Chapter 93: Blood Tiger Pill, Golden Sword Talisman, Great Harvest

Thinking of this, Jiang Fan's heart stirred, and he immediately opened the virtual panel on his body.

[Name: Jiang Fan]

[Life Chart: Great Blessings Equal to Heaven, Attribute: Surviving Great Calamities, Subsequent Blessings]

[Lifespan: 100]

[Luck Points: 560]

[Cultivation Technique: Soaring Snake Technique (Incomplete), Sixth Layer]

[Skills: Fishing: Perfection]

[Disguise Technique: Perfection][Cao's Poison Scripture: Mastery][Aurora Swordsmanship: Great Success]

[Realm: Grandmaster Realm (1%)]

Undoubtedly, his lifespan had also increased by five years compared to before.

This extended his lifespan to a full hundred years.

In a sense, this also marked the limit of a mortal's lifespan.

Even the healthiest mortal, even an existence at the Grandmaster level, would only survive a hundred years.

Once a hundred years is reached, the great limit is imminent.

At the same time, upon advancing to the Grandmaster Realm, his strength and speed received a tremendous boost, and his various abilities saw significant growth, so his fishing skills and disguise technique had both reached the level of perfection.

Fishing skills aside, as they are merely fishing techniques and serve no significant purpose.

But the disguise technique at the Perfection Realm is different.

It allows Jiang Fan to easily change his appearance and body, transforming into the appearance of different people.

If Jiang Fan wishes, he can even transform into an old man, a child, or a woman.

Of course, those are just changes in appearance and body; the essence remains unchanged.

The reason he could reach this extent is naturally because Jiang Fan's control over his body had reached an impeccable level.

He could easily manipulate every inch of muscle, every bone, and even his skin.

That's why he could freely change his appearance.

With the disguise technique at the Perfection level, he no longer had to worry about his identity being exposed.

Even if someone saw his appearance, he could change into another's appearance at any time.

According to rumor, a master known as the Hundred Transformations True Monarch in the martial world achieved this with the disguise technique at the Perfection level.

Now Jiang Fan could do the same.

"There are still five hundred and sixty luck points left, which isn't too bad."

"If I want to advance to become an Innate Martial Artist, I need at least two thousand luck points."

"That's not a small number."

"After all, it requires enduring many tribulations to potentially gather so many luck points."

Jiang Fan clenched his fist.

He felt that although two thousand luck points were a lot, once he succeeded, he could embark on the path of martial arts, nurture a spirit root, and truly embark on the path to immortality.

Compared to other grandmasters, his path would indeed be a broad highway.

As long as he accumulates enough luck points, he would certainly be able to advance.

This was already quite remarkable.

"Right, there's also a space ring."

"This is a seventh-grade opportunity, I wonder what's inside?"

At this point, Jiang Fan took out the mysterious space ring from the Li family's residence, as this was a seventh-grade opportunity, certain to contain some rare treasures.

Thinking of this, he immediately consumed ten luck points, instantly claiming ownership of this space ring.

He perceived that the space within this ring was not small, being as much as thirty cubic meters in size.

It was fully capable of storing many treasures.

"Hmm? There's a will here?!"

Jiang Fan's heart stirred as he saw many words written inside, seemingly left by the owner of this space ring. With a quick glance, he figured out the contents of the will.

The owner of this space ring was named Li Yuan, one of the direct descendants of the Li family from several hundred years ago.

The person once ventured into an Immortal Cave Mansion deep within Yunmeng Lake, from which he obtained a cultivation technique "Golden Yuan Formula", and he also possessed a low-grade spirit root, embarking on the path of cultivation thereafter.

Due to the scarcity of spiritual qi in the mortal world, his progress was slow, so he decided to leave the Li family to venture into the cultivation realm.

After years of wandering in the cultivation realm, his cultivation also advanced to the fifth layer of Qi Cultivation.

Yet he still couldn't see any hope of further advancement.

During an adventure in a relic cave mansion, he was severely injured and on the verge of death.

Therefore, Li Yuan planned to return to the mortal world, back to the Li family, bringing all his lifetime accumulations along.

Who could have imagined, upon just returning to the Li family, he suddenly died.

He didn't even get the chance to explain all his last words.

He only left behind some relics.

The descendants of the Li family weren't aware of the existence of the space ring, merely treating it as an ancestor's ornament.

Since they had no spirit root, they were unable to open the space ring and naturally couldn't uncover its secrets.

Thus, several hundred years later, the space ring remained unopened, still left here.

Ultimately, it fell into Jiang Fan's hands.

"Wait, this is a bottle of Blood Tiger Pills."

"There are at least five inside."

Jiang Fan's eyes instantly lit up, feeling quite excited because these were elixirs from the cultivation realm.

According to this cultivator Li Yuan's introduction, the main ingredient of the Blood Tiger Pills came from a demon tiger.

A demon tiger is not comparable to an ordinary fierce tiger.

The energy contained in their blood and flesh can't even be matched by some spirit medicines.

Therefore, the elixirs refined from the demon tiger's blood and flesh, upon consumption, significantly enhance the martial artists' cultivation speed, even having a considerable effect on grandmasters.
