Chapter 596: Seeking Fortune and Avoiding Evil Again, the Great Calamity Affecting West Continent

"Indeed, if we're going to capture someone, it should be elsewhere."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace completely agreed with this point.

It recalled that its former owner, Daoist Wan Hua, was exactly like this, often too reckless in his actions.

He frequently offended others and was constantly hunted by major forces, always on the run.

Of course, this was also partly because Daoist Wan Hua was incredibly unlucky.

However, its current master was different, fully capable of remaining calm and observing changes, even secretly undermining the Celestial Roc Race.

"But there is one thing you are right about; we still need to see what that group of Celestial Roc Cultivators intends to do."

With that in mind, Jiang Fan took out the Ancient Treasure Great Sun Buddha Mirror from his belongings.

Boom~~

The vast Primordial Spiritual Power within him poured into the Great Sun Buddha Mirror, and a mysterious force emanated from it.

Centered on the Ten Thousand Beasts Secret Realm, it began to spread to every corner of the Celestial Pine Mountain Range.

Immediately, the entire Celestial Pine Mountain Range was reflected.

Countless Celestial Roc Cultivators also appeared on the mirror.

This was the second ability of the Great Sun Buddha Mirror, which was to reflect the environment and monitor the surroundings.

Moreover, other cultivators found it hard to detect its spying.

This Ancient Treasure not only could be used for attack but also had immensely powerful supportive capabilities.

At this very moment, the group of Celestial Roc Cultivators showed signs of dissatisfaction.

Obviously, they had been searching the Celestial Pine Mountain Range for a year without finding anything, and they were getting impatient.

"Sigh, how much longer do we need to stay in this godforsaken place? It's been a year; the killer of Peng Qi probably left long ago. How could they possibly still be in the Celestial Pine Mountains?"

"Dead or alive, that's the tribe order we received. Even if we can't find the killer, we have to find their corpse, so we need to find the corpse to complete the mission."

"Heh, that's easier said than done. It's probably already been reduced to ashes; how could there be any corpse to find?"

"There's no way around it. Who told Peng Qi's father to be our Celestial Roc Race's Tier Four Grand Elder, high-ranked and powerful? If it were an ordinary Celestial Roc Cultivator, they wouldn't get this kind of treatment."

Many Celestial Roc Cultivators sneered repeatedly.

Under normal circumstances, the Celestial Roc Race wouldn't make such a big fuss.

Even though they are a Tier Five Race, their numbers are just too vast.

They can't expend such effort just because one or two tribesmen fall.

The problem is that the one who fell this time was no ordinary cultivator but the Grand Elder's son, a descendant of a prominent figure.

That's why they were so relentless.

"If that's the case, then why hasn't the Grand Elder come in person? Instead, we were sent here. If the Grand Elder came to the Celestial Pine Mountain Range, maybe some clues could be found."

"Have you all forgotten? Most of the Tier Four Elders and higher have gone to the Qiongqi Secret Realm. Only after ending the Secret Realm Exploration can they come out, so for now, it's just us who have the time."

"The Qiongqi Secret Realm? That's a True Spirit Level Secret Realm, said to be a realm world from the Ancient Era where True Spirits reside, packed with countless treasures and opportunities, attracting demon cultivators from the entire West Continent. Many demon cultivators once soared in prosperity after obtaining opportunities in the Qiongqi Secret Realm."

"Honestly, the opening of the Qiongqi Secret Realm isn't a good thing. If treasures are obtained from inside, it could trigger wars among various major races, causing chaos. Every opening of the Qiongqi Secret Realm ends in rivers of blood."

"Indeed, if one of these opportunities helps a Tier Four Demon Cultivator advance to Tier Five, it could be a major problem. At that time, some Tier Five races might emerge, and our Celestial Roc Race might not be able to maintain its current position."

"Heh, those weak races are all ambitious, naturally hoping their race will advance to Tier Five, but becoming a Tier Five Demon Cultivator isn't that simple. Otherwise, after so many years on the West Continent, there wouldn't only be four Tier Five races while the rest remain under our rule."

"True, even if some demon cultivators advance to Tier Five, they will likely be suppressed by us and may not live long, unable to survive the Celestial Tribulation of advancing to Tier Five."

"Anyway, once the Qiongqi Secret Realm closes, those elders will have the time, and the entire Celestial Pine Mountain Range will be thoroughly checked. Afterward, no matter where that killer is hiding, they will have nowhere to escape."

The numerous Celestial Roc Cultivators discussed eagerly.

They were still very worried about the considerable trouble brought by the Qiongqi Secret Realm.

Because this might shake the foundation of the Celestial Roc Race's dominion.

After all, if one or two Tier Five demon cultivators were to emerge, it could destabilize the foundation of the Four Great Tier Five Demon Races' rule.

This would undoubtedly cause a huge upheaval, resulting in many forces undergoing reshuffles.

At this time, Jiang Fan also saw the scene reflected by the Great Sun Buddha Mirror and heard what they were saying.

He didn't expect to obtain so much intelligence regarding the Celestial Roc Race.

No wonder the Celestial Roc Nascent Souls hadn't taken action in so long; it turns out they went to the Qiongqi Secret Realm.

After all, to them, this is a rare opportunity; if missed once, who knows how long they would need to wait again.

"True Spirit Secret Realm? I didn't expect there to be so many good things here on the West Continent."

The Ten Thousand Transformations Pill Furnace said with much feeling.

In comparison, the Southern Continent is simply destitute, without a single Divinity Transformation having emerged.

In the past, Daoist Wan Hua searched the entire Southern Continent, obtaining very few opportunities.
