Chapter 68: Promotion to Refining Organ Realm, Disguise Technique Great Success

It didn't take long for Jiang Fan to quickly return home.

Nothing unexpected happened along the way.

After all, taking advantage of the cover of night, everyone around was already asleep.

Moreover, with the power of the Soaring Snake Technique, he could conceal his aura, reducing his presence.

In this way, it was almost impossible for others to notice him.

He had just returned home.

At this moment, a message immediately came from the depths of Jiang Fan's consciousness sea: "You eliminated Sun Yaoyang of the Money Gang and others ahead of time, avoiding a catastrophe, and gained three hundred Luck Points."

What?!

Perceiving this message, Jiang Fan blinked. Although he didn't gain any opportunities this time, after all, not every time you overcome a catastrophe will you gain opportunities.

But a full three hundred Luck Points could be considered a big harvest.

It's not every time you overcome a deadly threat that you gain so many Luck Points.

The amount of Luck Points is actually closely related to the severity of the threat.

The more dangerous the situation, the more Luck Points gained after overcoming it.

This also represented just how dangerous Sun Yaoyang and his people were.

If he had ignored it, it would have brought him a huge catastrophe in the future.

So it was undoubtedly the right choice to nip it in the bud.

There's a chance that if you beat the small ones, the big ones might come.

Trouble would also come one after another.

Now that Sun Yaoyang and the others are dead, it means the trouble has completely ended.

Even if the Money Gang wanted to investigate their deaths, it's probably impossible to find out.

"Not bad, not bad, gaining three hundred Luck Points."

"Combined with the previous Luck Points, eight hundred and sixty in total."

"Such a large number of Luck Points is more than enough for me to advance to the Refining Organ Realm."

Jiang Fan squeezed his fists, feeling very excited.

After all, the Luck Points needed for him to advance to the Refining Organ Realm was only seven hundred.

Now it was more than enough.

Along with the Blood Ginseng Pill he took earlier, his cultivation improved greatly.

So the needed Luck Points are even less.

Undoubtedly, Sun Yaoyang and his people were simply his lucky stars.

If these guys hadn't appeared, he wouldn't have advanced to the Refining Organ Realm so quickly.

Once he becomes a martial artist in the Refining Organ Realm, even in Yunze City, he would have the power to protect himself.

Because recently, even in Yunze City, it has become increasingly dangerous.

Just the power of the Bone Forging Realm is not enough to protect him and his wife.

He still wants stronger power and combat strength, so he can feel at ease.

"Bring it on."

Jiang Fan came to a room. He didn't hesitate and directly consumed Luck Points to enhance his cultivation.

In an instant, five hundred and fifty Luck Points were used up, leaving him with three hundred and ten Luck Points.

Boom~~

A mysterious energy instantly permeated his entire body, soaking into every corner like a hot spring.

At this moment, every bone in his body was thoroughly refined and evolved into flawless jade bones, with an incredible increase in bone density.

Thud!

The next second, this mysterious energy penetrated into his internal organs, fully refining and strengthening his heart, lungs, kidneys, and other areas.

Refining Organ Realm!

Undoubtedly, having received the enlightenment of mysterious energy, Jiang Fan stepped almost perfectly into the level of the Refining Organ Realm. He perceived his internal organs to be incredibly strong.

His heart was pounding strongly, like a rushing Yellow River, circulating through every blood vessel in the body, with blood becoming incredibly hot and its temperature continuously rising.

"So strong, I now at least have the strength of ten thousand pounds."

Jiang Fan squeezed his fist, feeling the immense power within him, where even a light punch would create a gust, with the fist's power reaching ten thousand pounds.

He was now practically a humanoid monster.

Ordinary martial artists coming close to him would be killed with a punch, torn to pieces.

Ordinary stones would shatter instantly with a light squeeze from him.

With such strength, he could completely tear through a military unit, rampaging back and forth.

Even arrows and swords approaching him would be easily blocked, leaving him unscathed.

He thought, opening his own panel.

[Name: Jiang Fan]

[Life Chart: Great Blessings Equal to Heaven, Attribute: Great Disaster Avoided, Good Fortune Ensues]

[Lifespan: 95]

[Luck Points: 310]

[Cultivation Technique: Soaring Snake Technique (Incomplete), Fifth Layer]

[Skills: Fishing: Great Success]

[Disguise Technique: Great Success] [Cao's Poison Scripture: Mastery] [Aurora Swordsmanship: Mastery]

[Realm: Refining Organ Realm (1%)]

Undoubtedly, all his abilities were enhanced to varying degrees.

First, his lifespan increased to ninety-five years, previously only able to live to ninety.

To only increase by five years is naturally because he was nearing the limit of a mortal lifespan.

To advance further, naturally, it becomes a very difficult thing.

It's like a score going from thirty to sixty is easier than from ninety to a hundred.

Sometimes getting one or two questions wrong can deduct points.

The same principle applies.

Now his lifespan was at the limit of what martial artists could reach.

To improve, the only way is to become a cultivator.

The Disguise Technique unexpectedly improved to the level of Great Success.

With a thought, Jiang Fan knew that Disguise Technique was inherently a Martial Dao skill, closely related to his strength. As his Martial Arts Cultivation improved, the Disguise Technique also rose accordingly.

After advancing to the Refining Organ Realm, he could easily manipulate his internal organs, bones, muscles, and skin, allowing his body to shrink from adult to child-like proportions.

This way, it was basically impossible for an enemy to discern his identity.

"The ability of the five senses has also improved."

Jiang Fan also noticed that his hearing, vision, and other senses improved significantly compared to before.

Especially the perception of malice and killing intent became exceedingly sharp.

Within a range of twenty to thirty meters, if someone harbored malice towards him, he would detect it.

Even if the opponent intended to attack, he would sense it immediately.

This was the ultra-sensitive five senses granted by the Soaring Snake Technique.

Of course, powerful senses naturally enhance combat and martial arts talents.

In battles against enemies, he had a considerable advantage.

Far beyond what other martial artists could compare.

"More importantly, I can now conceal my life force."

"Even hide my true strength."

Jiang Fan sensed that after reaching a high level of Soaring Snake Technique, he could freely control his heartbeat, breathing, and aura, allowing him to hide in the shadows, like a venomous snake lurking in the dark.

Walking without a sound.

Even if faced with enemies head-on, they couldn't see through his true strength.

He could completely disguise himself as an ordinary person.

However, other martial artists couldn't conceal it.

After all, once martial arts training begins, the body undergoes various changes.

For instance, increased muscle bulk, rough skin, and intense blood circulation are trademarks of a martial artist.

But practicing the Soaring Snake Technique made him seem like an ordinary person.

No one could imagine that someone who looked like a gentle scholar would have terrifying power within, capable of strangling everything like an ancient python.
