Chapter 108

Indeed, there hadn't been any news on the blind date arrangement for Yohan by Bonnie.

"That's right," Clara replied. Her relationship with Yohan was based on a mutual agreement and shared living arrangements.

Jennifer's expression softened as she complained about her son, "If he wants someone to block his grandmother's matchmaking, he should have picked Mandy. They grew up together, have a deep bond, and are a perfect match in looks and family background."

Clara recalled her impression of Mandy and felt that there was no romantic connection between them. Yohan treated Mandy well, but it was more like a sibling relationship, and she believed that Mandy felt the same way.

"How much is Yohan paying you?" Jennifer, concerned that Clara might deceive her, asked her about the compensation.

Clara thought of what happened last night and answered, "Mr. Morris gave me a credit card, saying it five million dollars inside."

"But it was supposed to be for my medical expenses as he said I have some mental problem," she then thought to herself.

Jennifer asked, "How long is your partnership supposed to last?" www.WifeNovelWorld.Com

"Five million--no wonder Clara agreed. That amount was surely astronomical to her," Jennifer thought as she was convinced of what Clara said.

"A year. He said that after a year, we would part ways, and then his grandmother wouldn't pressure him to marry anymore," Clara replied.

Jennifer frowned, "A year is too long. What if you two develop feelings for each other while living www.WifeNovelWorld.Com together? Clara, I have a good impression of you and don't dislike you, but in the Morris family, we value matching family backgrounds for marriage.

"You should know Yohan's status; he is the eldest son of the Morris family, who owns a billion-dollar conglomerate. Yohan's wealth is worth hundreds of billions. His wife must come from a prestigious family. (www.NovelWorld.Com)

"Clara, please don't fall in love with Yohan. Don't let this pretend relationship become real. I will not accept you as my daughter-in-law.

"While you're acting as a shield for him, don't let anyone know. It may tarnish my son's reputation. Once he realizes things and meets the right person, he will get married." @WifeNovelWorld.Com

Jennifer spoke bluntly, but Clara was calm. She didn't love Yohan, so she didn't care how his family treated her.

She would have returned to her peaceful and secluded life in the mountains long ago if he hadn't made the request.

"Mrs. Morris, don't you worry. I will not fall in love with Mr. Morris," she said.

At least, it wouldn't be her who initiated it.

"But, if Mr. Morris develops feelings for me, I can't do anything about it," she then added, Jennifer laughed. "Although Yohan was raised by his grandparents, he is still my son. I know him well, he won't fall in love with you."

However, her smile faded as she thought about her son's distrust of marriage and lack of romantic aspirations due to her failed marriage.

She looked at Clara and sighed. "Clara, if only your family background were a bit better... If you could make Yohan fall for you, I could accept you as my daughter-in-law."

Clara smiled. "Please don't say that, Mrs. Morris. I'm not worthy of Mr. Morris. I'm not even worthy to carry his shoes. I know my place. I also can't make Mr. Morris love me. So, you should hurry up and find him a suitable young lady from a prestigious family."
