

Gardevoir 127

Chapter 127 This is common sense, my friend.

At this time, Xiaozhi and his friends had already boarded the St. Ann.

"Wow, this is real!"

Xiaozhi ran around like a bumpkin who had never seen the world.

Trainers discussing how many Pokémon they have, vendors selling Pokémon they have captured, and shops selling all kinds of Pokémon-related items.

Everything made Xiaozhi, who had never seen these things before, excited. Suddenly, the discussion nearby attracted Xiaozhi's attention.

"How do you think my little Charmander looks like? It's smooth and shiny, which is a sign of good health."

"That's nothing. My Charmander's red flame is mixed with orange. It's rare!"

Two trainers holding Charmanders are discussing whose Charmander is better.

"No matter what, you can't beat my Charmander, right Xiao Feng? Xiao Feng?"

Xiaozhi looked at the discussion over there about whose Charmander was better, and said confidently that those Charmanders on the other side were no match for his.

I wanted to talk to Yu Feng, the only one who could see the difference, but I found out that he was no longer by my side.

Looking closely, I found that he was already standing in front of the people who were discussing just now, releasing his own Charmander.

Yu Feng's little fire dragon, which was half a head taller than its peers, was showing off the muscles that were only revealed during its Charmeleon period, and was welcoming praise from the people around her and her peers.

"Xiao Feng, really."

Xiaozhi was a little angry. Just now he said that he was like a bumpkin who had never seen the world, but now he was showing off his Pokémon to others.

"It's really rare for Xiao Feng to have such an idea. He usually has a tense face."

Xiaogang felt that Yu Feng looked more like a teenager, although his height did not match that of a teenager.

He usually has a stern face or pretends to be mature most of the time, but now he is discussing Pokémon with his peers more like a teenager.

Before Xiaogang could finish his sigh, Xiaozhi beside him was attracted by other things.

Xiaogang, Xiaoxia and Yuto Seidai thought for a while and decided to follow Xiaozhi. After all, Yu Feng was mature enough that he didn't need them to watch him closely, and if Xiaozhi didn't watch him, he might cause some ridiculous problems.

I don't know how long it took, but Yu Feng finally took back the satisfied little fire dragon.

It is a rare opportunity to show one's strength in front of other of the same kind. As for why not show it in front of Ash's Charmander.

There's no way, after all, Satoshi's Charmander is too weak. Besides, it's just weak, but if Satoshi doesn't train him, he can't be trained either. The time they spend together is simply out of sync.

There was no time for us to meet at all. This time, I felt so satisfied that I could show off my strong body in front of so many people like me.

"Hey, where are Xiaozhi and the others?"

Yu Feng looked up and found that Xiaozhi and the others had left, and there was no one around him.

Fortunately, with such a small boat, Yu Feng could tell where Satoshi and the others were with just a scan using his super powers. After passing by a blue-haired man who was holding a Magikarp and daydreaming with a silly smile, he finally found Misty, Satoshi, Brock and Pikachu who were eating and drinking heartily at the banquet.

Yuto Seidai on the side had an expression as if he didn't know them. What kind of reaction was this as if he hadn't eaten good food for hundreds of years? It's not like Yu Feng didn't give them those good ingredients to eat.

If Xiaozhi knew what Yuto Seidai was thinking at this time, he would definitely say that he ate more just because he was given food.

After all, I don't know when the next time I'll have such a sumptuous meal, so what Yu Feng gives me can only be a taste.

"You are the reincarnation of starving ghosts."

Yu Feng was not as thin-skinned as Yuto Seidai. He started to complain when he saw the three of them looking like starving ghosts.

"Wow, wow, yeah!!!"

Xiaozhi saw Yu Feng was about to say something, but he accidentally choked and pounded his chest for a long time before swallowing it.

"Hoo! Xiao Feng! Come and have something to eat too."

Xiaozhi happily invited Yu Feng to eat this rare meal. After all, if he missed this opportunity, he didn't know when he would be able to eat such a sumptuous meal again.

Yu Feng came over to take a look, revealing a look of disdain. Aren't they just wild animals that are farmed in small quantities? Apart from being used by the upper class to show off, for him, the nutrition is not as good as eating the Pokémon rations made by Xiaogang, which replenish more energy.

"Your Butterfree is really amazing."

Yu Feng was about to say something when a gentleman with a beautiful female companion walked up to Xiaozhi and complimented him.

"Of course, I cultivated it with great effort."

Satoshi looked like he had worked hard to raise Butterfree, and even Yuto Seidai couldn't help but want to complain.

What's the point of training him so hard? Every morning when Yu Feng pulls him to practice, he can't get up. The food he eats is specially prepared by Xiao Gang, and he even rarely lets Butterfree out.

Although Yu Feng seldom releases his elf, he still does morning exercises every day and gets all the necessary exercise.

I don't know how Xiaozhi could say such words without blushing or getting nervous.

"What do you think of my Lada?"

The gentleman mentioned his Rada. Even though Yu Feng had not experienced the incident just now, he could guess that Xiaozhi must have fought with this person just now.

And judging by the way this gentleman spoke, he definitely had bad intentions.

"Your Lada, I think it's very good."

Only Xiaozhi was foolishly responding to the gentleman's question. Currently, his No. 1 external brain, Xiaogang, was down because he saw a beautiful woman. Xiaoxia, the No. 2 external brain, was mocking Xiaogang for the downtime.

External brain number three, Yuto Seidai, is trying his best to hide the fact that he knows these reincarnated starving ghosts, while external brain number four, Yu Feng, is observing the situation.

With all the external brains not working, Xiaozhi answered this gentleman's question very naturally.

"Great, that makes things much easier. How about you and I swap?"

After confirming that Xiaozhi felt that he had done a good job, he showed his malice without hesitation, and his map was a little short.

"exchange?"

This question touched upon Xiaozhi's blind spots in knowledge. It would be better to say that he simply didn't know a few things.

"People who own Pokémon can exchange their Pokémon with other Pokémon they like. This is common sense."

The gentleman explained to Xiaozhi what he considered common sense, but of course it was just common sense in his eyes.

Everyone has different opinions, so this is just common sense...