Chapter 479: Obtaining Primordial Stone Essence, Repairing the Primordial Talisman Pen_2

"Just now I took action to slay three Golden Core cultivators."

"I happened to obtain a piece of Primordial Stone Essence from them."

"This Tier Five material is also what Elder Fu needs, so I awakened Elder Fu to see if it could be used."

Jiang Fan smiled slightly and briefly explained the ins and outs of the matter.

"Did you really obtain Primordial Stone Essence just like that? That's too frivolous."

The Primordial Talisman Pen was momentarily stunned, to be honest, in the past thousands of years it had encountered plenty of Golden Core cultivators, even Nascent Soul cultivators, and had slain Nascent Soul cultivators as well.

But it had never acquired a piece of Primordial Stone Essence.

Such Tier Five materials are not so easy to come by.

Even Divinity Transformation cultivators might not be able to obtain it, such materials might have vanished from this world.

Who would have thought, that the inheritor found would acquire the Primordial Stone Essence quietly and effortlessly?

If one were to spread such a thing, probably few people would believe it.

"The master's luck is indeed incredibly defiant."

"Seems like whatever he wishes for, he can obtain."

"All sorts of opportunities come to him willingly."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace was also deeply moved, as it had been with Jiang Fan for a long time, naturally aware of the phenomenal extent of its master's luck.

Although it's unbelievable to easily acquire Primordial Stone Essence by slaying a few Golden Core cultivators, the things experienced before were all extraordinary and incredible.

So now it has become rather accustomed to it.

Obtaining Primordial Stone Essence is nothing, perhaps in the future, Immortal Artifacts might be obtained.

"Elder Fu, you shouldn't concern yourself with how this came about."

"Do you think this material could repair your injuries now?"

Jiang Fan looked expectantly at the Primordial Talisman Pen, after all, he wanted to know the full might of the Primordial Talisman Pen at its peak, and if it could be completely restored, that would be terrific.

"Although it may not entirely restore the injuries, it can recover seventy to eighty percent at least."

Upon hearing this, the Primordial Talisman Pen stopped pondering over how Jiang Fan obtained the Primordial Stone Essence, what mattered most at present was recovering its injuries.

After all, its injuries were extremely severe.

If it continued like this, its soul might collapse and perish.

Originally, it thought it was beyond saving, who would have expected its inheritor to be so defiant.

No many years passed and already he helped obtain the Primordial Stone Essence.

Previous inheritors compared to him were simply trash.

The gap between them was too vast, ingenuine in numerical terms.

Boom~~~

Thinking this, the Primordial Talisman Pen didn't hesitate, immediately sprang into action.

It floated in midair, gently pointed the pen tip, instantly piercing the Primordial Stone Essence.

Then surged a mass of dense energy like black ink, beginning to refine the Primordial Stone Essence.

Originally refining Primordial Stone Essence was exceedingly difficult, since it was a Tier Five material.

But for the Primordial Talisman Pen, it was material of the same origin to begin with.

The moment they touched, they merged at once.

The Primordial Stone Essence turned into drops of energy, integrated deep into the Primordial Talisman Pen, continually healing its interior injuries, rapidly mending ruptures.

"Seems like it needs a helping hand."

At this point, Jiang Fan was struck with a notion, intuitively consuming his own Luck Points.

Suddenly, a large amount of Luck Points were swiftly consumed, transforming into mysterious energy instantly infiltrating the Primordial Talisman Pen.

"This!"

The Primordial Talisman Pen was bewildered, didn't know why mysterious energy appeared out of nowhere, but intuitively felt it was greatly beneficial.

With the help of the mysterious energy, it refined Primordial Stone Essence at an increased speed.

Its countless cracks mended instantly.

Originally shattered, the Primordial Talisman Pen rapidly restored its form.

No, it wasn't just simply restoring its form, there was a sense of rebirth and further ascent.

Rumbling~~

The Primordial Talisman Pen perceived endless energy between heaven and earth rushing in, all absorbed into it, as if its very essence underwent unfathomable evolution.

Numerous talismans emerged deep within its body, suffused with a trace of Primordial aura.

Its entirety shone with infinite dark golden radiance.

At this moment, its power underwent transformation, experiencing substantial change and elevation.

As they say, 'no destruction, no creation; broken then built.'

Although previous injuries brought the Primordial Talisman Pen near death, acquiring Primordial Stone Essence and the assistance of mysterious energy, allowed the Primordial Talisman Pen to transform.

At this time, various ancient treasures on Jiang Fan's body also trembled.

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace, Exquisite Tower, Gate of the Void, Demon-Vibrating Bell, and Great Sun Buddha Mirror emitted radiance, seemingly counteracting the Primordial Talisman Pen, as if its power distorted this void.

"I have finally recovered from my injuries."

The Primordial Talisman Pen was thrilled, perceiving its overwhelming strength and healthy body.

Though far from its prime, at least it was not frail, unlike before when facing imminent death and soul collapse.

Given enough time, it's bound to restore to its prime and even grow stronger.

"Elder Fu, why do I sense you're not just a top-grade spiritual treasure?"

Jiang Fan curiously asked, perceiving after the Primordial Talisman Pen's recovery, its aura was infinitely terrifying and formidable, clearly beyond ordinary top-grade spiritual treasures.

"That's only natural."

"I am, after all, the inheritance artifact of the Primordial Talisman Sect, how could I merely be a top-grade spiritual treasure?"

"Before, due to severe injuries, my quality continually decreased, falling to the level of a top-grade spiritual treasure."

"But now, with injuries fully healed, I've returned to the Heaven-Reaching Spiritual Treasure level."

The Primordial Talisman Pen remarked, it was originally a Heaven-Reaching Spiritual Treasure, not comparable to regular top-grade spiritual treasures.

"A Heaven-Reaching Spiritual Treasure?"

Jiang Fan immediately felt joyful; he was no longer a novice in the Cultivation Realm. Through such prolonged cultivation, he naturally had a profound understanding of magical treasures.

So-called magical treasures also have hierarchies of distinction.

They respectively are magical artifacts, spiritual artifacts, magical treasures, spiritual treasures, Heaven-Reaching Spiritual Treasures, and lastly, Immortal Artifacts.

Hence, a Heaven-Reaching Spiritual Treasure is the strongest treasure in the Mortal World.

Each Heaven-Reaching Spiritual Treasure possesses earth-shattering might, thus they are termed Heaven-Reaching Spiritual Treasures, renowned to hold boundless power, unimaginable in scale.

Even among countless Heaven-Reaching Spiritual Treasures, the Primordial Talisman Pen ranks among them.

Otherwise, the Primordial Talisman Pen wouldn't be the legacy artifact of the Primordial Talisman Sect, inheriting countless years of tradition.

Boom~~

With this thought, Jiang Fan felt a sudden connection, immediately perceiving vast information from the Primordial Talisman Pen, encompassing its various abilities and usage methods.

The first ability is naturally talisman painting, which is a basic ability.

However, it's not just ordinary talisman painting, it can do Void Talisman.

Normally, talismans need talisman paper as substrate to exert their power, lest spiritual power disperses into the void.

But the Primordial Talisman Pen is different.

The spiritual power it gathers can linger in the void, thereby enabling Void Talisman.

The Primordial Talisman Sect's sect leader of yore could easily paint countless talismans to subdue all with the Primordial Talisman Pen's power.

And every talisman harbored fearsome energy.

The second ability is slaughter.

Though the Primordial Talisman Pen looks just like a finger-length pen, it is more than merely drawing talismans; it harbors the world's most fearsome killing power and power of sharpness.

The slightest stroke of its tip could tear through the void.

Thus the Primordial Talisman Pen was regarded as the sharpest magical treasure, nothing could withstand its edge.

Holding the Primordial Talisman Pen is akin to wielding the sharpest treasure sword, unobstructed and crushing.

"Indeed, the Primordial Talisman Pen is enormously strong."

Jiang Fan grasped the Primordial Talisman Pen, sensing vast power fluctuations from the Heaven-Reaching Spiritual Treasure, feeling transformed into a ruler over the world, holding a pen to dominate all.
