"He Injured my student. So ruthless to his friend, I'm teaching him now!"

"Injure your student? why can't I see it? Your student only got pushed off by the shock wave, he not even injured. And your student broke the rule. He already lost but still attack my student"

"My student still young. He still rash, but he is a genius that appeared once in a hundred years. Anybody can be hurt but not my student"

"You old bastard" The power of rank 8 pinnacles erupted. Everybody scared off including Taiga.

"This... there must be a misunderstanding" Taiga scared. He only a rank 7 pinnacle while the dean a rank 8 pinnacle. What a thick skin, just before he was mad and now a misunderstanding.

"What misunderstanding. Your student broke the rule, after the duel was over he still attacked my student"

"There's must be a misunderstanding. My student was still young and rash. But he still a rank 2 earth mage with only 17 years old and can control four golems, the same number as rank 3 earth mage"

"So what. Your student was only trash compared to my student"

"You...."

" 'you' what! Your student born with a silver spoon on him, he still only become rank 2 earth mage. my student too still only 17 years old, he already reached mid-rank 3. But he only depends on 'HIMSELF', if you still insisted your student was a genius. But to me, your student was 'TRASH'"

"You..." Taiga speechless with the revelation.
