Chapter 539: Tier Five Spirit Vein, Advancing to Fifth-Layer Golden Core

"No wonder the Cyan Lotus Earth Fire Talisman is so effective against Demon Cultivators."

Jiang Fan felt very satisfied when he saw this scene.

Obviously, cultivating the Cyan Lotus Earth Fire Talisman to the Great Success Realm was indeed having a significant impact.

This enhanced his control over the flame power.

More importantly, this kind of Heaven and Earth Anomalous Fire, similar to the True Sun Fire, can cause immense damage to Demon Cultivators.

If he could cultivate it to the Perfection Level, the destructive power of this Life Talisman could increase several times over.

However, compared to the destructive power, the True Sun Fire is naturally more powerful.

But the Cyan Lotus Earth Fire Talisman can also assist in cultivation, focus one's mind, burn away heart demons, and help him overcome the Heart Demon Tribulation.

This is something the True Sun Fire cannot compare to.

"There are really too many Demon Cultivators in this area, it's simply a miasma."

The Demon-Vibrating Bell commented with a sigh.

Originally, this was the territory of the Primordial Talisman Sect, but unexpectedly, after so many years, there are now so many Demon Cultivators, and they are arrogantly active in these Secret Realm Worlds.

"This is something inevitable."

"Many demons have died here."

"The accumulation of these demon carcasses has already transformed this place into a small-scale Demon Realm."

"Unless the demon carcasses are thoroughly purified, it would be difficult to stop them."

The Primordial Talisman Pen said helplessly.

It naturally didn't want to see these Demon Cultivators rampaging through the territory of the Primordial Talisman Sect.

But now, lacking power, it could only turn a blind eye.

However, considering Jiang Fan's cultivation speed, there might be a chance to thoroughly purify these demons in the future.

At that time, the original territory of the Primordial Talisman Sect could be reclaimed.

Boom~~

At this moment, a piece of information emerged in the depths of Jiang Fan's sea of consciousness: "You've encountered an attack from many Golden Core Demon Cultivators, the situation is precarious, but through your desperate counterattack, you luckily killed these Golden Core Demon Cultivators, thus avoiding a death tribulation, you gained one hundred fifty thousand Luck Points and a Fourth-Grade Opportunity."

There's no doubt, this time he easily overcame a tribulation, gaining a large amount of Luck Points.

In the short term, he would be protected by fortune and wouldn't face more tribulations.

Swish!

Thinking about this, Jiang Fan didn't hesitate, his figure flashed to the valley, then he put away the Tier Five Spiritual Eye Spring and placed it within the First Layer World of the Exquisite Tower.

In this way, no one could snatch away his Fourth-Grade Opportunity.

Of course, he also collected the storage bags and the ash remnants left behind by those Golden Core Demon Cultivators.

All in all, he wouldn't waste any treasures.

"Let's go."

Jiang Fan felt it was unsuitable to stay here for long since this group of Demon Cultivators from the Primordial Demon Sect had forces backing them.

Even though they've been slain, there's a possibility some Nascent Soul Cultivator from the Primordial Demon Sect might come.

So it's too dangerous to remain here any longer.

He utilized the power of the Earth Escape Talisman, immediately burrowing into the ground, disappearing silently from this area.

As if he had never been here.

Meanwhile, in another place, numerous Demon Cultivators from the Primordial Demon Sect were gathered.

Among them was a Nascent Soul Demon Cultivator named Kang Xiyuan, a Nascent Soul Elder of the Primordial Demon Sect, known extensively across the Eastern Continent.

"Elder Kang, the soul lamps of Qi Dayong and eight others suddenly extinguished, and all at the same time."

"Preliminary judgment suggests they may have been ambushed and killed by a Nascent Soul Cultivator of the Righteous Dao."

A Golden Core Demon Cultivator's face changed dramatically upon receiving some information, immediately reporting it.

Although the cultivators within the Primordial Demon Sect were largely discordant, with fierce competition among themselves, they were united against external threats.

They understood that disunity would lead to being overwhelmed and dying with no burial.

He was even more worried whether those Renowned and Righteous Sects secretly planned to hunt Demon Cultivators.

If this were true, he needed to be cautious.

Otherwise, he might fall in the ambush by the Renowned and Righteous Sects.

"Eight simultaneous deaths? Slain by a Nascent Soul ambush?"

Upon hearing this, Nascent Soul Demon Cultivator Kang Xiyuan frowned: "Which bastard dares to ambush the disciples of the Primordial Demon Sect? Aren't they afraid of our Primordial Demon Sect's revenge?"

He was puzzled, not knowing which Nascent Soul would do such a thing.

Over the years, the Primordial Demon Sect was famously vengeful.

If any Righteous Cultivator dared to bully the weak and ambush the disciples of the Demon Dao, they would surely face retaliation from them.

Over time, both sides formed a tacit understanding, neither party would initiate attacks on Low-Tier cultivators.

Otherwise, they would definitely end up mutually ruining each other without gaining any benefit.

But even so, such incidents occasionally happened, as they couldn't be entirely avoided, with some Nascent Soul Cultivators breaking the rules.

"It's unclear, but judging by the information sent by the eight before their deaths, they seemed to have been burned alive by the Cyan Lotus Earth Fire." The Golden Core Demon Cultivator said solemnly.

"Cyan Lotus Earth Fire? This is one of the Heaven and Earth Anomalous Fires, almost no cultivators on the Eastern Continent possess this Anomalous Fire."

"Could it be the action of an Independent Cultivator Nascent Soul? Or perhaps a Nascent Soul Cultivator hidden by those Righteous Sects."
