Chapter 566: Escaping from Huaming City, Calamity Averted

At the same time, somewhere in Huaming City.

Swoosh!

Jiang Fan walked leisurely along the street, having merged with the Secret Treasure Nine Cicada Spirit Leaves, making himself completely invisible, with his aura vanished, like an invisible man. No cultivator could detect his whereabouts, treating him entirely as air.

Since obtaining the Nine Cicada Spirit Leaves, he had been using the power of this Secret Treasure to test its limits.

Over these past few days, he found more and more that the Nine Cicada Spirit Leaves were indeed infinitely mysterious.

While walking down the street, no cultivator could discover him.

Even if he sneaked into Huaming City's City Lord's Mansion, Nascent Soul cultivators couldn't detect his presence.

It was simply as if he was walking in an uninhabited realm.

To be honest, if those three Golden Core Cultivators hadn't been so unlucky to encounter him, they probably wouldn't have died.

They might have continued to roam freely, plundering resources from other cultivators.

It wasn't even impossible for them to become Nascent Soul cultivators.

So he felt that in the Cultivation Realm, luck was more important after all.

If unlucky, no matter how high one's aptitude or how many treasures one possessed, one could not escape death.

Moreover, all the treasures on one's body would be taken by other cultivators, like wedding clothes made for others.

"Huaming City is indeed becoming increasingly chaotic."

"I wonder how much longer it will last."

Jiang Fan squinted his eyes.

He saw fewer and fewer cultivators on the street; many were hiding in their residences.

Because as security in the city deteriorated, incidents of robbery and murder frequently occurred. To ensure their safety, many cultivators naturally hid at home, thus avoiding becoming targets of those Tribulation Cultivators and resulting in untimely death.

Of course, Blood Saber Mansion was relatively safe.

After all, a normal-minded cultivator would not dare come to Blood Saber Mansion, where many Golden Core Cultivators reside. It would be pure self-destruction.

Boom~~

At this moment, he sensed the Fortune-Telling Talisman deep in his Elixir Field and Sea of Qi start to vibrate, with his destiny rapidly consuming, a message instantly embedded in the depths of his consciousness.

"Disaster from strange treasure, implicating many; all beings innocent, nine deaths to one survival."

"Stay in Huaming City, trapped in a kill formation; nine deaths to one survival, great danger."

"Pass through the Gate of the Void to return to the Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range, gaining nothing, neutral."

"Tomorrow at 11:45 AM, pass through the Gate of the Void for random teleportation, then head north for a chance to obtain a Fifth-Grade Opportunity, great fortune."

Upon sensing this message, Jiang Fan clenched his fists.

Without a doubt, this was yet another fate node.

Although Huaming City seemed calm for now, the five Nascent Soul cultivators besieging could not deal with Huaming City temporarily, but from these messages, it seemed breaking through Huaming City was only a matter of time.

If he continued to stay here, he would end up being buried with Huaming City.

Of course, survival wasn't entirely impossible.

But the probability was too small.

It's like two cities in a country experiencing nuclear bombs, killing hundreds of thousands, yet some survived; most just perished.

He didn't want to gamble on such an ethereal chance, nor did he need to.

"What treasure are they fighting over? Making Nascent Soul cultivators go to such lengths?"

Jiang Fan was very curious about this point.

Unfortunately, Cloud Daoist and Flower Nether Daoist kept this matter a secret.

Even to this extent, they didn't leak this information, remaining very mysterious.

However, for a treasure enticing late-stage Nascent Soul Great Cultivators, its valuable nature was imaginable.

Yet he wasn't coveting this treasure.

"Forget it, it doesn't relate much to me; better think about how to escape danger."

"The only way to survive is through random teleportation with the Gate of the Void?"

Jiang Fan touched his chin.

To be honest, he hadn't done random teleportation for a long time.

Because random teleportation was really unreliable, he had no idea where the Gate of the Void would send him.

If it teleported him to a dangerous place, he would be doomed.

So he rarely used this function.

But judging by the Fortune-Telling Talisman's message, he clearly found a chance to enable random teleportation.

And there's a chance to obtain a Fifth-Grade Opportunity.

For him, this was an excellent opportunity.

After all, previous random teleportations indeed led him to many escape routes.

Places like East Continent, Black Dragon Sea Region, Ten Thousand Beasts Mountain Range, Yiling Island Group, all left space coordinates.

If he faced danger in the future, he could escape at any time, without worrying about being surrounded and killed by enemies.

Moreover, with such distant locations, even Divinity Transformation cultivators wouldn't dream of chasing him down.

Swoosh!

Thinking this, Jiang Fan didn't hesitate, immediately returning to Blood Saber Mansion.

He decided to take Blood Saber Daoist and other Golden Core cultivators away.

After all, if they stayed here, they would likely be affected by the disaster and die.

Being taken by him was the only way to survive.

More importantly, after Blood Saber Daoist and others were enslaved by him, they became his loyal subordinates.

If he were to establish authority in the future, they would be the best helpers.

Finding Golden Core cultivators as subordinates was no easy task.

Like in the Southern Continent, Golden Core cultivators were few; even finding some Golden Core subordinates was very difficult, unlike the East Continent, rich in resources, nurturing numerous Golden Core cultivators.
