

Gardevoir 124

Chapter 124: Riddler, get out of the dead leaves!

"So what the hell are you talking about! Riddler, get out of Vermilion City!"

Xiaoxia felt helpless. These people just talked about things they didn't know.

"That's right if you don't understand. I can only say that if you understand, you will understand. If you don't understand, don't ask."

Yu Feng shook his head and pointed at Pikachu mysteriously. Xiaozhi still had to figure this out on his own.

There's no point in saying it out loud, Xiaozhi has to figure it out on his own.

Xiaozhi was a little thoughtful after hearing Yu Feng's words. Raichu evolved as soon as it was caught. It lacked something that Pikachu should have, stamina...

Xiaozhi suddenly thought of something and looked up the detailed information of Raichu again. His face became extremely excited. He thought of a way to defeat Ma Zhishi's Raichu.

"Hey, what is this?"

Misty didn't understand what Xiaozhi saw that made him so excited. She looked at all the physical data of Raichu and couldn't see anything.

"Just forget about it, Xiaozhi just needs to know that you don't have any use for any water Pokémon."

Yu Feng stopped Xiaoxia who was about to ask her questions, after all, water-type Pokémon basically have no use for this skill.

Xiaozhi excitedly waited until Pikachu finished resting, then pulled Pikachu out for some good training.

"Pikachu, did you see that victory star?"

Stepping out of the door of the Pokemon Center, Xiaozhi pointed to the distant sky and said to Pikachu confidently that the sky in the distance represented their hope of victory.

After hearing what Xiaozhi said, a big question mark appeared on Pikachu's head. Where did the stars come from in broad daylight? The stars that appeared when Team Rocket was beaten away? But Team Rocket didn't show up today.

"Let me see, where are the stars in broad daylight now?"

Misty, who came out later, expressed Pikachu's current mood, and at the same time interrupted the emotions that Xiaozhi had worked so hard to build up.

"I'm just creating the atmosphere, Pikachu, follow me!"

Xiaozhi slapped away Xiaoxia who was interrupting others' emotions, called Pikachu and prepared to start their special training.

For some reason, an exciting music sounded as they moved forward.

Everyone stopped and looked at Yu Feng, who had taken out a recorder at some point. Looking at everyone's gaze, Yu Feng silently put the recorder away.

It's just to add some fun to everyone, why do you make it sound like you've done something wrong?

Yu Feng thought with some dissatisfaction, and as if someone heard Yu Feng's dissatisfaction, the passionate music sounded again as they continued to move forward.

Everyone looked at Yu Feng again as if they wanted to find the tape recorder he had on him, but Yu Feng spread his hands to indicate that he was not playing any music.

Everyone was also sure that the music was not played by Yu Feng, so they could only walk away and ignore the strange music.

The music stopped abruptly until the three members of Team Rocket appeared.

After receiving encouragement from Team Rocket, Ash feels confident in his decision to challenge the Vermilion Leaf Gym once again.

After they moved away, a pink kitten suddenly appeared in the air, holding the tape recorder that Yu Feng had put somewhere and kept laughing.

Then he looked around cautiously, and happily followed Xiaozhi and the others.

.....

In the following gym battle, just as they expected, Pikachu took advantage of the fact that Mashiro's Raichu had evolved in a hurry and lost the ability to move at high speed that he should have learned. After Pikachu used his tail as a lightning rod to direct most of Raichu's electricity to the ground, he finally won by taking advantage of the fact that Raichu could not discharge electricity for a short time.

"Congratulations on your victory, Xiaozhi and Pikachu."

"This is proof that you have defeated me, the orange badge."

Ma Zhishi sincerely congratulated Xiaozhi. He was defeated miserably in the morning, but defeated himself in the afternoon of the same day. What a talent!

Raichu, despite his wounds, sincerely applauded Pikachu. Although Pikachu was not as strong as himself, it was far better than himself in the use of tactics.

This was much more interesting than the fight with Yu Feng. After all, he was being plotted against the entire time. Although it was satisfying, it was still frustrating.

"This is the orange badge, thank you so much Pikachu!"

Xiaozhi put away the orange badge and picked up Pikachu amid everyone's blessings.

Pikachu never forgot his original intention, and the electric current instantly covered Xiaozhi's whole body.

"I really saw the victory star."

Xiaozhi was electrocuted so hard that he saw stars in broad daylight. For some reason, Pikachu's eyes also saw the victory star that Xiaozhi saw.

"The two of them really have a tacit understanding."

Xiaozhi refused to let go of Pikachu even when he was electrocuted, and Xiaoxia sighed sincerely.

These two people are what Miss Joy meant by having a tacit understanding.

"Do we really not care about him?"

Yuto Sundae had never seen such a scene before. It was better to say that Pikachu electrocuted Xiaozhi. What kind of behavior was that? Xiaozhi was electrocuted and could still hug Pikachu and laugh.

Is he immune to electrical attacks?

"Don't worry about it. This is proof of Ash and Pikachu's love."

Yu Feng waved his hand to signal Yuto Sundae not to worry about it. This was Xiaozhi and Pikachu's own business. Didn't you see that Xiaozhi was holding Pikachu and refused to let go, and was laughing along with him?

.....

"That Pikachu is really powerful."

Kojiro walked towards the distance facing the sunset, and couldn't help but sigh at Pikachu's power for being able to think of such a solution.

"If not, it wouldn't be worth stealing."

Musashi was very open-minded. After all, if it weren't for the peculiarity of this Pikachu, they wouldn't have followed Xiaozhi for so long.

"Then we can also stand out, meow."

Meowth was very excited. After all, he had been chasing Pokémon all day and it was a live ticket. What was there to be dissatisfied about?

In this way they walked further and further away towards the sunset.

Going further and further away....

"By the way, it seems like we didn't do anything except peek this time!"

Suddenly, Kojiro seemed to remember that they had originally wanted to cause trouble today, and for some reason they became addicted to watching anime.

I really just watched it for a whole day, as Ash challenged the Vermilion Leaf Gym, and they even ran over to cheer for Ash.

"You'll die if you don't tell me! I had already forgotten about it!"

Musashi held her head in pain. She had forced herself to forget about this incident, but Kojiro still wanted to open her scar.

"Just think of it as us having a day off today, meow."

Miaomiao is very open-minded. After all, they also need rest and they are not robots.

"I feel good."

"Me too, let's just consider it as a day off."