

Gardevoir 138

Chapter 138 Are you playing me?

"I thought you guys might as well try doubles?"

Fu Ningna looked at the two arguing parties and carefully put forward her own opinion. After all, if one was worried and the other was insisting on his own way, it would be better to play doubles.

Yu Huijun really wanted to rub Fu Nina's face at this moment. She was his lucky star. Just as Elrod said that the aura on the Poké Ball was not right.

It has an aura from the ancient wilderness. This thing is very dangerous. Think about the ancient Pokémon or the kings of ancient small countries that appeared and caused quite a stir.

That's why they are so wary of this kind of thing, and it just so happens that the little Nan girl in front of them has this kind of dangerous aura.

In fact, this thing can be subdued or unsubdued. For example, the ancient Pikachu dug out in Qinling Mountains some time ago...

Now I work at the power station with good food and drink. I help generate electricity every day and do nothing but eat and sleep.

There are also some resurrected ancient kings. Those who can be persuaded will be persuaded, and those who cannot be persuaded will be sealed up. Old Deng who lived thousands of years ago should have slept well in the ground and not come out to harm modern people.

Back to the topic, according to Aledo, although the aura on Yu Feng's neck is not as ancient as that of Pikachu, the threat level is no less.

It was unclear whether it was some kind of Old Deng taking over another's body or some super ancient dangerous Pokémon, and the other party hadn't shown any dangerous behavior, so even he wasn't qualified to have someone open the Poké Ball.

If you are playing doubles and are worried about Pokémon, then there is a high probability that this unknown Pokémon will be released.

By then we will know what Pokémon it is and make a risk assessment to avoid getting detained by customs when we go there, which would cause a big trouble.

"I can."

Yu Feng and Yu Huijun agreed to this request at the same time, each with their own ideas.

The Afterglow Army simply wanted to check out the Pokémon with an ancient aura.

Yu Feng is much simpler. If the younger sister doesn't like him, then just beat him. But according to the attitudes of Fu Nina and Professor Oak, is this person similar to an inspector? At least he won't be too weak or weaker than Fu Nina.

Although he is very confident in his sister's level, the lack of evolution in size is always a flaw.

Although there is a slight advantage in attributes, the gap in combat experience and the like should be quite large.

"Then I'll go with Aledo and Aibutsu, although I don't have a choice."

The Afterglow Army also sent out their own Pokémon, just to observe the dangerous aura.

"Then here are Kirlia and Gardevoir!"

He took off the love ball. Whether it was for his sister or for some other reason, the Yu Hui army in front of him was worth a serious fight with Yu Feng.

“Sha~~~!!!”

A huge shadow obscured the light in front of Aledo, and the ancient fear seemed to be revived, causing Aledo to feel a chill in his heart.

"This is really....huge."

"Is this what you should be lamenting about? Never mind, the rules of the game are 2v2 with no restrictions."

Looking at the Afterglow Army who were still marveling at Gardevoir's huge size, Fu Ningna couldn't help but complain. Is it really time for you to say she's big now?

Besides, when you talk about big things, show me where I should be looking. People are getting red-eye effects!

Fu Ningna gave up thinking and had to announce the start of the game.

The Vileotter appeared in front of Fu Ningna at some point and blocked the pressure that was released wantonly by Gardevoir. However, at this moment, the Vileotter looked at Yu Feng thoughtfully, his eyes wandering back and forth between the shining leader Gardevoir and Yu Feng, as if he had seen something.

"Not only is there a rare shiny Kirlia, but there's also a shiny giant Gardevoir. It's a pity that it's a bit small."

Yu Huijun did not expect that the aura turned out to be such a big Gardevoir. It was much smaller than the super ancient Pikachu and the like that he usually saw, so it did not seem too outrageous. In addition, it was a Gigantamax, although it was a little bigger than its normal counterparts.

Maybe he was lucky enough to come across an ancient heritage somewhere, which caused his body shape to change, or to be more brutal, his body size increased during the growth process due to overnutrition. After making this guess, Yu Huijun breathed a sigh of relief.

As long as it's not those old Dengs, everything is fine. How strong can a legacy be...

Suddenly a dark shadow passed by him, leaving him stunned for a moment.

Turning around, I found that Ai Guanshi was lying on the ground as if he had lost his ability to fight. After seeing Yu Huijun looking at him, Ai Guanshi closed his eyes and stuck out his tongue, as if to say that he was burned out.

'You're playing me?'

Although this sentence was not spoken, Yu Huijun's eyes clearly expressed this meaning.

You don't know your own Pokémon? Although Aibutsu is a Pokémon of the second team, it won't be killed in one move.

"Aledo, get out of the way and use Shadow Claw."

He didn't even care why Aibutsu was playing him, and hurriedly gave orders to Eldraine, who was caught off guard due to the absence of his teammates.

After receiving the command, Aledo stabilized and jumped back to avoid the triple spin attack from Shiny Kirliia.

At the same time, he gathered ghost energy in his hands, and then suddenly disappeared from the spot. At the same time, his body appeared behind Shining Kirliiao, and the shadow claws emitting black light attacked Shining Kirliiao.

Flash Kirlia threw a shadow ball into the air without looking back, and just when the shadow claw was about to hit, a huge fist wrapped in flames smashed directly into the air.

"Elu!"

After Aledo vomited a mouthful of acid after taking this attack, he remembered that this game was 2v2, and his support player was offline, and who was the physical attacker! Are you two Gardevoirs really good at using physical skills?

Without giving him much chance to think, the shadow ball he threw out earlier met in the air with the shadow ball thrown out by Flash Kirlia, causing a puff of black smoke to explode.

"The spiritual blade slashes back."

After receiving the order, Aledo let his body fall freely without thinking too much. A flash of white light appeared at his elbow and then he slashed backwards fiercely.

"boom!!"

The Psychic Blade and the Shining Kirliao who teleported over and kicked for the second time were in a stalemate, but after all, it was a third-stage evolved form. Its size and its better physical attack than Gardevoir directly knocked Shining Kirliao away.

"To the right."

Without giving Aledo a chance to breathe, Shiny Kirlia instantly appeared on the right, with a dazzling white light flashing on its feet, and stepped on Aledo.

Aledo resisted with difficulty, and adjusted his body balance with the help of Shiny Kirliao's strength, and then fought against Shiny Kirliao who would teleport to his side and attack him from time to time.

However, if you defend for too long, you will lose. With the support of Shiny Gardevoir, Shiny Kirlia seized the mistake of Aledor and knocked him directly into the ground with a magic flash.
