

Fortune 455

Chapter 455: Escape from the Golden Core Cave Mansion, the Great Calamity Arrives_2

"I did it."

Jiang Fan stepped forward, embracing Su Weiwei's graceful figure.

"As expected of my husband."

"Forming a core is probably an easy task for my husband."

Su Weiwei looked at Jiang Fan with admiration.

Having been in the Cultivation Realm for so many years, she naturally knew how difficult it was to form a core.

Those Golden Core Sects have expended so much effort and so many resources in order to cultivate Golden Core Zhenrens.

But in the end, how many of them actually managed to form a core?

Some Golden Core Sects couldn't even find a disciple to form a core for hundreds of years.

The result is that the entire sect declines completely.

But her husband?

With a casual seclusion and cultivation, without needing much preparation, he successfully formed a core just like that.

And it was even self-achieved core formation.

If this matter were to spread, it would surely shake this area.

It seems that even a Nascent Soul Sect like the Profound Celestial Sword Sect doesn't have such a talented cultivator.

"It's child's play."

"When I was forming the core, nothing happened nearby, right?"

Jiang Fan asked.

After all, he'd been in a state of seclusion and cultivation, rarely paying attention to external affairs.

The problem is, this is the core area of the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range, where Demon Beasts are rampant.

Sometimes unexpected events occur, which is quite normal and not unusual.

"Nothing really happened."

"Occasionally, some Demon Beasts would pass by around the cave mansion."

"But with the protection of the Tier Three Array, we're still safe and sound."

Su Weiwei said.

She felt that staying here was relatively peaceful.

Though she hadn't encountered any other cultivators, at least there wouldn't be conflicts with them.

In a certain sense, it was also a nice place to live in seclusion.

Rumble~~

At this moment, the entire ground suddenly trembled, as if a super earthquake had occurred.

An invisible shockwave swept in all directions, causing the ground to crack.

Even with the protection of the Tier Three Array around the cave mansion, this shockwave still made the array barrier tremble.

It seemed that if the force grew stronger, it would shatter the barrier of this Tier Three Array.

This force was simply like a natural disaster.

"What's happening?"

Su Weiwei was stunned. She had just been praising the safety of the cave mansion near the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range, and suddenly such a change occurred. She had no idea what was happening.

"Master, this is no ordinary earthquake."

"This power likely originates from a Nascent Soul Cultivator."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace quickly reminded, with a grave tone.

Having followed Daoist Wan Hua for a long time, it naturally understood the extent of strength possessed by a Nascent Soul Cultivator.

This mighty force that could affect the Nine Heavens and Ten Lands could only be wielded by a Nascent Soul Cultivator.

"This power is not from a human Nascent Soul either."

"It is very likely from a Tier Four Great Demon."

"The demonic power is earth-shattering, and even from hundreds of kilometers away, it can still be felt. It's utterly formidable."

The Demon-Vibrating Bell also said, very sensitive to this power.

"Could there be a mad Tier Four Great Demon?"

Jiang Fan frowned.

He hadn't expected such a crisis right after forming the core and coming out of seclusion.

Could it be bad luck was befalling him now?

Truthfully, such a thing wasn't impossible.

After all, when one's destiny peaks, it might gradually decline.

Thus, inviting numerous tribulations and tribulation Qi.

He had long been used to such occurrences.

He was a lucky star but also a doom-bringer.

Often, opportunity and tribulation coexist, like two sides of a coin.

Just like light and darkness, both indispensable.

"No, it's not just that a Tier Four Great Demon is going berserk."

"It's likely two Tier Four Great Demons are battling."

"This is the core area of the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range, so encountering a Tier Four Great Demon isn't surprising."

"Even back then, Daoist Wan Hua dared not venture deep into the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range."

"Because many Tier Four Great Demons reside inside, and possibly Tier Five Great Demons as well."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace said solemnly.

"Tier Five Great Demon?"

"Wasn't it said that the Southern Continent doesn't possess any Divinity Transformation Cultivators?"

Jiang Fan was stunned. He hadn't expected such secrets of the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range.

If Tier Five Great Demons truly existed here, then the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range is indeed a forbidden zone for humans.

Even Nascent Soul Sects like the Profound Celestial Sword Sect wouldn't dare approach, lest they face annihilation.

"Haha, indeed, the Southern Continent doesn't have any Divinity Transformation Sects."

"But it wasn't said that there are no Tier Five Great Demons."

"In fact, the masters of this continent have always been the numerous powerful Demon Beasts."

"Humans only occupy a small portion of the area."

"Of course, Tier Five Great Demons are rare, barely a handful."

"Generally, they don't easily come out, indulging in cultivation instead."

"It was precisely because of its uniqueness that Daoist Wan Hua came here."

"Because the core area of the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range grows many Rare Spirit Medicines."

"The pity is, Daoist Wan Hua couldn't find the Spirit Medicine to heal his injuries and ultimately perished."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace said helplessly.

Clearly, the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range is extremely special, with boundless territory and unfathomable strength.

So throughout the years, human cultivators dared only to venture into the peripheral areas.

As for the core area, even Nascent Soul Cultivators don't dare to enter.

Fortunately, the beasts inside aren't interested in the outside world.

Otherwise, even in the peripheral areas, no human sects could survive.

Boom~~

At this moment, the Fortune-Telling Talisman in the depths of Jiang Fan's Elixir Field and Sea of Qi began to tremble, buzzing, and a message instantly delved into the depths of his Sea of Consciousness.

"When two strong forces clash, avoid disaster; avoid the calamity, turn misfortune into fortune."

"Continuing to cultivate in the Nameless Valley may result in unforeseen disaster, a great misfortune."

"Fleeing the Nameless Valley amidst the chaos leaves no escape, a great misfortune."

"Immediately delve into the depths of the earth, hide in the Exquisite Tower, conceal breath, and attain a Sixth-Grade Opportunity, fortune."

The messages from the Fortune-Telling Talisman were instantly received by Jiang Fan.

Though he had anticipated that the battle between two Nascent Soul Great Demons might reach him, he didn't expect it would be so perilous.

Even staying in the Nameless Valley, with the protection of the Tier Three Array, still showed a great omen of misfortune.

This meant the power of the two Nascent Soul Great Demons would inevitably reach the Nameless Valley.

If he stayed here, he might die from the remnants of the Nascent Soul Great Demon's power.

Truth be told, Nascent Soul Great Demons are far too formidable.

Although he's a First-Layer Golden Core Cultivator, he still stands no chance against a Nascent Soul Great Demon.

The two are essentially beings from different dimensions.

"Staying in the Nameless Valley means death, and fleeing in chaos also means death?!"

Jiang Fan's eyes flickered.

Clearly, even if he escaped the Nameless Valley now, he still couldn't avoid the disaster.

Because the battle between the Nascent Soul Great Demons spanned thousands of kilometers.

No matter how fast he was, he likely couldn't match the Nascent Soul Great Demons.

If he wandered randomly, those two Nascent Soul Great Demons would undoubtedly notice him.

It's known that the Human Race and Demon Race are mortal enemies, almost unable to coexist.

If the other side detected his whereabouts, they probably wouldn't mind crushing him casually.

After all, for a Nascent Soul Great Demon, crushing a Golden Core Zhenren is effortless.

"It seems the only path to survival is to hide in the depths of the earth."

"The earlier decision to inscribe the Earth Escape Talisman was the right one."

"Without this Life Talisman, this time would be dangerous."

Jiang Fan felt that the Fortune-Telling Talisman's suggestion to delve into the earth was correct.

Although Nascent Soul Great Demons are indeed powerful, not every Nascent Soul Great Demon could burrow into the earth.

Moreover, with the colossal ground as a barrier, even the Spiritual Sense of the Nascent Soul Great Demon couldn't detect him.

Of course, for safety, he and Su Weiwei also needed to hide inside the Exquisite Tower.

This way, with the earth's barrier and the Exquisite Tower's barrier, they could completely avoid this danger.

Evading this tribulation.

Hence, mastering various escape techniques was remarkably correct.

After all, you never know what dangers you'll face in the future.

The more techniques mastered, the greater the chance of survival naturally becomes.

"Weiwei, we have to leave."

Thinking of this, Jiang Fan immediately said to Su Weiwei.
