Chapter 568: Escape from Huaming City, Calamity Does Not Befall_3

A living adult human can at least be sold for ten Spirit Stones.

If the human is dead, it's worth only one Spirit Stone, devalued many times over.

So unless it's necessary, they don't kill humans but send the living ones to other demons' dining tables.

In this way, they can earn a lot of money.

Because of this, these humans from Peace Valley are considered an important source of wealth for the Iron Sparrow Race.

"It's over, it's completely over now."

Liu Zhijun was utterly desperate, his face ashen.

He knew that being caught by this group of demons meant certain death.

And it's not just himself; even his daughter and son would also die.

Is it possible that in this world, humans can only become fodder for demons, with no chance of survival?

How unfair the heavens are to humans.

A deep sense of unwillingness surged within him.

"Boss, although humans are weak, they taste excellent."

"It's a pity we are too poor to enjoy such High delicacies as humans."

An Iron-Winged Sparrow said regretfully.

After all, this was an important source of wealth for the Iron-Wing Race, and they couldn't eat them casually.

Otherwise, they would definitely be severely punished by their clan.

"It's said that during the Ancient Era, humans were very powerful, enough to rival us demons."

"But after a long time, humans were utterly defeated, and we demons became the rulers of this land, so humans were exterminated by us, and now they've become an endangered species, needing our protection to survive a bit."

"Really? Such weak humans could actually rival us demons? Isn't that too far-fetched? Where did this rumor come from?"

"I read it in some ancient books. I always felt it was human bragging. Humans are just High delicacies; how could they be a match for us demons?"

"Of course, it's a rumor. Even if I stand still and let these weak humans attack, they couldn't harm a single feather on me. How could such a delicacy possibly challenge us? It's unbelievable which fool wrote that book, clearly lacking common sense."

"Alright, enough nonsense. Capture these High delicacies and bring them back. This time they're to be sold to the nearby Thunder Tiger Race, as they're reportedly planning to host a grand feast and need a large quantity of human ingredients for the banquet."

"Haha, so, doesn't this mean that we, the Iron Wing Race, can seize the opportunity to make a fortune?"

Many Iron-Winged Sparrows said excitedly.

Boom~~

At this moment, a human figure suddenly appeared in front of the many Iron-Winged Sparrows, flying in from afar.

"What!"

"What's going on? Why is there another human here? Could it be that Peace Valley has lost track of other humans?"

"Uh, there are no relevant records; maybe it's from somewhere else."

"Haha, isn't this a good thing? Another ten Spirit Stones, it's like earning extra income."

The many Iron-Winged Sparrows were stunned to see this suddenly appeared human.

But soon, they showed ferocious expressions, feeling that this human was simply a delicacy delivered to their doorstep.

"What is this place? Can you tell me?"

This human was naturally Jiang Fan, who had traveled through the Gate of the Void to this unfamiliar place, and then flew north according to the Fortune-Telling Talisman's guidance.

As a result, he ran into this group of demons in front of him.
