Chapter 73: Swordsmanship at the Micro Level

Second morning.

Su Weiwei lay on Jiang Fan, sleeping soundly like a baby. Her impressive and fiery figure was fully revealed, and her beautiful, charming face contained myriad expressions of allure, exuding a faint fragrance.

Like a ripe peach.

After a night of tumbling, even though her physique was special, she was a bit exhausted.

At this moment, Jiang Fan sensed a message from deep in his sea of consciousness: "You paid the taxes for Yunze City, bribed Money Gang Elder He Yuliang, leaving him highly pleased, thereby surviving a killing disaster, and obtaining two hundred luck points."

"Hmm?!"

Feeling this message, Jiang Fan was instantly delighted, even though he did not gain a fortuitous encounter this time, the full two hundred luck points were enough for him to do many things, surely greatly enhancing his power.

If this happens a few more times, he might soon accumulate over a thousand luck points.

By then, he could become a Martial Arts Grandmaster.

Encountering a calamity is certainly disastrous for others.

But for Jiang Fan, it's an enormous benefit.

Once overcome, adversity will lead to fortune, with luck following continuously, which can greatly accelerate his progress, causing the gathered luck surrounding him to intensify.

However, he wouldn't deliberately seek out disasters; such things can just happen naturally.

Moreover, in chaotic times, disasters are not lacking.

Especially for ordinary people, it's like a roof leaking during a stormy night.

Achieving even a moment of tranquility is extremely difficult.

"It seems I still need to continue enhancing my strength."

"Becoming a Martial Arts Grandmaster in a short period is impossible."

"Given this, the only way to improve combat power is to enhance martial arts skills."

Jiang Fan squinted his eyes.

He planned to spend his luck points to enhance his Aurora Swordsmanship.

Originally, his Aurora Swordsmanship was already at the mastery level, renowned for being unbeatable among peers.

If he reached the Great Success Realm, he might level up in challenges and defeat Martial Arts Grandmasters.

In this case, the vast world would truly be accessible everywhere.

Thus, for him, enhancing the Aurora Swordsmanship realm is highly cost-effective.

Honestly, he also felt a sense of urgency within, not knowing when Yunze City would fall into chaos.

After all, General Mu Da is seriously injured and might pass away at any time.

If he passes, Yunze City will certainly fall into chaos again.

Without strong power, survival in such turmoil is impossible.

Just like the Xu De family, who were diligent and honest throughout life, yet the result was the destruction of family and household.

The problem wasn't with them; they were simply too weak.

Thus unable to dictate their destiny, only to be dictated by it.

Swish!

With this thought, Jiang Fan got up and went to the cultivation room.

Without hesitation, he immediately consumed his luck points; instantly, two hundred luck points were consumed.

A mysterious energy swiftly pulled his soul into a mysterious space.

At this moment, his soul resided in this mysterious space, and his comprehension achieved a remarkable boost.

He started practicing Aurora Swordsmanship continuously.

Every move and gesture contained its unique rhythm.

Without knowing how long it passed, it seemed as if he had endured arduous training for forty to fifty years.

The swordsmanship level seemed to naturally progress to a new level.

Aurora Swordsmanship of the Great Success Realm!

"Incredibly powerful."

In an instant, Jiang Fan sensed an understanding about Aurora Swordsmanship of the Great Success Realm, like a profound revelation, instantly penetrated every corner of his body, forming muscle memory.

It felt like he practiced this swordsmanship diligently for forty to fifty years.

Simultaneously, his comprehension reached a whole new level.

If the mastery level of Aurora Swordsmanship made him well aware of sword moves, then the Great Success Realm Aurora Swordsmanship allowed him control over the sword to attain micro level.

Yes, the Great Success Realm Aurora Swordsmanship reached the micro level.

Upon reaching this realm, one could precisely grasp every tiny bit of strength in the body.

Thus, the force unleashed would not leak a bit.

This is an extremely terrifying level.

Once achieving the micro level, combat power would soar several times, renowned as unassailable among those of equal rank.

Whoosh whoosh whoosh!!!

In an instant, Jiang Fan began moving, pulling out Chengying Sword from his body.

He unleashed a sword strike, and eighteen black sword lights appeared in midair.

The power of each sword light can easily tear through giant rocks.

If it were the previous Sword Dao Realm, there would definitely be a sound breaking through the air.

But now, a sword strike, unbelievably silent, as if merging into the air.

This is the micro-level swordsmanship, accurately controlling every ounce of strength in the body.

It must be known that he mastered ten thousand pounds of strength.

Each move, each strike, contained terrifying potency.

But upon reaching the micro level, he could precisely control ten thousand pounds of strength, allowing no leakage in power.

Thus, the power of each sword would be amplified several times.

Simply incomparable to before.

Aurora Swordsmanship reaching this level could rightfully be called Sword Dao Master.

With this thought, Jiang Fan's heart stirred, opening the panel.

[Name: Jiang Fan]

[Life Chart: Great Blessings Equal to Heaven, Attribute: Surviving Great Calamities, Bringing Subsequent Fortune]

[Lifespan: 95]

[Luck Points: 310]

[Cultivation Technique: Soaring Snake Technique (Incomplete), Fifth Layer]

[Skills: Fishing: Great Success]

[Disguise Technique: Great Success][Cao's Poison Scripture: Mastery][Aurora Swordsmanship: Great Success]

[Realm: Refining Organ Realm (10%)]

Undoubtedly, his strength had undergone tremendous improvement.

It felt as though he had stepped into the Refining Organ Realm for decades, already a seasoned martial artist of the Refining Organ Realm.

Perhaps he might even be able to contend with a Martial Arts Grandmaster.

"Inflated, slightly inflated."

"Better be cautious."

Jiang Fan took a deep breath.

Although he was fully confident in his strength, he wouldn't be foolish enough to actually confront a master.

Even if he indeed possessed the ability to challenge levels, he wouldn't do so recklessly.

If possible, he'd rather bully the weak with strength and crush people with higher realms.

In this way, he'd truly be safe, without unexpected accidents.

He trained in martial arts to protect himself, not to be malicious or aggressive.

Hence, he wouldn't rashly engage with Martial Arts Grandmasters.

Yet even so, possessing micro-level swordsmanship made him feel capable of fighting any martial artist of the Refining Organ Realm, possibly even killing them easily.

This significantly heightened his sense of security.

At least he wouldn't constantly feel uneasy as before.
