

Wife 98

Chapter 98

Clara had always befriended ghosts. She didn't want to be haunted by malicious ones.

Mark asked. "Wouldn't it look bad if we ran away?"

Clara eved him and said. "You could stay back and fight the malicious ghost if you're worried about your reputation, Mr. Fowler. I'll be cheering for you from afar. If you end up dying, I' tend to your grave yearly."

"Oh, what a good apprentice of mine! Mark chuckled at her words www.nℳℳℳ(ℳ)ℳ.ℳℳℳ

Clara laughed and said, "I also think I'm a good apprentice of yours too, Mr. Fowler."

They left the restaurant and walked out of the hotel to walk around the nearby streets for an hour. After strolling for an hour they returned to the hotel to rest

Their nap lasted until 6:30 pm. Clare woke up and immediately called Evelyn. When she answered the call, Clare asked. "When are you free, Evelyn? Mr. Fowler and I will go to you now."

"On, if that's the case, I'll ask my boss for leave then. Are we not having dinner anymore? Can we investigate when it's not even cark

now?" wwℳ.ℳℳ(ℳ)ℳℳℳℳ.Com

Clara replied, "It'll be fine. The sky will be completely dark when we reach your rental place. Besides, Mr. Fowler's investigation is not dependent on timing.We chose to go over at night because that's when you can take leave."

Evelyn trusted Mark's abilities. She replied, "TI send the location over to you now. I'll treat the both of you to dinner after Mr. Fowler is done with his investigations, and we can go shopping for clothes afterward. I'll buy you a dress for my company's anniversary party.

"You have to doll up tomorrow night, Clara. There are many eligible bachelors in my company. Isn't Mc Fowler also orried about your love life? Let's see if you'll find anyone among the eligible bachelors in my company to your liking."

Clara laughed and replied, "You're still single, and yet you're worried about me. Your mom was just telling me that both you and your brother aren't dating or getting married when I went to pick up my car from your place. She sounded worried about it."

Evelyn said, "I have no time to date, and I'm not planning to find someone from the same company, Frankly speaking, if the company's performance declines in the future and both of us get laid off, our family will lose its source of income. That's why I'm not planning to find someone from my company."

Clara said, "Your company is the Morris Corporation, Evelyn. I wasn't aware of this before, but I looked it up and saw that the Morris Corporation is a big player in Donford City.

"Your boss is also from the wealthiest family in the city as well. They won't lay off anyone due to poor performances. Just rest assured and have a pick at your eligible bachelor."

Evelyn smiled. "I'm not entertaining such thoughts at the moment. I'll go and ask for leave for now."

"Alright."

After the call ended, Evelyn sent over the address of her rental place.

After obtaining the address, Mark and Clara headed directly to her
