

FURY IMMORTAL DOCTOR

Chapter 2 - 2 Director Wang Begging on His Knees

The beautiful young wife took the opportunity to push Director Wang away, holding her wailing child, and walked out with a lowered head, feeling aggrieved and angrily.

At that moment, Director Wang's face turned cold, and he said sternly, "Stop! If you dare to leave, you will bear the consequences!"

The tears of the beautiful young wife surged instantly. Although her heart was full of grievances and shame, thinking of her husband who was lying on the hospital bed, uncertain whether he would live or die, she could only stop and stand there, silently crying.

Seeing that the beautiful young wife did not dare to leave, a smug look appeared in Director Wang's eyes again.

Then he proudly looked at Shen Qiang standing at the door and said harshly, "How undisciplined and ill-mannered you are, not knowing the courtesy of knocking before entering a room. Was all your schooling in vain?"

Watching Director Wang's arrogant and fearless face, Shen Qiang suddenly stepped forward and slapped him powerfully across the face.

Slap!

The crisp sound left the beautiful young wife staring dumbfounded.

"And you dare talk to me about manners?"

Staggered by Shen Qiang's slap, an astonished Director Wang then cursed furiously, "Bloody hell, you an intern think you can turn 'Sky Flipping'? Dare to hit me?"

Amid Director Wang's scolding, the child in the arms of the beautiful young wife began to cry loudly.

At this moment, an angry Shen Qiang rushed up and kicked him down, shouting angrily, "What about hitting you? If it weren't against the law to kill, I would have killed garbage like you right now!"

Shen Qiang's words inexplicably sent a chill through Director Wang, who then hastily asked, "How long have you been here?"

Shen Qiang raised an eyebrow and said coldly, "I was here when you were taking the red envelope."

Director Wang was stunned and then burst out angrily, "Bullshit! When did I ever take a red envelope?"

Shen Qiang smacked him across the face again and then, grabbing Director Wang's sparse hair, he said coldly, "Do you want me to open your drawer and take a look?"

Director Wang was stunned.

At that moment, the duty doctor and several nurses rushed over.

Seeing Shen Qiang gripping Director Wang's hair, the duty doctor shouted, "Shen Qiang! You as an intern are too arrogant! Let go immediately, or I'll call security!"

The expressionless Shen Qiang let go, then kicked Director Wang hard in the face.

His head banged against the desk.

"Call the police!" the duty doctor exclaimed urgently.

The calm Shen Qiang said, "Go ahead, the emergency number is 110."

At this point, with his nose bleeding, Director Wang came to his senses. Panicked, he suddenly bellowed, "Don't call the police! I was just messing around with Shen, get out, get out! Mind your own business, this has nothing to do with you all!"

Upon hearing this, the duty doctor and several nurses were stunned.

"Being beaten to the point of bleeding from the nose and mouth is just messing around?"

Shen Qiang frowned and said, "Who is messing around with you? Hurry up and call the police, don't waste time."

Director Wang frantically, staggering to his feet, pushed and shoved the duty doctor and nurses out while bellowing:

"Get out, all of you! Even if Shen hit me, I consented to it! It's none of your business, no calling the police! Anyone who talks too much, I will make sure it's not over with them!"

Pushing and shoving, he drove the duty doctor and nurses out.

Then he closed the door, and by the time he walked back to Shen Qiang, his nose was still bleeding, but his face was now covered with a smile.

"Shen Qiang, you are the best intern in our hospital. I've already written a letter of recommendation for you to work here," he said. "Just give me the nod, and I can immediately send it to the dean's desk."

Shen Qiang laughed and said, "Spare me the act; I don't need a piece of scum like you worrying about whether I have a job or not."

Director Wang, embarrassed, quickly walked to his desk and took out the envelope the beautiful young woman had put in.

"Here's ten thousand yuan; it's all yours now!"

Shen Qiang took the money without a second thought and handed it directly to the tearful beautiful young woman, saying indifferently, "This is yours, take care of it."

The beautiful young woman was stunned, holding the envelope unsurely.

With uneasy heart, Director Wang said, "Shen Qiang, rest assured, as long as you keep this matter under wraps, I will definitely help you stay at the hospital. After all, this is Provincial City, you..."

Shen Qiang, pulling out his cell phone, angrily said, "Keep my mom's name out of this! If it were just about taking a bribe, I could pretend I didn't see it. But what did you do? Using the pain of a patient's family as your blackmailing chip?"

"Not only forcing the patient's family member to sleep with you but also in front of her child? Making the child think his mother is a whore? If she disagrees, you still force yourself on her? This is extortion and rape!"

Shen Qiang started to dial the police on his phone.

Desperate and on the verge of peeing himself, Director Wang knelt before Shen Qiang, pleading, "Shen Qiang, don't call the police, I beg you. I have elderly parents and young children..."

Shen Qiang raised his hand and slapped him, "Fuck your family! You have elders and children; does the patient have none?"

Seeing Shen Qiang unmoved, Director Wang, still kneeling, felt his scalp explode. If it were just about taking a bribe, he could resign and leave, but extortion and attempted rape could lead to imprisonment!

Immediately, he started slapping himself, begging, "Shen Qiang, I'm not human! I know I was wrong! But please don't call the police; we can negotiate!"

Shen Qiang kicked away Director Wang who was trying to cling to his legs, and said indifferently, "You've become the Emperor of the oncology department; what is there to negotiate with you?"

Hearing this, Director Wang burst into tears and howled, "Shen Qiang, I'm kowtowing to you. Please let me off, I won't dare again! My daughter is in school, she won't be able to lift her head if something happens to me."

Shen Qiang said indifferently, "Now you think of your daughter not being able to lift her head; what were you doing earlier?"

While continuing to slap himself, Director Wang howled, "Shen Qiang, I really know I was wrong. Nobody is a saint; please give me one more chance!"

Holding his cell phone, Shen Qiang smiled and said, "Okay, I give you five seconds to find a reason I should let you go."

Upon hearing this, Director Wang's eyes lit up, "I'll help you stay here as a doctor!"

Shen Qiang shook his head with a smile.

"I'll give you a lot of money!" Director Wang became desperate.

"A gentleman desires wealth in a proper way."

Seeing Shen Qiang unmoved, Director Wang pleaded, "Then I'll marry my daughter off to you! She has never dated anyone; she's a virgin!"

"A scumbag who would sell his own daughter can just go to jail."

As Shen Qiang was dialing on the phone, the anxious Director Wang, seeing the beautiful young woman standing nearby, immediately grasped at her like a lifeline.

"I will immediately coordinate with all departments to prepare surgery for her husband!"

Hearing this, the beautiful young woman quickly grabbed Shen Qiang, pleading, "Please wait a moment."

Seeing the anxiety in the beautiful young woman's eyes, Shen Qiang hung up the phone and frowned, "You don't want this scumbag to go to jail?"
