Chapter 556: Obtaining Nascent Soul Spirit Medicine: Divine Infant Fruit

Jiang Fan felt very satisfied upon receiving this piece of information.

Evidently, simply knocking out this group of Golden Core Cultivators was not enough to completely escape the calamity.

Because the real calamity did not originate from the Blood Saber Immortal Alliance, but from the rules of Huaming City.

If he killed Blood Saber Daoist and the others, calamity might follow one after another.

By then, it could mean endless trouble.

But if he enslaved Blood Saber Daoist and others, it would be equivalent to controlling the Blood Saber Immortal Alliance.

After that, he could hide within this Golden Core Influence and cultivate in peace.

Other Golden Core Influences would not continue to trouble him.

This is what is known as great concealment amidst the city.

"Didn't expect to gain three hundred thousand Luck Points."

"It seems controlling the Blood Saber Immortal Alliance is greatly beneficial to me."

Jiang Fan rubbed his chin.

Previously, he had also experienced many calamities, but never once did he get this much destiny.

But now, suddenly gaining three hundred thousand Luck Points was indeed a huge harvest.

There's no doubt that the Luck Points contained within the Blood Saber Immortal Alliance are considerable.

That's why, after he controlled this Golden Core Influence, he was able to obtain so many Luck Points.

"Also the Fifth-Grade Opportunity is right on Blood Saber Daoist."

A thought struck Jiang Fan's heart, and he immediately awakened Blood Saber Daoist and the others.

Boom~~

In the next second, Blood Saber Daoist and others, who were initially in a coma, woke up one by one.

Their souls had long been enslaved by the Enchantment Talisman.

Each of them was infused with thoughts of loyalty.

"Master."

Blood Saber Daoist and the others stood up, initially looking confused, but after seeing Jiang Fan, they each revealed a respectful expression, as if they had become death warriors trained by Jiang Fan for many years.

This is the power of the Perfection Level Bewitching Talisman, capable of enhancing favorability and loyalty, while also able to modify memories.

Thus, it's effortless to enslave other cultivators.

"Hand over your Storage Bags."

Jiang Fan said straightforwardly.

He sensed that his Fifth-Grade Opportunity was on these Golden Core Cultivators.

"Yes, Master."

Blood Saber Daoist and the others did not hesitate at all and immediately handed over their Storage Bags.

The treasures inside the Storage Bags were their lifelong savings.

"Not bad, you seem quite prosperous."

Jiang Fan carefully inspected these Golden Core Cultivators' Storage Bags and discovered they were full of treasures.

Each person had wealth worth at least a million Spirit Stones.

It can only be said that being near the Fallen Immortal Mountain Range, as long as one doesn't die, they can rapidly accumulate wealth.

But he quickly found the Fifth-Grade Opportunity, hidden in Blood Saber Daoist's Storage Bag.

It was a fist-sized fruit, appearing like an infant, resembling White Jade as a whole, and exuding a rich fragrance.

"Master, this is the Nascent Soul Spirit Medicine Divine Infant Fruit."

"Hit the jackpot, truly struck gold this time, this is the main ingredient for refining Nascent Soul Pill."

Upon seeing this special fruit, the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace immediately exclaimed with excitement.

Never did it expect to find Nascent Soul Spirit Medicine among these Golden Core Cultivators.

Unquestionably, every piece of Nascent Soul Spirit Medicine is immensely valuable.

Even Nascent Soul Cultivators would covet it.

"Divine Infant Fruit? This fellow actually possesses Nascent Soul Spirit Medicine?"

Jiang Fan too felt very surprised, never expecting Blood Saber Daoist to have such a treasure.

But upon careful thought, it wasn't impossible.

Because Blood Saber Daoist was already a Ninth-Layer Golden Core Cultivator, only a step away from Nascent Soul.

Any Golden Core Cultivator with a bit of ambition would choose to seek spirit objects for Nascent Soul Formation.

Perhaps Blood Saber Daoist's luck was not bad, finding the Divine Infant Fruit somewhere.

Undoubtedly, this Divine Infant Fruit was the Fifth-Grade Opportunity.

Honestly, such a spirit object for Nascent Soul Formation is not easily obtained.

Even in resource-rich places like the Eastern Continent, spirit objects for Nascent Soul Formation are extremely valuable.

Generally monopolized by Nascent Soul Major Sects and Divinity Transformation Holy Lands.

Ordinary Loose Cultivators have no qualification to obtain such spirit objects.

No matter in any place within the Void Realm, a Nascent Soul Cultivator would hold an important position.

Once a Nascent Soul is born, it can protect a family or an influence for a thousand years.

"If one eats this Divine Infant Fruit, it would be a waste indeed."

"The master possesses a treasure like the Immortal Dew Bottle."

"It can be used to nurture a Divine Infant Tree from this Divine Infant Fruit."

"It's said the Divine Infant Tree blooms every three hundred and thirty-three years, bears fruit every three hundred and thirty-three years, and matures every three hundred and thirty-three years."

"It takes at least a millennium for a Divine Infant Fruit to completely mature."

"But the master can use the Immortal Dew Bottle's power to have the Divine Infant Tree bear Divine Infant Fruit instantly."

"By then, even selling the Divine Infant Fruit, the master would earn a fortune."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace said excitedly.

It felt the master had truly profited greatly this time, obtaining a spirit medicine like the Divine Infant Fruit.

Even in the past, Daoist Wan Hua didn't know how much he sacrificed or how much time he spent to obtain a Divine Infant Fruit, but now, his current master had casually obtained it.

This kind of luck is truly unbelievable, beyond imagination.

"Such a thing should at least be handled by a Divinity Transformation before being sold casually."

"If a Golden Core Cultivator sells it, countless lives might not be sufficient to survive."
