

Fortune 500

Chapter 500: Treasure of Time, Calamity Strikes_2

Every drop of Immortal Dew presented a seven-colored hue, resembling seven-colored glass beads.

However, they had no scent, as if they were substances not belonging to the Mortal World.

Jiang Fan didn't overthink it and immediately dripped the five drops of Immortal Dew onto the Purple Gold Jade Marrow Tree.

Instantly, the originally calm Purple Gold Jade Marrow Tree shuddered upon receiving the five drops of Immortal Dew, absorbing endless Heaven and Earth Spiritual Qi, and each purple-gold leaf on it frantically quivered.

At the same time, infinite Yin and Yang Qi surged in.

On the branches of this tree, purple-gold flowers suddenly appeared.

These purple-gold flowers grew wildly at a speed visible to the naked eye, exuding a rich fragrance.

Almost in an instant, three ripe fruits appeared on the branches, emitting a faint purple-gold glow.

Clearly, they were the Purple Gold Jade Marrow Fruits.

"Did it really succeed?!"

Seeing this scene, Jiang Fan's eyes lit up, feeling very excited.

Although he had long obtained related information from the Immortal Dew Bottle, he hadn't yet seen the effects of Immortal Dew with his own eyes.

Unexpectedly, five drops of Immortal Dew dripped on it instantly made the Purple Gold Jade Marrow Tree bear fruit successfully.

As if five hundred years passed in an instant.

This is simply an incredible thing.

If not witnessed personally, who would believe such an absurd event?

"No way, master, what kind of Magical Treasure is this?"

"How come its effect is even more exaggerated than my Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace?"

"A Spirit Plant requiring five hundred years to mature, yet it matured and bore fruit in an instant?"

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace was utterly dumbfounded upon seeing this scene; no one understood this supreme treasure's terrifying power better than it did.

To be honest, the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace indeed had extraordinary abilities, capable of refining and purifying all Elixirs.

Even if the Elixir was inferior, after refining, it could transform into one of perfect quality, without any Elixir Poison present.

The problem is, a skillful housewife cannot cook without rice.

If there aren't Spirit Medicines and other materials, not even one Elixir can be refined, let alone be purified.

In the past, Daoist Wan Hua was just like this.

Even holding the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace, able to refine countless Elixirs in the world, what of it?

Even with the Elixir Recipe and mastery of perfect alchemy techniques, without corresponding Spirit Medicines, it was to no avail.

Because of this, Daoist Wan Hua stopped at the Nascent Soul and couldn't go further.

Undoubtedly, if Daoist Wan Hua were born in a resource-rich place like the Black Dragon Sea Region instead of the Southern Continent, he might have hoped to reach Divinity Transformation.

But now, it's different; this supreme treasure, the Immortal Dew Bottle, can surprisingly promote the growth of Spirit Medicines.

It can even shorten the growth time of Spirit Medicines.

This is almost like grasping a supreme treasure with the power of time, just too exaggerated.

With this supreme treasure, isn't it possible to cultivate all the Spirit Medicines in the world?

"Indeed, it's just like possessing a treasure with the power of time, so exaggerated."

"Even I have never seen such a treasure."

"Master actually has the chance to obtain such a treasure, simply unbelievable."

The Exquisite Tower was also full of amazement.

It sensed that this supreme treasure seemed to contain a unique aura of laws, giving it incredible power, its rank not inferior to the Gate of the Void.

Even more powerful than itself.

"Master's luck is truly earth-defying."

"After obtaining the Immortal Dew Bottle, master's cultivation path is practically unimpeded."

The Demon-Vibrating Bell laughed heartily.

Instead of overthinking, it felt its master's treasure acquisition meant it was right to acknowledge him as master.

After all, even the Gate of the Void and the Immortal Dew Bottle were obtained by its master, so it being used by him was not a disgrace to its identity.

"This."

The Primordial Talisman Pen was stunned, speechless, not knowing what to say.

Even though it believed its chosen successor was extraordinarily lucky, it didn't expect it to be so to such a degree.

Casually going to a place, swiftly killing a Tier Four Demon Beast, and acquiring a mysterious supreme treasure.

With this, even a Heaven-Reaching Spiritual Treasure like itself seemed increasingly unremarkable.

Just like a peerless beauty entering the palace, thinking she could captivate the emperor with her looks, and rise to become Empress.

Who would have thought, the concubines were all more beautiful, all with stunning legs, making herself look insignificant, akin to a maid, creating great pressure.

A bit of carelessness might cause her to fall out of favor.

"Quite so."

"This Immortal Dew Bottle and my Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace make a perfect match."

"It can cultivate Spirit Medicines, and I can refine Elixirs."

"With cooperation, wouldn't it be possible to refine Elixirs endlessly?"

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace spoke excitedly, feeling it had never fought such an affluent war in its life.

If leveraging the Immortal Dew Bottle's power to cultivate a large amount of Spirit Medicine, it believed it could refine at will.

"Indeed."

Jiang Fan reached out and picked the three Purple Gold Jade Marrow Fruits; feeling quite satisfied, with these three Spirit Fruits, his cultivation efficiency would surely receive a massive boost.

He hadn't expected the effects of Immortal Dew to be so astonishing.

In that case, if applied to the Heavenly Flower, wouldn't fifty drops of Immortal Dew make the Heavenly Flower mature fully? In just over four years.

Just spending this bit of time to obtain a Heavenly Flower would drive countless Cultivators crazy.

It is indeed worthy of being a Second-Grade Opportunity's supreme treasure, truly extremely strong.

"But speaking of time, there's only one month left before the Black Dragon Secret Realm closes."

"Then I won't be able to continue cultivating here."

Jiang Fan's eyes flashed.

He felt a bit regretful, as places like the Black Dragon Secret Realm, cultivation holy lands, are not easily found.

Truth be told, he didn't want to leave, wishing to cultivate here until reaching the Nascent Soul Realm.

Unfortunately, that's impossible.

When time is up, the rules of the Secret Realm World will transmit all Cultivators out; staying here is absolutely impossible.

Otherwise, it's unknown how many Cultivators would want to stay here to cultivate.

Rumble~~

At that moment, a strong tremor swept in all directions, even extended into the internal world of the Exquisite Tower, seemingly forming a Spiritual Qi storm outside.

"What's going on?"

Jiang Fan squinted his eyes; his Spiritual Sense immediately left the Exquisite Tower, arriving in the outside area, sensing the trembling earth, countless Demon Beasts running wildly, cracks appearing on the ground, like a natural disaster.

An invisible dragon might swept across the Nine Heavens and Ten Lands.

As though a True Dragon was awakening.

"Why is this pressure so terrifying?"

"Could it be that legendary Black Dragon isn't dead?"

Jiang Fan's eyes flashed; he sensed this pressure was incredibly terrifying, carrying a strong oppressive presence, wanting to leave an indelible impression on every soul.

Thunk!

In an instant, his Fortune-Telling Talisman in the depths of his Elixir Field and Sea of Qi vibrated; a piece of information instantly entered the depths of his Sea of Consciousness.

"Earth Dragon reversal, Demon Beast turmoil, act wisely, opportunity arises."

"Use the Gate of the Void to leave the Black Dragon Secret Realm; neither gain nor loss, peace."

"Head to Cyan Stone Mountain; have a chance to obtain Fifth-Grade Opportunity, minor turbulence, no danger, great fortune."

"Head to Turtle Mountain; have a chance to obtain Fourth-Grade Opportunity, but may encounter Nascent Soul assaults, life-threatening, great misfortune."

"Head to Nanling Mountain; have a chance to obtain Fourth-Grade Opportunity, but fall into chaos, a life-and-death situation, great misfortune."

It's clear that this sudden earthquake, though a calamity, also presents a giant opportunity.

"Calamity strikes, opportunity appears."

"If you go to the right place, you have a chance to gain opportunities."

"If you go wrong, not only fail to obtain the opportunity but also face a Death Tribulation."

"Though the Black Dragon Secret Realm offers many opportunities, it also has numerous killings."

Jiang Fan can see from the Fortune-Telling Talisman's information the many bloody battles, though now sheltered in this mountain cave, seemingly safe from any calamity.

But that's only because he has not entered the central area or interfered in the competition for those opportunities.

If he mingled in, relying solely on his strength, no amount of lives would be enough.

Of course, leveraging the Fortune-Telling Talisman's power, he could take plums from the fire.

Like passing amidst a hundred flowers without leaving a single leaf.

Being cautious should still result in no significant problems.
