Chapter 143 No, Don't Worry

"This is the mysterious Eastern fighter. I have to say it's very suitable for a Pokémon in human form like this!"

After Shiny Kirlia appeared, the cheers at the scene became even louder. What could be better than a beautiful woman?

They must be two beauties!

A pleasing trainer and pleasing Pokémon. Of course, if it were a Pokémon like Armstrong, that would be another story.

With black and white stockings, not only boys but also girls may not be able to control themselves.

"Damn it, you all just like the big ones!"

"What's the point of being so big? It affects my walking!"

Fu Ningna suddenly appeared from somewhere and pointed at Yu Feng angrily and said.

I don't know why these guys like this kind of thing! It's just a bunch of fat! She will grow it in the future!

"According to the information, the girl who rushed onto the stage is the Queen of Waters, Lands, Peoples and Laws. This name is a bit long."

Xiaogang is still quite conscientious, of course it is also possible that Fu Ningna is not in his aesthetic taste?

"Let's look forward to her partner!"

I have to say that Xiaogang is still very reliable in his normal state, and he can still handle this kind of emergency very well.

As Xiaogang's voice fell, three Pokémon came up with an attitude of not recognizing any relatives, a blue male Chubby Pokémon, a domineering Giant Claw Crab, and a jumping and beautiful Thorny Dragon.

"What is this? This is nothing but a costume!"

As a broadcaster, although Xiaogang didn't recognize some Pokémon, he had photos of them when they were registered before.

From the photos, it seems that they are not wearing any makeup or dressing up. They are just acting in their true colors, except that their steps are a little arrogant.

"Huh? What's that look in your eyes? Let me tell you! Hahaha!"

Fu Ningna was a little unhappy when she heard Xiaogang's introduction, but since he didn't know about it, she forgave Xiaogang's statement.

"This is Lord Uther, this is Miss Shebeleda, and this is Lady Hevima! They are my Lonely Heart Salon!"

Fu Ningna proudly introduced the identities of these three Pokémon to Xiaogang. At the same time, the Pokémon that were introduced sprayed water into the air, and finally they converged together to form a beautiful rainbow around Fu Ningna's body.

"Although she is very pretty and has a nice name, she really doesn't wear any makeup!"

Although Xiaogang agrees with this performance and name, he can't stand the fact that you are not wearing any makeup!

"you...."

Seeing Xiaogang so rigid, Fu Ningna really wanted to curse him. Is it okay not to wear makeup? Isn't she pretty? Is the performance not good? If it's good-looking, why does it matter whether she wears makeup or not?

What a pity, girl. The name of this competition is 'Seaside Beauty and Pokémon Makeup Pageant'. Although the previous contestant was not a girl, at least she wore makeup!

Just when Fu Ningna was about to argue, there was a huge commotion on the field behind, and a huge Gyarados rushed to the shore.

"What is that? Is Gyarados that fat?"

Fu Ningna swore that she had seen thousands of Gyarados, but this was the first time she had seen a Gyarados that was so fat that it couldn't even stand up straight.

"It's obviously fake. Look at the tracks."

Yu Feng, wearing a mask, used his superpowers to slightly change the way he spoke, making his voice more feminine, while pointing to the tracks left by Gyarados.

"Everyone please calm down, that is a fake Gyarados, please stay where you are and don't panic, we will take care of the fake Gyarados."

As an old rival of Team Rocket, Xiaozhi easily guessed what this thing was (this was a lie). Although this thing looked very similar to Gyarados, Gyarados was a cricket pupa on the ground.

And based on what we saw today about Team Rocket and Granny Kim, this thing was most likely their doing.

The people around gradually quieted down after listening to Xiaozhi's words. Yes, this was very different from the real Gyarados, and whose Gyarados would make a mechanical roar?

With this idea and Xiaozhi's promise, the people in the venue gradually quieted down.

The operator of the mechanical Gyarados seemed to be enraged, and a missile was fired from its mouth straight towards the stage in front of it.

"That's a missile!"

Xiaogang was a little surprised when he saw the missiles flying towards them at a very fast speed. Where did these people get these things?

"Xiaozhi, it's up to you now!"

Xiao Mao walked up from the stage at some point, with his hands behind his back, looking at Xiao Zhi. He seemed to not care about his own safety at all, and left his safety entirely to Xiao Zhi.

Xiaozhi was very touched to see Xiaomao trusting him so much. He thought that Xiaomao was indeed his good friend and still trusted him so much at this time.

"Xiaozhi, the guidance device of the missile should be afraid of fire."

Xiaogang also reminded Xiaozhi that the guidance device of this missile should be afraid of fire.

"I'm sorry but I refuse. I'll leave my safety to you."

A cold female voice sounded from behind them. Yu Feng stood behind them in crystal sandals, looking at the still trembling hearts, indicating that she had just stopped.

"Even if you are afraid of fire, aren't you afraid of it exploding prematurely?"

Yu Feng was speechless about their decision. Even if this old version of missile guidance device was afraid of fire, would you dare to use fire to ignite it directly?

Doesn't that mean the old man has eaten arsenic?

It's a pity that Xiaomao dared to entrust Xiaozhi with his safety. Although with Professor Oak here, it shouldn't be a big problem.

"It should be done."

Yu Feng stretched out one hand and grabbed forward. The speed of the missile gradually slowed down, and the graffiti on the missile also changed from arrogant to shocked.

"Is this a superpower?"

Xiao Mao looked at Yu Feng, whose eyes were glowing blue, with great interest. This level of superpower is rare, right?

"There's a lot you haven't seen yet."

Yu Feng waved his hand, causing people's hearts to shake, and the missile turned obediently and flew towards the mechanical Gyarados that launched it.

The missile rushed towards the Mechanical Gyarados at an even faster speed than before and with an arrogant expression. When the Mechanical Gyarados saw the missile flying back, his face changed. God knows why a machine would change its face.

In short, the mechanical Gyarados wishes he had two more tracks so he could get away from here quickly.

Unfortunately, after the missile was accelerated a second time by Yu Feng, the Mechanical Gyarados could not outrun it no matter how fast it ran. In a panic, the Mechanical Gyarados sped towards Granny Kim's shop.

No matter how much Granny Jin tried to stop them, she was unable to stop Team Rocket from rushing towards her shop without hesitation.

"boom!!!!"

"What a disgusting feeling!"

"This is the second time today!"

"Mother-in-law!"

There were four more shining stars in the sky in broad daylight.
