Chapter 595: Perfection Level Four Symbols Spirit Talisman, Condensing Four Symbols Realm_2

He sensed the Primordial Golden Core deep within his Elixir Field and Sea of Qi, where each Life Talisman flickered with a strange light.

In particular, the Cyan Dragon Armor Wood Talisman, Vermilion Bird Heaven-Burning Talisman, White Tiger Geng Gold Talisman, and Black Tortoise Water Abyss Talisman — these Four Symbols Spirit Talismans emerged on the Primordial Golden Core, casting shadows of the four Divine Beasts: Cyan Dragon, Vermilion Bird, White Tiger, and Black Tortoise.

It seemed as if, at this moment, he had mastered the power of the Four Symbols.

Centered around his body, the power of the four elements — metal, wood, water, and fire — gathered, forming a unique resonance.

Boom~~

At this point, he activated his virtual panel with a thought, and a series of data immediately appeared.

[Name: Jiang Fan]

[Realm: Golden Core Seventh Layer (60%)]

[Profession: Tier Three Upper Grade Talisman Master (10%)]

Undoubtedly, the Four Symbols Spirit Talismans disappeared from the virtual panel as their skill level had reached the Perfection Level.

This past year, he had consumed a large amount of Luck Points to elevate the skill level of the Four Symbols Spirit Talismans to this realm.

So currently, only 700,000 Luck Points remained.

But it was all worth it.

"Unity of the Four Symbols, is this the Four Symbols Realm?"

In an instant, Jiang Fan moved his thoughts and immediately activated the Four Symbols Spirit Talismans on him.

The Cyan Dragon Armor Wood Talisman, Vermilion Bird Heaven-Burning Talisman, White Tiger Geng Gold Talisman, and Black Tortoise Water Abyss Talisman floated in mid-air, their powers resonating with each other and merging into one.

Centered around his body, an immense force of the Law Domain enveloped an area spanning thousands of kilometers.

Under the cover of this Law Domain, it seemed as if the powers of the Cyan Dragon, White Tiger, Vermilion Bird, and Black Tortoise were converging within.

Boom!

The next second, Jiang Fan's large hand lightly clapped, drawing together the spiritual energies of metal, wood, water, and fire from the heavens and earth, forming a massive celestial hand as if it had drained the spiritual energy from this part of the world.

This enormous force struck the ground fiercely, leaving a huge, clearly visible palm print on the earth, and the simultaneous explosion of metal, wood, water, and fire's powers created a devastating force.

Such a terrifying strike, no Golden Core cultivator could withstand.

It's likely that in an instant, they'd be crushed to death, turned to ash.

"It's truly powerful."

Jiang Fan's eyes gleamed with a hint of brilliance, and it was no wonder he needed to train the skill level of these four talismans to Perfection Level to condense the power of the Four Symbols Realm.

For only by perfectly balancing these four forces could the power of the Nascent Soul Domain be cultivated.

This was nothing comparable to the Golden Core Domain.

Equivalent to mastering Nascent Soul power with the Golden Core's realm in advance.

Therefore, the combined power of the Four Symbols Spirit Talisman could challenge ranks, contending with Nascent Soul cultivators.

"By harnessing the power of these Four Symbols Spirit Talismans, I can indeed contend with Early-stage Nascent Soul cultivators."

Jiang Fan clenched his fists, feeling very satisfied.

However, though the destructive power of the Four Symbols Spirit Talismans is immense, there's clearly a significant drawback, which is the substantial consumption of spiritual power.

Fortunately, he possesses a Second Golden Core, which effectively doubles his Primordial Spiritual Power, allowing him to activate the Four Symbols Spirit Talismans many times.

Even though he can't use it as a regular battle tactic like a Nascent Soul cultivator, he isn't limited to just a single use.

Yet, even mastering Nascent Soul-level techniques, he wouldn't foolishly battle a Nascent Soul cultivator.

He preferred to overpower with his realm, bullying the small with the great, to ensure nothing could go wrong.

Unless faced with inescapable calamities, he'd avoid clashing with a Nascent Soul cultivator.

"So, my cultivation progress has reached 60%? Seems the progress is quite good."

Jiang Fan stroked his chin.

Undoubtedly, it's not just the Life Talismans' skill level that's improved.

This year, his cultivation had also progressed rapidly.

This swift progress certainly benefited from the previously unassimilated thousand-year-old Spirit Medicine, the Seven-Colored Moon Orchid, and Kui Ox Essence Blood. Refining these medicinal powers increased his cultivation swiftly.

In just one year, he achieved a 60% progression.

Clearly, this is the importance of having resources.

If relying on painstaking practice, who knows how many years it would take to reach the current progress.

Though this is actually considered slow.

Because of his Second Golden Core, the resources consumed doubled compared to before.

If he didn't have a Second Golden Core, he might have quickly reached Golden Core Seventh-Layer Perfection.

Then perhaps he could assault the Eighth-Layer Golden Core realm.

"Elder Fu, how has the development of the Primordial Talisman Sect been during this period?"

Jiang Fan inquired.

"Quite decent."

"Mortals have firmly established themselves in the Ten Thousand Beasts Secret Realm and opened fields around, becoming fully self-sufficient."

"However, mortals with spirit roots are still a minority, and for now, we've only recruited a few dozen outer sect disciples."

The Primordial Talisman Pen replied.

Undoubtedly, those with spirit roots remain rare, essentially one in ten thousand.

Of course, mortals could also cultivate Martial Arts Techniques, thus entering the Dao through martial arts.

The problem is this requires decades of effort.

Moreover, mortals with martial arts talent are rare.

But this doesn't matter since it's just the beginning.

"That's good."

Jiang Fan nodded, not in a rush for rapid development of the Primordial Talisman Sect.

After all, a rapid increase in disciples isn't always beneficial.

Moreover, to truly establish a foothold on the Western Continent, having many low-tier cultivators isn't significant.

More importantly, a large number of high-tier cultivators should arise, like Nascent Soul and even Divinity Transformation.

Otherwise, it's just a castle in the air.

Encountering slightly stronger foes could result in a sect catastrophe.

"By the way, recently, the Celestial Pine Mountain Range has occasionally seen some Celestial Roc cultivators, along with other demon race cultivators, they're conducting large-scale searches."

"Last time you killed those Celestial Roc Tier Three cultivators, one of them was a direct descendant of a Nascent Soul Elder of the Celestial Roc clan, likely angering the elder, hence dispatching staff to investigate the culprit."

"Fortunately, the Ten Thousand Beasts Secret Realm is closed, and they can't locate our place."

The Primordial Talisman Pen said in a deep voice.

"Indeed, swiftly leaving Peach Blossom Valley was the right choice."

"Remaining there would have brought great disaster."

"Possibly facing an attack from the Celestial Roc clan."

Jiang Fan's eyes glinted with insight.

Clearly, controlling the Ten Thousand Beasts Secret Realm is the best choice, providing a safe haven to conduct any affairs without excessive risk.

"Master, we can actually seize the opportunity to capture those Celestial Roc cultivators."

"Isn't the Ten Thousand Beasts Painting capable of enslaving beasts?"

"Capture all those Celestial Roc cultivators to work for us like cattle."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace said boldly.

It felt the Primordial Talisman Sect was in dire need of beasts.

After all, the entire Ten Thousand Beasts Secret Realm, with a diameter of 30,000 kilometers, is filled with fertile soil.

It could be used to plant Spirit Medicines, open fields, build towns, and more.

If those Celestial Roc cultivators were captured and fully enslaved, the Secret Realm could be developed extensively.

This would kill two birds with one stone.

"It's not that simple."

"The rabbit doesn't eat the grass nearby."

"If those Celestial Roc cultivators were to disappear on a large scale in the Celestial Pine Mountain Range, wouldn't it wholly provoke the Celestial Roc clan?"

"Then perhaps even the Divinity Transformation cultivators of the Celestial Roc clan would be riled."

"Even if we plan to capture them, it should happen elsewhere, not in the Celestial Pine Mountain Range."

Jiang Fan said, somewhat exasperated.

Naturally, he also wished to capture that arrogant group of Celestial Roc cultivators, but he knew he had to act cautiously right now.

Otherwise, provoking the Celestial Roc clan to move in force would mean no one other than himself could leave the Ten Thousand Beasts Secret Realm.

As a result, it would hinder the Primordial Talisman Sect's development on the Western Continent, making it not worthwhile.

So, even knowing there are Celestial Roc cultivators in the Celestial Pine Mountain Range, he wouldn't pay them any mind.
