Chapter 526: Enemy of the Primordial Talisman Sect, Second Layer of the Exquisite Tower

"A traitor of the Primordial Talisman Sect? Could it be that the opponent has some connection with the Primordial Talisman Sect?"

Jiang Fan asked.

In fact, he was quite interested in the experiences of the Primordial Talisman Pen.

At the very beginning, it did not originate from the Southern Continent, but rather from the Eastern Continent.

It was only through the Ancient Teleportation Array that it fled to the Southern Continent.

However, as for what happened in the Eastern Continent, he was unclear.

It was a good opportunity to ask what had really happened back then.

"Many years ago, I awoke from the ruins."

"A lucky person found me and also gained the inheritance of the Primordial Talisman Sect."

"Initially, I thought the Primordial Talisman Sect would be able to emerge successfully in this era."

"But I underestimated the difficulty of cultivating the Mixed Element Talisman Scripture."

"Because the era is different, although the cultivation techniques of the Primordial Talisman Sect are powerful, they consume a vast amount of resources, and also require great comprehension to master."

"The problem is that the cultivation resources in this era are too scarce, completely incomparable to the Ancient Era."

"Thus, the Primordial Talisman Sect could never grow strong, merely maintaining a small sect scale."

The Primordial Talisman Pen briefly mentioned its experiences after awakening.

"I see."

Jiang Fan nodded. He understood why the Primordial Talisman Sect could not thrive in this era; it was really the difference between ancient and modern techniques. Although the ancient techniques were indeed powerful and mighty, the resources consumed were beyond what cultivators of this era could afford.

Modern techniques, while not as potent as ancient ones, required far fewer resources and fit more seamlessly with the current era, so naturally, many people cultivated them.

Ancient techniques, no matter how powerful, are meaningless if one cannot cultivate to Foundation Establishment or Golden Core.

At best, they dominated only the Qi Cultivation Stage.

This is actually a change of the times.

If one cannot adapt to the environment, then one will be eliminated.

Unless the Void Realm restores the cultivation environment to the Ancient Era, perhaps ancient techniques would have a day to shine again.

Otherwise, ancient techniques are suitable only for a very small handful of monstrous cultivators.

"If it were just like this, perhaps it wouldn't be bad."

"After all, this would still continue the inheritance of the Primordial Talisman Sect, fulfilling a duty."

"Who could have thought that this Ten Thousand Talisman Daoist was actually a spy and infiltrated the Primordial Talisman Sect."

"He even gained my trust and obtained part of the Primordial Talisman Sect's inheritance."

The Primordial Talisman Pen was quite angry.

"A spy? Ordinarily speaking, the Primordial Talisman Sect is an Ancient Sect, and has been destroyed for unknown years, why would anyone still want to target the Primordial Talisman Sect?"

Jiang Fan felt very curious.

Initially, he felt puzzled; the enemies of the Primordial Talisman Sect should have long vanished into the history, how could it be possible that people today are targeted, it does not conform to reason.

"Indeed, normally it should be like that, so I also did not expect there would be other forces wanting to attack our Primordial Talisman Sect."

"But in fact, this did happen."

"And the force targeting the Primordial Talisman Sect was one of the four Divinity Transformation Holy Lands of the Eastern Continent — the Celestial Secret Mansion."

The Primordial Talisman Pen snorted coldly, not intending to hide anything, and straightforwardly revealed the current-era enemy of the Primordial Talisman Sect, which is the Divinity Transformation Holy Land Celestial Secret Mansion.

"How did you offend the Celestial Secret Mansion?"

Jiang Fan frowned.

Previously, he had been to the Spirit Moon Secret Realm, and happened to meet the cultivators of the four Divinity Transformation Holy Lands, so he had somewhat understood the four Divinity Transformation Holy Lands of the Eastern Continent.

Among them, the Celestial Secret Mansion is one of the Holy Lands.

It is said that this sect is skilled in arrays, and also adept at divination and calculating celestial secrets.

Thus, its status is extremely high in the Eastern Continent.

Few forces dare to offend the Celestial Secret Mansion.

Otherwise, whether above or below, no one could escape the pursuit of the Celestial Secret Mansion.

"I do not know why we offended the Celestial Secret Mansion."

"It is said that the Divinity Transformation cultivator of the Celestial Secret Mansion, the Elder of Celestial Secrets, once divined that a predestined calamity would befall the future of the Celestial Secret Mansion, terrifying everyone there."

"Later, they exhausted every plan, finally identifying the source of the disaster, which was our Primordial Talisman Sect."

"Thus, the Celestial Secret Mansion came to exterminate us, wanting to eradicate us completely."

The Primordial Talisman Pen explained.

"This."

"The calamity came about this way?"

Upon hearing this, Jiang Fan was a bit surprised; he had not expected the extermination of the Primordial Talisman Sect would originate from a divination by the Celestial Secret Mansion, leading to such a huge calamity.

If it were in a previous life, he might have felt this was far too absurd and frivolous.

But this is the Cultivation Realm, where any kind of power might exist.

Even he mastered the ability of Seeking Fortune and Avoiding Evil, let alone the Celestial Secret Mansion, reputed as number one in divination and calculation; they might truly possess the ability to foresee the future.

However, for the Primordial Talisman Sect, this was purely an unpreventable disaster.

They had no idea what happened, only to be exterminated by the Celestial Secret Mansion.

"Afterward, I fled with the last Sect Leader of the Primordial Talisman Sect, tearing through space in escape."

"Even Divinity Transformation cultivators could not catch up."

"However, this caused my injuries to worsen, frequently falling into deep sleep."

"Soon after, I also found an Ancient Teleportation Array, escaping to the Southern Continent, avoiding the pursuit of the Celestial Secret Mansion."
