

Gardevoir 108

Chapter 108 Is this really okay?

"Why should I be executed? I don't want it. Can I buy it instead?"

At this moment, Xiaoxia only regrets that she has too few arrows and cannot shoot you all! Cough cough cough... She only regrets that her legs are too short and she cannot kick Meow Meow, otherwise she will let him experience the anger of a beautiful girl.

"Trust me, please, okay?"

Xiaozhi's voice sounded a little heartbreaking, now it concerns Pikachu's safety, he doesn't feel comfortable leaving this matter to other people.

Xiaoxia looked at the serious Xiaozhi, and the Xiaoxia who was originally a little noisy calmed down instantly. She knew that Xiaozhi was very uncomfortable at the moment.

"Sorry, I'll be right back!"

Xiaozhi took one last look at his friends in the cave and rushed towards the town without looking back.

Misty, Brock, and Yuto Sundae looked towards Ash with some concern, thinking that Pikachu's injury must have been a huge blow to him.

'Even if you come back, you won't be able to find anyone by then!'

Of course Meowth knew what Musashi and Kojiro were doing. By the time Satoshi came back, they had already captured them with weapons. Satoshi couldn't run faster than Musashi and Kojiro in the hot air balloon, right?

But while he was thinking, Flash Kirlia had already touched behind him without him knowing, and invisible pink ripples surged from her eyes.

Looking at Meowth with a look of disgust, Shining Kirlia turned her body towards Meowth without hesitation.

"What...meow...?"

Looking at the rippling eyes of Shiny Kirlia, Meowth's eyelids gradually became heavy. Meowth, who didn't know what was happening, was instantly hypnotized by Shiny Kirlia.

Kirlia clapped her hands in satisfaction at the hypnotized Meowth and Shiny Pokémon. She had wanted to hypnotize this Pokémon with evil intentions for a long time, but she didn't do it in order to play with it for a while longer.

"Have enough fun?"

Yu Feng saw that his sister finally took action, and Yu Feng tied up the Squirtles so tightly that there was no beauty at all and they broke free from the ropes.

You said that you, a bunch of Squirtles, don't even know how to bind turtles or hang people with four horses. When you tie people up, you just tie them in a circle. If the person is a little thinner, you will escape directly.

"Xiao Feng? What is this?"

Xiaoxia and Xiaogang were a little surprised. Although they knew that nothing serious would happen to Yu Feng here, they didn't expect that Yu Feng could break free at any time.

They thought that this was not Yu Feng's Kirlia.

After all, from a human perspective, Pokémon all look pretty much the same, and it's hard to tell whose Pokémon they are unless there's some distinctive mark on them.

For example, Team Rocket has this walking and talking meow. I guess there aren't many meows like it.

"To put it simply, if she wants to play for a while, I will play with her. It's rare that she wants to play for a while."

Yu Feng tied up the sleeping Miao Miao in a very shameful posture and placed him aside. Even if he was tied up like this, he was not afraid that he would run away.

Then he helped Xiaogang, Xiaoxia and Yuto Seidai to untie the ropes on their bodies, and explained helplessly that after all, it was rare for his sister to want to play for a while, and as a brother, how could he not satisfy her request.

"But isn't this a bit unfair to Pikachu?"

Yuto Seidai looked at Pikachu with some concern. After all, Pikachu was seriously injured just for the fun of the two siblings.

"That is to say, you have to apologize to Pikachu properly this time."

Xiaoxia also stretched her tired arms and complained to Yu Feng and the others.

"Don't worry, Love Butler is a Pokémon that can serve as Miss Joy's assistant in certain areas."

Yu Feng told them to relax and that this situation was not a difficult problem to solve.

You know, Ayaka is a Pokémon that can serve as Miss Joy's assistant, and can handle Pikachu's injuries.

As for why she was so confident? Since they were young, they had always been treated by Aibutu. Pikachu was only seriously injured, which was not a big deal.

"Ai Wan!"

Ai Butler also nodded with a smile. She was the one who took care of the brother and sister whenever they were injured since they were young. Not to mention that Pikachu's injury was only a little worse due to timely treatment, she could have brought him back even if he was on the verge of death.

After receiving Yu Feng's order, the butler took Pikachu out of the cage, placed it gently on the stone, and then began her treatment.

The left hand slowly releases green waves, and the right hand slowly releases pink waves. It may be because of taking care of these two troublesome siblings for many years.

Ai Guanshi can actually do two things at once and release two skills at the same time.

A rich floral fragrance slowly flowed out from the butler's left hand. Unlike the pink light that only enveloped Pikachu, this fragrance drifted around, making Xiaogang and the others who were watching instantly feel comfortable all over.

"What a nice smell! What kind of smell is this? It can actually make people feel happy."

Xiaogang relaxed instantly when he smelled the fragrance. It was shocking that this fragrance could make people relax.

"This move is aromatherapy. Grass-type skills can be used to contact abnormal states. Although Pikachu is not in an abnormal state, this fragrance can make him relax."

Yu Feng explained to Xiao Gang that since he had been treated like this since he was a child, he knew that Aibute would not do useless work. After all, Pikachu was seriously injured and it would be very painful.

"So that's how it is. By using the sweet scent to relax Pikachu, and performing treatment at the same time, this can reduce a lot of Pikachu's pain."

Xiaogang thought thoughtfully that this situation can actually also be applied to feeding medicine to Pokémon.

"Yes, but we still have to ask the other person for help, otherwise Pikachu won't be able to recover well."

As Yu Feng said this, he pulled off the love ball from his neck and released the Shining Gardevoir.

"Sana! (I understand.)"

After coming out, Shining Gardevoir, who was sitting cross-legged in the cave, nodded, indicating that she already knew what they wanted to do.

With both hands, a drop of water larger than Pikachu appeared in her hands. As she pushed, the Pikachu that was undergoing treatment was wrapped in the drop of water.

The moment Pikachu was wrapped up, the injuries on his body disappeared at a speed visible to the naked eye. His tightly furrowed brows relaxed a little, and then he slowly fell into a deep sleep.

"Sana! (I'm going back first. This place is too small.)"

After saying this, before Yu Feng could react, he touched the love ball and pulled himself back. It was really too cramped to stay in such a cave. It was almost squeezed to death.

"Will this really be okay?"

Xiaoxia broke out in a cold sweat as she looked at Pikachu who was completely covered.
