

Gardevoir 14

Chapter 14 Charmander is coming

Time flies, and soon it is the day to receive the initial Pokémon.

"Then I'll go over first, Hanako-mama."

Yu Feng put on his backpack and stood at the door, watching his Hanako wave goodbye.

"Well, Xiao Feng, you have to take care of yourself."

Although Hanako was very worried, she thought that he was a child who grew up in the wild, and might be more familiar with the wild than at home.

"But what about Xiaozhi?"

Yu Feng was a little confused as to why he got up but Xiao Zhi wasn't.

"Xiaozhi, that kid, hasn't woken up yet."

Speaking of Xiao Zhihuzi, I feel helpless. I told him many times last night to go to bed early, but he still hasn't gotten up yet.

If he is not taught a lesson, he really won't know what a good rest is.

"Don't worry, I'll call him later. He won't be late. This place is very close to the institute."

Hanako waved her hand to reassure Yu Feng, saying that since they were close, it wouldn't be a problem if they were late, except that Xiaozhi might not get the Pokémon he liked.

But this kid doesn't have any Pokémon that he doesn't like, so let's just do it later.

"alright."

After seeing Hanako say this, Yu Feng had no choice but to give up the idea of calling Xiaozhi over earlier. In fact, if he went earlier, he might not be able to get Pikachu.

Yu Feng had no choice but to walk towards the Oak Research Institute by himself.

Looking at the small Pokémon running by on the road from time to time, Yu Feng still felt incredible. He had seen Pokémon in the forest before, but he still found it incredible that he had never seen Pokémon in human settlements.

Of course, he has always had an impulse in his heart, which appeared when he first heard Hanako mention the Huaxia Alliance. His subconscious told him that if he wanted to know his own life experience, he must go to the Huaxia Alliance.

Of course, these are still a long way off. His current goal is to get his own initial Pokémon from Professor Oak. In this regard, these regions are better than the Chinese Alliance.

I heard from Aunt Hanako that the population base in the Huaxia Alliance is too large, and the training center that specializes in raising the three major families cannot supply enough students graduating each year. As a last resort, they have to choose to limit the supply to each place.

In most cases, Pokémon like Pidgeot and Clker-Freeze are mixed with the three starter Pokémons for students to choose, and what they choose depends entirely on luck.

While thinking unknowingly, Yu Feng had already arrived at Dr. Oak's research institute. The situation today was slightly different from the day before.

Today the door of the research institute is open, and you can see a child walking out happily with a Poké Ball in his hand.

Following the path in his memory, Yu Feng walked to the place where the elves were distributed.

"Hey, you're here, Xiao Feng."

Professor Oak, who was waiting for new trainers in the research institute, saw Yu Feng coming in at a glance and greeted him enthusiastically.

"Here I come, Doctor."

Yu Feng also responded to the doctor very politely. At the same time, Flash Kirlia appeared spontaneously, staring at Professor Oak to prevent him from doing anything irrational.

"Ahahahaha, then Xiao Feng, have you picked your starting Pokémon?"

Looking at the Shining Kirlia who was wary of him, Professor Oak couldn't help but scratch his head in embarrassment. It seemed that it was his behavior for the first time that made the little guy very hostile to him.

"I've made my choice, Doctor."

Yu Feng nodded and handed the list that Professor Oak had given him at the beginning to Professor Oak.

"Oh, really? Is it the Fire Fox that continues to use its superpowers, or the Fire Cat that wants to expand its attack range?"

Professor Oak put the list back to its original place and asked Yu Feng about his choice with some curiosity. Although he was recommended by an old friend, choosing Pokémon is also a science.

"Neither, it's Charmander."

Yu Feng shook his head and pointed at the Poké Ball with a flame pattern on Professor Oak's desk.

"Charmander? That's rare. I thought you would choose a Pokémon from another region."

Professor Oak looked at Yu Feng with some surprise. After all, if you can choose Pokémon from other regions, few people would choose local ones.

"No, the main thing is that Charizard can fly, and the only known mega evolutions that can be done are you and Dr. Odamaki's three great creatures."

Yu Feng still explained to Professor Oak the reason for choosing Charizard.

"Is that so? I forgot that the people on your side should know clearly."

Professor Oak lowered his head and thought for a while, and then he remembered that Yu Feng was not from Pallet Town, so it was normal for him to know so much.

"Okay, then I'll leave this child to you to take care of."

Without saying anything more, Professor Oak took Charmander's Poké Ball from the machine behind him.

Then he took out a blue machine and five Poké Balls from a box and handed them to Yu Feng.

"These five Poké Balls are for new Pokémon Trainers."

"And this is a Pokémon encyclopedia specially customized for you. You can check the information of the Pokémon you see. This is a test version. I would like to trouble you to help collect the information of the Pokémon you encounter during your journey."

He handed the blue Pokémon encyclopedia to Xiao Feng, released Charmander, and taught Yu Feng how to use the machine.

With a beep, the blue encyclopedia scanned Charmander and introduced it in a mechanical voice.

"Charmander, the lizard Pokémon, has flames burning on its tail when it is born. When the flames go out, its life ends."

"That's roughly how it works. If you come across a Pokémon you haven't seen before, just scan it. It's best to capture one if you can."

"Oh, by the way, you probably haven't bound the Poké Ball's teleportation location yet, how about binding it to my research institute?"

As the voice of the illustrated guide ended, Professor Oak asked Yu Feng for his opinion.

"Then I'll leave it to you, Doctor."

Yu Feng bowed to the professor in gratitude. After all, the number of Pokémon he had captured was at least dozens, and his family didn't have the technology to store them, so it was great to leave them with the professor.

"It's not a problem. After all, I can record the information immediately when you capture a rare Pokémon."

"But it seems that this little guy likes you very much."

Professor Oak also clapped his head and laughed, and then he was very happy when he looked at Charmander who kept pulling at Yu Feng's pants.

It's rare to find a trainer that a Pokémon can like so quickly. Even the initial Pokémon may look down on their trainers.

"Well, this little guy is still very cute."

"Hi!"

Yu Feng picked up the Charmander and liked this outgoing little guy very much. The Charmander was so happy to hear that Yu Feng liked her that the flame on her tail began to burn.

"That's about it. If you want to challenge the league, remember to register at the Pokémon Center. It will be more convenient to have a Pokédex than a paper document."

Professor Oak raised a finger as if he had thought of something and reminded Yu Feng. After all, new trainers always want to challenge the league. Some people realize halfway through that they have not signed up, and when they go to sign up, the registration has already closed, which is very embarrassing.

Just as the two were talking, a familiar voice was heard.

"Grandpa, is Squirtle still here?"