Chapter 557: Acquiring the Nascent Soul Spirit Medicine: Divine Infant Fruit_2

Hearing this, Jiang Fan replied irritably.

In the harsh cultivation realm, doing business is not something that can be done casually.

Especially not those highly profitable businesses.

If there isn't enough strength to protect such a business, it will surely be snatched by other cultivators.

All the cleverness in the world can't compare to powerful strength.

If he dared to sell the Divine Infant Fruits, chances are he wouldn't gain much money.

It's very likely greedy cultivators would target him, killing him and seizing his treasures.

However, there is one point that the Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace was indeed correct about: he can plant the Divine Infant Tree inside the Exquisite Tower.

It's said that the reason the Divinity Transformation Holy Land on the Eastern Continent continuously produces Nascent Souls is that they control certain secret realm worlds.

These secret realm worlds can cultivate a large number of spirit medicines, such as the Divine Infant Tree.

If picked once every thousand years, a batch of mature Divine Infant Fruits can be obtained.

There is no need like a loose cultivator, needing great destiny to obtain such a Nascent Soul spirit medicine.

In fact, only the Divinity Transformation Holy Land has the capability and patience to wait for the Nascent Soul spirit medicine to mature.

"Master, I was just saying. Naturally, such good things should be used by oneself."

"However, these guys' storage bags should still have quite a few treasures, right?"

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace asked curiously.

"There are indeed some Tier Three Elixirs."

"It seems to be Tier Three Guiyuan Pills."

Jiang Fan was instantly delighted, as there were a total of five bottles of Tier Three Guiyuan Pills. If he could fully digest these Tier Three Elixirs, he would surely be able to elevate his cultivation to the sixth layer of the Golden Core realm, greatly shortening his time of arduous cultivation.

Clearly, having completely subdued the Blood Saber Immortal Alliance this time was a significant gain.

Not only did he subdue a Golden Core influence but also obtained a large amount of cultivation resources.

No wonder he gained so many Luck Points.

"It really was a big gain."

The Primordial Talisman Pen also saw this scene and was filled with emotion.

Although the Primordial Talisman Sect indeed declined and couldn't provide Jiang Fan much assistance beyond inheriting knowledge.

But now it seems, just by Jiang Fan's own efforts, he can obtain an endless stream of cultivation resources.

It feels that even obtaining the support from a Divinity Transformation Sect wouldn't be a big deal.

Never mind that the Divinity Transformation Sect is vast with abundant resources, but it also has many disciples.

So even for a disciple of a Divinity Transformation Sect, the resources each cultivators can obtain aren't much.

Mostly, it's through their own efforts that they can possibly obtain an abundance of cultivation resources.

"Master, let's plant the Divine Infant Fruit first, shall we?"

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace urged.

"Hmm."

Hearing this, Jiang Fan nodded, immediately taking out the Divine Infant Fruit, coming to an open space inside the Exquisite Tower. Then, he dug out a seed from the fruit and planted it into the soil.

Then he took out the Immortal Dew Bottle from his body.

After so long, the Immortal Dew Bottle had accumulated quite a bit of Immortal Dew.

Boom~~

A drop of Immortal Dew fell onto the seed of the Divine Infant Fruit. Instantly, the seed seemed to absorb an endless power of creation and began growing at a speed visible to the naked eye.

In just the time of one breath, a small sapling appeared, brimming with vitality.

"Although the Divine Infant Fruit requires a millennium to mature, to truly bear fruits, the Divine Infant Tree must fully reach maturity first."

"But for the Divine Infant Tree to mature, it needs at least three thousand years of growth."

Jiang Fan stroked his chin.

There's no doubt that to obtain a large number of Divine Infant Fruits, quite a bit of Immortal Dew needs to be consumed.

But it doesn't matter, as the Immortal Dew can continue to be nurtured indefinitely.

He only needs to wait for some time to gather enough Immortal Dew to allow this Tier Four spirit plant to fully grow.

"No wonder it's called Immortal Dew, it truly holds the mighty power of creation and transformation."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace was extremely shocked to see this scene.

No matter how many times it watches such a spectacle, it always finds it unbelievable.

Ordinary spirit medicines usually require a spirit plant master's painstaking effort to fully mature and harvest.

But now, just by dropping this Immortal Dew, these spirit plants rapidly mature, shortening an unknown number of years, which is truly incredible.

It's uncertain what tier this Immortal Dew Bottle is, to possess such powers.

After completing all this, Jiang Fan returned to his quiet chamber.

He sat cross-legged on the ground, then consumed a Tier Three Guiyuan Pill.

Boom~~

Jiang Fan operated the Mixed Element Talisman Scripture, swiftly refining the Tier Three Elixir, as the immense medicinal power was quickly digested, transforming into strands of primordial spiritual power.

Undoubtedly, the cultivation efficiency increased more than tenfold compared to before.

After all, this is the benefit of a Tier Three Elixir.

Sometimes, one elixir can be equivalent to months, even years of arduous cultivation.

In a sense, it's tantamount to extending the life of a cultivator.

For the time being, Jiang Fan was completely immersed in the cultivation process, savoring the sensation of his cultivation rapidly growing.

...

Several days later.

Jiang Fan, Su Weiwei, and Lu Youyou naturally settled into the headquarters of the Blood Saber Immortal Alliance, the Blood Saber Mansion.

This was originally the residence of the Blood Saber Daoist, but now it was occupied by them.

However, the mansion was large and could accommodate many cultivators, including the Blood Saber Daoist living there.

In doing this, they had completely integrated into the Blood Saber Immortal Alliance.

"Elder Jiang is indeed too formidable."

"He controlled a Golden Core influence practically effortlessly."

"And subdued over a dozen Golden Core cultivators, how on earth was this done?"

Lu Youyou was filled with emotion, utterly admiring Jiang Fan.

Although she had long known Jiang Fan was profoundly unfathomable, she never expected him to achieve this.

"To be honest, this is indeed somewhat exaggerated."

"This kid is only at the middle stage of Golden Core."

"Even if he has many treasures and extraordinary combat power."

"At most, he could kill these Golden Core cultivators, but to subdue them? That's just too outrageous."

Cloud Fairy also felt very surprised, not expecting Jiang Fan to be capable of this.

Because killing a Golden Core cultivator and subduing one, the difficulty of these two acts isn't at the same level.

Even with her extensive knowledge, she couldn't understand how this was achieved.

"Even you, Master, don't know?"

Lu Youyou was a bit surprised, thinking her master was omniscient and omnipotent.

Now it seems there are still many things unknown.

"Your master isn't an all-knowing Immortal, so of course, I can't know everything."

Cloud Fairy retorted irritably, "That kid has immense destiny, exceptional insight, and who knows how many encounters are hidden on his body, even obtaining a spatial treasure, with countless secrets. It's natural I don't know."

She felt quite stifled, thinking it was inconceivable that she couldn't see through a mere Golden Core junior.

However, she also admitted that as his cultivation grows, he is becoming more unfathomable.

"Master, but isn't this place too dangerous?"

"It's said the nearby mountain range is named Fallen Immortal Mountain Range, could it be true that Immortals have perished here?"

Lu Youyou curiously asked.

Though this place is very dangerous for Foundation Establishment cultivators, she was more curious about the existence of immortals.

"Not clear."

"However, in the ancient era, this place was indeed a flourishing realm in the Void Realm."

"It was considered a central area, gathering the essence of heaven and earth and infinite resources."

"But after undergoing a great catastrophe, over the endless stream of time, it turned into a forbidden zone."

Cloud Fairy sighed, her tone was complex as if recalling past events.

"So, there must be many hidden treasures within?"

Lu Youyou blinked her beautiful eyes.

"Haha, with your current strength, entering the Fallen Immortal Mountain Range would be a death sentence."

"At that point, not to mention obtaining any treasures, it'd be questionable if you could even survive."

"You need to at least reach the Nascent Soul stage to explore the depths of the Fallen Immortal Mountain Range."

Cloud Fairy chuckled softly.

Being a place that attracts so many cultivators means it's naturally brimming with treasures.

But without strength, even if you luck out and find a treasure, you're unlikely to keep it.

"At least reach Nascent Soul?"

Hearing this, Lu Youyou couldn't help but gasp in shock.

She's already worried about advancing to the Golden Core stage.

As for promoting to Nascent Soul, she can't even fathom how long that would take.

"If you cultivate diligently, achieving nascent soul formation is not impossible in the future."

Cloud Fairy comforted her.

"Yes, Master."

Lu Youyou nodded.
