Chapter 454: Escape from the Golden Core Cave Mansion, the Great Calamity Arrives

"That's right."

Jiang Fan sensed the power of the Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman and was very satisfied.

To some extent, this Life Talisman is equivalent to a Lower Grade Tier Three Defense Array.

Moreover, the Spiritual Power required to consume is not much.

He can completely use the Spiritual Qi from the Spirit Vein as a supplement.

If encountering an enemy invasion, he can also be alerted immediately.

Of course, compared to a real Tier Three Array, the power of this talisman is naturally incomparable.

But consider the Spirit Stones for a Tier Three Array, and the Spirit Stones for this talisman.

In terms of cost-effectiveness, it naturally far surpasses a Tier Three Array.

More importantly, this Life Talisman is not only applicable to the cave mansion.

Even in battle, it can still be used.

If facing a siege by many cultivators, one can wield the power of the Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman to divide the battlefield.

Defeat them individually.

"Even at the Entry Level, the Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman can cover a ten-kilometer radius."

"If further improving the skill level, the coverage can be even wider."

Jiang Fan clenched his fist.

He feels that at the Proficient Level, the Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman can cover at least twenty kilometers.

By then, the role of this Life Talisman will naturally be greater.

If it reaches the Perfection Level, the power should be even more overwhelming.

.....

At this moment, this power awakened the Primordial Talisman Pen.

In fact, ever since the Primordial Talisman Pen knew Jiang Fan had advanced to Golden Core so quickly, it was utterly shocked, completely clueless as to how he did it.

So it was in a state of shallow sleep, still able to be awakened immediately if something happened.

"No way, is this the Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman?"

"Even among many Tier Three Talismans, it is extremely complex."

"Yet this guy comprehended it instantly."

"And effortlessly integrated it into the Primordial Talisman, becoming a Life Talisman."

"Such comprehension is truly exaggerated."

The Primordial Talisman Pen was stunned.

Truth be told, due to it being asleep for a long time, although aware that Jiang Fan had good comprehension, it didn't know to what extent.

Now, it witnessed the process of Jiang Fan inscribing the Life Talisman, and it was so shocked that it was speechless.

With such a comprehension, even in the countless years of the Primordial Talisman Sect, it was unprecedented.

Not to mention, the opponent now possesses a Celestial Spirit Root qualification.

With both combined, he is simply the first among the disciples in the history of the Primordial Talisman Sect.

Even the sect's founder's aptitude could hardly compare.

No wonder this young man, not yet thirty, managed Core Formation; it's truly bewildering.

At the same time, it was immensely excited.

If he continues cultivating, then the revival of the Primordial Talisman Sect is undoubtedly just around the corner.

"Master."

"You actually inscribed the Cloud Dream Tracing Talisman as a Life Talisman?"

"It seems you intend for this talisman to guard the cave mansion, serving as a Tier Three Array."

"If that's the case, when Master advances to the Second-Layer Golden Core, you can try inscribing the Dragon Vein House Charm."

"This talisman also contains powerful defense, comparable to a Tier Three Defense Array."

The Primordial Talisman Pen remarked.

Being the treasure of the Primordial Talisman Sect's heritage, it is naturally well-acquainted with various talisman information.

It immediately understood Jiang Fan's intention.

"Dragon Vein House Charm? What is the function of this talisman?"

Jiang Fan curiously asked.

"Such talismans can integrate into the depths of the Spirit Vein."

"Then leverage the Dragon Qi in the depths of the Spirit Vein to suppress all directions, stabilizing city-states."

"During the Ancient Era, our Primordial Talisman Sect used such talismans to protect countless cities."

"Even facing countless Evil Cults and demon invasions, they could be easily fended off."

"It can even form an array barrier, keeping enemies outside the barrier."

"With such a talisman, there's no need for a Tier Three Array."

"In the past, many disciples of the Primordial Talisman Sect prepared some Dragon Vein House Charms when traveling."

"Of course, the difficulty of refining such talismans is very high, not something that can be casually produced."

The Primordial Talisman Pen said in a deep voice.

"I see."

Jiang Fan nodded. Although he indeed received the heritage of the Primordial Talisman Sect, he still lacks experience compared to the Primordial Talisman Pen, such as this heritage instrument.

In some ways, the Primordial Talisman Pen is like a teacher, able to impart teachings and solve doubts.

Unfortunately, the Primordial Talisman Pen is gravely injured, and the time it can stay awake is not very long.

If it could fully recover from its injuries, perhaps he could always consult it on cultivation knowledge and experience, although he indeed also possesses some ancient treasures, but the artifact spirits of these treasures are not skilled in cultivation.

However, wanting the Primordial Talisman Pen to fully recover from its injuries is not an easy task.

He needs to find Rare Ores to succeed.

Yet he feels based on his cultivation and destiny, he may well be able to find it.

After a few more days.

Jiang Fan also fully consolidated his cultivation at the First-Layer Golden Core and finally emerged from the cave mansion.

"Husband."

At this time, Su Weiwei saw Jiang Fan finally coming out of the cave mansion, feeling extremely excited.

Although she knew her husband would definitely not face any major issues this time at core formation, until it's truly over, no one can predict what might happen; she was still somewhat worried.

But now, seeing Jiang Fan finally successfully achieving core formation, she completely relaxed.
