also chimed in.

Clearly, it also had a better understanding of the Shennong Sect territory, as Daoist Wan Hua had spent a long time there in the past.

However, Daoist Wan Hua was also hunted by the Shennong Sect's cultivators.

The enmity between them is quite extensive.

"In that case, it's indeed necessary to visit the Shennong Sect's Poisonous Mist Mountain Range."

Jiang Fan nodded.

He actually had no preference for where to reside.

As long as his safety is guaranteed and his cultivation continues to progress, that's all that matters.

...

Another day passed.

Jiang Fan remained in the quiet chamber, quietly comprehending the power of the First-Layer Golden Core.

After all, he had just advanced to the Golden Core and needed to spend some time solidifying his cultivation.

The Primordial Talisman Pen, which had awoken earlier, also fell back into slumber.

Because its injuries were too severe, needing a long time to heal.

Boom~~

At this moment, with a thought, he immediately opened the virtual panel on his body.

[Name: Jiang Fan]

[Realm: First-Layer Golden Core (1%)]

[Profession: Tier Two High-grade Rune Master (99%)]

Undoubtedly, compared to before, his various data had undergone a tremendous change.

The greatest enhancement was naturally his lifespan, increased from four thousand years to six thousand years—boosting by two thousand years.

Even the lifespan of Divinity Transformation cultivators can't compare with his.

No, perhaps even those Divinity Transformation Great Demons have similar lifespans at most.

Moreover, if his Soaring Snake Technique can further break through, his lifespan may further extend.

This demonstrates the power of this cultivation technique.

Of course, the difficulty of cultivating this technique is extremely high, and success rates are one in billions.

"Since I've advanced to the Golden Core Realm, I can inscribe a new Life Talisman."

Jiang Fan's eyes flickered, contemplating his next Life Talisman.

After all, each Life Talisman significantly enhances his strength.

He needed to consider carefully.

After pondering for a moment, he finally decided that the next Life Talisman would be the Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman.

This belongs to Tier Three Talismans, possessing the power of a Talisman Array.

Once activated, it would envelop the surroundings in mist; if enemies enter its range, they'd lose direction and become trapped in an illusory realm.

The reason for choosing the Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman is because he aimed to bolster the defense strength of his cave mansion.

Truthfully, after advancing to the Golden Core Realm, the Tier Two Array Plate acquired earlier held much less effect.

At least, it was unsuitable for Golden Core Cultivators.

The problem is that acquiring a Tier Three Array Plate is very difficult and exceedingly expensive.

It would need at least a million spirit stones.

Of course, a million spirit stones are nothing to him, but even in auctions, it's hard to obtain.

If it appears, it would be madly contested by numerous Golden Core Zhenren.

Therefore, instead of acquiring a Tier Three Array Plate, it's better to inscribe a Life Talisman.

Moreover, this Life Talisman has power similar to a Tier Three Array.

Thus, he wouldn't need to spend an enormous amount to purchase a Tier Three Array Plate.

Inscribing the Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman provides Jiang Fan with significant benefits.

"Let's begin."

With this thought in mind, Jiang Fan did not hesitate, sitting cross-legged on the ground.

He began inscribing his first Life Talisman after advancing to the Golden Core.

Rumble~~

Immediately, he expended a vast amount of Luck Points, and a mysterious energy seeped into the depths of his consciousness sea.

Bringing him into a state of enlightenment.

At this moment, he comprehended the mysteries of the Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman thoroughly.

Truth be told, this talisman is rather complex, combining water element power with soul power.

It's precisely the combination of these two powers that gives rise to mist and illusion powers.

Ordinary Golden Core cultivators would find it impossible to grasp this talisman without years of effort.

But with the help of Luck Points, he instantly comprehended the Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman.

Boom~~

In an instant, Jiang Fan sensed deep within his Dantian and Sea of Qi, the Primordial Golden Core slowly rotating.

Strands of Golden Core Spiritual Power inscribed onto the Primordial Golden Core, forming talisman patterns.

Each talisman pattern is precisely crafted, without any error.

It's unknown how much time has passed.

When the last pattern was finished, the talisman was instantly branded onto the Primordial Golden Core.

Undoubtedly, the Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman has been successfully inscribed.

This is his first Life Talisman after advancing to the Golden Core.

Buzz~~~

Immediately, the talisman began to vibrate, easily enveloping an area within ten kilometers.

Water vapor from between Heaven and Earth gathered, covering this Nameless Valley.

A haze enveloped all directions.

Moreover, within the range of the mist, a vast Spiritual Realm manifested.

If one steps into the mist, they immediately fall into an illusion, unable to extricate themselves.

Unless one can resist the power of this illusion, they transform into puppets.

This invisible force extends all around, making this place a safe area.

Essentially, any creatures below Tier Three can't break through this mist.
